October 2002, when Performance Technologies acquired this group. Mr. Tillman came to Ziatech following a 25-year career with Hewlett-Packard, where he served as division general manager for four different locations.

A press release announcing the foregoing matter is filed herewith as Exhibit 99.1

In a letter dated April 2, 2003 to the Chairman of our Board of Directors, Paul L. Smith indicated that he has decided not to stand for re-election to another term as a Director of Performance Technologies, Incorporated. Mr. Smith has served as a Director since 1993 and his current term expires as of June 3, 2003.

Mr. Smith stated that changes in his personal priorities and obligations would make it difficult for him to actively and fully participate as a Director in the future. He further stated that he had no disagreements with the Board of Directors or management of the Company.

Performance Technologies Appoints Former President of Ziatech Corporation to Board of Directors

ROCHESTER, N.Y. - March 17, 2003 - Performance Technologies (Nasdaq NM: PTIX), a leader in unified systems design for the communications, industrial and military markets, today announced it has appointed Robert Tillman, former president of Ziatech Corporation, to its Board of Directors.

Mr. Tillman joined Ziatech Corporation in 1997 as president and led the organization as an independent embedded systems supplier until October 2000, when Intel Corporation acquired the company. After the acquisition by Intel, Mr. Tillman held the position of general manager for the Ziatech operation until October 2002, when Performance Technologies acquired this group. Mr. Tillman came to Ziatech following a 25-year career with Hewlett-Packard, where he served as division general manager for four different locations.

"Over the past several months, Performance Technologies has realigned its position in the market to offer a more unified set of systems and solutions to a wider target market. The Ziatech acquisition was the primary thrust behind this expansion, and we fully expect to benefit from Bob's experience as a former senior executive of the Ziatech organization as we move the company forward," said John Slusser, chairman of the board. "We are honored to have someone of his knowledge, depth and experience on our Board. He will be an important asset to this organization."
