Letter to Shareholders (unaudited)

Dear Shareholders:

It is a pleasure to report highlights for the WisdomTree Dreyfus Currency Income Funds and the WisdomTree U.S. Current Income Fund of the WisdomTree Trust for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2008.

The Currency Income Funds represent the first products from our partnership with The Dreyfus Corporation in the area of cash, currency, and fixed income. The joint venture, announced earlier this year, leverages our collective expertise in exchange-traded funds (ETFs) and asset management to offer investors innovative solutions in currency and fixed income products. With 29 international equity ETFs already on the market, these new products provide a powerful complement to our existing equity product base, demonstrate WisdomTree's innovative and extensive approach to international investing and reinforce our reputation as a forward-thinking sponsor in the ETF category.

Similar to the catalysts behind our fundamental approach to equity, we saw an investor need that was not being filled – tradable access to the global money market rates in the investment company structure. Our solution was to provide this exposure to currencies and money market rates in the fully transparent, tax efficient and convenient trading structure of the ETF.

In May and June of 2008, we launched the first ETFs that provide investors with exposure to non-U.S. currencies: the Chinese Yuan Fund (ticker symbol: CYB), the Brazilian Real Fund (ticker symbol: BZF), the Indian Rupee Fund (ticker symbol: ICN), the Euro Fund (ticker symbol: EU), the Japanese Yen Fund (ticker symbol: JYF), the South African Rand Fund (ticker symbol: SZR), and the New Zealand Dollar Fund (ticker symbol: BNZ). We also launched the WisdomTree U.S. Current Income Fund (ticker symbol: USY) to provide exposure to investments in domestic money market securities. While these listings were not the first actively managed ETFs, the Chinese Yuan Fund and the Brazilian Real Fund quickly surpassed their predecessors in becoming the largest actively managed ETFs. In very difficult market conditions, the Funds have collectively gathered nearly $500 million in assets as of August 31, 2008.

The first four Funds, the Euro Fund, Indian Rupee Fund, Brazilian Real Fund and Chinese Yuan Fund, were launched as the S&P 500 Index marked its highs for the year. The subsequent downturn in the domestic equity market, combined with the continued rise in commodities, such as oil, provided support to higher yielding currencies such as the Brazilian real and South African rand. In mid-July, concerns about global growth began to weigh on both commodities and global assets in general. Expectations for future rate hikes from global central banks faded and non-dollar currencies suffered as the Funds approached August 31, 2008.

In September, investor focus shifted from the global economic slowdown to growing distress within the financial system. The collapse of Lehman Brothers triggered a severe deterioration of liquidity within the financial system. Risk aversion soared, major financial institutions failed, and credit markets froze. Governments worldwide responded with an extensive infusion of liquidity through market operations, structured bailouts, and direct investments into the financial system. As these dynamics continue to evolve the global economy will continue to face challenges in the months ahead.

Recent market volatility emphasizes the value of daily transparency of holdings. Knowing what you hold is a simple investment tenet that is often overlooked until market conditions necessitate it. The WisdomTree ETFs offer this benefit everyday at www.wisdomtree.com.

On behalf of WisdomTree, I thank you for your investment in the newest additions to the WisdomTree family.

Best regards,

Management's Discussion of Funds Performance (unaudited)

Amid tightening credit markets and declines in global and domestic equities, the currencies of major U.S. trading partners depreciated 2.70%<sup>1</sup> against the U.S. dollar and many global money market rates rose from the launch of the first four WisdomTree Dreyfus Currency Income Funds in May until the end of August 2008. By contrast, short-term U.S. rates were relatively stable over the same period; discount rates on the highest quality 90-day commercial paper rose from 2.72% to 2.87%, 3-Month Treasury Bill rates actually declined from 1.82% to 1.71%, and the Fed Funds Target rate was 2.00% from May 14, 2008 to August 31, 2008.<sup>2</sup>

On average, leading emerging currencies performed better relative to the dollar than their developed market counterparts. Several emerging market currencies, including the Brazilian real and Chinese yuan, posted gains against the dollar, while currencies of developed markets all declined against the dollar.

During this period, global central banks were wrestling with rising inflation pressures amid signs of reduced growth prospects. The central banks of developed markets, particularly Europe, also confronted increasing signs of strain in the credit market stemming from the sub-prime mortgage crisis in the U.S.

Into mid-July and August, surging prices for commodities, such as oil, and negative sentiment on the dollar supported the appreciation of both higher-yielding currencies and currencies that exported commodities (relative to the dollar). Central banks around the emerging market world were lifting interest rates in order to stem burgeoning inflation pressures. Currencies underpinned by commodity-driven economies, such as Brazil and South Africa, performed well during this period, while currencies of commodity-dependent economies, such as India, performed poorly. Investors engaged in carry-trade strategies<sup>3</sup>, boosting the value of higher-yielding currencies while pressuring the value of the currencies used for borrowing, most notably the Japanese yen. The euro also appreciated against the dollar and yen as the market anticipated additional interest rate hikes by the European Central Bank.

Market conditions reversed later in the summer as markets began to price in a higher prospect of a slowdown in global growth. Commodity prices declined sharply and the currencies of commodity-dominant countries fell relative to the dollar. Despite growing signs of impairment for U.S. credit markets, the dollar appreciated against the euro on weakness in commodities (most of which are typically traded in dollars and deterioration in European economic statistics. Risk aversion increased within the market and the Japanese yen appreciated relative to other currencies as carry trades were reversed.

Movements in the Chinese yuan relative to the dollar hinted at these emerging dynamics in the global economy, but largely focused on potential shifts in currency policy sentiment within Chinese government.

In late May and June, market participants priced in expectations of future yuan appreciation relative to the dollar, triggering larger moves in the forward contracts than the underlying currency which is heavily regulated by the Chinese government. These expectations of measured but consistent appreciation of the yuan (relative to the dollar), however, wavered, when Chinese policy makers began debating the impact of a rising yuan on its exporters. As debate about the policy implications of the yuan intensified, market expectations for near-term appreciation in the yuan faded.

Since their inception, the WisdomTree Dreyfus Brazilian Real Fund ( Brazilian Real Fund ), the WisdomTree Dreyfus Chinese Yuan Fund ( Chinese Yuan Fund ), and the WisdomTree Dreyfus South African Rand Fund ( South African Rand Fund ) generated positive total returns. The WisdomTree Dreyfus Indian Rupee Fund ( Indian Rupee Fund ) produced a modest loss, while the WisdomTree Dreyfus Euro Fund ( Euro Fund ), the WisdomTree Dreyfus Japanese Yen Fund ( Japanese Yen Fund ), and the WisdomTree Dreyfus New Zealand Dollar Fund ( New Zealand Dollar Fund ) posted declines in net asset value ( NAV ) exceeding 3.00%. The WisdomTree U.S. Current Income Fund ( U.S. Current Income Fund ) posted a 0.60% return on NAV.

With the exception of the Chinese Yuan Fund, the Funds generated performance on NAV which exceeded the return suggested by movements in the underlying currency alone. This is a result of the interest income from the Funds' underlying cash investments and the Funds' investment in forward currency contracts. The return on NAV for the Brazilian Real Fund exceeded the return generated by movements in the real/dollar by 3.34% since the Fund's inception on May 14, 2008. Over a shorter time period (June 25, 2008 launch), the New Zealand Dollar Fund and the South African Rand Fund generated returns on NAV exceeding their currency returns by 2.08% and 1.40%, respectively.

While the Funds are actively managed and do not track an index, we utilize third-party benchmarks, in a manner similar to mutual funds, to gauge our performance on a periodic basis. For the Brazilian Real, Chinese Yuan, Indian Rupee, and the South African Rand Funds, we use the AIG Emerging Markets Foreign Exchange Total Return Sub-Indices for each country. The indices combine U.S. cash investments with a weighted basket of one to three month forward currency contracts. For the Euro, Japanese Yen, New Zealand Dollar, and U.S. Current Income Funds, we used the Merrill Lynch One-Month LIBID Constant Maturity Indices to represent the return of investments in one-month bank deposits. The Funds posted comparable returns to these benchmarks. The Indian Rupee Fund outperformed its benchmark by 0.37%. The Chinese Yuan Fund, the New Zealand Dollar Fund, and the U.S. Current Income Fund were within 0.04% of their respective benchmark returns. The Euro, Japanese Yen, and Brazilian Real Fund posted returns of that were 0.36%, 0.16%, and 0.33% under the performance of their comparable AIG Sub Indices. The South African Rand Fund posted a return of 4.97%. This was less than the comparable AIG Emerging Market Foreign Exchange South African Rand Total Return Sub-Index of 6.62%.

Given the tightness in credit markets, the Funds benefited for the conservative approach of the manager in terms of credit selection. Investments in commercial paper were largely limited to the highest rated commercial paper and sizable liquidity positions were maintained in agency overnight discount notes to facilitate funding redemptions without the liquidation of securities.

The WisdomTree U.S. Current Income Fund (ticker symbol: USY) seeks to earn current income while preserving capital and maintaining liquidity by investing primarily in very short-term, high-quality money market instruments denominated in U.S. dollars. Although the Fund invests in very short-term, investment grade instruments, the Fund is not a money market fund and it is not the objective of the Fund to maintain a constant share price.

The WisdomTree U.S. Current Income Fund returned 0.60% on net asset value (NAV) since its inception on May 20, 2008 (for more complete performance information please see below).

The following performance chart is provided for comparative purposes and represents the period noted. The Fund's per share NAV is the value of one share of the Fund and is calculated by dividing the value of total assets less total liabilities by the number of shares outstanding. The NAV return is based on the NAV of the Fund and the market return is based on the market price per share of the Fund. The price used to calculate market price returns is the mid-point of the highest bid and lowest offer for Fund shares as of the close of trading on the exchange where Fund shares are listed. NAV and market returns assume that dividends and capital gain distributions have been reinvested in the Fund at NAV and market price, respectively. As with other ETFs, NAV returns and market price returns may differ because of factors such as the supply and demand for fund shares and investors' assessments of the underlying value of a fund's portfolio securities.

Shareholder Expense Examples (unaudited)

As a shareholder of a WisdomTree Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including brokerage commissions on purchases and sales of your Fund shares and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees and other Fund expenses. The following example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars and cents) of investing in a Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other funds.

The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period for WisdomTree U.S. Current Income Fund from May 20, 2008* to August 31, 2008; WisdomTree Dreyfus Euro Fund, WisdomTree Dreyfus Brazilian Real Fund, WisdomTree Dreyfus Chinese Yuan Fund and WisdomTree Dreyfus Indian Rupee Fund from May 14, 2008* to August 31, 2008; WisdomTree Dreyfus Japanese Yen Fund from May 21, 2008* to August 31, 2008; and WisdomTree Dreyfus New Zealand Dollar Fund and WisdomTree Dreyfus South African Rand Fund from June 25, 2008* to August 31, 2008.

Actual expenses

The first line under each Fund in the table on the next page provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line for your Fund under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period 3/01/08 to 8/31/08" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical example for comparison purposes

The second line under each Fund in the table on the next page provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on each Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in your Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as brokerage commissions paid on purchases and sales of Fund shares. Therefore, the second line under each Fund in the table is useful in comparing ongoing Fund costs only and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

The U.S. Current Income Fund and the Japanese Yen Fund commenced operations on May 20, 2008 and May 21, 2008, respectively, and both the New Zealand Dollar Fund and the South African Rand Fund commenced operations on June 25, 2008.

In the normal course of business the Funds may enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations or that provide indemnification for certain liabilities. The Funds' maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Funds that have not yet occurred. However, the Funds have not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts and expect the risk of loss to be remote.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("U.S. GAAP") requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in the net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Investment Valuation The Net Asset Value ("NAV") of each Fund's shares is calculated each day the national securities exchanges are open for trading as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange, generally 4:00 p.m. Eastern time. NAV per share is calculated by dividing a Fund's net assets by the number of Fund shares outstanding. Securities traded on any recognized U.S. or non-U.S. exchange are valued at the last sale price or official closing price on the exchange or system on which they are principally traded. Events occurring after the close of trading on non-U.S. exchanges may result in adjustments to the valuation of foreign securities to more accurately reflect their fair value as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange. The Funds may rely on an independent fair valuation service in adjusting the valuations of foreign securities. Unlisted equity securities are valued at the last quoted sale price or, if no sale price is available, as the mean between the most recently quoted bid and asked prices. The value of certain portfolio debt securities, other than temporary investments in short-term securities, takes into account various factors affecting market value, including yields and prices of comparable securities, indications as to value from dealers and general market conditions. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at fair value as determined by management and in accordance with procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Short-term securities with 60 days or less remaining to maturity are valued using the amortized cost method, which approximates fair value.

(b) Investment Transactions and Investment Income Investment transactions are accounted for on the date that the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Realized gains and losses on sales of portfolio securities are calculated using the identified-cost method. Interest income is accrued daily.

(c) Foreign Currency Translation The accounting records of the Funds are maintained in U.S. dollars. Foreign currencies, as well as investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, are translated into U.S. dollars using exchange rates deemed appropriate by the investment adviser. Realized and unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses on investments are included as a component of net realized and unrealized gain or loss on foreign currency transactions in the Statements of Operations.

(d) Expenses WisdomTree Asset Management, Inc. ("WTAM") has agreed to pay all expenses of the Funds, except for: (i) brokerage expenses and other expenses (such as stamp taxes) connected with the execution of portfolio transactions or in connection with creation and redemption transactions; (ii) legal fees or expenses in connection with any arbitration, litigation or pending or threatened arbitration or litigation, including any settlements in connection therewith; (iii) compensation and expenses of each Independent Trustee; (iv) compensation and expenses of counsel to the Independent Trustees; (v) compensation and expenses of the Trust's chief compliance officer; (vi) extraordinary expenses;

(vii) distribution fees and expenses paid by the Trust under any distribution plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act; and (viii) the advisory fee payable to WTAM. For the period from inception through August 31, 2008, WTAM paid the expenses in (iii), (iv) and (v) above.

(e) Repurchase Agreements A Fund's custodian or designated sub-custodians, as the case may be under tri-party repurchase agreements, takes possession of the collateral pledged for investments in repurchase agreements. The underlying collateral is valued on a daily basis at fair value to ensure that the value, including accrued interest, is at least equal to the repurchase price. In the event of default of the obligation to repurchase, a Fund has the right to liquidate the collateral and apply the proceeds in satisfaction of the obligations. Under certain circumstances, in the event of default or bankruptcy by the other party to the agreement, realization and/or retention of the collateral may be subject to legal proceedings.

(f) Forward Currency Contracts Each Fund may enter into forward currency contracts to manage its foreign currency exposure or to facilitate settlement of foreign currency denominated portfolio transactions. It may also enter into the currency contracts to sell, for a fixed amount of U.S. dollars or other currency, the amount of foreign currency approximating the value of some or all of its holdings denominated in such foreign currency.

The following forward currency exchange contracts were open at August 31, 2008:

(g) Short-Term Investments Each Fund may invest a portion of its assets in high-quality money market instruments on an ongoing basis to provide liquidity or for other reasons issued or guaranteed by U.S. and non-U.S. governments, agencies and instrumentalities. The instruments include short-term obligations issued by the U.S. Government, negotiable certificates of deposit ( CDs ), fixed time deposits and bankers acceptances of U.S. and foreign banks and similar institutions, commercial papers, repurchase agreements and money market funds. CDs are short-term negotiable obligations of commercial banks. Time deposits are non-negotiable deposits maintained in banking institutions for specified periods of time at stated interest rates. Banker s acceptances are time drafts drawn on commercial banks by borrowers, usually in connection with international transactions.

(h) Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders It is each Fund's policy to comply with all requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). Each Fund intends to qualify for and to elect treatment as a separate Regulated Investment Company (RIC) under Subchapter M of the Code. It is the policy of each Fund to pay out dividends, if any, to investors at least annually. Taxable net realized gains from investment transactions, reduced by capital loss carryforwards, if any, are declared and distributed to shareholders at least annually. The capital loss carryforward amount, if any, is available to offset future net capital gains. The Funds may occasionally be required to make supplemental distributions at some other time during the year. The Trust reserves the right to declare special distributions if, in its reasonable discretion, such action is necessary or advisable to preserve the status of each Fund as a RIC or to avoid imposition of income or excise taxes on undistributed income. Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions from net investment income and net realized capital gains are determined in accordance with the requirements of the Code and the U.S. Treasury regulations which may differ from U.S. GAAP. These book/tax differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the components of net assets based on their Federal tax basis treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassification. Dividends and distributions, that exceed earnings and profit for tax purposes, are reported for tax purposes as a return of capital to the extent of a shareholder's tax basis, and thereafter as capital gain.

The Funds adopted the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board ( FASB ) Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes ( FIN 48 ). This interpretation prescribes a minimum threshold for financial statement recognition of the benefit of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. Foreign taxes are provided for based on each Fund's understanding of the tax rules and rates that exist in the foreign markets in which it invests. Taxes are accrued and applied to net investment income, net realized capital gains and net unrealized appreciation, as applicable, as the income is earned or capital gains are recorded. If applicable, the Funds will recognize interest accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in interest expense and penalties in Other expenses on the Statement of Operations. Management has evaluated the application of FIN 48 to the Funds, and has determined that there is no impact resulting from the adoption of this interpretation on the Funds' financial statements.

3. ADVISER FEES AND TRANSACTIONS

Adviser Fees WTAM provides investment management services to each Fund pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement. As compensation for services rendered, facilities furnished, and expenses borne by WTAM, each Fund pays WTAM a fee, as listed below, which is accrued daily and paid monthly, based on the average daily net assets of the Fund. Included in the expenses borne by WTAM are fees paid to the Sub-Adviser, Mellon Capital Management Corp. (for the U.S. Current Income Fund) and The Dreyfus Corp. (for the International Currency Income Funds), all accounting, administration, custody, transfer agent fees to The Bank of New York Mellon Corp. 6. NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENT

(a) On September 15, 2006, the FASB released Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, Fair Value Measurements ( FAS 157 ) which provides enhanced guidance for measuring fair value. The standard requires companies to provide expanded information about the assets and liabilities measured at fair value and the potential effect of these fair valuations on an entity's financial performance. The standard does not expand the use of fair value in any new circumstances, but provides clarification on acceptable fair valuation methods and applications. Adoption of FAS 157 is required for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007 and interim periods within those fiscal years. At this time, management does not believe the adoption of FAS 157 will impact the amounts reported in the financial statements; however, additional disclosures will be required about the inputs used to develop the measurements of fair value and the effect of certain measurements reported in the Statement of Operations for the fiscal period.

(b) On March 19, 2008, the FASB released Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 161, Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities ( FAS 161 ). FAS 161 requires qualitative disclosures about objectives and strategies for using derivatives, quantitative disclosures about fair value amounts of gains and losses on derivative instruments, and disclosures about credit-risk-related contingent features in derivative agreements. The application of FAS 161 is required for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2008 and interim periods within those fiscal years. At this time, management is evaluating the implications of FAS 161 and its impact on the financial statements has not yet been determined.

We were not engaged to perform an audit of the Trust's internal control over financial reporting. Approval of Investment Advisory and Sub-Advisory Agreement (unaudited)

WTAM (the Adviser) serves as investment adviser to each Fund pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement with each Fund. Mellon Capital Management Corporation and The Dreyfus Corporation (each, a Sub-Adviser) serve as sub-adviser to each Fund pursuant to a Sub-Advisory Agreement with WTAM. The Board of Trustees of the Trust, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, has the responsibility under the 1940 Act to approve the Trust's Investment Advisory Agreement and Sub-Advisory Agreement (collectively, the Investment Advisory Agreements). In addition, the Trust's Board of Trustees will receive, review and evaluate information concerning the services and personnel of the Adviser and each Sub-Adviser at each quarterly meeting of the Board of Trustees. While particular emphasis will be placed on information concerning profitability, comparability of fees and total expenses, and the Trust's investment performance at any future meeting at which a renewal of the Investment Advisory Agreements is considered, the process of evaluating the Adviser and each Sub-Adviser and the Trust's investment arrangements is an ongoing one. In this regard, the Board's consideration of the nature, extent and quality of the services to be provided by the Adviser and the Sub-Advisers will include deliberations at future quarterly meetings.

The Trust and the Adviser have entered into an investment advisory agreement covering each Fund (the Advisory Agreement). At a meeting held on March 25, 2008 and June 23, 2008, the Board of Trustees, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, approved the Advisory Agreement with WTAM for each Fund. In approving the Advisory Agreements with WTAM, the Board reviewed and analyzed the factors it deemed relevant, including: (i) the nature, quality and extent of the services to be provided to the Funds by WTAM; (ii) WTAM's personnel and operations; (iii) WTAM's financial condition; (iv) the level and method of computing each Fund's advisory fee; (v) the anticipated profitability of WTAM under the Advisory Agreement; (vi) fall-out benefits to WTAM and its affiliates (i.e., ancillary benefits that may be realized by WTAM or its affiliates from WTAM's relationship with the Funds); (vii) the anticipated effect of growth and size on each Fund's performance and expenses; and (viii) possible conflicts of interest.

The Board also considered the responsibilities that WTAM has as Adviser to the Funds, including the oversight of the Sub-Advisers oversight of general Fund compliance with federal and state laws, and the implementation of Board directives as they relate to the Funds.

The Board gave consideration to the fees payable under the Advisory Agreement. In this connection, the Board evaluated WTAM's anticipated costs and profitability in serving as Adviser to the Funds, the personnel, systems and equipment necessary to manage the Funds and the costs associated with compensating the Sub-Advisers. The Board also examined the fees to be paid by each Fund in light of fees paid to other investment managers by comparable funds and the method of computing each Fund's fee. The Board concluded that the level of the fees paid to WTAM with respect to each Fund is fair and reasonable.

The Board also approved the Sub-Advisory Agreement with each Fund's Sub-Adviser using essentially the same criteria it used for WTAM. The Board considered each Sub-Adviser's operational capabilities and resources and the Sub-Adviser's experience in serving as an adviser. The Board also noted that The Bank of New York (BNY), an affiliate of each Sub-Adviser, is proposed to serve as the Funds' administrator, accountant, custodian and transfer agent and will receive compensation for acting in these capacities and will be responsible for, among other things, coordinating the Funds' audits, financial statements and tax returns, processing trades on behalf of each Fund and custodial Fund assets. As such, the Board concluded that the benefits accruing to each Sub-Adviser and its affiliates by virtue of their relationship to the Trust are reasonable and fair in comparison with the anticipated costs of providing the relevant services. The Board noted that WTAM, not the Funds, pays the fees to each Sub-Adviser under the Sub-Advisory Agreement. The Board also noted that each Sub-Adviser will be responsible for compensating BNY for providing specified services to the Funds. Based on these considerations and the overall high quality of the personnel, operations, financial condition, investment advisory capabilities, methodologies, and performance of WTAM and each Sub-Adviser, the Board determined that the approval of the Advisory Agreement and the Sub-Advisory Agreement was in the best interests of each Fund. After full consideration of these and other factors, the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, with the assistance of independent counsel, approved the Advisory Agreement and Sub-Advisory Agreement.

Frequency Distribution of Discounts & Premiums (unaudited)

The chart below presents information about differences between the per share net asset value ( NAV ) of each Fund and the market trading price of shares of each Fund. For these purposes, the market price is the mid-point of the highest bid and lowest offer for Fund shares as of the close of trading on the exchange where Fund shares are listed. The term premium is sometimes used to describe a market price in excess of NAV and the term discount is sometimes used to describe a market price below NAV. The chart presents information about the size and frequency of premiums or discounts. As with other exchange traded funds, the market price of Fund shares is typically slightly higher or lower than the Fund s per share NAV. Factors that contribute to the differences between market price and NAV include the supply and demand for Fund shares and investors assessments of the underlying value of a Fund s portfolio securities.

Differences between the closing times of U.S. and non-U.S. markets may contribute to differences between the NAV and market price of Fund shares. Many non-U.S. markets close prior to the close of the U.S. securities exchanges. Developments after the close of such markets as a result of ongoing price discovery may be reflected in a Fund s market price but not in its NAV (or vice versa).

Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Funds carefully before investing. A prospectus, containing this and other information, is available at www.wisdomtree.com, or by calling 1-866-909-WISE (9473). Investors should read the prospectus carefully before investing. There are risks associated with investing, including possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Indexes are unmanaged and you can not invest directly in an index.

There are risks associated with investing including possible loss of principal. In addition to the normal risks of investing, foreign investing involves special risks, such as risk of loss from currency fluctuation or political or economic uncertainty. Investments in real estate involve additional special risks, such as credit risk, interest rate fluctuations and the effect of varied economic conditions. Funds that focus their investments in one country increase the impact of events and developments associated with the region which can adversely affect performance. Funds focusing on a single country, sector and/or smaller companies generally experience greater price volatility. Investments in emerging or frontier markets are generally less liquid and less efficient than developed markets. Investments in currency involve additional special risks, such as credit risk, interest rate fluctuations, derivative investment risk and the effect of varied economic conditions. As these Funds can have a high concentration in some issuers the Funds can be adversely impacted by changes affecting issuers. Unlike typical exchange-traded funds, there are no indexes that the currency Funds attempt to track or replicate. Thus, the ability of the currency Funds to achieve their objectives will depend on the effectiveness of the portfolio manager. Please read the Funds prospectus for specific details regarding each Fund s risk profile. Transaction in Fund shares will result in brokerage commissions and will generate tax consequences. Shares may be sold through brokerage accounts, but may be redeemed from the Funds only in large amounts of 50,000 shares or more.
