FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Regarding the Change of the Corporate Split (Simplified Corporate Separation) Schedule and the Decision of the Allotment of shares

Tokyo, February 10, 2011 Hitachi, Ltd. (NYSE:HIT / TSE:6501) today announced a change of schedule and the decision of allotment of shares regarding a corporate split disclosed in January 27th press release entitled "Hitachi Announces Corporate Split (Simplified Corporate Separation)". As stated in the press release, Hitachi will transfer a part of its Consumer Business Division to Hitachi's wholly owned subsidiary Hitachi Consumer Marketing, Inc. ("Hitachi CM") via a corporate split (the "Corporate Split") with Hitachi CM as the successor company. The changes to the corporate split are underlined.

1. Outline of the Corporate Split

(1) Corporate Split Schedule

February 9, 2011	Approval of Corporate Split Agreement
February 10, 2011	by Board of Directors (Hitachi CM) Approval of Corporate Split Agreement
February 10, 2011 March 28, 2011 (Planned)	by Executive officers (Hitachi) Entering into Corporate Split Agreement Approval of General Meeting of Shareholders
April 1, 2011 (Planned)	(Hitachi CM) Scheduled Corporate Split Date (Effective date)

NOTE: The Corporate Split is deemed to be a simplified corporate separation pursuant to Article 784, Paragraph 3 of the Company Law of Japan. Therefore, Hitachi does not plan to convene a shareholders' meeting to seek approval for the corporate split agreement.

(2) Allotment of shares, due to the Corporate Split Hitachi CM's one share of common stock will be allotted to Hitachi on April 1, 2011.

2. Overview of the Business Group to be Split-Off

Cautionary Statement

Certain statements found in this document may constitute forward-looking statements as defined in the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such forward-looking statements reflect management's current views with respect to certain future events and financial performance and include any statement that does not directly relate to any historical or current fact. Words such as anticipate, believe, expect, estimate, forecast, intend, plan, project and similar expressions which indicate future events and trends may identify forward-looking statements. Such statements are based on currently available information and are subject to various risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected or implied in the forward-looking statements and from historical trends. Certain forward-looking statements are based upon current assumptions of future events which may not prove to be accurate. Undue reliance should not be placed on forward-looking statements, as such statements speak only as of the date of this document.

Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected or implied in any forward-looking statement and from historical trends include, but are not limited to:

economic conditions, including consumer spending and plant and equipment investments in Hitachi's major markets, particularly Japan, Asia, the United States and Europe, as well as levels of demand in the major industrial sectors which Hitachi serves, including, without limitation, the information, electronics, automotive, construction and financial sectors; exchange rate fluctuations for the yen and other currencies in which Hitachi makes significant sales or in which Hitachi's assets and liabilities are denominated, particularly against the U.S. dollar and the euro; uncertainty as to Hitachi's ability to access, or access on favorable terms, liquidity or long-term financing; uncertainty as to general market price levels for equity securities in Japan, declines in which may require Hitachi to write down equity securities that it holds; the potential for significant losses on Hitachi's investments in equity method affiliates; increased commoditization of information technology products and digital media-related products and intensifying price competition for such products, particularly in the Components & Devices and the Digital Media & Consumer Products segments; uncertainty as to Hitachi's ability to continue to develop and market products that incorporate new technology on a timely and cost-effective basis and to achieve market acceptance for such products;

rapid technological innovation;

the possibility of cost fluctuations during the lifetime of or cancellation of long-term contracts, for which Hitachi uses the percentage-of-completion method to recognize revenue from sales;

Edgar Filing: HITACHI LTD - Form 6-K fluctuations in the price of raw materials including, without limitation, petroleum and other materials, such as copper, steel, aluminum and synthetic resins and shortages of materials, parts and components; fluctuations in product demand and industry capacity; uncertainty as to Hitachi's ability to implement measures to reduce the potential negative impact of fluctuations in product demand, exchange rates and/or price of raw materials and shortages of materials, parts and components; uncertainty as to Hitachi's ability to achieve the anticipated benefits of its strategy to strengthen its Social Innovation Business; uncertainty as to the success of restructuring efforts to improve management efficiency by divesting or otherwise exiting underperforming businesses and to strengthen competitiveness and other cost reduction measures;

general socio-economic and political conditions and the regulatory and trade environment of countries where Hitachi conducts business, particularly Japan, Asia, the United States and Europe, including, without limitation, direct or indirect restrictions by other nations on imports, or differences in commercial and business customs including, without limitation, contract terms and conditions and labor relations; uncertainty as to the success of alliances upon which Hitachi depends, some of which Hitachi may not control, with other corporations in the design and development of certain key products; uncertainty as to Hitachi's access to, or ability to protect, certain intellectual property rights, particularly those related to electronics and data processing technologies; uncertainty as to the outcome of litigation, regulatory investigations and other legal proceedings of which the Company, its subsidiaries or its equity method affiliates have become or may become parties;

the possibility of incurring expenses resulting from any defects in products or services of Hitachi;

the possibility of disruption of Hitachi's operations in Japan by earthquakes or other natural disasters; uncertainty as to Hitachi's ability to maintain the integrity of its information systems, as well as Hitachi's ability to protect its confidential information and that of its customers;

uncertainty as to the accuracy of key assumptions Hitachi uses to value its significant employee benefit related costs; and uncertainty as to Hitachi's ability to attract and retain skilled personnel.

The factors listed above are not all-inclusive and are in addition to other factors contained in Hitachi's periodic filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and in other materials published by Hitachi.
