PROSPECTUS SUPPLEMENT SUMMARY

This summary highlights some of the information in this prospectus supplement, the accompanying prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference. Because this is only a summary, it does not contain all of the information that may be important to you. You should read the entire prospectus supplement, the accompanying prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference carefully, including the section entitled Risk Factors and the consolidated financial statements and related notes included in or incorporated by reference into this prospectus supplement, the accompanying prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference.

Toyota Motor Corporation

We are the largest producer of automobiles in Japan in terms of both vehicles produced and vehicles sold. We sold 7.97 million vehicles worldwide in fiscal 2006 and 4.15 million vehicles during the six months ended September 30, 2006. We had net revenues of ¥21,036.9 billion and net income of ¥1,372.1 billion in fiscal 2006 and net revenues of ¥11,471.8 billion and net income of ¥777.2 billion for the six months ended September 30, 2006.

Our business segments are automotive operations, financial services operations and all other operations. Our automotive operations include the design, manufacture, assembly and sale of passenger cars, recreational and sport-utility vehicles, minivans and trucks and related parts and accessories. Our financial services business consists primarily of providing financing to dealers and their customers for the purchase or lease of Toyota vehicles. Our other operations include the design and manufacture of prefabricated housing and information technology-related businesses.

We sell our vehicles in more than 170 countries and regions. The primary markets for our automobiles are Japan, North America, Europe and Asia. For the six months ended September 30, 2006, approximately 26% of our automobile unit sales were in Japan, 35% were in North America, 14% were in Europe and 9% were in Asia.

Our vehicles include:

Camry, the best selling passenger car in the United States for eight of the past nine calendar years and also for the last four consecutive calendar years;

Prius, the world's first mass produced hybrid car that runs on a combination of gasoline and electric power;

Yaris, marketed as the Vitz in Japan, a subcompact car that is comparable to larger cars in terms of performance, safety and comfort;

Lexus, a line of high-quality luxury vehicles; and Corolla, one of the best selling cars in Japan.

Our registered address is 1 Toyota-cho, Toyota City, Aichi Prefecture 471-8571, Japan, and our telephone number is 81-565-28-2121. Our web site address is <http://www.toyota.co.jp>. The information contained on our web site is not part of this prospectus supplement or the accompanying prospectus.

Table of ContentsOur Strategy

We have identified the following three challenges in order to achieve continued growth:

Enhancing quality control. Maintaining a high level of quality control is one of the keys to customer satisfaction. We continue to dedicate significant management resources to enhancing quality assurance, including initiatives that encourage our suppliers to fortify their quality management systems.

Strengthening cost-competitiveness. We expect cost-reduction benefits to play a major role in our efforts to increase our market competitiveness. We must continually design and implement cost reduction initiatives that will enable lower-cost development and manufacturing of products with high levels of performance and quality.

Personnel development. Given the accelerating expansion of our operations worldwide, we must rapidly establish self-supporting local business organizations and localize management. We are currently striving to improve the quality of our human resources, developing on-the-job employee training programs and continuing educational programs to promote talented personnel.

Products Strategy: Offering a full product lineup and distinguishing our products through hybrid technology.

Premium brand (Lexus). Since the Lexus was first launched in 1989 in the United States, Lexus has been introduced in 59 countries around the world. At present, we are taking action to strengthen the Lexus brand in each geographic region. The global unit sales of the Lexus is as follows:

	2002	2003	Year Ended March 31, 2004 (in thousands)	2005	2006
Total Unit Sales	276	284	344	354	416

Global models (IMV, Vitz/Yaris, Camry, Corolla etc.). We have achieved significant growth of unit sales by offering global models, which accounted for over 30% of our global sales in fiscal 2006. Under the concept of Global Best, Local Best, we hope to develop, manufacture and distribute attractive products that satisfy regional characteristics while using common platforms and core components.

Emerging markets. We expect that the market for automobiles in the emerging markets, particularly Brazil, Russia, India and China, or the BRICs countries, will grow rapidly and presents us with significant opportunities. We have therefore been striving to, and have been achieving success in, establishing the operational foundations for production and distribution in these markets. In order to capture the opportunities, in addition to the existing lineup, we are considering the introduction of a low-cost compact model that takes into consideration the regional demands of the emerging markets.

Distinguishing our products through hybrid technology. With respect to the technical aspects, which serve as the basis for product development, we are striving to improve the performance of the hybrid system and achieve further cost reductions. As a market leader, we are aiming to achieve sales of one million units per year.

Table of Contents

Regional Strategy: Production and distribution framework to satisfy regional demands.

Our efficient production and sales network, together with our global model strategy and our efforts to design products that appeal to particular regional preferences, allow us to offer a comprehensive line up of products in each region in which we operate.

Maintain preeminence in Japan. We aim to maintain steady profitability in the Japanese market, which is the center of our global operations. We believe that it is important to maintain and improve upon our high market share in Japan.

Establish self-reliant growth in North America. In the North American market, one of our most significant markets, we aim to secure steady profits and establish a self-reliant operational framework. We continue to seek further growth, and in the past few years we have expanded our production capacity and improved our product lineup. For example, we will strive to further increase unit sales by introducing the fully remodeled Tundra in the full-sized pick-up truck market, where there is stable demand.

Achieve steady growth in Europe. In the European market, we aim to establish our presence and to develop Europe into a region generating high levels of profit, following Japan and North America. We are committed to achieving further growth in Europe by enhancing cost competitiveness by increasing local production and procurement, as well as expanding our model lineup by providing more models with diesel engines and actively introducing hybrid models.

Develop business foundations in China. We are conducting our operations in China with the aim to establish a firm business foundation in the Chinese market and to implement our growth strategy. Through our joint ventures, we continue to establish our sales and service network, increase production capacity and expand our product lineup. For example, Tianjin FAW Toyota Motor Co., Ltd. is expected to begin annual production of over 200,000 vehicles at the Third Tianjin plant beginning in mid-2007.

Production System

We believe we can achieve mass production efficiencies over small and large production volumes. This gives us the flexibility to respond quickly to changing customer demand and produce multiple models without significantly increasing production costs.

At present, we are improving our ability to flexibly link production at our plants in Japan with production at our plants overseas.

Risk Factors

You should carefully consider all of the information contained in, or incorporated by reference into, this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus before investing in the shares or ADSs. In particular, we urge you to consider carefully the factors set forth under Risk Factors beginning on page 5 of the accompanying prospectus.

- (1) The rate of ¥117.90 = $1.00, the approximate exchange rate at September 30, 2006, was used for the convenience translations included in the table above. These translations should not be construed as representations that the yen amounts actually represent, or have been or could be converted into, dollars.
- (2) Includes ¥143.3 billion in gain on exchange of marketable securities relating to the merger of Mitsubishi Tokyo Financial Group, Inc. and UFJ Holdings.
- (3) Up through fiscal 2001, the results of certain subsidiaries in Europe and other regions were reported in the consolidated financial statements using a December 31 year-end. During fiscal 2002, the year-ends of most of these foreign subsidiaries were changed from December 31 to March 31. As a result, we decreased retained earnings by ¥3,061 million to reflect the impact of conforming the year-ends at March 31, 2001.

Table of ContentsDIVIDEND INFORMATION

We normally pay cash dividends twice per year. Our board of directors recommends the dividend to be paid to shareholders and pledgees of record as of March 31 each year. This recommended dividend must then be approved by shareholders at the General Shareholders Meeting. We pay the dividend immediately following approval of the dividend at the shareholders meeting, normally around the end of June each year. In addition to these year-end dividends, we may pay interim dividends in the form of cash distributions from our distributable surplus to shareholders and pledgees of record as of September 30 in each year by resolution of our board of directors and without shareholder approval. We normally pay the interim dividend in late November.

In addition, under the Corporation Act of Japan, dividends may be paid to shareholders and pledgees of record as of any record date, other than those specified above, as set forth by our articles of incorporation or as determined by our board of directors from time to time. Such dividends may be distributed by a resolution of any general shareholders meeting. Our articles of incorporation also permit us to pay dividends, in addition to interim dividends mentioned in the preceding paragraph, by a resolution of our board of directors. We have incorporated such a provision into our articles of incorporation in order to secure a flexible capital policy. Under the Corporation Act, dividends may be distributed in cash or (except in the case of interim dividends mentioned in the preceding paragraph) in kind, subject to limitations on distributable surplus and to certain other conditions.

The following table sets forth the dividends declared by Toyota for each of the periods shown. The periods shown are the six months ended on that date. The U.S. dollar equivalents for the cash dividends shown are based on the noon buying rate for Japanese yen on the last date of each period set forth below.

The payment and the amount of any future dividends are subject to the level of our future earnings, our financial condition and other factors, including statutory restrictions on the payment of dividends.

We deem the benefit of our shareholders to be one of our top priority management policies and strive continuously to increase per-share earnings by promoting our business aggressively while improving and strengthening our corporate foundation. With respect to payment of dividends, we seek to enhance the distribution of profits by striving to raise the consolidated dividend payout ratio, with the aim of increasing it to over 30% over the medium- to long-term, while giving due consideration to factors such as the business results of each term and new investment plans.

Table of ContentsRECENT DEVELOPMENTS*Results of Operations Six Months Ended September 30, 2006 Compared with Six Months Ended September 30, 2005

During the six months ended September 30, 2006 the Japanese economy gradually recovered with higher levels of capital expenditure resulting from improved corporate revenues as well as steadier levels of personal consumption. Overseas, the U.S. economy grew despite only moderate growth in expenditures such as personal consumption and other areas. The European economy also showed steady overall growth.

Under these conditions, our consolidated vehicle unit sales in Japan and overseas increased by 312 thousand units to a record high 4,145 thousand units in the six months ended September 30, 2006, an increase of 8.1% compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005. Vehicle unit sales in Japan decreased by 13 thousand units, or 1.2%, compared to the six months ended September 30, 2005 to 1,073 thousand units in the six months ended September 30, 2006. Vehicle unit sales in Japan remained relatively high due to the sales efforts of dealers in Japan. Overseas vehicle sales increased significantly by 325 thousand units, or 11.9%, to 3,072 thousand units in the six months ended September 30, 2006 compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005 due mainly to higher sales in North America, Europe and other regions.

Net revenues increased by ¥1,518.7 billion, or 15.3%, to ¥11,471.8 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2006 compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005. Net revenues for our automotive operations segment increased by ¥1,339.7 billion, or 14.7%, to ¥10,484.2 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2006 compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005. Net revenues for our financial services operations segment increased by ¥137.4 billion, or 29.8%, to ¥599.4 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2006 compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005. Net revenues for our all other businesses segments increased by ¥106.3 billion, or 19.8%, to ¥642.2 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2006 compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005. The net revenue amounts per segment discussed above are amounts before the elimination of intersegment revenues.

Operating costs and expenses increased by ¥1,243.8 billion, or 13.5%, to ¥10,378.5 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2006 compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005 due mainly to increased vehicle unit sales.

Operating income increased by ¥284.0 billion, or 35.1%, to ¥1,093.4 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2006 compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005. Operating income was favorably affected by currency exchange rate fluctuations, increased marketing efforts and cost reduction efforts, which were partially offset by higher expenses.

Income before income taxes, minority interest in consolidated subsidiaries and equity in earnings of affiliated companies increased by ¥310.2 billion, or 36.2%, to ¥1,166.1 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2006 compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005.

Net income increased by ¥206.7 billion, or 36.2%, to ¥777.2 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2006 compared with the six months ended September 30, 2005.

Investment in Isuzu Motors Limited

On November 7, 2006, we entered into an agreement with Isuzu Motors Limited, or Isuzu, to discuss a business alliance to generate synergies for both parties by mutually utilizing management resources and providing each other with technological complements in the development and production of diesel engines and other areas. To facilitate the development of the business alliance, we intend to acquire 100 million shares of common stock of Isuzu, representing approximately 5.9% of the total issued shares of common stock of Isuzu (assuming that the issued and outstanding shares of Class-I Preferred Stock of Isuzu are fully converted into common shares) on November 10, 2006, from certain shareholders of Isuzu. The aggregate purchase price of this investment in Isuzu will not be material to us.

Outlook

We expect that the global economy will grow moderately in fiscal 2007, despite factors such as concerns about the U.S. economy and trends regarding oil and raw material prices worldwide. We expect that the global automotive markets will remain at the same level as fiscal 2006. For the purposes of this discussion, we are assuming an average exchange rate of ¥115 to the U.S. dollar and ¥145 to the euro. With these external factors in mind, we expect that net revenues for fiscal 2007 will increase compared with fiscal 2006 as a result of expected increased sales volumes, with the planned introduction of new models, particularly in North America. We expect that operating income will increase in fiscal 2007 compared with fiscal 2006. Sales efforts are expected to increase unit sales and, together with cost reduction efforts and the assumed exchange rate of a slightly weaker yen against the U.S. dollar and the euro compared with fiscal 2006, increase operating income. On the other hand, the anticipated increases in depreciation expenses as a result of active capital expenditures and expenditures relating to the research and development of environmental technology such as hybrid vehicles and fuel-cell, safety technology and other next-generation technologies are expected to be offsetting factors. In addition, the effects of cost reduction efforts may be influenced by fluctuations in the prices of raw materials. We expect that income before income taxes, minority interest and equity in earnings of affiliated companies and net income will increase in fiscal 2007 compared to fiscal 2006 despite the posting of a ¥143.3 billion gain on exchange of marketable securities in fiscal 2006 that will not recur in fiscal 2007. Exchange rate fluctuations can also materially affect our operating results. In particular, a strengthening of the Japanese yen against the U.S. dollar can have a material adverse effect on Toyota's operating results. Please see Operating and Financial Review and Prospects Operating Results Overview Currency Fluctuations in our annual report on Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006 incorporated by reference in this prospectus supplement.

The foregoing statements are forward-looking statements based upon our management's assumptions and beliefs regarding economic conditions and market demand for our products. Please see Cautionary Statement Concerning Forward-Looking Statements. Our actual results of operations could vary significantly from those described above as a result of unanticipated changes in the factors described above or other factors, including those described in Risk Factors in the accompanying prospectus.

international underwriters elect to waive the closing condition in the international underwriting agreement. The initial offering price per share and underwriting discount per share are identical in the international offering and the Japanese offering.

Commissions and Discounts

The representatives of the international underwriters have informed us and BSPC that the international underwriters propose initially to offer the shares and ADSs to the public at the public offering price on the cover page of this prospectus supplement and to dealers at that price less a concession not in excess of ¥83.52 per share and $1.41 per ADS. After the public offering, the public offering price and concession may change.

The following table shows the public offering price, underwriting discount and proceeds to BSPC for the international offering, each on a per ADS and total basis and on a per share and total basis. The figures in the U.S. dollar Total column assume that all shares to be sold in the international offering will be sold in the form of ADSs, while the figures in the Japanese yen Total column assume that none of the shares to be sold in the international offering will be sold in the form of ADSs. The underwriting discount applied to the shares and ADSs offered in the international offering represents 2.0% of the total amount of the international offering.

	Per ADS	Total	Per Share	Total

The international underwriters will bear certain expenses relating to investor roadshow meetings.

Intersyndicate Agreement

The international underwriters and the Japanese underwriters have entered into an intersyndicate agreement that provides for the coordination of their activities. Under the intersyndicate agreement, the international underwriters and the Japanese underwriters have agreed that the Japanese underwriters may sell a limited number of shares to the international underwriters for re-sale by the international underwriters in the international offering. To the extent there are sales of shares between the two underwriting groups under the intersyndicate agreement, the number of shares or ADSs initially available for sale in the international offering may be greater than the number of shares described on the cover page of this prospectus supplement as being offered in the international offering.

Pursuant to the intersyndicate agreement, as part of the distribution of our shares in the global offering and subject to certain exceptions, the international underwriters and the Japanese underwriters have agreed that (i) the international underwriters will neither purchase, directly or indirectly, any shares offered in the global offering for the account of any Japanese person (as defined in the intersyndicate agreement), nor offer or sell, directly or indirectly, any shares offered in the global offering or distribute any offering circular or prospectus relating to such shares in other than a Japanese person, nor offer or sell, directly or indirectly, any such shares or distribute any offering circular or prospectus relating to such shares outside Japan or to any person or entity other than a Japanese person.

No Sale of Similar Securities

We have agreed with the international underwriters and the Japanese underwriters, with certain exceptions, not to sell or transfer any shares of our common stock or ADSs representing shares of our common stock during a period of 180 days from the date of this prospectus supplement without obtaining the prior written consent of the joint global coordinators. Specifically, we have agreed not to, directly or indirectly:

offer, pledge, sell or contract to sell any shares or ADSs, sell any option or contract to purchase any shares or ADSs, purchase any option or contract to sell any shares or ADSs, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase or otherwise transfer or dispose of any shares or ADSs, file, or cause to be filed, any registration statement under the Securities Act with respect to any of the foregoing, or enter into any swap or any other agreement or any transaction that transfers, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, the economic consequence of ownership of shares or ADSs.

However, if (i) during the last 17 days of the 180-day period described above, we issue an earnings release or there is any significant news or significant event relating to us, or (ii) prior to the expiration of the 180-day period described above, we announce that we will issue an earnings release or we become aware that significant news or a significant event will occur during the 16-day period beginning on the last day of the 180-day period described above, then the restrictions described above will continue to apply to us until the expiration of an 18-day period beginning on our issuance of the earnings release or the occurrence of the significant news or event relating to us.

shares issued by us in connection with any stock split, or sales of shares by us to shareholders holding less than one unit of 100 shares.

New York Stock Exchange Listing

The ADSs are listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol TM.

Payment and Settlement

The underwriters expect to deliver the shares against payment in yen in Tokyo through the central clearing system in Japan, known as JASDEC, on or around November 30, 2006, Tokyo time. The international underwriters expect to deliver the ADSs against payment therefor in U.S. dollars in New York through the facilities of The Depository Trust Company on or around November 30, 2006.

Delivery of the shares and ADSs is expected to occur, subject to receipt and acceptance by the international underwriters, later than three business days after the pricing of the global offering. Under Rule 15c6-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in three business days unless the parties to such trade expressly agree otherwise. Because of the longer settlement period, purchasers who wish to trade shares or ADSs on or soon after pricing may need to specify alternative settlement arrangements to prevent a failed settlement.

Because of this longer settlement period, the margin requirements of the New York Stock Exchange, including its Rule 431, may require purchasers of the shares or ADSs in the international offering to deposit and maintain margin during such period. A potential purchaser of the shares or ADSs should consult with its broker or other financial institution at which its account is maintained in order to determine if such requirements apply to it and, if so, how they may be satisfied.

has represented, warranted and agreed that it has not offered or sold any shares or ADSs or caused the shares or ADSs to be made the subject of an invitation for subscription or purchase, and has not circulated or distributed nor will it circulate or distribute any offering circular, in preliminary or final form, or any other document or material in connection with the offer or sale, or invitation for subscription or purchase, of any shares or ADSs, whether directly or indirectly, to persons in Singapore other than (i) to an institutional investor under Section 274 of the Securities and Futures Act, Chapter 289 of Singapore (the "SFA"), (ii) to a relevant person pursuant to Section 275(1), or any person pursuant to section 275(1A), and in accordance with the conditions specified in Section 275 of the SFA or (iii) otherwise pursuant to, and in accordance with the conditions of, any other applicable provision of the SFA.

Note:

Where the shares or ADSs are subscribed or purchased under Section 275 of the SFA by a relevant person which is:

- (a) a corporation (which is not an accredited investor (as defined in Section 4A of the SFA)) the sole business of which is to hold investments and the entire share capital of which is owned by one or more individuals, each of whom is an accredited investor; or
- (b) a trust (where the trustee is not an accredited investor) whose sole purpose is to hold investments and each beneficiary of the trust is an individual who is an accredited investor, shares, debentures and units of shares and debentures of that corporation or the beneficiaries rights and interest (howsoever described) in that trust shall not be transferred within six months after that corporation or that trust has acquired the shares or ADSs pursuant to an offer made under Section 275 except:
 - (1) to an institutional investor (for corporations, under Section 274 of the SFA) or to a relevant person defined in Section 275(2) of the SFA, or to any person pursuant to an offer that is made on terms that such shares, debentures and units of shares and debentures of that corporation or such rights and interest in that trust are acquired at a consideration of not less than S$200,000 (or its equivalent in a foreign currency) for each transaction, whether such amount is to be paid for in cash or by exchange of securities or other assets, and further for corporations, in accordance with the conditions specified in Section 275 of the SFA;
 - (2) where no consideration is or will be given for the transfer; or

Price Stabilization and Short Positions

Until the distribution of the shares and ADSs in the international offering is completed, SEC rules may limit underwriters and selling group members from bidding for and purchasing our shares and ADSs. However, the representatives of the international underwriters, or any person acting for them, on behalf of the international underwriters, may engage in transactions that stabilize the price of the shares and ADSs, such as bids or purchases to peg, fix or maintain that price.

If the international underwriters create a short position in the shares or ADSs in connection with the international offering, i.e., if they sell more shares or ADSs than are listed on the cover of this prospectus supplement, the representatives of the international underwriters may reduce that short position by purchasing shares or ADSs in the open market. Purchases of the shares or ADSs to stabilize their prices or to reduce a short position may have the effect of raising or maintaining the market price of our shares and ADSs or preventing or retarding a decline in the market price of our shares and ADSs. As a result, the price of our shares and ADSs may be higher than the price that might otherwise exist in the open market.

Neither we nor any of the international underwriters makes any representation or prediction as to the direction or magnitude of any effect that the transactions described above may have on the price of the shares and ADSs. In addition, neither we nor any of the international underwriters makes any representation that the representatives of the international underwriters will engage in these transactions or that these transactions, once commenced, will not be discontinued without notice. These transactions may be effected on the New York Stock Exchange or otherwise in the United States.

In addition to stabilization and short position transactions of the international underwriters described above in connection with the international offering, the representatives of the Japanese underwriters, on behalf of and for the benefit of the Japanese underwriters, may engage in transactions in connection with the Japanese offering that maintain a stabilizing bid on the Tokyo Stock Exchange as well as on any of the Nagoya Stock Exchange, the Osaka Securities Exchange, the Fukuoka Stock Exchange and the Sapporo Securities Exchange, at a higher level than that which might otherwise prevail for a limited period after the date of this prospectus supplement in accordance with applicable laws and regulations. The representatives of the Japanese underwriters are not required to engage in these activities and may end any of these activities at any time. Such transactions may have the effect of raising or maintaining the market price of our shares or preventing or retarding a decline in the market price of our shares. As a result, the price of our shares may be higher than the price that might otherwise exist in the open market. Any such transactions in connection with the Japanese offering will be conducted by and through the representatives of the Japanese underwriters in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

LIMITATIONS ON ENFORCEMENT OF U.S. LAWS

We are a joint stock company incorporated in Japan. All of our directors and executive officers, and certain experts named in this prospectus supplement, are residents of countries other than the United States. As a result, you should note that it may be difficult or impossible to serve legal process on us or our directors and executive officers, or to force us or them to appear in a U.S. court. Our legal counsel in Japan, Nagashima Ohno & Tsunematsu, has advised us that there is doubt as to the enforceability in Japan, in original actions or in actions to enforce judgments of U.S. courts, of civil liabilities based solely on U.S. securities laws. A Japanese court may refuse to allow an original action based on U.S. securities laws.
