To: Abbott employees planned to transfer to Mylan

Dear all,

As 2014 draws to a close, we look forward to entering the home stretch of our shared effort to plan for the successful combination of the Abbott EPD Developed Markets business with Mylan. We continue to expect the transaction to close in the first quarter of 2015.

Over the last several weeks, teams of Mylan's leaders met in person with some of their future colleagues from the Abbott EPD Developed Markets business starting in Basel for integration planning workshops and then moving on to country visits to meet with the local Abbott teams in Canada, the U.K., France, Germany, Italy, Poland, Spain, Belgium, Czech Republic, Australia and Japan. We look forward to meeting with the leadership of remaining countries.

The objectives of these meetings were to enhance our understanding of the Abbott EPD Developed Markets business in each of these markets and to discuss their unique dynamics and begin identifying ways we might leverage our respective strengths to bring additional value to all of them. The visits also allowed participants to learn how each organization conducts activities such as marketing and sales, portfolio management, supply chain, sales and operations planning, medical affairs, pharmacovigilance, manufacturing and finance. In addition, the meetings gave us an opportunity to hear firsthand about how your local teams access and leverage the services and support provided by Basel and compare those practices with Mylan's.

The resulting insights proved energizing as everyone seemed to appreciate more deeply than ever the tremendous opportunity that the combination of our businesses will create. Further, the visits truly underscored the complementary nature of our respective cultures as leaders on both sides demonstrated a sincere willingness to learn from one another and voiced their enthusiastic commitment to unlocking the full value of the combined business.

These very positive interactions give us more confidence than ever that, by working together, we will be able to seamlessly integrate our organizations and ensure business continuity, create greater commercial stability in each market, and become even more meaningful to those we serve.

We have said many times that people are truly Mylan's most important asset, and we greatly look forward to the knowledge, experience and passion that our teams will bring to each other. We are doing all we can to make sure that when you join our family after the global close of the transaction you feel warmly welcomed and motivated to tap into the many opportunities you'll have here to grow personally and professionally.

We would like to thank all of you for your continued support of these all-important pre-integration activities.

Finally, we also would like to wish you, on behalf of the entire Mylan family, happy holidays and all the best for a healthy and prosperous new year.

Sincerely,

Heather Bresch
