When used in the Prospectus, the words "may", "would", "could", "will", "intend", "plan", "anticipate", "believe", "seek", "propose", "estimate", "expect", and similar expressions, as they relate to Descartes, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Specific forward-looking statements in the Prospectus include, but are not limited to: the use of net proceeds from the Offering or other transactions; our future business plans and business planning process; our baseline calibration; statements relating to business trends; the basis for any future growth and for our financial performance; the changing regulatory environment and its impact on our business; potential loss of recurring revenues; research and development and related expenditures; product and solution developments, enhancements and releases and the timing thereof; our building, development and consolidation of our network infrastructure; competition and changes in the competitive landscape; our management and protection of intellectual property and other proprietary rights; foreign sales and exchange rate fluctuations; cyclical or seasonal aspects of our business; our dividend policy; capital expenditures; and potential legal proceedings.

The forward-looking statements contained in the Prospectus are based on certain assumptions including the following: global shipment volumes continuing to increase at levels consistent with the average growth rates of the global economy; countries continuing to implement and enforce existing and additional customs and security regulations relating to the provision of electronic information for imports and exports; our continued operation of a secure and reliable business network; the stability of general economic and market conditions, currency exchange rates, and interest rates; equity and debt markets continuing to provide us with access to capital; our continued ability to identify and source attractive and executable business combination opportunities; and our continued compliance with third party intellectual property rights. These assumptions may prove to be inaccurate. Inherent in the forward-looking statements are known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors beyond our ability to control or predict, that may cause our actual results, performance or achievements, or developments in our business or in our industry, to differ materially from the anticipated results, performance, achievements or developments expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Some of the risks and other factors, some of which are beyond our control, which could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements and information contained in the Prospectus include, but are not limited to:

difficulties identifying, integrating, maintaining or growing our acquired businesses; failure to identify certain risks in connection with investments in acquisitions and other business initiatives;

cancellation of existing customer contracts, failure to renew and/or purchase additional services and products, or failure to attract new customers;

system or network failures or information security breaches in connection with our services and products;

general economic conditions that may affect our results of operations and financial condition;

changes in government filing requirements for global trade;

disruptions in the movement of freight;

changes in the value of the U.S. dollar against the currencies of other countries where we transact business;

failure to attract and retain key personnel to develop and effectively manage our business;

potential exposure to greater than anticipated tax liabilities or expenses;

Edgar Filing: DESCARTES SYSTEMS GROUP INC - Form SUPPL

changes to earnings resulting from past acquisitions;

failure to continue to innovate and to create new solutions and enhancements to our existing products;

increase in exposure to international business risks as we continue to increase our international operations;

interruptions in the supply of equipment from certain key vendors; increases in fuel prices and other transportation costs that may have an adverse effect on the businesses of our customers resulting in them spending less money with us;

inability to raise capital at all or on not unfavorable terms in the future;

failure to compensate for downward pricing pressure on certain products and services by increased volumes of transactions or increased prices elsewhere in our business;

environmental impacts resulting in environmental taxes, charges, regulatory schemes, assessments or penalties;

the general cyclical and seasonal nature of the freight market; potential litigation or dispute resolution;

increased competition and our inability to compete;

inability to generate broad market acceptance of our services, products and pricing;

failure to secure and protect patents, trademarks and other proprietary rights;

infringement of third-party proprietary rights triggering indemnification obligations and resulting in significant expenses or restrictions on our ability to provide our products or services;

difficulties in predicting our results of operations and failure to meet investment community expectations;

failure to offer high-quality customer services;

failure to comply with privacy laws and regulations that are extensive, open to various interpretations and complex to implement;

the volatility of the price of our Common Shares;

Edgar Filing: DESCARTES SYSTEMS GROUP INC - Form SUPPL

fair value assessments of our intangible assets required by U.S. GAAP leading to significant non-cash charges associated with intangible asset impairment; potential goodwill impairment as a result of decrease in Common Share price to a level such that the fair value of our net assets is less than the carrying value of our net assets;

substantial accumulated deficit and the risk of incurring more losses in the future; downward pressure on our share price and dilutive effect of future sales or issuances of equity securities;

lack of current intention to pay any cash dividends on our Common Shares in the foreseeable future; discretion in use of proceeds; and future sales of Common Shares by our existing shareholders causing downward pressure on our share price.

This is not an exhaustive list of the factors that may affect any of our forward-looking statements. Some of these and other factors are discussed in more detail in the section entitled "Certain Factors That May Affect Future Results" in our interim management's discussion and analysis for the three months ended April 30, 2014 and "Risk Factors" in this Prospectus Supplement. You should carefully consider these and other factors.

The forward-looking statements contained in the Prospectus represent our views only as of the date such statements were made. They are based on management's plans, estimates, projections, beliefs and opinions as at the time such statements were made and the assumptions related to these plans, estimates, projections, beliefs and opinions may change. There can be no assurance that such expectations will prove to be correct. We cannot guarantee future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements and actual results or developments may differ materially from those contemplated by the forward-looking statements. We do not undertake to update any forward-looking statements, except to the extent required by applicable securities laws. For the reasons set forth above, prospective investors should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

The Prospectus contains references to Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin, which are not measures under U.S. GAAP. We believe that our current shareholders and potential investors use non-GAAP financial measures, such as Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin, in making investment decisions about our company and measuring our operational results. The term "Adjusted EBITDA" refers to a financial measure that we define as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation (for which we include related fees and taxes) and other charges (for which we included Chairman and CEO retirement charges, restructuring charges and acquisition-related expenses). For a reconciliation of Adjusted EBITDA to net income, see "Summary Summary Consolidated Financial Data" in this Prospectus Supplement. The term "Adjusted EBITDA margin" refers to Adjusted EBITDA as a percentage of revenue. See also "Summary Baseline Calibration" in this Prospectus Supplement.

Management considers acquisition-related and restructuring activities to be outside the scope of our ongoing operations and the related expenses are not used by management to measure operations. Accordingly, these expenses are excluded from Adjusted EBITDA, which we reference to both measure our operations and as a basis of comparison of our operations from period-to-period.

Management believes that investors and financial analysts measure our business on the same basis, and we provide the Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin financial metrics to assist in this evaluation and to provide a higher level of transparency into how we measure our own business. However, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin are non-GAAP financial measures and may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies. Adjusted EBITDA should not be construed as a substitute for net income determined in accordance with U.S. GAAP or other non-GAAP measures that may be used by other companies, such as EBITDA. The use of Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin does have limitations. In particular, we have completed 25 acquisitions since April 2006, and may complete additional acquisitions in the future that will result in acquisition-related expenses and restructuring charges. As these acquisition-related expenses and restructuring charges may continue as we pursue our consolidation strategy, some investors may consider these charges and expenses as a recurring part of operations rather than non-recurring charges and expenses that are not part of operations.

The Descartes Systems Group Inc.

We are a leading provider of logistics management software solutions and a federated global logistics network. Our solutions simplify complex business processes, improving productivity, performance and security of logistics-intensive businesses. We offer predominantly cloud-based solutions to automate and optimize logistics and supply chain management business processes. We believe that companies are increasingly seeking automation and real-time control of their supply chain activities while trying to reduce operating costs and improve margins. Our global logistics network and software solutions provide our customers with a single sourced, integrated, neutral and an end-to-end global trade and logistics platform. Our primary focus is on serving transportation providers (air, ocean and truck modes), logistics service providers (including third-party logistics providers, freight forwarders and customs brokers) and distribution-intensive companies. As of April 30, 2014, we had over 10,000 customers, including the following industry leaders:

Air: Virgin Atlantic, Delta, American Airlines, Air Canada, British Airways and Etihad Airways;

Ocean: Maersk, CMA CGM, MOL, Hapag-Lloyd and Hamburg Süd;

Truck: Con-way, Schneider National, Estes, England Logistics and Day & Ross;

Intermediaries: DHL, Kuehne + Nagel, Panalpina, DB Schenker and Crowley;

Retailers: CVS Pharmacy, The Home Depot, John Lewis Partnership, Crate & Barrel, Hallmark, Jumbo Supermarkten and Sears;

Manufacturers: BASF, Coca-Cola, JVC Kenwood, SAB Miller, Del Monte, Volvo and Mondelez International;

Distributors: Core-Mark, Ferrellgas, Don, Zee and Deli XL.

Our customers use our solutions to improve their performance in a variety of ways. For example, The Home Depot leverages our Advanced Home Delivery Solution for real-time delivery appointment scheduling, route optimization and execution and mobile resource management solutions. DHL leverages our solutions across several of its operating groups, including Global Forwarding, DHL Express (Parcels) and Logistics and Supply Chain Management. American Airlines uses our solutions to meet a growing number of logistic challenges across the globe, including executing country-specific customs and security filings, managing messaging for its cargo and managing its website's cargo booking systems.

According to MarketInsight's Global Logistics Market report, published May 30, 2013, the global logistics market was expected to reach a value of approximately US$4 trillion in 2013. Logistics-intensive organizations are under intense pressure to automate and optimize their logistics and supply chain operations. Existing global trade and logistics processes are fragmented and highly complex to manage. Global sourcing, increasing security and customs requirements, and growing consumer expectations for same-day and next-day delivery alternatives with firms such as Google, Amazon and eBay, have further exacerbated the challenges facing logistics-intensive organizations. Manual processes and fragmented point solutions for logistics are inadequate to meet the needs of most companies in this environment.

We empower companies to solve these challenges by providing a global logistics network and software solutions that automate and optimize the logistics value chain. Customers use our modular, software-as-a-service ("SaaS") solutions to route, schedule, track and measure delivery resources; plan, allocate and execute shipments; rate, audit and pay transportation invoices; file customs and security documents for imports and exports; and complete numerous other logistics processes by participating in the world's largest, collaborative multi-modal logistics community. Our Logistics Technology Platform is designed to help accelerate time-to-value and increase productivity and performance for businesses of all sizes. Our Global Logistics Network is the foundation of the Logistics Technology Platform and manages the flow of data and documents that track and control inventory, assets, and people in motion. Our Logistics Application Suite offers a wide array of modular, cloud-based, interoperable web and wireless logistics management applications. These solutions are designed expressly for logistics operations and are native to the particularities of different transportation modes and country borders. Our comprehensive suite of solutions includes (priced primarily as indicated):

Global Logistics Network (subscription and per transaction fees based on business documents)

Routing, Mobile and Telematics (subscription or perpetual license based on number of vehicles)

Transportation Management (subscription and per transaction fees based on number of shipments)

Customs & Regulatory Compliance (subscription and per transaction fees based on number of regulatory filings)

Broker & Forwarder Enterprise Systems (subscription based on number of seats)

Trade Content (subscription based on number of countries and type of trade content)

For logistics-intensive organizations, delivery is often a defining part of their own product or service offering. Our solutions are focused on improving the productivity, performance and security of these logistics-intensive businesses. By uniting the reach of the Global Logistics Network with the power of our applications, our federated network creates an ecosystem that supports and streamlines the key functional areas facing today's logistics managers. Our market leadership is evidenced by more than 173,000 parties and more than 10,000 customers spanning over 160 countries on our network. The power of our data is evident in the robust volume of more than 4.5 billion messages and more than 30 million routes managed per year.

We have achieved significant growth and profitability. Our pricing model provides our customers with flexibility in purchasing our solutions either on subscription, transactional or a perpetual license basis. Our revenue grew from $66.0 million in our fiscal year ended January 31, 2009 to $151.3 million in our fiscal year ended January 31, 2014, representing an 18% compounded annual growth rate. In our fiscal year ended January 31, 2014, we generated gross margin of $102.3 million, representing a margin of 67.6%, net income of $9.6 million, representing a margin of 6.3%, and Adjusted EBITDA of $44.5 million, representing a margin of 29.4%. Services revenue comprised 91% of total revenues in our fiscal year ended January 31, 2014, with the remainder derived from software license sales. In our fiscal quarter ended April 30, 2014, we generated gross margin of $27.6 million, representing a margin of 68%, net income of $3.7 million, and Adjusted EBITDA of $12.1 million, representing a margin of 30.0%. For a discussion of

Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin, see "Non-GAAP Measures" in this Prospectus Supplement.

Recent Developments

On May 28, 2014, we amended our revolving debt facility, increasing the borrowing limit from US$50.0 million to US$77.0 million (the "Amended Facility"). The Amended Facility is comprised of a US$75.0 million revolving facility that can be drawn on to accommodate future acquisition activity, with drawn amounts to be repaid in equal quarterly installments over a period of five years from the advance date, and a US$2.0 million revolving facility that can be drawn on for general working capital purposes, with no fixed repayment date on drawn amounts prior to the end of the term. Borrowings under the Amended Facility are secured by a first charge over substantially all of our assets. All other terms, including security, interest rates and payment frequency, representations, warranties and guarantees, and covenants remain substantially unchanged from the previous revolving debt facility.

On May 29, 2014, Allan Brett was appointed as our Chief Financial Officer to replace Stephanie Ratza who will remain at Descartes until September 2014 to assist with a smooth transition. Mr. Brett is an experienced public company executive who served as Chief Financial Officer of Aastra Technologies Limited from June 1996 through to its January 2014 sale to Mitel Networks Corporation. Upon completion of the distribution of Common Shares under the Offering (including any Additional Shares), approximately 110,000 Common Shares will be issued to Ms. Ratza (the "SAR Shares") in accordance with the terms of share appreciation rights attached to expiring, surrendered options previously issued to Ms. Ratza pursuant to our share-based compensation arrangements. The SAR Shares will not be subject to the "lock-up" arrangements that otherwise restrict sales of Common Shares by our officers and directors for 90 days following the date of this Prospectus Supplement, as described in "Underwriting" in this Prospectus Supplement.

On May 29, 2014, our shareholders elected two new directors to our board of directors, being Jane O'Hagan, a senior executive in the transportation industry with many years of experience in the railway sector, and Edward J. Ryan, our Chief Executive Officer.

On May 29, 2014, following the approval of our shareholders, we entered into an amended and restated shareholder rights plan agreement with Computershare Investor Services Inc. which continued the rights previously issued under and governed by our prior shareholder rights plan agreements.

On May 29, 2014, Eric Demirian was appointed as Chair of our board of directors and Stephen Watt, the former Chair, remained as a member of our board of directors.

On June 2, 2014, we announced that we acquired Customs Info LLC ("Customs Info"), a leading U.S.-based provider of trade data content to power Global Trade Management ("GTM") systems and streamline global trade automation. Customs Info has been a high-growth, premium trade data business with recurring subscription revenues. Customs Info provides comprehensive trade data and related research tools to more than 800 multi-national shippers to help them reduce operating costs, improve customs compliance, and accelerate supply chain speed. This trade data populates GTM systems, including SAP GTS and Oracle GTM, and includes trade tariffs, duties, regulations, trade agreements, rules of origin and other trade-related content. Our integration plans include making this trade content available over our Global Logistics Network, to drive strategic value for customers by combining trade content and trade flow. Customs Info also provides one of the leading on-line global trade research tools used by thousands of trade professionals, as well as a SaaS-delivered classification solution to help trade professionals and multi-national shippers quickly build and easily maintain complex classification databases for their operations around the world. Customs Info also provides duty and tax content to some of the world's largest e-commerce sites. Customs Info is headquartered in Salt Lake City, Utah. We acquired Customs Info for upfront consideration of US$41.5 million, net of working capital, plus potential performance-based consideration. The up-front consideration is comprised of US$36.1 million in cash, US$20 million of which was drawn from our existing acquisition line of credit, and 416,437 Common Shares, which are subject to certain restrictions on resale. The maximum amount payable under the all-cash performance-based earn-out is US$3.9 million, based on Customs Info achieving revenue-based targets in calendar 2014. Any earn-out is expected to be paid in our fiscal year ending January 31, 2016.

Other than as described above, there have been no significant developments in our operations and affairs occurring since April 30, 2014.

Our recent acquisitions completed prior to April 30, 2014, include those discussed below.

On May 2, 2013 we acquired KSD Software Norway AS ("KSD"), a leading Scandinavian-based provider of electronic customs filing solutions for the European Union ("EU"). KSD's software helps customers manage the complexities of EU customs compliance. KSD brought more than 1,300 logistics-focused customers to the Customs and Regulatory Compliance solutions available on our Global Logistic Network, with the majority of these customers based in Scandinavia. KSD was headquartered in Oslo, Norway, with offices in Sweden, Denmark and The Netherlands. The all cash purchase price for the acquisition was NOK 190 million (approximately US$33 million at May 2, 2013), with us acquiring approximately NOK 11.5 million in working capital (approximately US$2 million at May 2, 2013).

On April 1, 2014, we acquired Computer Management USA, Inc. and Computer Management NA, Inc. (collectively, "Computer Management"), a leading U.S.-based provider of security filing solutions and air cargo management solutions for airlines and their partners. Specifically, Computer Management's solutions help air carriers to improve operational efficiency and streamline security filing and customs clearance processes, directly and through coordination with hundreds of ground handlers and container freight stations. Our integration plans include adding Computer Management's customers and solutions to our Global Logistics Network as part of our Customs and Regulatory Compliance solutions. The total purchase price for the acquisition was US$6.7 million, net of cash acquired.

Baseline Calibration

We internally measure and manage our "baseline calibration," a non-GAAP financial measure, which we define as the difference between our "baseline revenues" and "baseline operating expenses". We define our "baseline revenues," a non-GAAP financial measure, as our visible, recurring and contracted revenues. Baseline revenues are not a projection of anticipated total revenues for a period as they exclude any anticipated or expected new sales for a period beyond the date that the baseline revenues are measured. We define our "baseline operating expenses," a non-GAAP financial measure, as our total expenses less interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, stock-based compensation (for which we include related costs and taxes), acquisition-related costs and restructuring charges. Baseline operating expenses are not a projection of anticipated total expenses for a period as they exclude any expenses associated with anticipated or expected new sales for a period beyond the date that the baseline expenses are measured. Our baseline calibration is not a projection of net income for a period as determined in accordance with U.S. GAAP, or Adjusted EBITDA for a period as it excludes anticipated or expected new sales for a period beyond the date that the baseline calibration is measured, excludes any costs of goods sold or other expenses associated with such new sales, and excludes the expenses identified as excluded in the definition of "baseline operating expenses," above. We calculate and disclose "baseline revenues," "baseline operating expenses" and "baseline calibration" because management uses these metrics in determining its planned levels of expenditures for a period. These metrics are estimates and not projections, nor actual financial results, and are not indicative of current or future performance. These metrics do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by U.S. GAAP and are unlikely to be comparable to similarly-titled metrics used by other companies and are not a replacement or proxy for any U.S. GAAP measure.

At May 1, 2014, using foreign exchange rates of US$0.90 to C$1.00, US$1.37 to €1.00 and US$1.60 to £1.00, we estimated that our baseline revenues for our fiscal quarter ending July 31, 2014 were approximately US$38.0 million and our baseline operating expenses were approximately US$28.7 million. We considered this to be our baseline calibration of approximately US$9.3 million for our fiscal quarter ending July 31, 2014, or approximately 24.5% of our baseline revenues as at May 1, 2014.

At February 1, 2014, using foreign exchange rates of US$0.92 to C$1.00, US$1.35 to €1.00 and US$1.64 to £1.00, we estimated that our baseline revenues for our fiscal quarter ended April 30, 2014 were approximately US$37.5 million and our baseline operating expenses were approximately US$28.4 million. We considered this to be our baseline calibration of approximately US$9.1 million for our fiscal quarter ending April 30, 2014, or approximately 24.3% of our baseline revenues as at February 1, 2014.

At November 1, 2013, using foreign exchange rates of US$0.97 to C$1.00, US$1.33 to €1.00 and US$1.60 to £1.00, we estimated that our baseline revenues for our fiscal quarter ended January 31, 2014 were approximately US$36.5 million and our baseline operating expenses were approximately US$27.9 million. We considered this to be our baseline calibration of approximately US$8.6 million for our fiscal quarter ended January 31, 2014, or approximately 23.6% of our baseline revenues as at November 1, 2013.

At August 1, 2013, using foreign exchange rates of US$0.97 to C$1.00, US$1.33 to €1.00 and US$1.54 to £1.00, we estimated that our baseline revenues our fiscal quarter ended October 31, 2013 were approximately US$35.9 million and our baseline operating expenses were approximately US$27.6 million. We considered this to be our baseline calibration of approximately US$8.3 million for our fiscal quarter ended October 31, 2013, or approximately 23.1% of our baseline revenues as at August 1, 2013.

At May 2, 2013, using foreign exchange rates of US$1.00 to C$1.00, US$1.30 to €1.00 and US$1.52 to £1.00, we estimated that our baseline revenues our fiscal quarter ended July 31, 2013 were approximately US$35.5 million and our baseline operating expenses were approximately US$27.7 million. We considered this to be our baseline calibration of approximately US$7.8 million for our fiscal quarter ended July 31, 2013, or approximately 22.0% of our baseline revenues as at May 2, 2013.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Offered Shares is subject to certain risks. Before making an investment in the Offered Shares, you should carefully consider the risk factors below together with all other information described in the Base Shelf Prospectus, the documents incorporated by reference in the Base Shelf Prospectus for purposes of the Offering, including our annual information form dated April 6, 2014 for the fiscal year ended January 31, 2014 and our interim management's discussion and analysis for the three months ended April 30, 2014, and other information in the Prospectus. If any of such or other risks occur, our business, prospects, financial condition, financial performance and cash flows could be materially adversely impacted. In that case, the trading price of the Common Shares could decline and investors could lose all or part of their investment.

We may have difficulties identifying, successfully integrating, maintaining or growing our acquired businesses.

Businesses that we acquire may sell products or operate services that we have limited experience operating or managing. We may experience unanticipated challenges or difficulties identifying suitable acquisition candidates, integrating their businesses into our company, maintaining these businesses at their current levels or growing these businesses. Factors that may impair our ability to identify, successfully integrate, maintain or grow acquired businesses may include, but are not limited to:

Challenges identifying suitable businesses to buy and negotiating the acquisition of those businesses on acceptable terms;

Completing the acquisitions within our expected time frames and budgets;

Challenges in integrating acquired businesses with our business;

Loss of customers of the acquired business;

Loss of key personnel from the acquired business, such as former executive officers or key technical personnel;

Non-compatible business cultures;

For regulatory compliance businesses, changes in government regulations impacting electronic regulatory filings or import/export compliance, including changes in which government agencies are responsible for gathering import and export information;

Difficulties in gaining necessary approvals in international markets to expand acquired businesses as contemplated;

Our inability to obtain or maintain necessary security clearances to provide international shipment management services;

Our failure to make appropriate capital investments in infrastructure to facilitate growth; and

Other risk factors identified herein.

We may fail to properly respond to any of these risks, which may have a material adverse effect on our business results.

Investments in acquisitions and other business initiatives involve a number of risks that could harm our business.

We have in the past acquired, and in the future expect to seek to acquire, additional products, services, customers, technologies and businesses that we believe are complementary to ours. For example, in our fiscal year ending January 31, 2015 we have acquired Customs Info and Computer Management, and in our fiscal year ended January 31, 2014, we acquired KSD, Computata AG and Impatex Freight Software Ltd. In our fiscal year ended January 31, 2013, we acquired Infodis B.V., Integrated Export Systems, Ltd. and Exentra Transport Solutions Limited. We are unable to predict whether or when we will be able to identify any appropriate products, technologies or businesses for acquisition, or the likelihood that any potential acquisition will be available on terms acceptable to us or will be completed. Consequently, our assets, including a portion of the net proceeds of this Offering, may remain un-deployed or under-deployed, which may adversely affect our financial performance and the market price of the Common Shares. We also, from time to time, take on investments in other business initiatives, such as the implementation of a new enterprise resource planning system.

Acquisitions and other business initiatives involve a number of risks, including: diversion of management's attention from current operations; additional demands on resources, systems, procedures and controls; and disruption of our ongoing business. Acquisitions specifically involve risks, including: difficulties in integrating and retaining all or part of the acquired business, its customers and its personnel; assumption of disclosed and undisclosed liabilities; dealing with unfamiliar laws, customs and practices in foreign jurisdictions; and the effectiveness of the acquired company's internal controls and procedures. In addition, we may not identify all risks or fully assess risks identified in connection with an investment. As well, by investing in such initiatives, we may deplete our cash resources or dilute our shareholder base by issuing additional shares. Furthermore, for acquisitions, there is a risk that our valuation assumptions, customer retention expectations and our models for an acquired product or business may be erroneous or inappropriate due to foreseen or unforeseen circumstances and thereby cause us to overvalue an acquisition target. There is also a risk that the contemplated benefits of an acquisition or other investment may not materialize as planned or may not materialize within the time period or to the extent anticipated. The individual or combined effect of these risks could have a material adverse effect on our business.

Our existing customers might cancel contracts with us, fail to renew contracts on their renewal dates, and/or fail to purchase additional services and products, and we may be unable to attract new customers.

We depend on our installed customer base for a significant portion of our revenues. We have significant contracts with our license customers for ongoing support and maintenance, as well as significant service contracts that provide recurring services revenues to us, such as our contract to operate the U.S. Census Bureau's Automated Export System, AESDirect. In addition, our installed customer base has historically generated additional new license and services revenues for us. Service contracts are generally renewable at a customer's option, and there are generally no mandatory payment obligations or obligations to license additional software or subscribe for additional services.

If our customers fail to renew their service contracts, fail to purchase additional services or products, or we are unable to attract new customers, then our revenues could decrease and our operating results could be adversely affected. Factors influencing such contract terminations could include changes in the financial circumstances of our customers, dissatisfaction with our products or services, our retirement or lack of support for our legacy products and services, our customers selecting or building alternate technologies to replace us, the cost of our products and services as compared to the cost of products and services offered by our competitors, our ability to attract, hire and maintain qualified personnel to meet customer needs, consolidating activities in the market, and changes in our customers' business or in regulation impacting our customers' business that may no longer necessitate the use of our products or services, general economic or market conditions, or other reasons. Further, our customers could delay or terminate implementations or use of our services and products or be reluctant to migrate to new products. Such customers will not generate the revenues we may have anticipated within the timelines anticipated, if at all, and may be less likely to invest in additional services or products from us in the future. We may not be able to adjust our expense levels quickly enough to account for any such revenue losses. In addition, loss of one or more of our key customers could adversely impact our competitive position in the marketplace and hurt our credibility and ability to attract new customers.

System or network failures or information security breaches in connection with our services and products could reduce our sales, impair our reputation, increase costs or result in liability claims, and seriously harm our business.

Any disruption to our services and products, our own information systems or communications networks or those of third-party providers on which we rely as part of our own product offerings could result in the inability of our customers to receive our products for an indeterminate period of time. Our ability to deliver our products and services depends on the development and maintenance of internet infrastructure by third parties. This includes maintenance of reliable networks with the necessary security, speed, data capacity and bandwidth. While our services are designed to operate without interruption, we have experienced, and may in the future experience, interruptions and delays in services and availability from time to time. In the event of a catastrophic event with respect to one or more of our systems, we may experience an extended period of system unavailability, which could negatively impact our relationship with customers. Our services and products may not function properly for reasons which may include, but are not limited to, the following:

System or network failure;

Software errors, failures and crashes;

Interruption in the supply of power;

Virus proliferation;

Communications failures;

Information or infrastructure security breaches;

Insufficient investment in infrastructure;

Earthquakes, fires, floods, natural disasters, or other force majeure events outside our control; and Acts of war, cyber-attacks, denial-of-service attacks and/or terrorism.

In addition, any disruption to the availability of customer information, or any compromise to the integrity or confidentiality of customer information in our systems or networks, or the systems or networks of third parties on which we rely, could result in our customers being unable to effectively use our products or services or forced to take mitigating actions to protect their information. Back-up and redundant systems may be insufficient or may fail and result in a disruption of availability of our products or services to our customers or the integrity or availability of our customers' information.

Any disruption to our services or compromise of customer information could impair our reputation and cause us to lose customers or revenue, or face litigation, necessitate customer service or repair work that would involve substantial costs and distract management from operating our business. Such issues could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

General economic conditions may affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Demand for our products depends in large part upon the level of capital and operating expenditures by many of our customers. Decreased capital and operational spending could have a material adverse effect on the demand for our products and our business, results of operations, cash flow and overall financial condition. Disruptions in the financial markets, the 2011 downgrade in U.S. debt and ongoing debt concerns in Europe may adversely impact the availability of credit already arranged and the availability and cost of credit in the future, which could result in the delay or cancellation of projects or capital programs on which our business depends. In addition, disruptions in the financial markets may also have an adverse impact on regional economies or the world economy, which could negatively impact the capital and operating expenditures of our customers. These conditions may reduce the willingness or ability of our customers and prospective customers to commit funds to purchase our products and services, or their ability to pay for our products and services after purchase.

Changes in government filing requirements for global trade may adversely impact our business.

Our regulatory compliance services help our customers comply with government filing requirements relating to global trade. The services that we offer may be impacted, from time to time, by changes in these requirements. Changes in requirements that impact electronic regulatory filings or import/export compliance, including changes adding or reducing filing requirements, changes in enforcement practices or changes in the government agency responsible for such requirements could adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Disruptions in the movement of freight could negatively affect our revenues.

Our business is highly dependent on the movement of freight from one point to another since we generate transaction revenues as freight is moved by, to or from our customers. If there are disruptions in the movement of freight or proper reporting, whether as a result of labor disputes, weather or natural disaster, or caused by terrorists, political instability, or security activities, contagious illness outbreaks, or otherwise, then the traffic volume on our Global Logistics Network will be impacted and our revenues will be adversely affected. As these types of freight disruptions are generally unpredictable, there can be no assurance that our business, results of operations and financial condition will not be adversely affected by such events.

Changes in the value of the U.S. dollar, as compared to the currencies of other countries where we transact business, could harm our operating results and financial condition.

Historically, the majority of our revenues have been denominated in U.S. dollars. However, the majority of our international expenses, including the wages of our non-U.S. employees and certain key supply agreements, have been denominated in Canadian dollars, euros and other foreign currencies. Therefore, changes in the value of the U.S. dollar as compared to the Canadian dollar, the euro and other foreign currencies may materially affect our operating results. We generally have not implemented hedging programs to mitigate our exposure to currency fluctuations affecting international accounts receivable, cash balances and inter-company accounts. We also have not hedged our exposure to currency fluctuations affecting future international revenues and expenses and other commitments. Accordingly, currency exchange rate fluctuations have caused, and may continue to cause, variability in our foreign currency denominated revenue streams, expenses, and our cost to settle foreign currency denominated liabilities.

If we fail to attract and retain key personnel, it would adversely affect our ability to develop and effectively manage our business.

Our performance is substantially dependent on the performance of our highly qualified management, technical expertise, and sales and marketing personnel, which we regard as key individuals to our business. We do not maintain life insurance policies on any of our employees that list Descartes as a loss payee. Our success is highly dependent on our ability to identify, hire, train, motivate, promote, and retain key individuals. Significant competition exists for management and skilled personnel. If we fail to cross train key employees, particularly those with specialized knowledge it could impair our ability to provide consistent and uninterrupted service to our customers. If we are not able to attract, retain or establish an effective succession planning program for key individuals it could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and the price of our Common Shares.

We have in the past, and may in the future, make changes to our executive management team or board of directors. There can be no assurance that any such changes and the resulting transition will not have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and the price of our Common Shares.

We may have exposure to greater than anticipated tax liabilities or expenses.

We are subject to income and non-income taxes in various jurisdictions and our tax structure is subject to review by both domestic and foreign taxation authorities. The determination of our worldwide provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities requires significant judgment. In the ordinary course of a global business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax outcome is uncertain. Tax filings are subject to audits, which could materially change the amount of current and deferred income tax assets and liabilities. We have recorded a valuation allowance against a portion of our net deferred tax assets. If we achieve a consistent level of profitability, the likelihood of further reducing our deferred tax valuation allowance for some portion of the losses incurred in prior periods in one of our jurisdictions will increase. We calculate our current and deferred tax provision based on estimates and assumptions that could differ from the actual results reflected in income tax returns filed during subsequent years. Adjustments based on filed returns are generally recorded in the period when the tax returns are filed and the global tax implications are known. Our estimate of the potential outcome for any uncertain tax issue is based on a number of assumptions. Any further changes to the valuation allowance for our deferred tax assets would also result in an income tax recovery or income tax expense, as applicable, on the consolidated statements of operations in the period in which the valuation allowance is changed.

Changes to earnings resulting from past acquisitions may adversely affect our operating results.

Under Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standard Codification ("ASC") Topic 805, "Business Combinations", we allocate the total purchase price to an acquired company's net tangible assets, intangible assets and in-process research and development based on their values as of the date of the acquisition (including certain assets and liabilities that are recorded at fair value) and record the excess of the purchase price over those values as goodwill. Management's estimates of fair value are based upon assumptions believed to be reasonable but which are inherently uncertain. After we complete an acquisition, the following factors, among others, could result in material charges that would adversely affect our operating results and may adversely affect our cash flows:

Impairment of goodwill or intangible assets;

A reduction in the useful lives of intangible assets acquired;

Identification of assumed contingent liabilities after we finalize the purchase price allocation period;

Charges to our operating results to eliminate certain pre-merger activities that duplicate those of the acquired company or to reduce our cost structure; and

Charges to our operating results resulting from revised estimates to restructure an acquired company's operations after we finalize the purchase price allocation period.

Routine charges to our operating results associated with acquisitions include amortization of intangible assets, acquisition-related costs and restructuring charges. Acquisition-related costs primarily include advisory services, brokerage services and administrative costs with respect to completed and prospective acquisitions.

We expect to continue to incur additional costs associated with combining the operations of our acquired companies, which may be substantial. Additional costs may include costs of employee redeployment, relocation and retention, including salary increases or bonuses, accelerated stock-based compensation expenses and severance payments, reorganization or closure of facilities, taxes, and termination of contracts that provide redundant or conflicting services. These costs would be accounted for as expenses and would decrease our net income and earnings per share for the periods in which those adjustments are made.

Our success depends on our ability to continue to innovate and to create new solutions and enhancements to our existing products.

We may not be able to develop and introduce new solutions and enhancements to our existing products that respond to new technologies or shipment regulations on a timely basis. If we are unable to develop and sell new products and new features for our existing products that keep pace with rapid technological and regulatory change as well as developments in the transportation logistics industry, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected. We intend to continue to invest significant resources in research and development to enhance our existing products and services and introduce new high-quality products that customers will want. If we are unable to predict or quickly react to user preferences or changes in the transportation logistics industry, or its regulatory requirements, or if we are unable to modify our products and services on a timely basis or to effectively bring new products to market, our sales may suffer.

In addition, we may experience difficulties with software or hardware development, design, integration with third-party software or hardware, or marketing that could delay or prevent our introduction, deployment or implementation of new solutions and enhancements. The introduction of new solutions by competitors, the emergence of new industry standards or the development of entirely new technologies to replace existing offerings could render our existing or future solutions obsolete.

We may not have sufficient resources to make the necessary investments in software development and our technical infrastructure, and we may experience difficulties that could delay or prevent the successful development, introduction or marketing of new products or enhancements. In addition, our products or enhancements may not meet increasingly complex customer requirements or achieve market acceptance at the rate we expect, or at all. Any failure by us to anticipate or respond adequately to technological advancements, customer requirements and changing industry standards, or any significant delays in the development, introduction or availability of new products or enhancements, could undermine our current market position and negatively impact our business, results of operations or financial condition.

As we continue to increase our international operations we increase our exposure to international business risks that could cause our operating results to suffer.

While our headquarters are in Canada, we currently have direct operations in the United States, Europe and the Asia Pacific region. We anticipate that these international operations will continue to require significant management attention and financial resources to localize our services and products for delivery in these markets, to develop compliance expertise relating to international regulatory agencies, and to develop direct and indirect sales and support channels in those markets. We face a number of risks associated with conducting our business internationally that could negatively impact our operating results. These risks include, but are not limited to:

Longer collection time from foreign clients, particularly in the Europe, Middle-East and Africa region and the Asia Pacific region;

Difficulty in repatriating cash from certain foreign jurisdictions;

Language barriers, conflicting international business practices, and other difficulties related to the management and administration of a global business;

Increased management, travel, infrastructure and legal compliance costs associated with having international operations;

Difficulties and costs of staffing and managing geographically disparate direct and indirect operations;

Volatility or fluctuations in foreign currency and tariff rates;

Multiple, and possibly overlapping, tax structures;

Complying with complicated and widely differing global laws and regulations in areas such as employment, tax, privacy and data protection;

Trade restrictions;

Enhanced security procedures and requirements relating to certain jurisdictions;

The need to consider characteristics unique to technology systems used internationally;

Economic or political instability in some markets; and

Other risk factors set out herein.

We are dependent on certain key vendors for our inventory of telematics units, which could impede our development and expansion.

We currently have relationships with a small number of mobile asset unit vendors over which we have no operational or financial control and no influence in how these vendors conduct their businesses. Suppliers of mobile asset units could among other things, extend delivery times, raise prices and limit supply due to their own shortages and business requirements. Interruption in the supply of equipment from these vendors could delay our ability to maintain, grow and expand our telematics solutions business. If our relationships with any of these unit vendors were to terminate, there is no guarantee that our remaining unit vendors would be able to handle the increased equipment supply required to maintain and grow our expansive networks at our desired rates. There is also no guarantee that business relationships with other key unit vendors could be entered into, on terms desirable or favorable to us, if at all. Fewer key vendors might mean that existing or potential customers are unable to meaningfully communicate using our Global Logistics Network, which may cause existing and potential customers to move to competitors' products. Such equipment supply issues could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Increases in fuel prices and other transportation costs may have an adverse effect on the businesses of our customers resulting in them spending less money with us.

Our customers are all involved, directly or indirectly, in the delivery of goods from one point to another, particularly transportation providers and freight forwarders. As the costs of these deliveries become more expensive, whether as a result of increases in fuel costs or otherwise, our customers may have fewer funds available to spend on our products and services. There can be no assurance that these companies will be able to allocate sufficient funds to use our products and services. In addition, rising fuel costs may cause global or geographic-specific reductions in the number of shipments being made, thereby impacting the number of transactions being processed by our Global Logistics Network and our corresponding network revenues.

If we need additional capital in the future and are unable to obtain it or can only obtain it on unfavorable terms, our operations may be adversely affected, and the market price for our securities could decline.

Historically, we have financed our operations primarily through cash flows from our operations, the sale of our equity securities and borrowing under our debt facility. In addition to our current cash and cash equivalents and available debt facilities, we may need to raise additional debt or equity capital to fund expansion of our operations, to enhance our services and products, or to acquire or invest in complementary products, services, businesses or technologies. However, there can be no assurance that we will be able to undertake incremental financing transactions. If we raise additional funds through further issuances of convertible debt or equity securities, our existing shareholders could suffer significant dilution and any new equity securities we issue could have rights, preferences and privileges superior to those attaching to our Common Shares. Our current debt facility contains, and any debt financing secured by us in the future could contain restrictive covenants relating to our capital-raising activities and other financial and operational matters, which may make it more difficult for us to obtain additional capital and to pursue business opportunities, including potential acquisitions. In addition, we may not be able to obtain additional financing on terms favorable to us, if at all. If adequate funds are not available on terms favorable or at all, our operations and growth strategy may be adversely affected and the market price for our Common Shares could decline.

We may not be able to compensate for downward pricing pressure on certain products and services by increased volumes of transactions or increased prices elsewhere in our business, ultimately resulting in lower revenues.

Some of our products and services are sold to industries where there is downward pricing pressure on the particular product or service due to competition, general industry conditions or other causes. If we cannot offset any such downward pricing pressure, then the particular customer may generate less revenue for our business or we may have less aggregate revenue. This could have an adverse impact on our operating results.

Concerns about the environmental impacts of greenhouse gas emissions and global climate change may result in environmental taxes, charges, regulatory schemes, assessments or penalties, which could restrict or negatively impact our operations or reduce our profitability.

The impacts of human activity on global climate change have attracted considerable public and scientific attention, as well as the attention of the United States and other governments. Efforts are being made to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and energy consumption, including those from automobiles and other modes of transportation. The added cost of any environmental regulation, taxes, charges, assessments or penalties levied or imposed on our customers in light of these efforts could result in additional costs for our customers, which could lead them to reduce use of our services. There are also a number of legislative and environmental regulatory initiatives internationally that could restrict or negatively impact our operations or increase our costs. Additionally, environmental regulation, taxes, charges, assessments or penalties could be levied or imposed directly on us. Any enactment of laws or passage of regulations regarding greenhouse gas emissions by Canada, the United States, or any other jurisdiction we conduct our business in, could adversely affect our operations and financial results.

The general cyclical and seasonal nature of the freight market may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our business may be impacted from time to time by the general cyclical and seasonal nature of particular modes of transportation and the freight market in general, as well as the cyclical and seasonal nature of the industries that such markets serve. Factors which may create cyclical fluctuations in such modes of transportation or the freight market in general include legal and regulatory requirements, timing of contract renewals between our customers and their own customers, seasonal-based tariffs, vacation periods applicable to particular shipping or receiving nations, weather-related events that impact shipping in particular geographies and amendments to international trade agreements. Since some of our revenues from particular products and services are tied to the volume of shipments being processed, adverse fluctuations in the volume of global shipments or shipments in any particular mode of transportation may adversely affect our revenues. Declines in shipment volumes in the United States or internationally likely would have a material adverse effect on our business.

From time to time, we may be subject to litigation or dispute resolution that could result in significant costs to us and damage to our reputation.

From time to time, we may be subject to litigation or dispute resolution relating to any number or type of claims, including claims for damages related to undetected errors or malfunctions of our services and products or their deployment, claims related to previously-completed acquisition transactions or claims relating to applicable securities laws. Litigation may seriously harm our business because of the costs of defending the lawsuit, diversion of employees' time and attention and potential damage to our reputation.

Further, our services and products are complex and often implemented by our customers to interact with third-party technology or networks. Claims may be made against us for damages properly attributable to those third-party technologies or networks, regardless of our lack of responsibility for any failure resulting in a loss, even if our services and products perform in accordance with their functional specifications. We may also have disputes with key suppliers for damages incurred which, depending on resolution of the disputes, could impact the ongoing quality, price or availability of the services or products we procure from the supplier. Limitation of liability provisions in certain third-party contracts may not be enforceable under the laws of some jurisdictions. As a result, we could be required to pay substantial amounts of damages in settlement or upon the determination of any of these types of claims, and incur damage to our reputation and products. The likelihood of such claims and the amount of damages we may be required to pay may increase as our customers increasingly use our services and products for critical business functions, or rely on our services and products as the systems of record to store data for use by other customer applications. Our insurance may not cover potential claims, or may not be adequate to cover all costs incurred in defense of potential claims or to indemnify us for all liability that may be imposed. A claim brought against us that is uninsured or underinsured could result in unanticipated costs, thereby harming our operating results and leading analysts or potential investors to lower their expectations of our performance, which could reduce the trading price of our Common Shares.

We may not remain competitive. Increased competition could seriously harm our business.

The market for supply chain technology is highly competitive and subject to rapid technological change. We expect that competition will increase in the future. To maintain and improve our competitive position, we must continue to develop and introduce in a timely and cost effective manner new products, product features and network services to keep pace with our competitors. We currently face competition from a large number of specific market entrants, some of which are focused on specific industries, geographic regions or other components of markets we operate in.

Current and potential competitors include supply chain application software vendors, customers that undertake internal software development efforts, value-added networks and business document exchanges, enterprise resource planning software vendors, regulatory filing companies, and general business application software vendors. Many of our current and potential competitors may have one or more of the following relative advantages:

Established relationships with existing customers or prospects that we are targeting;

Superior product functionality and industry-specific expertise;

Broader range of products to offer and better product life cycle management;

Larger installed base of customers;

Greater financial, technical, marketing, sales, distribution and other resources;

Better performance;

Lower cost structure and more profitable operations;

Greater investment in infrastructure;

Greater worldwide presence;

Early adoption of, or adaptation to changes in, technology; or Longer operating history; and/or greater name recognition.

Further, current and potential competitors have established, or may establish, cooperative relationships and business combinations among themselves or with third parties to enhance their products, which may result in increased competition. In addition, we expect to experience increasing price competition and competition surrounding other commercial terms as we compete for market share. In particular, larger competitors or competitors with a broader range of services and products may bundle their products, rendering our products more expensive and/or less functional. As a result of these and other factors, we may be unable to compete successfully with our existing or new competitors.

If we are unable to generate broad market acceptance of our services, products and pricing, serious harm could result to our business.

We currently derive substantially all of our revenues from our federated network and global logistics technology solutions and expect to do so in the future. Broad market acceptance of these types of services and products, and their related pricing, is therefore critical to our future success. The demand for, and market acceptance of, our services and products is subject to a high level of uncertainty. Some of our services and products are often considered complex and may involve a new approach to the conduct of business by our customers. The market for our services and products may weaken, competitors may develop superior services and products that perform logistics services on a global scale or within a particular geographic region, or we may fail to develop or maintain acceptable services and products to address new market conditions, governmental regulations or technological changes. Any one of these events could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our success and ability to compete depend upon our ability to secure and protect patents, trademarks and other proprietary rights.

We consider certain aspects of our internal operations, products, services and related documentation to be proprietary, and we primarily rely on a combination of patent, copyright, trademark and trade secret laws and other measures to protect our proprietary rights. Patent applications or issued patents, as well as trademark, copyright, and trade secret rights may not provide adequate protection or competitive advantage and may require significant resources to obtain and defend. We will also not be able to protect our intellectual property if we are unable to enforce our rights or if we do not detect unauthorized use of our intellectual property. Despite our precautions, it may be possible for unauthorized third parties to copy our products and use information that we regard as proprietary to create products and services that compete with ours. We also rely on contractual restrictions in our agreements with customers, employees, outsourced developers and others to protect our intellectual property rights. There can be no assurance that these agreements will not be breached, that we will have adequate remedies for any breach, or that our patents, copyrights, trademarks or trade secrets will not otherwise become known. Through an escrow arrangement, we have granted some of our customers a contingent future right to use our source code for software products solely for their internal maintenance services. If our source code is accessed through an escrow, the likelihood of misappropriation or other misuse of our intellectual property may increase.

Moreover, the laws of some countries do not protect proprietary intellectual property rights as effectively as do the laws of the United States and Canada. Protecting and defending our intellectual property rights could be costly regardless of venue. In order to protect our intellectual property rights, we may be required to spend significant resources to monitor and protect these rights. Litigation may be necessary in the future to enforce our intellectual property rights, to protect our trade secrets, to determine the validity and scope of the intellectual property rights of others or to defend against claims of infringement or invalidity. Litigation brought to protect and enforce our intellectual property rights could be costly, time consuming and distracting to management and could result in the impairment or loss of portions of our intellectual property. Furthermore, our efforts to enforce our intellectual property rights may be met with defenses, counterclaims and countersuits attacking the validity and enforceability of our intellectual property rights. Our inability to protect our proprietary technology against unauthorized copying or use, as well as any costly litigation or diversion of our management's attention and resources, could delay further sales or the implementation of our solutions, impair the functionality of our solutions, delay introductions of new solutions, result in our substituting inferior or more costly technologies into our solutions, or injure our reputation.

Claims that we infringe third-party proprietary rights could trigger indemnification obligations and result in significant expenses or restrictions on our ability to provide our products or services.

Competitors and other third parties have claimed, and in the future may claim, that our current or future services or products infringe their proprietary rights or assert other claims against us. Many of our competitors have obtained patents covering products and services generally related to our products and services, and they may assert these patents against us. Such claims, whether with or without merit, could be time consuming and expensive to litigate or settle and could divert management attention from focusing on our core business.

As a result of such a dispute, we may have to pay damages, incur substantial legal fees, suspend the sale or deployment of our services and products, develop costly non-infringing technology, if possible, or enter into license agreements, which may not be available on terms acceptable to us, if at all. Any of these results would increase our expenses and could decrease the functionality of our services and products, which would make our services and products less attractive to our current and/or potential customers. We have agreed in some of our agreements, and may agree in the future, to indemnify other parties for any expenses or liabilities resulting from claimed infringements of the proprietary rights of third parties. If we are required to make payments pursuant to these indemnification agreements, such payments could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our results of operations may vary significantly from quarter to quarter and therefore may be difficult to predict or may fail to meet investment community expectations.

Our results of operations may vary from quarter to quarter in the future due to a variety of factors, many of which are outside of our control. Such factors include, but are not limited to:

Volatility or fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates;

Timing of acquisitions and related costs;

Timing of restructuring activities;

The introduction of enhanced products and services from competitors;

Our ability to introduce new products and updates to our existing products on a timely basis;

The termination of any key customer contracts, whether by the customer or by us;

Recognition and expensing of deferred tax assets;

Legal costs incurred in bringing or defending any litigation with customers or third-party providers, and any corresponding judgments or awards;

Legal and compliance costs incurred to comply with regulatory requirements;

Fluctuations in the demand for our services and products;

The impact of stock-based compensation expense;

Price and functionality competition in our industry;

Changes in legislation and accounting standards;

Our ability to satisfy contractual obligations in customer contracts and deliver services and products to the satisfaction of our customers; and

Other risk factors discussed herein.

Although our revenues may fluctuate from quarter to quarter, significant portions of our expenses are not variable in the short term, and we may not be able to reduce them quickly to respond to decreases in revenues. If revenues are below expectations, this shortfall is likely to adversely and/or disproportionately affect our operating results. If this occurs, the trading price of our Common Shares may fall substantially.

Any failure to offer high-quality customer services may adversely affect our relationships with our customers and our financial results.

Our customers depend on our customer service organization to resolve issues relating to our solutions and to train them to use our platform. High-quality customer services are important for the successful marketing and sale of our products and for the retention of existing customers and to sell additional add-on applications to our existing customers. If we do not help our customers quickly resolve issues and provide effective ongoing support, our ability to sell additional products to existing customers would suffer and our reputation with existing or potential customers would be harmed. In addition, our sales process is highly dependent on our applications and business reputation and on positive recommendations from our existing customers. Any failure to maintain high-quality customer services, or a market perception that we do not maintain high-quality customer services, could adversely affect our reputation, our ability to sell our solutions to existing and prospective customers, and our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Privacy laws and regulations are extensive, open to various interpretations, complex to implement and may reduce demand for our products, and failure to comply may impose significant liabilities.

Our customers can use our products to collect, use, process and store information regarding their shipments. Federal, state and foreign government bodies and agencies may adopt laws and regulations regarding the collection, use, processing, storage and disclosure of such information obtained from consumers and individuals. In addition to government regulatory activity, privacy advocacy groups and the technology industry and other industries may consider various new, additional or different self-regulatory standards that may place additional burdens directly on our customers and target customers, and indirectly on us. Our products are expected to be capable of use by our customers in compliance with such laws and regulations. The functional and operational requirements and costs of compliance with such laws and regulations may adversely impact our business, and failure to enable our products to comply with such laws and regulations could lead to significant fines and penalties imposed by regulators, as well as claims by our customers or third parties. Additionally, all of these domestic and international legislative and regulatory initiatives could adversely affect our customers' ability or desire to collect, use, process and store shipment logistics information, which could reduce demand for our products.

The price of our Common Shares has in the past been volatile and may also be volatile in the future.

The trading price of our Common Shares may be subject to fluctuation in the future. This may make it more difficult for you to resell your Common Shares when you want at prices that you find attractive. Increases in our Common Share price may also increase our compensation expense pursuant to our existing director, officer and employee compensation arrangements. Fluctuations in our Common Share price may be caused by events unrelated to our operating performance and beyond our control. Factors that may contribute to fluctuations include, but are not limited to:

Revenue or results of operations in any quarter failing to meet the expectations, published or otherwise, of the investment community;

Changes in recommendations or financial estimates by industry or investment analysts;

Changes in management or the composition of our board of directors;

Outcomes of litigation or arbitration proceedings;

Announcements of technological innovations or acquisitions by us or by our competitors;

Introduction of new products or significant customer wins or losses by us or by our competitors;

Developments with respect to our intellectual property rights or those of our competitors;

Fluctuations in the share prices of other companies in the technology and emerging growth sectors;

General market conditions; and

Other risk factors set out herein.

If the market price of our Common Shares drops significantly, shareholders could institute securities class action lawsuits against us, regardless of the merits of such claims. Such a lawsuit could cause us to incur substantial costs and could divert the time and attention of our management and other resources from our business.

Fair value assessments of our intangible assets required by U.S. GAAP may require us to record significant non-cash charges associated with intangible asset impairment.

Significant portions of our assets, which include customer agreements and relationships, non-compete covenants, existing technologies and trade names, are intangible. We amortize intangible assets on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. We review the carrying value of these assets at least annually for evidence of impairment. In accordance with ASC Topic 360-10-35, "Property, Plant, and Equipment: Overview: Subsequent Measurement" an impairment loss is recognized when the estimate of undiscounted future cash flows generated by such assets is less than the carrying amount. Measurement of the impairment loss is based on the present value of the expected future cash flows. Future fair value assessments of intangible assets may require impairment charges to be recorded in the results of operations for future periods. This could impair our ability to achieve or maintain profitability in the future.

If our Common Share price decreases to a level such that the fair value of our net assets is less than the carrying value of our net assets, we may be required to record additional significant non-cash charges associated with goodwill impairment.

We account for goodwill in accordance with ASC Topic 350, "Intangibles - Goodwill and Other", which among other things, requires that goodwill be tested for impairment at least annually. We have designated the third quarter for our annual impairment test. Should the fair value of our net assets, determined by our market capitalization, be less than the carrying value of our net assets at future annual impairment test dates, we may have to recognize goodwill impairment losses in our future results of operations. This could impair our ability to achieve or maintain profitability in the future.

We have a substantial accumulated deficit and a history of losses and may incur losses in the future.

As at April 30, 2014, our accumulated deficit was US$294.2 million, which has been accumulated from 2005 and prior fiscal periods. There can be no assurance that we will not incur losses again in the future. If we fail to maintain profitability, the market price of our Common Shares may decline.

Future sales or issuances of equity securities could decrease the value of our Common Shares, dilute investors' voting power and reduce our earnings per share.

We may sell additional equity securities in subsequent offerings (including through the sale of securities convertible into equity securities) and may issue additional equity securities to finance operations, acquisitions or other projects. We cannot predict the size of future issuances of equity securities or the size and terms of future issuances of debt instruments or other securities convertible into equity securities or the effect, if any, that future issuances and sales of our securities will have on the market price of the Common Shares. Any transaction involving the issuance of previously authorized but unissued Common Shares, or securities convertible into Common Shares, would result in dilution, possibly substantial, to security holders. Exercises of presently outstanding share options may also result in dilution to security holders.

Sales of substantial amounts of our securities, or the availability of such securities for sale, could adversely affect the prevailing market prices for our securities and dilute investors' earnings per share. A decline in the market prices of our securities could impair our ability to raise additional capital through the sale of securities should we desire to do so.

We do not currently intend to pay any cash dividends on our Common Shares in the foreseeable future.

We have not declared or paid any cash dividends on our Common Shares to date. Although we review our dividend policy from time to time, our current policy is to retain earnings to finance expansion and to develop, license and acquire new products and to otherwise reinvest in its business. Therefore, we do not anticipate paying cash dividends in the foreseeable future. Until we pay dividends, which we may never do, shareholders will not be able to receive return on their Common Shares unless they sell them at an amount greater than the price at which shares were acquired.

Discretion in use of proceeds.

We will have broad discretion concerning the use of the net proceeds of the Offering as well as the timing of any expenditures. As a result, a purchaser of Offered Shares will be relying on the judgment of management with respect to the application of the net proceeds of the Offering. Management may use the net proceeds of the Offering in ways that an investor may not consider desirable. The results and the effectiveness of the application of the net proceeds are uncertain. If the net proceeds are not applied effectively, our financial performance and financial condition may be adversely affected and the Common Shares could lose value.

Future sales of Common Shares by our existing shareholders could cause our Common Share price to fall.

If our shareholders sell substantial amounts of the Common Shares in the public market, the market price of the Common Shares could fall. The perception among investors that these sales will occur could also produce this effect.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We expect to receive net proceeds from the sale of the Common Shares in this Offering of approximately US$ million, after deducting underwriting fees of US$ million and estimated offering expenses of approximately US$0.7 million. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the net proceeds that we will receive from the Offering are estimated to be approximately US$ after deducting underwriting fees of US$ million and estimated offering expenses of approximately US$0.7 million. See "Underwriting" in this Prospectus Supplement.

We intend to use the net proceeds from this Offering for general corporate purposes, including as an available source of funding for potential future acquisition opportunities, as well as for possible repayment of outstanding indebtedness under our Amended Facility. Amounts repaid under the Amended Facility may be re-borrowed and used by the Corporation for funding future acquisitions and for general corporate purposes, subject in each case to satisfaction of certain covenant and financial ratios.

We invest our cash balances in accordance with our investment policy as approved by our board of directors. This generally results in cash being invested in short-term, interest bearing securities such as government securities and other highly rated investment-grade securities. Our board of directors has established an investment policy which requires that our cash reserves be invested with the purpose of ensuring the highest level of safety of principal, liquidity and yield, in that order of importance. Our audit committee is responsible for reviewing and approving our investment policy on an annual basis. While we currently anticipate that we will use the net proceeds of the Offering received as set forth above, we may re-allocate these proceeds from time to time having consideration to our strategy relative to the market and other conditions in effect at the time.

From time to time, we evaluate various potential acquisition opportunities, some of which could, if consummated, have a material impact on Descartes. There can be no assurance that we will be able to identify acquisition opportunities that meet our strategic objectives, or to the extent such opportunities are identified, that we will be able to negotiate acquisition terms that are acceptable to us. At this time we have made no commitments with respect to any transaction. It is not possible to predict whether future discussions may lead to the announcement of a transaction, or the timeframe within which this might occur. However, we cannot preclude the possibility that agreement on one or more acquisition transactions will be reached in the weeks or months following the closing of this Offering. In such circumstances, as noted above, all or a portion of the net proceeds of the Offering received by us may be allocated to effect such acquisitions. See "Risk Factors" in this Prospectus Supplement.

CERTAIN INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Prospective purchasers of Common Shares should consult their own tax advisers as to the U.S., Canadian or other tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of the Common Shares, including, in particular, the application to their particular situations of the tax considerations discussed below, as well as the application of state, local, foreign or other tax laws.

United States

The following discussion summarizes certain material U.S. federal income tax considerations generally applicable to an investment in the Common Shares by a U.S. holder (as defined below) (i) who is a resident of the United States for purposes of the Convention Between the United States and Canada with Respect to Taxes on Income and Capital, together with related Protocols and Competent Authority Agreements (the "Convention"), (ii) whose Common Shares are not, for purposes of the Convention, effectively connected with such U.S. holder's permanent establishment in Canada and (iii) who otherwise qualifies for the full benefits of the Convention. For purposes of this discussion, a "U.S. holder" is a beneficial owner of Common Shares that holds such shares as capital assets within the meaning of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") (generally, property held for investment), and is any of the following: (i) an individual citizen or resident of the United States and not of Canada, (ii) a corporation (or any entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized under the laws of the United States, any state thereof or the District of Columbia, (iii) an estate, the income of which is includible in gross income for U.S. federal income tax purposes regardless of its source, or (iv) a trust if (a) a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. persons (as defined in the Code) have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (b) it has a valid election in effect under applicable Treasury regulations to be treated as a U.S. person. It does not address any aspect of U.S. federal non-income tax, such as the gift or estate tax, the 3.8% tax on net investment income, nor of state, local or non-U.S. taxes and does not address aspects of U.S. federal income taxation applicable to U.S. holders holding options, warrants or other rights to acquire Common Shares. Further, this discussion does not address the U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. holders that are subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax laws, including, but not limited to U.S. holders that own, have owned or will own directly, indirectly or by attribution 10% or more of our voting power; broker dealers; banks or insurance companies; real estate investment trusts; financial institutions; regulated investment companies; taxpayers who have elected mark-to-market accounting; tax-exempt organizations; taxpayers who hold Common Shares as part of a "straddle," "hedge," or "conversion transaction" with other investments; individual retirement or other tax deferred accounts; passive foreign investment companies, controlled foreign corporations, taxpayers whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar; partnerships (or entities or arrangements treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes) or the partners therein; S corporations; taxpayers subject to the alternative minimum tax; or U.S. expatriates and certain former long-term residents of the United States.

If a partnership (or other entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) owns Common Shares, the tax treatment of a partner in the partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Partnerships holding Common Shares and their partners should consult their tax advisers regarding an investment in Common Shares.

The discussion is based upon the provisions of the Code, the Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder, the Convention, the rulings and administrative practices published by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") and U.S. judicial decisions, each as in effect as of the date of this Prospectus Supplement and all of which are subject to change, potentially with retroactive effect. This discussion does not consider the potential effects, both adverse and beneficial, of any recently proposed legislation which, if enacted, could be applied, possibly on a retroactive basis, at any time.

Edgar Filing: DESCARTES SYSTEMS GROUP INC - Form SUPPL

THIS DISCUSSION WAS WRITTEN TO SUPPORT THE OFFERING. THIS DISCUSSION WAS NOT INTENDED OR WRITTEN TO BE USED, AND CANNOT BE USED, FOR THE PURPOSE OF AVOIDING ANY FEDERAL TAX PENALTIES THAT THE IRS MAY ATTEMPT TO IMPOSE. PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS SHOULD CONSULT THEIR INDEPENDENT TAX ADVISERS WITH RESPECT TO THE APPLICATION OF THE U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX LAWS TO THEIR PARTICULAR SITUATIONS, AS WELL AS ANY INCOME TAX OR OTHER TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE PURCHASE, OWNERSHIP OR DISPOSITION OF OUR COMMON SHARES ARISING UNDER THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES, ANY STATE, LOCAL, NON-U.S. OR OTHER TAXING JURISDICTION, OR UNDER ANY APPLICABLE TAX TREATY.

Distributions on the Common Shares

Subject to the discussion below under "Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules," U.S. holders generally will treat the gross amount of distributions paid by Descartes, without reduction for Canadian withholding tax (see "Certain Income Tax Considerations Canada Dividends"), as dividend income for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of our current and accumulated earnings and profits. Because we do not expect to maintain calculations of our earnings and profits under U.S. federal income tax principles, it is expected that distributions paid to U.S. holders generally will be reported as dividends.

With respect to non-corporate U.S. holders, certain dividends received from a qualified foreign corporation (such dividends, "qualified dividend income") may be subject to reduced rates of taxation. A qualified foreign corporation includes a foreign corporation that is not a PFIC for the taxable year of the corporation in which the dividend is paid, or the preceding taxable year, and that is eligible for the benefits of a comprehensive income tax treaty with the United States that the U.S. Treasury Department determines to be satisfactory for these purposes and that includes an exchange of information provision. The U.S. Treasury Department has determined that the Convention meets these requirements. Non-corporate holders that do not meet a minimum holding period requirement during which they are not protected from the risk of loss or that elect to treat the dividend income as "investment income" pursuant to section 163(d)(4) of the Code (dealing with the deduction for investment interest expense) will not be eligible for the reduced rates of taxation applicable to qualified dividend income regardless of our status as a "qualified foreign corporation." In addition, the rate reduction will not apply to dividends if the recipient of a dividend is obligated to make related payments with respect to positions in substantially similar or related property. This disallowance applies even if the minimum holding period has been met.

The amount of any dividend paid in foreign currency will be the U.S. dollar value of the foreign currency distributed by us, calculated by reference to the exchange rate in effect on the date the dividend is includible in the U.S. holder's income, regardless of whether the payment is in fact converted into U.S. dollars on the date of receipt. Generally, a U.S. holder should not recognize any foreign currency gain or loss if the foreign currency is converted into U.S. dollars on the date the payment is received. However, any gain or loss resulting from currency exchange fluctuations during the period from the date the U.S. holder includes the dividend payment in income to the date such U.S. holder actually converts the payment into U.S. dollars will be treated as ordinary income or loss. That currency exchange income or loss (if any) generally will be income or loss from U.S. sources for foreign tax credit limitation purposes.

The amount of Canadian tax withheld, if any, generally will give rise to a foreign tax credit or deduction for U.S. federal income tax purposes (see "Certain Income Tax Considerations Canada Dividends"). Dividends paid by Descartes generally will constitute "passive category income" for purposes of the foreign tax credit (or in the case of certain U.S. holders, "general category income"). The Code, as modified by the Convention, applies various limitations on the amount of foreign tax credit that may be available to a U.S. holder. The Common Shares are currently traded on both the NASDAQ and TSX. Dividends paid by a foreign corporation that is at least 50% owned by U.S. persons may be treated as U.S. source income (rather than foreign source income) for foreign tax credit purposes to the extent they are attributable to earnings and profits of the foreign corporation from sources within the United States, if the foreign corporation has more than an insignificant amount of U.S. source earnings and profits. In part because Descartes does not expect to calculate its earnings and profits for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the effect of this rule may be to treat all or a portion of any dividends paid by Descartes as U.S. source income, which in turn may affect the calculation of a U.S. holder's foreign tax credit for the Canadian withholding taxes payable in respect of the dividends.

Subject to limitations, the Code permits a U.S. holder entitled to benefits under the Convention to elect to treat any dividends paid by Descartes as foreign-source income for foreign tax credit purposes. The foreign tax credit rules are complex. U.S. holders should consult their tax advisers with respect to the implications of those rules for their investments in the Common Shares.

Sale, Exchange, Redemption or Other Taxable Disposition of Common Shares

Subject to the discussion below under "Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules," the sale or other taxable disposition of Common Shares generally will result in the recognition of gain or loss to a U.S. holder in an amount equal to the difference between the amount realized thereon and the U.S. holder's adjusted basis in the Common Shares as measured for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A U.S. holder's tax basis in a Common Share for such purposes will generally equal the price it paid for the Common Share. Any gain or loss recognized by a U.S. holder generally will be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. holder held the Common Shares for more than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules

Special U.S. federal income tax rules apply to U.S. persons owning shares of a "passive foreign investment company" ("PFIC"). Descartes will be classified as a PFIC in a particular taxable year if either: (i) 75 percent or more of our gross income for the taxable year is passive income, or (ii) 50 percent or more of the value of our assets (determined on the basis of a quarterly average) during such year produce or are held for the production of passive income. If Descartes is treated as a PFIC for any year, U.S. holders may be subject to adverse tax consequences upon a sale, exchange, or other disposition of the Common Shares, or upon the receipt of certain "excess distributions" in respect of the Common Shares. Dividends paid by a PFIC are not qualified dividends eligible for taxation at preferential rates. We believe we should not be a PFIC with respect to the 2012 or 2013 taxable years and we do not anticipate becoming a PFIC for the 2014 taxable year. The tests for determining PFIC status are complex, and applied annually, however, and it is difficult to accurately predict future income and assets relevant to this determination. Accordingly, we cannot assure U.S. holders that we are not, or will not become a PFIC. If we determine that we are a PFIC, we will attempt to notify U.S. holders, although there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so in a timely and complete manner.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

Except in the case of corporations or other exempt holders, dividends paid to a U.S. holder on Common Shares, and proceeds received by a U.S. holder from the sale or other taxable disposition of Common Shares, may be subject to U.S. information reporting requirements and may be subject to backup withholding unless the U.S. holder provides an accurate taxpayer identification number on a properly completed IRS Form W-9 and certifies that no loss of exemption from backup withholding has occurred, or is otherwise subject to backup withholding. Backup withholding is not an additional tax. The amount of any backup withholding will be allowed as a credit against the U.S. holder's U.S. federal income tax liability and may entitle the U.S. holder to a refund, provided that certain required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

Edgar Filing: DESCARTES SYSTEMS GROUP INC - Form SUPPL

Certain U.S. holders holding specified foreign financial assets with an aggregate value in excess of the applicable dollar threshold are required to report information to the IRS relating to our Common Shares, subject to certain exceptions (including an exception for our Common Shares held in accounts maintained by U.S. financial institutions), by attaching a complete IRS Form 8938, Statement of Specified Foreign Financial Assets, with their tax return, for each year in which they hold our Common Shares. Such U.S. holders should consult their tax advisers regarding information reporting requirements relating to their ownership of our Common Shares.

The preceding discussion is not tax advice. Each prospective investor should consult the prospective investor's own tax adviser regarding the particular U.S. federal, state and local and non-U.S. tax consequences of purchasing, holding and disposing of our Common Shares, including the consequences of any proposed change in applicable laws.

Eligibility for Investment

On the date of issue, provided the Common Shares are listed at that time on a designated stock exchange (which includes the TSX), the Offered Shares will be qualified investments under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and the regulations thereunder (the "Tax Act") for a trust governed by a registered retirement savings plan ("RRSP"), a registered retirement income fund ("RRIF"), a registered education savings plan, a deferred profit sharing plan, a registered disability savings plan and a tax-free savings account ("TFSA").

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Common Shares are a "prohibited investment" for a particular TFSA, RRSP or RRIF, the holder of such TFSA or the annuitant of such RRSP or RRIF, as the case may be, will be subject to a penalty tax as set out in the Tax Act. The Common Shares will generally not be a prohibited investment for a TFSA, RRSP or RRIF provided the holder or annuitant thereof, as the case may be, (i) deals at arm's length with Descartes, for purposes of the Tax Act and (ii) does not have a "significant interest" (as defined in the Tax Act) in Descartes. Generally, a holder or annuitant will have a significant interest in Descartes if the holder or annuitant and/or persons or partnerships not dealing at arm's length with the holder or annuitant own directly or indirectly 10% or more of the issued shares of any class of the capital stock of Descartes or any corporation related to Descartes within the meaning of the Tax Act. In addition, Common Shares will generally not be a "prohibited investment" if the Common Shares are "excluded property" (as defined in the Tax Act) for trusts governed by a TFSA, RRSP or RRIF. Prospective purchasers who intend to hold Common Shares in a TFSA, RRSP or RRIF are advised to consult their personal tax advisors regarding the "prohibited investment" rules having regard to their own particular circumstances.

Non-Residents of Canada

The following is a summary of the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations generally applicable to investors who acquire as beneficial owner Common Shares pursuant to this Offering and who at all relevant times for purposes of the Tax Act, are not and are not deemed to be resident in Canada, deal at arm's length with Descartes, are not affiliated with Descartes, hold the Common Shares as capital property and do not and will not use or hold, and are not and will not be deemed to use or hold, such Common Shares in carrying on a business in Canada (a "Non-Resident Shareholder"). Special rules, which are not discussed in this summary, may apply to a Non-Resident Shareholder that is an insurer carrying on an insurance business in Canada and elsewhere.

This summary is based upon the facts set out in the Prospectus, the current provisions of the Tax Act and the current administrative policies and assessing practices of the Canada Revenue Agency ("CRA") made publicly available in writing prior to the date hereof. This summary also takes into account specific proposals to amend the Tax Act announced prior to the date hereof by or on behalf of the Minister of Finance (Canada) (the "Proposed Amendments") and assumes that the Proposed Amendments will be enacted as proposed. No assurances can be given that the Proposed Amendments will become law.

This summary is not exhaustive of all possible federal income tax considerations and does not take into account or anticipate any changes in law, administrative policy or assessing practice, whether by legislative, governmental or judicial action, other than the Proposed Amendments. This summary does not deal with foreign, provincial or territorial income tax considerations, which may differ from the Canadian federal income tax considerations described below. This summary does not address the deductibility of interest on any funds borrowed by an investor to purchase Common Shares.

This summary is of a general nature only and does not constitute legal or tax advice to any particular investor. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors with respect to their individual circumstances.

Disposition of Common Shares

A Non-Resident Shareholder that disposes of Common Shares (other than to Descartes) generally will not be subject to tax under the Tax Act on any capital gain realized on a disposition or deemed disposition of Common Shares, unless the Common Share is or is deemed to be "taxable Canadian property" (as defined in the Tax Act) to the Non-Resident Shareholder at the time of disposition and the Non-Resident Shareholder is not entitled to relief under an applicable income tax convention or treaty between Canada and the country in which the Non-Resident Shareholder is resident.

Generally, a particular Common Share owned by a Non-Resident Shareholder will not be taxable Canadian property of the Non-Resident Shareholder at a particular time provided that at no time during the 60-month period immediately preceding the date of disposition of such Common Share did the particular Common Share derive more than 50 percent of its value directly or indirectly from one or any combination of: (a) real or immovable property situated in Canada, (b) "timber resource property" (within the meaning of the Tax Act), (c) "Canadian resource property" (within the meaning of the Tax Act), or (d) options in respect of, or interests in, or for civil law rights in, any of the foregoing, whether or not the property exists. It is not expected that the Common Shares will be "taxable Canadian property" based on the foregoing. However, a Common Share owned by a Non-Resident Shareholder may be deemed to be taxable Canadian property to the Non-Resident Shareholder if such Common Share was acquired in certain types of tax deferred exchanges in consideration for property that was itself taxable Canadian property. Non-Resident Shareholders whose Common Shares may constitute taxable Canadian property should consult with their own tax advisors.

Dividends

Dividends paid or credited or deemed to be paid or credited to a Non-Resident Shareholder on the Common Shares generally will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at the rate of 25%, subject to any applicable reduction in the rate of withholding under an applicable income tax convention or treaty between Canada and the country in which the Non-Resident Shareholder is resident.

For example, under the Canada-U.S. Income Tax Convention (the "Convention"), where dividends on the Common Shares are considered to be paid or derived by a Non-Resident Shareholder that is the beneficial owner of the dividends and is a U.S. resident for the purposes of, and is entitled to benefits of, the Convention, the applicable rate of Canadian withholding tax is generally reduced to 15%.

UNDERWRITING

Under the terms and subject to the conditions contained in an underwriting agreement dated as of _____, 2014 between us and the Underwriters named below, for whom Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, Barclays Capital Inc. and GMP Securities L.P. are acting as representatives, we have agreed to sell, and the Underwriters have severally agreed to purchase on or about _____, 2014, at a price of US$ _____ per Offered Share, payable in cash to us against delivery, the number of Offered Shares indicated below:

The obligations of the Underwriters under the underwriting agreement are several and may be terminated at their discretion upon the occurrence of certain stated events. Such events include, but are not limited to (i) trading generally being suspended or materially limited on, or by, as the case may be, any of the New York Stock Exchange, NASDAQ or the TSX, (ii) the suspension of trading of our securities on NASDAQ or the TSX, (iii) any material disruption in securities settlement, payment or clearance services in the United States or Canada, (iv) any moratorium on commercial banking activities declared by federal (U.S. or Canadian), Canadian provincial or New York State authorities, or (v) any outbreak or escalation of hostilities, or any change in financial markets, currency exchange rates or controls or any calamity or crisis. The Underwriters are, however, obligated to take up and pay for all of the Offered Shares if any of the Offered Shares are purchased under the underwriting agreement. However, the Underwriters are not required to take up or pay for the shares covered by the Underwriters' Over-Allotment Option. If an Underwriter defaults, the underwriting agreement provides that the purchase commitments of the non-defaulting Underwriters may be increased.

The Offering is being made concurrently in the United States and in each of the provinces of Canada, except Quebec, pursuant to the U.S./Canada Multijurisdictional Disclosure System implemented by the securities regulatory authorities in the United States and Canada. The Offered Shares will be offered in the United States and Canada through the Underwriters either directly or through their respective U.S. or Canadian broker dealer affiliates or agents.

The Underwriters are offering the Offered Shares subject to their acceptance of the shares from us and subject to prior sale. The underwriting agreement provides that the obligations of the several Underwriters to pay for and accept delivery of the Offered Shares are subject to the approval of certain legal matters by their Canadian and U.S. counsel and to certain other conditions.

The Underwriters initially propose to offer part of the Offered Shares directly to the public at the offering price listed on the cover page of this Prospectus Supplement and part to certain dealers at a price that represents a concession not in excess of US$ _____ a share under the public offering price. After the initial offering of the Offered Shares, the offering price and other selling terms may from time to time be varied by the representatives. In all such cases, the compensation realized by the Underwriters will be decreased by the amount that the aggregate price paid by the purchasers for the Common Shares is less than the gross proceeds paid to us by the Underwriters. The offering of the Offered Shares by the

Underwriters is subject to receipt and acceptance and subject to the Underwriters' right to reject any order in whole or in part.

We have granted to the Underwriters the Over-Allotment Option. The Underwriters may exercise this option solely for the purpose of covering the Underwriter's over-allocation position, if any, made in connection with the Offering. To the extent the option is exercised, each Underwriter will become obligated, subject to certain conditions, to purchase about the same percentage of the Additional Shares as the number listed next to the Underwriter's name in the preceding table bears to the total number of Offered Shares listed next to the names of all Underwriters in the preceding table.

The following table shows the per share and total public offering price, underwriting fee and proceeds before expenses to us. These amounts are shown assuming both no exercise and full exercise of the Over-Allotment Option.

The terms of the Offering, including the offering price for the Offered Shares, were determined through negotiations between us and the Underwriters.

The estimated offering expenses payable by us, exclusive of the underwriting fee, are approximately US$0.7 million, which includes legal, accounting and printing costs and various other fees associated with the registration of the Offered Shares.

We have applied to list the Offered Shares on the TSX. Listing will be subject to us fulfilling all the listing requirements of the TSX. We have also filed a listing of additional shares notification form with NASDAQ.

We have established a special black-out period, covering the period of distribution of Common Shares under the Offering (including any Additional Shares), during which our directors and executive officers are unable to trade in any of our securities. We and all of our directors and executive officers have also agreed with Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, Barclays Capital Inc., GMP Securities L.P. that we and they will not (subject to certain customary exceptions and excluding the SAR Shares to be held by Ms. Ratza (as described in "Summary Recent Developments" in this Prospectus Supplement), during the period ending 90 days after the date of this Prospectus Supplement:

offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, lend or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any Common Shares or other securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Common Shares;

enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of the Common Shares, whether any such transaction described in these first two bullets is to be settled by delivery of Common Shares or such other securities, in cash or otherwise; or in our case, file any registration statement with the SEC or any prospectus with Canadian securities regulators relating to the offering of any Common Shares or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Common Shares.

In particular, the restrictions described in the immediately preceding paragraph shall not apply to:

the sale of Common Shares pursuant to the underwriting agreement;

in our case, options or other equity-based awards providing holders with the right to purchase Common Shares pursuant to any stock option, stock bonus or other stock plan or arrangement in existence on the date of this Prospectus Supplement or approved by our board of directors on or prior to the date of this Prospectus Supplement;

in our case, the issuance of Common Shares upon the exercise of an option, warrant or other equity-based awards or the conversion of a security outstanding on the date of this Prospectus Supplement or otherwise duly issued under our equity compensation plans;

the establishment of a trading plan pursuant to Rule 10b5-1 under the Exchange Act or similar plan under applicable Canadian securities laws for the transfer of Common Shares, provided that (i) such plan does not provide for the transfer of Common Shares during the lock-up period and (ii) certain other customary limitations;

in our case, issuances of shares in connection with a bona fide merger, acquisition, business combination, joint venture or strategic or commercial relationship provided that no more than 5% of our issued and outstanding shares as of the date of this Prospectus Supplement may be issued pursuant to this exemption;

in our case, the issuance of rights attaching to Common Shares pursuant to our shareholder rights plan and the issuance of Common Shares pursuant to the valid exercise of rights pursuant to the plan;

transactions relating to certain Common Shares acquired in the open market;

transfers of shares of Common Shares or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Common Shares by a security holder as a bona fide gift;

distributions or transfers of Common Shares or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Common Shares by a security holder that is a corporation, partnership or other business entity to general or limited partners, members or shareholders of the security holder or to any investment fund or other business entity controlled or managed by the security holder; or transfers to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the security holder or the immediate family of the security holder or to a charitable trust; provided that in the case of any transfer or distribution pursuant to the eighth, ninth and tenth bullets above, it shall be a condition of the transfer or distribution that each transferee, donee or distributee shall sign and deliver a copy of the lock-up agreement prior to or upon such transfer, such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value and no filing under Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act or applicable Canadian securities laws reporting a reduction in beneficial ownership of Common Shares shall be required or shall be made voluntarily during the restricted period. Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, in its sole discretion, may release the Common Shares and other securities subject to the lock-up agreements described above in whole or in part at any time with or without notice.

Subscriptions for Offered Shares will be received subject to rejection or allotment in whole or in part and the Underwriters reserve the right to close the subscription books at any time without notice. It is expected that the closing of the Offering will occur on or about _____, 2014, or such other date as we and the Underwriters may agree, but in any event no later than _____, 2014. The Offered Shares will be issued in the form of one or more global certificates registered in the name of The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York, or its nominee. We refer to this form as "book-entry" settlement. DTC will keep a computerized record of its participants (for example, your broker) whose clients have purchased the Offered Shares. The participant will then keep a record of its clients who purchased the Offered Shares. A global security may not be transferred, except that DTC, its nominees and their successors may transfer an entire global security to one another. We will treat DTC's nominee as the owner of the Offered Shares for all purposes.

Under book-entry settlement, we will not issue certificates to individual holders of the Offered shares. Beneficial interests in global securities will be shown on, and transfers of global securities will be made only through, records maintained by DTC and its participants, including CDS Clearing and Depository Services Inc. If an individual holder wants to obtain a physical certificate, the individual holder would request the same through its broker/investment firm and the securities are withdrawn from the amount credited on Descartes' books and records to the nominee of DTC and re-registered into the investor's name, which in many cases, will cost the individual holder a fee.

In order to facilitate this Offering, the Underwriters may engage in transactions that stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the price of the Common Shares. Specifically, the Underwriters may sell more shares than they are obligated to purchase under the underwriting agreement, creating a short position. A short sale is covered if the short position is no greater than the number of shares available for purchase by the Underwriters under the Over-Allotment Option. The Underwriters can close out a covered short sale by exercising the Over-Allotment Option or purchasing shares in the open market. In determining the source of shares to close out a covered short sale, the Underwriters will consider, among other things, the open market price of shares compared to the price available under the underwriter's Over-Allotment Option. The Underwriters may also sell shares in excess of the Over-Allotment Option, creating a naked short position. The Underwriters must close out any naked short position by purchasing shares in the open market. A naked short position is more likely to be created if the Underwriters are concerned that there may be downward pressure on the price of the Common Shares in the open market after pricing that could adversely affect investors who purchase in this Offering. As an additional means of facilitating this offering, the Underwriters may bid for, and purchase, Common Shares in the open market to stabilize the price of the Common Shares. The Underwriters may also impose a penalty bid. Penalty bids permit the Underwriters to reclaim a selling concession from a syndicate member when the Underwriters repurchase shares originally sold by that syndicate member in order to cover short positions or make stabilizing purchases. These activities may raise or maintain the market price of the Common Shares above independent market levels or prevent or retard a decline in the market price of the Common Shares. The Underwriters are not required to engage in these activities and may end any of these activities at any time.

The Underwriters may not, throughout the period of distribution, bid for or purchase our Common Shares. The foregoing restriction is subject to certain exemptions, as long as the bid or purchase is not engaged in for the purpose of creating actual or apparent active trading in, or raising the price of, the Common Shares. These exceptions include a bid or purchase permitted under the Universal Market Integrity Rules administered by the Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada relating to market stabilization and passive market-making activities and a bid or purchase made for and on behalf of a customer where the order was not solicited during the period of distribution.

Edgar Filing: DESCARTES SYSTEMS GROUP INC - Form SUPPL

We, and the several Underwriters have agreed to indemnify each other against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act and applicable Canadian securities laws.

The Prospectus Supplement in electronic format may be made available on websites maintained by one or more Underwriters, or selling group members, if any, participating in this Offering. The representatives may agree to allocate a number of Common Shares to Underwriters for sale to their online brokerage account holders. Internet distributions will be allocated by the representatives to Underwriters that may make Internet distributions on the same basis as other allocations.

In the ordinary course of their various business activities, the Underwriters and their respective affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers and may at any time hold long and short positions in such securities and instruments. Such investment and securities activities may involve our securities and instruments (directly, as collateral securing other obligations or otherwise). The Underwriters and their respective affiliates may also make investment recommendations or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or instruments and may at any time hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long or short positions in such securities and instruments.

to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive; to fewer than 100, or if the relevant member state has implemented the relevant provision of the 2010 PD Amending Directive, 150, natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Directive), subject to obtaining the prior consent of the underwriters for any such offer; or

Each purchaser of Common Shares described in this Prospectus Supplement located within a relevant member state will be deemed to have represented, acknowledged and agreed that it is a "qualified investor" within the meaning of Article 2(1)(e) of the Prospectus Directive.

For purposes of this provision, the expression an "offer of Common Shares to the public" in relation to the Common Shares in any relevant member state means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Common Shares to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for the Common Shares, as the expression may be varied in that member state by any measure implementing the Prospective Directive in that member state, and the expression "Prospectus Directive" means Directive 2003/71/EC and amendments thereto including the 2010 PD Amending Directive, to the extent implemented in the relevant member state, and includes any relevant implementing measure in each relevant member state. "2010 PD Amending Directive" means Directive 2010/73/EU.

The Company has not authorized and does not authorize the making of any offer of Common Shares through any financial intermediary on its behalf, other than offers made by the Underwriters with a view to the final placement of the Common Shares as contemplated in this Prospectus Supplement. Accordingly, no purchaser of the Common Shares, other than the Underwriters, is authorized to make any further offer of the Common Shares on behalf of the Company or the Underwriters.

This Prospectus Supplement and its contents are confidential and should not be distributed, published or reproduced (in whole or in part) or disclosed by recipients to any other persons in the United Kingdom. SERVICE OF PROCESS AND ENFORCEABILITY OF CIVIL LIABILITIES

We are a Canadian company. Some of our directors and executive officers live outside the United States. Some of the assets of our directors and executive officers and some of our assets are located outside the United States. As a result, it may be difficult or impossible to serve process on us or on such persons in the United States or to obtain or enforce judgments obtained in U.S. courts or Canadian courts against them or us based on the civil liability provisions of the federal securities laws of the United States. There is doubt as to whether Canadian courts would enforce the civil liability claims brought under U.S. federal securities laws in original actions and/or enforce claims for punitive damages.

Dr. David Anderson, Mr. David I. Beatson, and Mr. John J. Walker, three of our directors, as well as Edward J. Ryan, the Chief Executive Officer and a director of Descartes, reside outside of Canada and each has appointed The Descartes Systems Group Inc., 120 Randall Drive, Waterloo, Ontario, N2V 1C6, as agent for service of process. Purchasers are advised that it may not be possible for investors to enforce judgments obtained in Canada against any person that resides outside of Canada, even if such person has appointed an agent for service of process.

CAUTION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION AND STATEMENTS

Certain statements made in this Prospectus contain forward-looking information within the meaning of applicable securities laws ("forward-looking statements"). These forward-looking statements are presented for the purpose of assisting the Company's securityholders in understanding management's views regarding those future outcomes and may not be appropriate for other purposes. When used in this Prospectus, the words "may", "would", "could", "will", "intend", "plan", "anticipate", "believe", "seek", "propose", "estimate", "expect", and similar expressions, as they relate to the Company, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Specific forward-looking statements in this Prospectus, including the documents incorporated by reference herein, include, but are not limited to: statements relating to business trends; the basis for any future growth and for our financial performance; the changing regulatory environment and its impact on our business; seasonality of our business; potential loss of recurring revenues; research and development and related expenditures; product and solution developments, enhancements and releases and the timing thereof; our building, development and consolidation of our network infrastructure; competition and changes in the competitive landscape; our management and protection of intellectual property and other proprietary rights; foreign sales and exchange rate fluctuations; cyclical or seasonal aspects of our business; our dividend policy; capital expenditures; potential legal proceedings; provisions of any Trust Indenture (as defined herein) or Debt Securities; and the creation and issuance of Preferred Shares.

The forward-looking statements contained herein are based on certain assumptions including the following: global shipment volumes continuing to increase at levels consistent with the average growth rates of the global economy; countries continuing to implement and enforce existing and additional customs and security regulations relating to the provision of electronic information for imports and exports; our continued operation of a secure and reliable business network; the stability of general economic and market conditions, currency exchange rates, and interest rates; equity and debt markets continuing to provide us with access to capital; our continued ability to identify and source attractive and executable business combination opportunities; and our continued compliance with third party intellectual property rights. While management believes these assumptions to have been reasonable on the date of the forward-looking statements, they may prove to be inaccurate.

Edgar Filing: DESCARTES SYSTEMS GROUP INC - Form SUPPL

Inherent in the forward-looking statements are known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors beyond the Company's ability to control or predict, that may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Company, or developments in the Company's business or in its industry, to differ materially from the anticipated results, performance, achievements or developments expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Some of the risks and other factors, some of which are beyond Descartes' control, which could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements and information contained in this Prospectus, including the documents incorporated by reference herein, include, but are not limited to: difficulties maintaining or growing acquired businesses; failure to identify certain risks in connection with investments in acquisitions and other business initiatives; general economic conditions may affect our results of operations and financial condition; our existing customers might cancel contracts with us, fail to renew contracts on their renewal dates, and/or fail to purchase additional services and products, or consolidated contracts with acquired companies; changes in the value of the U.S. dollar, as compared to the currencies of other countries where we transact business, could harm our operating results and financial conditions; system or network failures or information security breaches in connection with our services and products could reduce our sales, impair our reputations, increase costs or result in liability claims, and seriously harm our business; failure to attract and retain key personnel would adversely affect our ability to develop and effectively manage our business; changes in government filing requirements for global trade may adversely impact our business; disruptions in the movement of freight could negatively affect our revenues; we have a substantial accumulated deficit and a history of losses and may incur losses in the future; our Common Share price has in the past been volatile and may also be volatile in the future; the fact that the market for Securities may be volatile and subject to wide fluctuations in response to numerous factors; and there is currently no trading market for any Preferred Shares, Debt Securities, Subscription Receipts, Warrants or Units that may be offered pursuant to this Prospectus.

This is not an exhaustive list of the factors that may affect any of the Company's forward-looking statements. Some of these and other factors are discussed in more detail in the section entitled "Certain Factors That May Affect Future Results" in the "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" contained in our 2014 Annual Report (as defined herein). Investors and others should carefully consider these and other factors and not place undue reliance on the forward-looking statements. Further information regarding these and other risk factors is included in the Company's public filings with provincial securities regulatory authorities which can be found on the System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval ("SEDAR") website at www.sedar.com and with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") which can be found on the Electronic Data-Gathering, Analysis and Retrieval ("EDGAR") website at www.sec.gov/edgar.shtml.

The forward-looking statements contained in this Prospectus represent the Company's views only as of the date such statements were made. Forward-looking statements contained in this Prospectus are based on management's plans, estimates, projections, beliefs and opinions as at the time such statements were made and the assumptions related to these plans, estimates, projections, beliefs and opinions may change. Although Descartes believes that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements were reasonable at the time such statements were made, there can be no assurance that such expectations will prove to be correct. Descartes cannot guarantee future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements and actual results or developments may differ materially from those contemplated by the forward-looking statements. While the Company anticipates that subsequent events and developments may cause the Company's views to change, the Company does not undertake to update any forward-looking statements, except to the extent required by applicable securities laws.
