Edgar Filing: FORRESTER RESEARCH INC - Form 8-K

Forrester believes that pro forma financial results provide investors with consistent and comparable information to aid in the understanding of Forrester's ongoing business. Our pro forma presentation excludes the following:

Amortization of intangible assets - We exclude the non-cash effect of the amortization of acquisition-related intangibles from our pro forma results in order to present a consistent basis for quarterly comparisons.

Integration costs - We exclude the costs related to our acquisition of Giga, which are primarily related to orientation events and data migration, in order to present a consistent basis for quarterly comparisons.

Impairments of non-marketable securities - We have consistently excluded both one-time gains and one-time write-offs related to our investments in non-marketable securities from our pro forma results in order to present a consistent basis for quarterly comparisons of our results of operations.

Reorganization costs - We exclude restructuring charges from our first quarter 2002 pro forma results because our failure to do so would present a misleading improvement in our pro forma results in the six months ended June 30, 2003 as compared to the same period in 2002.

However, these measures should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for, or superior to, operating income or other measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles as more fully discussed in the Forrester's financial statements and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
