The Herzfeld Caribbean Basin Fund's investment objective is long-term capital appreciation. To achieve its objective, the Fund invests in issuers that are likely, in the Advisor's view, to benefit from economic, political, structural and technological developments in the countries in the Caribbean Basin, which consist of Cuba, Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago, the Bahamas, the Dominican Republic, Barbados, Aruba, Haiti, the Netherlands Antilles, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Mexico, Honduras, Guatemala, Belize, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia and Venezuela. The fund invests at least 80% of its total assets in a broad range of securities of issuers, including U.S.-based companies which engage in substantial trade with, and derive substantial revenue from, operations in the Caribbean Basin Countries.

Thomas J. Herzfeld
Chairman and President

Dear Fellow Stockholders:

Our investment strategy continues to be to invest in companies in the Caribbean Basin which we believe will do well even if there is no change in U.S. relations with Cuba. At the same time, when we make those investments, we try to select companies which we believe will benefit from a resumption of trade with that country. When the embargo is lifted, we will seek to re-deploy a substantial part of our capital directly in Cuba.

We are pleased to report that our strategy has worked quite well. As of December 31, 2004, The Herzfeld Caribbean Basin Fund's net assets were a record $11,721,829 and its per share net asset value was $6.99, compared with $8,719,841 or $5.20 per share a year earlier, representing a gain in net asset value of +34.4% for the calendar year and +28.7% for the six month period ended December 31, 2004. These gains follow a 52.0% gain in net asset value for the previous calendar year. For the benefit of new shareholders, at inception our net assets were $8,388,000 and we have paid out $2,535,847 in distributions, resulting in a 70% gain in net asset value from inception.

Here are a few examples of some of the more interesting companies in which we are invested which meet our two-pronged investment criteria:

Seaboard Corporation (SEB), listed on the American Stock Exchange, made a new high last week at $1113 per share. We started accumulating our position in the $262 per share range and added to our holding at prices as low as $227 per share. The company is primarily a diversified international agribusiness and transportation company, including a large fleet of containerized cargo ships operating throughout the Caribbean. They also operate an electric utility in the Dominican Republic.

Two cruise line operators, Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd. (RCL) and Carnival Corp. (CCL), are also naturals for our portfolio. The companies rebounded strongly after the 9/11 setback and have been doing very well. Indeed, just today Carnival announced that it "expects to carry a record 3.3 million passengers and operate an unprecedented number of voyages in the coming year." Should the embargo be lifted, tourism will be in the forefront, and we believe that RCL and CCL are ideally positioned for this market. Incidentally, Cuba received two million tourists in 2004, an increase of 8% from 2003.

Perhaps the best example of our investment strategy is our largest position, Florida East Coast Industries (FLA), which made a new high last December. This investment has contributed significantly to the increase in the Fund's net asset value. FLA is in both the railroad and real estate business. The company owns the Florida East Coast Railway which is the main freight line running between Jacksonville and Miami. We believe that when the embargo is lifted, there will be a large increase in two-way freight traffic between Florida and Cuba.

A different focus of our portfolio is closed-end funds--a subject on which I have written five books. By regulation we are limited to 10% of our assets in this category; we currently hold three positions which represent 7.47% of the portfolio. Although Herzfeld Caribbean is a closed-end fund, many of our investors are not familiar with the fundamentals of closed-end funds. For the benefit of those stockholders, a closed-end fund is quite similar to a mutual fund; one difference, however, is that the share price of a closed-end fund is determined by supply and demand in the market place, just like any other publicly traded stock. Its share price, therefore, can be at a premium to net asset value when buyers dominate, or at a discount when there are more sellers. Mutual funds' shares, on the other hand, are priced based on their net asset value.

The three closed-end funds in our portfolio were acquired at substantial discounts to net asset value, at levels we consider to be attractive. One of these, Mexico Fund (MXF), which we bought at a 19% discount (before adjustment for dilution from a rights offering), recently made a tender offer at a 1.25% discount to net asset value. We tendered a part of our holding in exchange for shares of Mexican companies in their portfolio. This is the second time we have made this arbitrage in MXF. By the way, the shares of Herzfeld Caribbean are currently changing hands at a 12% discount to net asset value, which is about one percentage point narrower than the average discount of the existing Latin American and Mexican closed-end funds, but still, in our view, attractive. In fact, I recently added to my personal position at discounts in the area of 16%. A graph of the Herzfeld Caribbean's premium/discount from inception appears below.

Premium/Discount

As the following graph depicts, the Fund has traded at both premiums and discounts every year except the year of inception in which it traded only at a premium. As I have stated before, we believe that closed-end funds trading at discounts to net asset value represent good value.

NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization and Related Matters

The Herzfeld Caribbean Basin Fund, Inc. (the Fund) is a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland on March 10, 1992, and registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. The Fund commenced investing activities in January, 1994. The Fund is listed on the NASDAQ SmallCap Market and trades under the symbol "CUBA".

The Fund's investment policy is to invest at least 80% of its assets in investments that are economically tied to Caribbean Basin Countries. The Fund's investment objective is to obtain long-term capital appreciation. The Fund pursues its objective by investing primarily in equity and equity-linked securities of public and private companies, including U.S.-based companies, (i) whose securities are traded principally on a stock exchange in a Caribbean Basin Country or (ii) that have at least 50% of the value of their assets in a Caribbean Basin Country or (iii) that derive at least 50% of their total revenue from operations in a Caribbean Basin Country. The Fund's investment objective is fundamental and may not be changed without the approval of a majority of the Fund's outstanding voting securities.

At December 31, 2004, the Fund had foreign investments in companies operating principally in Mexico and the Cayman Islands, representing approximately 12.64% and 7.75% of the Fund's net assets, respectively.

The Fund's custodian and transfer agent is Investors Bank & Trust Company, based in Boston, Massachusetts.

Security Valuation

Investments in securities traded on a national securities exchange (or reported on the NASDAQ national market or SmallCap market) are stated at the last reported sales price on the day of valuation (or at the NASDAQ official closing price); other securities traded in the over-the-counter market and listed securities for which no sale was reported on that date are stated at the last quoted bid price. Restricted securities and other securities for which quotations are not readily available are valued at fair value as determined by the Board of Directors.

Notes to Financial Statements

Income Recognition

Security transactions are recorded on the trade date. Gains and losses on securities sold are determined on the basis of identified cost. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date, and interest income is recognized on an accrual basis. Discounts and premiums on debt securities purchased are amortized over the life of the respective securities. It is the Fund's practice to include the portion of realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments denominated in foreign currencies as components of realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments and foreign currency.

Deposits with Financial Institutions

The Fund may, during the course of its operations, maintain account balances with financial institutions in excess of federally insured limits.

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The Fund's policy is to continue to comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all its taxable income to its stockholders. Under these provisions, the Fund is not subject to federal income tax on its taxable income and no federal tax provision is required.

Edgar Filing: HERZFELD CARIBBEAN BASIN FUND INC - Form N-CSRS

The Fund has adopted a June 30 year-end for federal income tax purposes.

Distributions to Stockholders

Distributions to stockholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. For the six months ended December 31, 2004, no distributions were declared or paid to stockholders.
