Streamline Health Solutions, Inc.

Company Summary

Founded in 1989, we are a supplier of healthcare information technologies and services to healthcare organizations. We are focused on developing and licensing proprietary software solutions that increase efficiency, and reduce the cost of care by integrating multiple disparate systems, and improving the flow of information essential to the complete Electronic Health Record (EHR) used throughout the healthcare enterprise. We provide integrated tools and technologies including document workflow, document management, e-forms, connectivity, optical character recognition and business process integration. Our systems provide healthcare organizations with secure, convenient electronic access to many forms of patient information from many locations, and enhance larger existing transaction-centric hospital healthcare information systems. We sell our products and services in North America to remarketers, hospitals, clinical and ambulatory services through our direct sales force, and our reseller partnerships.

We integrate our customers' historical information systems with our document management and workflow applications to increase efficiency, decrease cost, and ultimately improve the timeliness and quality of information used in patient care. Our document management solutions provide access to a complete patient medical record, including the structured data, such as laboratory results; and related unstructured data, such as a doctor's handwritten notes, consent forms and outside correspondence. To complement and enhance our document management solutions, our workflow-based services offer solutions to inefficient and labor-intensive healthcare business processes throughout the revenue cycle, such as chart coding, abstracting and completion, remote physician referral, order processing, pre-admission registration scanning and signature capture, financial screening, preoperative processing, Medicare/Medicaid audit, private-payer audit, mitigation processing, secondary billing services, explanation of benefits processing, release of information processing, human resource administration and supply chain management.

Our software solutions are delivered to our customers either by purchased perpetual license which is installed locally in a customer's data center, or by subscription and accessed by our customers on our company-hosted software systems through a secured connection, which is a delivery method commonly referred to as software-as-a-service (SaaS) or cloud computing.

We operate primarily in one segment as a provider of health information technology solutions that improve healthcare processes and information flows within a healthcare facility.

Products

Our systems enable medical and administrative personnel to more efficiently capture, store, manage, route, retrieve and process vast amounts of clinical, financial, patient and other information. These systems have been specifically designed to integrate with any clinical information system through various means, thus enabling customers to use our systems without the expense of replacing entire software systems to gain our software functionality. Our systems deliver enterprise-wide access to fully updated patient information, which historically has been maintained on a variety of media, including paper, magnetic disk, optical disk, and microfilm.

Our core technology, accessANYware, is a document management repository that provides access to a patient’s document-based medical and financial records. The accessANYware software works complementary to, and can be seamlessly integrated with existing transaction-centric clinical, financial and management information systems. AccessANYware allows authorized users to perform document searching, retrieval, viewing, processing, printing and faxing, and report generation from a single login. AccessANYware also provides access to images such as digitized slides, videos and photographs. In addition, AccessANYware provides the ability to store and retrieve document images of voluminous paper records on a timely basis from the customer’s desktop.

FolderView complements our accessANYware software by providing capture/indexing of non-patient centric documents, storage in a historical repository, document search/viewing, reporting, auditing and optional modules for patient financial services or administrative services applications.

Our departmental workflow-based solutions and services offer solutions to specific healthcare business processes within health information management and the revenue cycle. These solutions offer value to all of the constituents in the healthcare delivery process by enabling them to simultaneously access and utilize our advanced workflow applications to process information on a real-time basis from virtually any location using web-based technology.

We provide a full complement of professional services to implement and enhance our software applications. These services include implementation and training, project management, business process optimization, and custom software development.

Risks Related to This Offering

The Market Price for Our Common Stock Varies, and You Should Purchase Common Stock for Long-Term Investment Only.

Although shares of our common stock are currently traded on the NASDAQ Capital Market, we cannot assure you that there will, at any time in the future, be an active trading market for shares of our common stock. Even if there is an active trading market for shares of our common stock, we cannot assure you that you will be able to sell all of your shares of common stock at one time or at a favorable price, if at all. As a result, you should purchase shares of common stock described herein only if you are capable of, and seeking to, make a long-term investment in our common stock.

Our Shares of Common Stock are Equity and are Subordinate to Our Existing and Future Indebtedness and Our Preferred Stock, and are Effectively Subordinated to all the Indebtedness and Other Non-Common Equity Claims Against our Subsidiaries.

Our shares of common stock are equity interests in us and do not constitute indebtedness. Accordingly, our common stock will rank junior to all of our indebtedness and to other non-equity claims on us with respect to assets available to satisfy claims on us. Additionally, although we currently have no shares of our preferred stock outstanding, holders of our common stock are subject to the prior dividend and liquidation rights of holders of our outstanding preferred stock if we should issue any shares of our preferred stock in the future.

In addition, our right to participate in any distribution of assets of any of our subsidiaries upon the subsidiary's liquidation or otherwise, and thus your ability as a holder of our common stock to benefit indirectly from such distribution, will be subject to the prior claims of creditors of that subsidiary and holders of any of that subsidiary's preferred stock, except to the extent that any of our claims as a creditor of such subsidiary may be recognized. As a result, our common stock will effectively be subordinated to all existing and future liabilities and obligations of our subsidiaries.

We Do Not Pay Dividends on Our Common Stock.

Holders of our common stock are only entitled to receive such dividends as our board of directors may declare out of funds legally available for such payments. We are not required to declare dividends on our common stock and we have not declared any cash dividends on our common stock since our inception. Our current credit facility prohibits us from paying cash dividends on our common stock and we do not intend to pay any cash dividends in the foreseeable future. This could adversely affect the market price of our common stock.

Our Certificate of Incorporation, Our Bylaws, and Delaware General Corporate Law May have an Anti-Takeover Effect.

Provisions of our certificate of incorporation, our bylaws, and Delaware law could make it more difficult for a third party to acquire us, even if doing so would be perceived to be beneficial to our shareholders. The combination of these provisions may discourage others from initiating a potential merger, takeover or other change of control transaction, which, in turn, could adversely affect the market price of our common stock. For more information regarding these anti-takeover provisions, please see "Description of Capital Stock" in the accompanying prospectus.

Table of ContentsThere May Be Substantial Sales of Our Common Stock After This Offering, Which Could Cause a Decline in Our Stock Price.

Sales of substantial amounts of our common stock in the public market following this offering, or the perception that such sales could occur, could have a material adverse effect on the market price of our common stock.

Our Outstanding Options and Convertible Securities may be Exercised in the Future, Which Would Increase the Number of Shares Eligible for Future Resale in the Public Market and Result in Dilution to our Stockholders.

As of December 23, 2011 we had outstanding options to purchase 1,885,551 shares of our common stock and a promissory note convertible into 1,500,000 shares of our common stock. To the extent such options and convertible securities are exercised, additional shares of our common stock will be issued, which will result in dilution to our stockholders and increase the number of shares of our common stock eligible for resale in the public market. Sales of substantial numbers of such shares in the public market could adversely affect the market price of such shares.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We estimate that the net proceeds from this offering, after estimated expenses, will be approximately $393,994. This assumes the deduction of an aggregate of $10,000 in estimated offering expenses payable by us for this offering.

We intend to use the net proceeds from the sale of shares of our common stock in this offering to fund working capital and for other general corporate purposes.

Our management will retain broad discretion in the allocation of the net proceeds of this offering. We may temporarily invest funds that we do not immediately need for these purposes in short-term marketable securities. The precise amounts and timing of our use of the net proceeds will depend upon market conditions and the availability of other funds, among other factors.

DILUTION

If you invest in shares of our common stock, your ownership interest will be diluted to the extent of the difference between the offering price per share and the net tangible book value per share of our common stock after this offering. Our net tangible book value as of October 31, 2011 was approximately $7.2 million, or approximately $.72 per share of common stock. Net tangible book value per share represents total tangible assets less total liabilities, divided by the number of shares of common stock outstanding. Dilution in net tangible book value per share represents the difference between the amount per share paid by purchasers of shares of our common stock in this offering and the net tangible book value per share of common stock immediately after the closing of this offering.

After giving effect to the sale of the shares of common stock at an offering price of $1.65 per share in this offering, and after deducting the estimated offering expenses payable by us, our pro forma net tangible book value as of October 31, 2011 would have been approximately $7.6 million, or $.74 per share of common stock. This represents an immediate increase in net tangible book value of $.02 per share to existing stockholders and an immediate dilution of $.91 per share to new investors purchasing shares of our common stock in this offering at the offering price.

The following table illustrates this dilution on a per share basis:

Public offering price per share in this offering	$ 1.65
Net tangible book value per share as of October 31, 2011	$ .72
Increase in net tangible book value attributable to this offering	$ .02
Pro forma net tangible book value per share as of October 31, 2011 after giving effect to this offering	$ .74
Dilution per share to new investors in this offering	$ .91

Table of Contents

The calculations above are based on 10,053,980 shares of common stock outstanding as of October 31, 2011 and 10,298,825 shares of common stock outstanding as of October 31, 2011 after giving effect to the sale of the shares of our common stock in this offering. This number excludes (i) 1,885,551 shares of common stock subject to warrants, options and restricted stock units outstanding as of October 31, 2011 and (ii) 1,502,865 shares of common stock subject to the convertible note issued on December 7, 2011 and subject to options and restricted stock units issued after October 31, 2011.

DESCRIPTION OF OUR COMMON STOCK

Upon consummation of this offering, 10,301,690 shares of common stock will be outstanding. For a description of our common stock, please see Description of Capital Stock in the accompanying prospectus.

RISK FACTORS

You should carefully consider the following information about risks and uncertainties that may affect us or our business, together with the other information appearing elsewhere in this prospectus. If any of the following events, described as risks, actually occur, our business, financial condition, results of operations and future growth prospects would likely be materially and adversely affected. In these circumstances, the market price of our common stock could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment in our securities. An investment in our securities is speculative and involves a high degree of risk. You should not invest in our securities if you cannot bear the economic risk of your investment for an indefinite period of time and cannot afford to lose your entire investment.

The risks listed below are not listed in any particular order or relative importance and no inferences should be given to the listing order. In addition, risks and uncertainties not currently known to the Company or that the Company currently deems to be immaterial also may materially adversely affect the Company, its financial condition and/or operating results.

Risks Relating to the Securities the Company May Offer

The market price of the Company's common stock is likely to be highly volatile as the stock market in general can be highly volatile.

The public trading of the Company's common stock is based on many factors, which could cause fluctuation in the price of the Company's common stock. These factors may include, but are not limited to:

General economic and market conditions;

Actual or anticipated variations in quarterly operating results;

Lack of research coverage by securities analysts;

Conditions or trends in the healthcare information technology industry;

Changes in the market valuations of other companies in the Company's industry;

Announcements by the Company or its competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic partnerships, divestitures, joint ventures or other strategic initiatives;

Capital commitments;

Ability to maintain listing of the Company's common stock on the NASDAQ Capital Market;

Additional or departures of key personnel; and

Sales and repurchases of the Company's common stock.

Table of Contents

Many of these factors are beyond the Company's control. These factors may cause the market price of the Company's common stock to decline, regardless of the Company's operating performance.

If equity research analysts do not publish research reports about the Company's business or if they issue unfavorable commentary or downgrade the Company's common stock, the price of the Company's common stock could decline.

The trading market for the Company's common stock may rely in part on the research and reports that equity research analysts publish about the Company and its business. The Company does not control the opinions of these analysts. The price of the Company's stock could decline if one or more equity analysts downgrade the Company's stock or if those analysts issue other unfavorable commentary or cease publishing reports about the Company or its business. Furthermore, if no equity research analysts conduct research or publish reports about the Company and its business, the price of the Company's stock could decline.

All of the Company's debt obligations and any preferred stock that it may issue, if any, will have priority over the Company's common shares with respect to payment in the event of a liquidation, dissolution or winding up.

In any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of Streamline Health, the Company's shares of common stock would rank below all debt claims against the Company and all of its outstanding shares of preferred stock, if any. As a result, holders of the Company's shares of common stock will not be entitled to receive any payment or other distribution of assets upon the liquidation or dissolution until after the Company's obligations to its debt holders and holders of preferred stock have been satisfied.

There may be future sales or other dilution of the Company's equity, which may adversely affect the market price of the Company's shares of common stock.

The Company is generally not restricted from issuing additional common stock or preferred stock, including any securities that are convertible into or exchangeable for, or that represent a right to receive, common stock or preferred stock or any substantially similar securities. The market price of the Company's common stock or preferred stock, if any, could decline as a result of sales of common stock or preferred stock or similar securities in the market made after an offering or the perception that such sales could occur.

The issuance of any series of preferred stock could adversely affect holders of shares of the Company's common stock, which may negatively impact your investment.

The Company's Board of Directors is authorized to issue classes or series of preferred stock without any action on the part of the stockholders. The Board of Directors also has the power, without stockholder approval, to set the terms of any such classes or series of preferred stock that may be issued, including dividend rights and preferences over the shares of common stock with respect to dividends or upon the dissolution, winding-up and liquidation of the Company and other terms. If the Company issues preferred stock in the future that has a preference over the shares of the Company's common stock with respect to the payment of dividends or upon the dissolution, winding-up and liquidation of the Company, or if the Company issues preferred stock with voting rights that dilute the voting power of the shares of the Company's common stock, the rights of the holders of shares of the Company's common stock or the market price of shares of the Company's common stock could be adversely affected.

Table of Contents

The Company does not currently intend to pay dividends on its common stock and, consequently, your ability to achieve a return on your investment will depend on appreciation in the price of the Company's common stock.

The Company has never declared or paid any cash dividends on its common stock and does not currently intend to do so for the foreseeable future. The Company currently intends to invest its future earnings, if any, to fund the Company's growth. Therefore, you are not likely to receive any dividends on your common stock for the foreseeable future and the success of an investment in shares of the Company's common stock will depend upon any future appreciation in its value. There is no guarantee that shares of the Company's common stock will appreciate in value or even maintain the price at which the Company's stockholders have purchased their shares.

Resales of shares of the Company's common stock in the public market may cause their market price to fall.

The issuance by the Company of shares of its common stock in an offering from time to time could have the effect of depressing the market price for shares of the Company's common stock. In addition, because the Company's common stock is thinly traded, resales of shares of the Company's common stock by its largest stockholders could have the effect of depressing market prices for shares of the Company's common stock.

Risks Relating to the Company's Business

The variability of the Company's quarterly operating results can be significant.

The Company's operating results have fluctuated from quarter to quarter in the past, and the Company may experience continued fluctuations in the future. Future revenues and operating results may vary significantly from quarter-to-quarter as a result of a number of factors, many of which are outside the control of the Company. These factors include: the relatively large size of customer agreements; unpredictability in the number and timing of system sales and sales of applications hosting services; length of the sales cycle; delays in installations; changes in customers' financial condition or budgets; increased competition; the development and introduction of new products and services; the loss of significant customers or remarketing partners; changes in government regulations, particularly as to the healthcare industry; the size and growth of the overall healthcare information technology markets; any liability and other claims that may be asserted against the Company; the Company's ability to attract and retain qualified personnel; national and local general economic and market conditions; and other factors referenced or incorporated by reference in any other filings by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Company's sales have been concentrated in a small number of customers.

The Company's revenues have been concentrated in a relatively small number of large customers, and the Company has historically derived a substantial percentage of its total revenues from a few customers. There can be no assurance that a customer will not cancel all or any portion of a master agreement or delay installations. A termination or installation delay of one or more phases of an agreement, or the failure of the Company to procure additional agreements, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, and results of operations.

In addition to direct sales, the Company relies on third party remarketing alliances for a substantial portion of its revenues.

The Company seeks to expand its distribution channels by creating remarketing alliances with third parties who are engaged in the sale of healthcare information systems, medical records management and outsourcing, and other healthcare information technology and patient care solutions. GE Healthcare and Telus Health, the Company's major remarketing partners, could choose to discontinue reselling the Company's products, and significant customers could elect to discontinue using the Company's products. The Company needs to ensure that it expands its distribution channels to reduce the reliance on a single major reseller.

The Company could be less profitable than expected.

Because of the relatively fixed operating expenses and overhead, the future profitability of the Company is dependent on increasing revenues which may not materialize as anticipated. Because of the Company's anticipated shift in strategic focus towards remote application hosting services, upon obtaining new application hosting customers, the Company will have to expend a significant amount of costs and time before those new customers are able to begin using such services and the Company cannot begin to recognize revenues from those clients until the commencement of such services. Accordingly, the Company anticipates that its near term cash flow, revenue and profitability may be adversely affected by this shift in strategic focus until new hosting customers go into production. While the Company anticipates long term growth through increases in recurring subscription fees and significantly improved profit visibility, the Company's failure to successfully implement its focus on building its application hosting services business, or the failure of such initiative to result in improved profitability, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's liquidity, financial position and results of operations.

The Company needs to manage its costs while planning for growth.

The Company is currently experiencing a period of growth primarily through its remote application hosting line of business and this could continue to place a significant strain on the Company's cash flow. This could also strain the services and support operations, sales and administrative personnel and other resources as they are requested to handle the added work load with existing support resources. The Company believes that it must continue to focus on these remote hosting services, develop new products, enhance existing solutions and serve the needs of its existing and anticipated customer base. The Company's ability to successfully maintain and expand its operations will depend, in large part, upon its ability to attract and retain highly qualified employees. The Company's ability to manage its planned growth effectively also will require the Company to continue to improve its operational, management, and financial systems and controls, to train, motivate, and manage its employees and to judiciously manage its operating expenses in anticipation of increased future revenues.

The potential impact on the Company of new or changes in existing federal, state, and local regulations governing healthcare information could be substantial.

Healthcare regulations issued to date have not had a material adverse affect on the Company's business. However, the Company cannot predict the potential impact of new or revised regulations that have not yet been released or made final, or any other regulations that might be adopted. Congress may adopt legislation that may change, override, conflict with, or preempt the currently existing regulations and which could restrict the ability of customers to obtain, use, or disseminate patient health information. The Company believes that the features and architecture of its existing solutions are such that it currently supports or should be able to make the necessary modifications to its products, if required, to ensure support of HIPAA regulations, and other legislation or regulations, but there can be no assurances.

While provisions in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act may increase the demand for healthcare information technology, including the solutions offered by the Company, such laws and regulations may have adverse consequences on the Company.

Legislation governing the dissemination of patient health information is also from time-to-time proposed and debated at the federal and state level including, but not limited to, the healthcare initiatives set forth in The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (the Stimulus Bill) signed into law by President Obama on February 17, 2009. Notwithstanding that the Stimulus Bill places substantial emphasis on the modernization of the U.S. healthcare system by using healthcare information technology, with a primary focus on electronic medical records, the Company's ability to benefit from such initiatives is uncertain at this time. The implementation of the provisions in the Stimulus Bill may create new requirements for healthcare information technology that would require the Company to incur additional research and development expenditures to modify or expand its solutions in order to be fully compliant. In addition, until it becomes more clear how the government will apply its anticipated substantial funding of these healthcare initiatives, hospitals and other healthcare providers may delay purchases of new solutions until additional details become known. In such event, the Company may experience delays in entering into new agreements with existing customers and potential new customers. The substantial sums of money contemplated by the Stimulus Bill to be spent on healthcare information technology further may increase competition by attracting new and financially stronger entities to this industry.

While provisions in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act may increase the demand for healthcare information technology, including the solutions offered by the Company, such laws and regulations may have adverse consequences on the Company.

Legislation governing the dissemination of patient health information is also from time-to-time proposed and debated at the federal and state level including, but not limited to, the healthcare initiatives set forth in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (the Health Care Bill ) signed into law by President Obama on March 23, 2010. Notwithstanding that the Health Care Bill places substantial emphasis on the expansion of health care coverage to 31 million currently uninsured Americans, and introduces a significant amount of new rules and regulations affecting the complete continuum of care, the Company's ability to benefit from such initiatives is uncertain at this time. The implementation of the provisions in the Health Care Bill may create new requirements for healthcare information technology that would require the Company to incur additional research and development expenditures to modify or expand its solutions in order to be fully compliant with any new regulations, or compete with other vendors. In addition, until it becomes clearer how the new rules and regulations will affect the administration, insurance and technology aspects of the delivery system, care providers may delay purchases of new solutions until additional details become known. In such event, the Company may experience delays in entering into new agreements with existing customers and potential new customers.

The Company faces significant competition, including from companies with significantly greater resources.

The Company currently competes with many other companies for the licensing of similar software solutions and related services. Several companies historically have dominated the clinical information systems software market and several of these companies have either acquired, developed or are developing their own document management and workflow technologies. The industry is undergoing consolidation and realignment as companies position themselves to compete more effectively. Many of these companies are larger than Streamline Health and have significantly more resources to invest in their business. In addition, information and document management companies serving other industries may enter the market. Suppliers and companies with whom Streamline Health may establish strategic alliances may also compete with Streamline Health. Such companies and vendors may either individually, or by forming alliances excluding Streamline Health, place bids for large agreements in competition with Streamline Health. A decision on the part of any of these competitors to focus additional resources in the image-enabling, workflow, and other markets addressed by the Company could have a material adverse effect on the Company.

Table of Contents

The healthcare industry is evolving rapidly, which may make it more difficult for the Company to be competitive in the future.

The U.S. healthcare system is under intense pressure to improve in many areas, including modernization, universal access and controlling skyrocketing costs of care. The Company believes that the principal competitive factors in its market are customer recommendations and references, company reputation, system reliability, system features and functionality (including ease of use), technological advancements, customer service and support, breadth and quality of the systems, the potential for enhancements and future compatible products, the effectiveness of marketing and sales efforts, price and the size and perceived financial stability of the vendor. In addition, the Company believes that the speed with which companies in its market can anticipate the evolving healthcare industry structure and identify unmet needs are important competitive factors. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to keep pace with changing conditions and new developments such that it will be able to compete successfully in the future against existing or potential competitors.

Rapid technology changes and short product life cycles could harm the Company's business.

The market for Streamline Health's solutions and services is characterized by rapidly changing technologies, regulatory requirements, evolving industry standards and new product introductions and enhancements that may render existing solutions obsolete or less competitive. As a result, the Company's position in the healthcare information technology market could change rapidly due to unforeseen changes in the features and functions of competing products, as well as the pricing models for such products. The Company's future success will depend, in part, upon the Company's ability to enhance its existing solutions and services and to develop and introduce new solutions and services to meet changing requirements. The Company needs to maintain an ongoing research and development program to continue to develop new solutions and apply new technologies to its existing products, but may not have sufficient funds with which to undertake such required research and development. If the Company is not able to foresee changes and/or to react in a timely manner to such developments, the Company may experience a material, adverse impact on its business, operating results, and financial condition.

The Company's intellectual property rights are valuable, and any inability to protect them could reduce the value of the Company's solutions and services.

The Company trademarks and copyrights its intellectual property, which represents an important asset to the Company. The Company does not have any patent protection on any of its software. The Company relies upon license agreements, employment agreements, confidentiality, nondisclosure agreements, etc. to maintain the confidentiality of the Company's proprietary information and trade secrets. Notwithstanding these precautions, others may copy, reverse engineer or design independently, technology similar to the Company's products. If the Company fails to adequately protect the intellectual property through trademarks and copyrights, license agreements, employment agreements, confidentiality, nondisclosure agreements, etc., the intellectual property rights may be misappropriated by others, invalidated, or challenged, and our competitors could duplicate the Company's technology or may otherwise limit any competitive technology advantage the Company may have. It may be necessary to litigate to enforce or defend the Company's proprietary technology or to determine the validity of the intellectual property rights of others. Any litigation, could be successful or unsuccessful, may result in substantial cost and require significant attention by management and technical personnel.

Due to the rapid pace of technology change, the Company believes its future success is likely to depend upon continued innovation, technical expertise, marketing skills and customer support and services rather than on legal protection of our property rights. However, the Company has in the past, and intends in the future, to aggressively assert its intellectual property rights when necessary.
