Market Environment Overview

(unaudited)

The U.S. equity market, as measured by the S&P 500[®] Index, returned 14.37% for the 12-month fiscal period that ended June 30, 2018 (the period). The main drivers of positive returns included positive market sentiment following strong corporate earnings, tailwinds due to tax cuts and deregulation, gradual monetary policy normalization, as well as positive consumer and business survey data. However, this period saw its first 10% market correction in nearly three years as volatility returned to U.S. equities after a multi-year stretch of low-to-decreasing volatility. February 2018 is when the first bout of significant market volatility occurred, as the CBOE Volatility Index reached an intraday-high of 50.30, a level not seen since 2015. However, in the months to follow, the markets would see both sharp rebounds and pullbacks before ultimately settling back to a path of normalcy. From the end of March 2018 through the end of the fiscal period, volatility decreased to more subdued levels.

The run-up during the second half of 2017 was characterized by its absence of significant market volatility in favor of generally steady gains, powered primarily by positive economic sentiment as shown by consumer and business survey data as well as corporate profit growth. However, much of the attention that was put on the pro-growth fiscal stimulus softened substantially over the first six-months of 2018, as the market grappled with geopolitical risk. Overall, large-cap companies lagged when compared to their mid-cap and small-cap counterparts. There continues to be risks that weigh heavily on the markets, particularly when it comes to potential trade-wars that could break out between the U.S. and its major trading partner countries.

Additionally, the U.S. Federal Reserve (the Fed) has raised their target interest rate three times in this fiscal period, once in 2017 and twice so far in 2018. Additionally, the Fed called for two additional rate hikes for the remainder of 2018, a slightly more hawkish approach than their previously documented stance calling for only one more additional hike. The 10-year U.S. Treasury yield has increased from 2.30% at the beginning of the period, to 2.86% at the end of the period; reaching a high of 3.11% in mid-May of 2018. In fixed income, the yield curve has continued to flatten as short-term rates have increased more than long-term rates. The spread between 2-year and 10-year U.S. Treasury yields has decreased from 0.918% to 0.328% at the end of the period.

U.S. short-term and long-term interest rates, as measured by the Fed funds rate, the 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note rate and the 10-Year U.S. Treasury Note rate, rose 0.75%, 1.14%, and 0.56% respectively over the period. Short-term rates were driven by the Fed raising rates three times in 0.25% increments as they viewed measures of financial conditions posing the economy's ability to withstand monetary tightening. Longer-term interest rates rose nearly at half the rate of the shorter end rates, signaling a flattening yield curve. With geopolitical concerns and continued rate normalization policies, interest rate volatility picked up in the first six months of 2018. This volatility was somewhat exacerbated by hawkish sentiment when the Fed signaled for an additional rate hike for the remainder of 2018; equaling four hikes total by the end of the 2018 calendar year.

During the last six months of 2017, investment grade and high yield spreads, as measured by the ICE BofA Merrill Lynch U.S. Corporate Master Option-Adjusted Spread and the ICE BofA Merrill Lynch U.S. High Yield Option-Adjusted Spread, both tightened 0.16% and 0.14%, respectively, to finish near multi-year lows. However, spreads in both have expanded through the first six-months of 2018, with high-yields spreads experiencing newfound volatility alongside equity markets.

Developed international equity markets, as measured by the MSCI EAFE Index, returned 6.12% in local currency terms and 6.84% in U.S. dollar terms for the period. Like the U.S. equity markets, developed international equity markets began the period with a bullish run through the end of January 2018. However, when the U.S. markets saw sharp declines in February 2018, developed international equity markets followed suit. However, developed international equity markets have not rebounded in the same fashion as the U.S. markets. Much of this is due to the combination of a recently strengthening U.S. dollar, weakening European economic data, European geopolitical risk, and fears over potential U.S./EU trade tensions. Still, the strong performance of developed international equity markets in the second half of 2017 has helped buffer volatility in 2018, helping to explain the positive performance for the fiscal period. Looking at MSCI's country-level developed European stock indexes over the course of the fiscal year, the top three performers were Norway (23.68%), United Kingdom (8.24%), and Finland (7.81%); the bottom three performers were Spain (-5.78%), Denmark (-1.26%), and Belgium (-0.69%).

In late October of 2017, Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe won a snap election that extended his term an additional four years, allowing for him to continue to implement his economic policies. The Bank of Japan (BoJ) has continued its monetary policy of keeping short-term interest rates below 0%. The BoJ's commitment to targeting a zero-yield on the 10-year Japanese Government Bond was a significant tailwind for the Tokyo Stock Price Index which returned 9.31%, in local currency terms, over the fiscal year. Positive corporate profit growth and economic growth in the first quarter of 2017 continued in Japan through the remainder of 2017, where it saw continued gains in Japanese equities. However, starting in early 2018, weaker economic data emerged from Japan, which, coupled with volatile U.S. equity markets, resulted in equally volatile returns and softened optimism for Japanese equities. Many look to see how de-escalation of the Korean peninsula and how potential trade wars between the U.S. and neighboring Asian countries may potentially affect Japan's outlook.

Emerging market (EM) equities, as measured by the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, returned 10.50% in local currency terms and 8.20% in U.S. dollar terms over the period. For much of the period, broad weakness in the U.S. dollar helped boost foreign EM currencies. However, a handful of countries (South Africa, Argentina, Brazil, and Turkey) experienced negative performance due to political and/or economic shocks. EM equities performed well from the beginning of the fiscal period to their peak in January 2018, alongside their U.S. equity counterparts. However, as volatility and uncertainty sprouted from the U.S. market, riskier assets like those in EMs were sold off. After the initial sell-off in February 2018, broad EM stock values remained relatively flat through May 2018. In June 2018, both U.S. dollar appreciation and global trade fears have negatively impacted EM assets. Fundamentally speaking, the EM remains attractive from a valuation perspective, with an average price-to-earnings ratio ranging from 11-14 over the course of the period. Many EM countries have economies heavily reliant on the performance of the energy market, making the stabilization of oil prices a major tailwind. One of the biggest drivers for the positive performance has been the price movement in oil, as the price of crude oil futures have risen from $46 per barrel at the start of the fiscal period to $74 per barrel at the end of the fiscal period. Additionally, in the EM, there continues to be easing from many EM central banks, a growing consumer class, robust earnings growth, and improving economic data.

Information about Performance and Shareholder Expense Examples (unaudited)

Performance

The performance tables on the following pages are provided for comparative purposes and represent the period noted. Each Fund's per share NAV is the value of one share of the Fund and is calculated by dividing the value of total assets less total liabilities by the number of shares outstanding. The NAV return is based on the NAV of the Fund and the market price return is based on the market price per share of the Fund. The price used to calculate market price returns is the midpoint of the bid and ask price for Fund shares as of the close of trading on the exchange where Fund shares are listed. NAV and market price returns assume that dividends and capital gain distributions have been reinvested in the Fund at NAV and market price, respectively. As with other ETFs, NAV returns and market price returns may differ because of factors such as the supply and demand for Fund shares and investors' assessments of the underlying value of a Fund's portfolio securities.

Fund shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from a Fund. Fund NAV returns are calculated using a Fund's daily 4:00 p.m. eastern time NAV. Market price returns reflect the midpoint of the bid and ask price as of the close of trading on the exchange where Fund shares are listed. Market price returns do not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times. The returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or on the redemption of Fund shares. Total returns for a period of less than one year are cumulative.

Performance is historical and does not guarantee future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than quoted. Investment returns and the principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost.

An index is a statistical measure of a specified financial market or sector. An index does not actually hold a portfolio of securities, incur expenses or pay any transaction costs. Therefore, index returns do not reflect deductions for fees or expenses and an index is not available for direct investment. In comparison, the Funds' performance is negatively impacted by these deductions. Fund returns do not reflect brokerage commissions or taxes on transactions in Fund shares or taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. For the most recent month-end performance information visit www.wisdomtree.com.

Shareholder Expense Examples

Each Fund's performance table is accompanied by a shareholder expense example. As a shareholder of a WisdomTree Fund, you incur two types of cost: (1) transaction costs, including brokerage commissions on purchases and sales of your Fund shares and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees and other Fund expenses. The examples are intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars and cents) of investing in a Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other funds.

The examples are based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period from January 1, 2018 to June 30, 2018. Except where noted, expenses are calculated using each Fund's annualized expense ratio, multiplied by the average account value for the period, multiplied by 181/365 (to reflect the one-half year period). The annualized expense ratio does not include acquired fund fees and expenses (AFFEs), which are fees and expenses incurred indirectly by a Fund through its investments in certain underlying investment companies.

Actual expenses

The first line in the shareholder expense example table shown on the following pages provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line for your Fund under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During the Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during the period.

Hypothetical example for comparison purposes

The second line in the shareholder expense example table shown on the following pages provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in your Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Edgar Filing: WisdomTree Trust - Form N-CSR

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as brokerage commissions paid on purchases and sales of Fund shares. Therefore, the second line in the table is useful in comparing ongoing Fund costs only and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

The WisdomTree Dynamic Currency Hedged Europe Equity Fund (the "Fund") seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Dynamic Currency Hedged Europe Equity Index (the "Index"). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in European dividend-paying companies while at the same time dynamically hedging exposure to fluctuations of the value of the euro relative to the U.S. dollar. The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned 5.41% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The Fund's position in France contributed positively to performance while its position in Spain contributed negatively to performance. The Fund uses a rules-based process, combining momentum, value, and interest rate factors, to help determine a currency hedge ratio on the underlying euro exposure. Over the course of the fiscal year, in a period that saw a lot of currency volatility, the various hedge ratios collectively provided outperformance to an unhedged benchmark of European stocks. During the fiscal year, the Fund's use of forward foreign currency contracts contributed positively to the Fund performance as a result of the Fund's dynamic use of currency hedging during periods in which the U.S. dollar strengthened (more currency hedged) or weakened (less currency hedged) against the euro.

The WisdomTree Dynamic Currency Hedged International Equity Fund (the "Fund") seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Dynamic Currency Hedged International Equity Index (the "Index"). The WisdomTree Dynamic Currency Hedged International Quality Dividend Growth Fund (the "Fund") seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Dynamic Currency Hedged International Quality Dividend Growth Index (the "Index"). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in companies from developed market countries, excluding the U.S. and Canada, with growth and quality characteristics while at the same time dynamically hedging exposure to fluctuations between the value of foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar. The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index (including indirect investments through the WisdomTree International Quality Dividend Growth Fund (IQDG) (the "Underlying Fund")) whose risk, return and other characteristics resemble the risk, return, and other characteristics of the Index as a whole.

The Fund returned 7.44% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The Fund's exposure to the Netherlands from its investment in the Underlying Fund contributed positively to performance while its exposure to Israel from its investment in the Underlying Fund contributed negatively to performance. The Fund's underperformance versus the Index for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 was primarily due to the fund-of-fund structure where the Underlying Fund held is valued at its market price rather than its NAV. The Fund uses a rules-based process, combining momentum, value, and interest rate factors, to help determine a currency hedge ratio on the foreign currency exposure. Over the course of the fiscal year, in a period that saw heavy currency volatility, the Fund's various hedge ratios combined with an inherent quality tilt toward dividend growing stocks, collectively provided outperformance to an unhedged benchmark of Europe, Australasia and Far East (EAFE) stocks. This outperformance was seen throughout the fiscal year, including the risk-off environments seen during the various market corrections in broad developed markets in 2018. During the fiscal year, the Fund's use of forward foreign currency contracts contributed positively to performance as a result of the Fund's use of dynamic currency hedging during periods in which the U.S. dollar strengthened (more currency hedged) or weakened (less currency hedged) against applicable international currencies.

The WisdomTree Dynamic Currency Hedged International SmallCap Equity Fund (the "Fund") seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Dynamic Currency Hedged International SmallCap Equity Index (the "Index"). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in the small-capitalization segment of dividend-paying companies in the industrialized world outside of the U.S. and Canada while at the same time dynamically hedging exposure to fluctuations of the value of the applicable foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar. The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned 6.73% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The Fund's position in Japan contributed positively to performance while its position in Israel contributed negatively to performance. The Fund uses a rules-based process, combining momentum, value, and interest rate factors, to help determine a currency hedge ratio on the foreign currency exposure. Over the course of the fiscal year from July 2017 through March 2018, the various hedge ratios collectively provided relatively in-line performance to an unhedged benchmark of Europe, Australasia and Far East (EAFE) small cap stocks. However, from March 2018 to the end of the fiscal year, the hedge ratios collective provided underperformance, in a period where the U.S. dollar rallied broadly. During the fiscal year, the Fund's use of forward foreign currency contracts contributed positively to performance as a result of the Fund's use of dynamic currency hedging during periods in which the U.S. dollar strengthened (more currency hedged) or weakened (less currency hedged) against applicable international currencies.

The WisdomTree Emerging Markets Dividend Fund (the "Fund") seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Emerging Markets Dividend Index (the "Index"). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in dividend-paying companies in the emerging markets. The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned 7.05% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The Fund's position in China contributed positively to performance while its position in Indonesia contributed negatively to performance. Additionally, the Fund's positions in Energy, due to a sizeable oil rally, contributed the most to performance, while its positions in Telecommunication Services contributed the least. During the first six months of the fiscal year, emerging market (EM) companies saw significant positive gains along with many of the developed stock markets, which would later prove to serve as a performance cushion for the remaining months of the fiscal year. In February 2018, a U.S. market correction and resurgence in U.S. equity volatility brought down many EM equity markets, as riskier assets were being taken off the table by investors. In addition to the broad market sell-off, the U.S. dollar also appreciated towards the end of the fiscal year, having a negative impact on the performance of EM companies. Potentially the biggest factor to cause EM underperformance in 2018 can be attributed to the growing concerns over potential U.S. and foreign nation trade wars and how they may impact global trade; particularly as it relates to the U.S. and China trade tariffs, as China was the largest weight in the Fund.

The WisdomTree Europe Domestic Economy Fund (the "Fund") seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Europe Domestic Economy Index (the "Index"). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in European companies that are sensitive to economic growth prospects in the eurozone and that derive more than 50% of their revenue from Europe. The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned 5.90% at net asset value ("NAV") for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The Fund's position in Germany contributed most positively to performance, while its position in Netherlands contributed least positively to performance. Additionally, the Fund's positions in Information Technology sector contributed the most to performance, while its positions in Consumer Discretionary sector contributed the least. Like many of the developed markets, the latter half of 2017 saw significant positive returns. This proved to be a buffer to overall fiscal year returns, as in February 2018, a market correction and resurgence in U.S. equity volatility brought down many of its developed market and European counterparts. In 2018, there are a few explanations for the European equity market's negative performance: weaker economic data surprising on the downside, fears over the long-term stability of the European Union ("EU"), concerns over details of a potential BREXIT deal between the EU and the United Kingdom, and overarching concerns of potential tariffs and trade wars between the EU and the U.S. Additionally, while the euro has appreciated against the U.S. dollar by 2.26% over the entire fiscal year, it has depreciated 2.67% in 2018 alone.

In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in large-capitalization companies operating across diversified sectors in developed and emerging markets throughout the world, excluding Mexico. The Fund returned 11.74% at net asset value ("NAV") for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The Fund's position in the United States contributed positively to performance while its position in Israel contributed negatively to performance. Collectively, global equity markets saw strong performance for the first six months of the fiscal period. In early 2018, the U.S. equity market experienced its first correction in nearly three years and started a new period of market volatility. These events caused a ripple effect throughout most of the global equity markets. However, performance has rebounded from its March 2018 lows.

This strategy has benefited from having no exposure to Mexican stocks, as the Mexico equity market has underperformed significantly in the fiscal year in the wake of political uncertainty, trade fears, and a weakening Mexican peso.

The WisdomTree Global Hedged SmallCap Dividend Fund (the "Fund") seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Global Hedged SmallCap Dividend Index (the "Index"). Edgar Filing: WisdomTree Trust - Form N-CSR

The Fund returned 9.16% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The Fund's exposure to the United States from its investment in the Underlying Fund contributed most positively to performance, while its exposures to Italy and Brazil from its investment in the Underlying Fund contributed most negatively to performance. Additionally, the Fund's exposure to the Industrials sector from its investment in the Underlying Fund contributed the most to performance, while its exposure to the Telecommunications Services sector from its investment in the Underlying Fund contributed the least. From the beginning of the fiscal period through January 2018, small cap equities globally were continuing to show strong positive performance much like the rest of the market. However, in February 2018, a market correction and resurgence in U.S. equity volatility brought down many of the global equity markets, particularly in small caps. Despite this, the global small cap companies have rebounded to their pre-correction levels by the end of the fiscal period. The Fund's overall positive performance during the fiscal year, was in large part due to the U.S. being the largest weight in the Underlying Fund, as the U.S. itself has rebounded relatively stronger than many of its developed market counterparts. In the first half of the fiscal year, many foreign currencies appreciated relative to the U.S. dollar, but in the second half of the fiscal year, a near reversal of broad U.S. dollar strengthening occurred against most major currencies. Overall, it was more beneficial to be hedged than unhedged foreign currencies for the entire fiscal year. The Fund's use of forward foreign currency contracts contributed positively to performance as a result of the overall appreciation in the U.S. dollar against applicable international currencies during the fiscal year.

However, in February 2018, a market correction and resurgence in U.S. equity volatility brought down many of the global equity markets, particularly in small caps. Despite this, the global small cap companies have rebounded to their pre-correction levels by the end of the fiscal period. The Fund's overall positive performance during the fiscal year, was in large part due to the U.S. being the largest weight in the Fund, as the U.S. itself has rebounded relatively stronger than many of its developed market counterparts. In the first half of the fiscal year, many foreign currencies appreciated relative to the U.S. dollar, but in the second half of the fiscal year, a near reversal of broad U.S. dollar strengthening occurred against most major currencies.

The WisdomTree ICBCCS S&P China 500 Fund (the Fund) seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the S&P China 500 Index (the Index). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in a broad universe of Chinese equities (500 companies). The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned -6.35% at net asset value (NAV) from inception date on December 21, 2017 through June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The performance difference between the Fund and the Index, was mainly due to security selection and positive cash drag, leading to outperformance of 0.25%. The Fund saw positive total returns from inception to the end of January 2018. In February 2018, U.S. equity markets experienced a sizable correction, the first in nearly three years, beginning a new period of market volatility. These events caused a paralleled ripple effect throughout most global equity markets, particularly in China. What had continued to drag on Chinese equities during the fiscal period was the ever-growing fears of an all-out trade war between China and the U.S. As of the fiscal period-end, sizable tariffs have been announced by both countries, but a trade deal to be struck in the future remains a possibility, as is the goal of both countries. Aside from geopolitical risks, the fundamentals of China remain strong and point to continued growth in both economic data and corporate earnings.

The WisdomTree Fundamental U.S. Corporate Bond Fund (the Fund) seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Fundamental U.S. Corporate Bond Index (the Index). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in issuers in the U.S. investment grade corporate bond market that are deemed to exhibit favorable fundamentals and opportunities for income. The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned -1.11% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). Relative to the benchmark, security selection was the primary detractor driven primarily by Utilities (Pacific Gas & Electric Co.) and Communications (AT&T, Inc.). During the fiscal year, credit curves steepened and thus long-end positions generally underperformed. Conversely, the Fund benefited from a positive security selection in Financials and Consumer Staples sectors, which were primarily positioned in the intermediate part of the curve. During the first six months of the fiscal year, the Fund had consistent positive total returns. However, for the following six months, the Fund was negatively impacted by both continued rising interest rates, and from equity market volatility, as credit bonds were sold off during a risk-off environment. The Fund underperformance as compared to the Index can mainly be attributed to representative sampling.

The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned 1.49% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). Performance was negatively impacted by being underweight to the Energy sector, with a position in Chesapeake Energy Corp. also adding to the drag. In addition, a position in Windstream Services LLC caused underperformance in the Telecommunications Services sector. The best performing sectors were Materials, attributable to a position in Freeport-McMoRan, Inc., and Information Technology, which benefited from a holding in Western Digital Corp. The Fund benefited from the higher yield bonds it held, as this served to help both total return for the fiscal year, and to help offset losses from the bonds during the rise in U.S. interest rates. The Fund underperformance as compared to the Index can mainly be attributed to representative sampling.

The Fund returned 0.19% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). Relative to the benchmark, security selection within the Industrials and Consumer Discretionary sectors detracted slightly, while selection within the Financials sector contributed positively to results. Generally, the Fund's higher liquidity bias can result in lower yields relative to the benchmark, which has historically been a marginal drag on returns. During the fiscal year, credit curves steepened, while the U.S. yield curve flattened. Due to the shorter-term nature of the Fund, it avoided much of the long-end positions which generally underperformed. The Fund was negatively impacted by rising interest rates, but not as negatively impacted had it been invested in longer-term maturing bonds. The Fund underperformance as compared to the Index can mainly be attributed to representative sampling.

The WisdomTree Dynamic Bearish U.S. Equity Fund (the Fund) seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Dynamic Bearish U.S. Equity Index (the Index). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests dynamically in long equity positions (approximately 100 U.S. large- and mid-capitalization stocks) or long U.S. Treasury positions, while also investing dynamically in or otherwise dynamically seeking exposure to short equity positions (approximately 500 U.S. large-capitalization stocks). The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned 0.93% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The Fund's position in Information Technology contributed positively to performance while its position in Consumer Discretionary contributed negatively to performance. Due to the investment strategy of the Fund, it is to be expected that the Fund will underperform in markets of positive equity performance and outperform in periods of market downturn. During the first half of the fiscal year, U.S. equities went on a broad run higher, and in turn, the Fund underperformed. However, during 2018, there have been various bouts of volatility and market corrections which sent the market lower. During these times, the Fund outperformed due to its bearish investment strategy with exposures to both U.S. Treasury positions and short equity positions. During the fiscal year, the Fund utilized total return swap contracts to obtain short exposure to the S&P 500 Index. The Fund's use of total return swap contracts detracted from performance as a result of the overall positive performance of the S&P 500 Index during the fiscal year which conversely generated net losses on the Fund's total return swap contracts.

The WisdomTree Dynamic Long/Short U.S. Equity Fund (the Fund) seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Dynamic Long/Short U.S. Equity Index (the Index). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in long equity positions (approximately 100 U.S. large- and mid-capitalization stocks), while also investing dynamically in or otherwise dynamically seeking exposure to short equity positions (approximately 500 U.S. large-capitalization stocks). The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned 10.90% at net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). The Fund's position in Information Technology contributed positively to performance while its position in Consumer Discretionary contributed negatively to performance. On a limited basis during the fiscal year, the Fund utilized total return swaps to obtain short exposure to the S&P 500 Index. For the fiscal year, there were only two months where the hedge ratio wasn't 0%, meaning, where the Fund did not have 100% net long equity exposure. In early July 2017 and March 2018, the hedge ratio went to 50%, which resulted in a 50% net equity exposure. As a result, the Fund's limited use of total return swap contracts contributed positively to performance due to the overall negative performance of the S&P 500 Index during the periods of the fiscal year in which the total swap contracts were open which conversely generated net gains on the Fund's total return swap contracts. Overall, the underlying performance over the fiscal year remained positive due to a rising equity market.

The WisdomTree Balanced Income Fund (the Fund) seeks to track the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of the WisdomTree Balanced Income Index (the Index). In seeking to track the Index, the Fund invests in other exchange traded funds with approximately a 60% allocation to equities and a 40% allocation to fixed income. The Fund generally uses a representative sampling strategy to achieve its investment objective, meaning it generally will invest in a sample of securities in the Index.

The Fund returned -2.43% at net asset value (NAV) from inception date on December 21, 2017 through June 30, 2018 (for more complete performance information please see the performance table below). to performance. Over the course of the fiscal period, there was broad based equity positive performance, due in large part to gains that occurred in the first six months of the fiscal period. During the bouts of market volatility and market correction that occurred in 2018, the Fund experienced negative total returns due to its 60% weight in equity ETFs. In addition, the Fund is income focused, and many of the income-heavy equities have become increasingly responsive to moves in U.S. interest rates. Interest rates in the U.S. over the fiscal period increased across the curve, with the larger relative moves having occurred on the short end of the curve. These rises in interest rates led to negative bond price performance; the Fund's remaining 40% exposure is in fixed income ETFs. However, the Fund's allocation to interest rate hedged ETFs proved beneficial as interest rates rose over the course of the fiscal period.

Investment Valuation The net asset value (NAV) of each Fund 's shares is calculated each day a Fund is open for business as of the regularly scheduled close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange, normally 4:00 p.m. Eastern time (the NAV Calculation Time). NAV per share is calculated by dividing a Fund 's net assets by the number of Fund shares outstanding. Each Fund issues and redeems shares at NAV only in large blocks of shares known as creation units, which only certain institutions or large investors may purchase or redeem. Shares of each Fund are listed on a national securities exchange and trade at market prices. Most investors will buy and sell shares in the secondary market through brokers. Because Fund shares trade at market prices rather than NAV, shares may trade at a price greater than NAV or less than NAV. In calculating each Fund 's NAV, investments are valued under policies approved by the Board of Trustees of the Trust (the Board of Trustees). Equity securities (including preferred stock) traded on any recognized U.S. or non-U.S. exchange are valued at the last sale price or official closing price on the exchange or system on which they are principally traded. Unlisted equity securities (including preferred stock) are valued at the last quoted sale price or, if no sale price is available, at the mean between the highest bid and lowest ask price. Each Fund may invest in money market funds which are valued at their NAV per share and exchange-traded funds (ETFs or ETF) or exchange-traded notes (ETNs or ETN) which are valued at their last sale or official closing price on the exchange on which they are principally traded or at their NAV per share in instances where the ETF or ETN has not traded on its principal exchange. Fixed income securities (including short-term debt securities with remaining maturities of 60 days or less) generally are valued at current market quotations or mean prices obtained from broker-dealers or independent pricing service providers. Broker-dealers or independent pricing service providers, in determining the value of securities, may consider such factors as recent transactions, indications from broker-dealers yields and quoted prices on similar securities, and market sentiment for the type of security. U.S. fixed income securities may be valued as of the announced closing time for such securities on any day that the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association announces an early closing time. Foreign currency contracts are valued daily using WM/Reuters closing spot and forward rates as of 4:00 p.m. London time, except, foreign currency contracts on Asian currencies for Global Hedged SmallCap Dividend Fund are valued using WM/Reuters closing spot and forward rates as of 2:00 p.m. Singapore time. Futures contracts generally are valued at the settlement price, the price at which a futures contract settles once a given trading day has ended, on the primary exchange on which they trade. Swap contracts are generally marked to market daily based upon values from independent pricing service providers or quotations from broker-dealers to the extent available.

In certain instances, such as when reliable market valuations are not readily available or are not deemed to reflect current market values, a Fund 's investments, which include derivatives, will be fair valued in accordance with the Fund 's pricing policy. The Board of Trustees has established a pricing committee (the Pricing Committee) which is comprised of senior representatives of WTAM and which reports to the Board of Trustees on a quarterly basis. In the event that a financial instrument cannot be valued based upon a price from a national securities exchange, independent pricing service provider or broker-dealer quotation, or such prices are deemed to not reflect current market value, the Pricing Committee may value the financial instrument in good faith under the policies and procedures approved by the Board of Trustees based on current facts and circumstances. Securities that may be valued using fair value pricing may include, but are not limited to, securities for which there are no current market quotations, securities whose issuer is in default or bankruptcy, securities subject to corporate actions (such as mergers or reorganizations), securities subject to non-U.S. investment limits or currency controls, and securities affected by significant events. An example of a significant event is an event occurring after the close of the market in which a security trades but before a Fund 's next NAV Calculation Time that may materially affect the value of a Fund 's investment (e.g., government action, natural disaster, or significant market fluctuation). When fair value pricing is employed, the prices of securities used by a Fund to calculate its NAV may differ from quoted or published prices for the same securities.

Fair Value Measurement In accordance with Codification Topic 820 (ASC 820), Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, fair value is defined as the price that each Fund would receive upon selling an investment in an orderly transaction to an independent buyer in the principal or most advantageous market of the investment. ASC 820 established a three-tier hierarchy of inputs to be used when determining fair value measurements for disclosure purposes. Inputs refer broadly to the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability, including assumptions about risk for example, the risk inherent in a particular valuation technique used to measure fair value (such as a pricing model) and/or the risk inherent in the inputs to the valuation technique. Inputs may be observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Observable inputs are based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity. Unobservable inputs reflect the reporting entity 's own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Unobservable inputs are based on the best information available in the circumstances. The three-tier hierarchy of inputs is summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1 quoted prices in active markets for identical securities

Level 2 other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)

Edgar Filing: WisdomTree Trust - Form N-CSR

Level 3 significant unobservable inputs (including each Fund's assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

WisdomTree Trust 149

The inputs or methodology used for valuation are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those investments.

Investments that use Level 2 or Level 3 inputs may include, but are not limited to: (i) an unlisted security related to corporate actions; (ii) a restricted security (e.g., one that may not be publicly sold without registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended); (iii) a security whose trading has been suspended or which has been de-listed from its primary trading exchange; (iv) a security that is thinly traded; (v) a security in default or bankruptcy proceedings for which there is no current market quotation or market activity; (vi) a security affected by currency controls or restrictions; and (vii) a security affected by a significant event (e.g., an event that occurs after the close of the markets on which the security is traded but before the time as of which a Fund's NAV is computed and that may materially affect the value of the Fund's investments).

The valuation techniques and significant inputs used in determining the fair market value measurements for Level 2 and Level 3 positions are as follows:

Financial instruments are generally valued by independent pricing service providers that use broker-dealer quotations, reported trades or valuation estimates from their internal pricing models. Depending on the type of financial instrument, the independent pricing service providers internal pricing models may use inputs that are observable such as issuer details, interest rates, yield curves, prepayment speeds, credit risks/spreads, default rates and quoted prices for similar assets. Financial instruments that use similar valuation techniques and observable inputs as described above and have an appropriate level of market activity are categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, otherwise a Level 3 fair value classification is appropriate. Over-the-counter financial derivative instruments derive their value from underlying asset prices, indices, reference rates, and other inputs or a combination of these factors. These instruments are normally valued on the basis of broker-dealer quotations or prices obtained from independent pricing service providers. Depending on the product and the terms of the transaction, the value of the financial derivative instruments can be estimated by an independent pricing service provider using a series of techniques including simulation pricing models. The pricing models use inputs that are observed from actively quoted markets such as issuer details, indices, credit risks/spreads, interest rates, yield curves, default and exchange rates. Derivative contracts that use valuation techniques and observable inputs as described above and have an appropriate level of market activity are categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, otherwise a Level 3 fair value classification is appropriate.

Determination of a fair value by the Pricing Committee may include significant unobservable inputs and therefore would be reflected as a Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. The Pricing Committee may employ a market-based valuation approach which may use, among other potential considerations, related or comparable securities, recent transactions, market multiples, and other relevant information to determine fair value. The Pricing Committee may also use an income-based valuation approach in which anticipated future cash flows of the financial instrument are discounted to calculate fair value. The Pricing Committee meets at least on a monthly basis to review and discuss the appropriateness of such fair values using more current information such as, recent security news, recent market transactions, updated corporate action information and/or other macro or security specific events. Also, when observable inputs become available, the Pricing Committee conducts back testing of the methodologies used to value Level 3 financial instruments to substantiate the unobservable inputs used to value those investments. Such back testing includes comparing Level 3 investment values to observable inputs such as exchange-traded prices, transaction prices, and/or vendor prices.

Derivatives and Hedging Disclosure Codification Topic 815 (ASC 815), Derivatives and Hedging, requires qualitative disclosures about objectives and strategies for using derivatives, quantitative disclosures about fair value amounts of gains and losses on derivative instruments, and disclosures about credit-risk-related contingent features in derivative agreements. The Funds have invested in derivatives, specifically foreign currency contracts, swap contracts and futures contracts during the year ended June 30, 2018 and open positions in such derivatives as of June 30, 2018 are detailed in each Fund's Schedule of Investments. All of the derivative instruments disclosed and described herein are subject to credit risk. Credit risk is where the financial condition of an issuer of a security or instrument may cause it to default or become unable to pay interest or principal due on the security or where the counterparty to a derivative contract might default on its obligations. The Funds' derivative agreements also contain credit-risk related contingent features which include, but are not limited to, a percentage decline in the Funds' NAV over a specified time period. If an event occurred at June 30, 2018 that triggered a contingent feature, the counterparty to the agreement may require the Funds to post additional collateral or terminate the derivative positions and demand payment. Any collateral posted with respect to the derivative positions would be used to offset or reduce the payment. The maximum exposure to derivatives agreements with credit-risk related contingent features would be the total value of derivatives in net liability positions for each Fund, as disclosed on page 160. At June 30, 2018, the Funds did not receive or post collateral with any counterparty for derivatives and no event occurred that triggered a credit-risk-related contingent feature. Information with respect to the amounts and types of collateral received and/or posted for derivative instruments as of June 30, 2018, if any, is reflected as a footnote below the respective derivatives tables on each Fund's Schedule of Investments.

As of June 30, 2018, the effects of such derivative instruments on each Fund's financial position as reflected in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities are presented in the summary below:

Investment Transactions and Investment Income Investment transactions are recorded as of the date that the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Realized gains and losses on sales of portfolio securities are calculated using the identified-cost method. Dividend income (net of foreign taxes withheld, if any) is recognized on the ex-dividend date or as soon as practicable after the existence of a dividend declaration has been determined. Non-cash dividend income is recognized at the fair value of securities received on the ex-dividend date or as soon as practicable after the existence of a dividend declaration has been determined. Interest income (including amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts), net of any foreign taxes withheld, is accrued daily. Generally, amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts are recognized daily using the interest method (also known as the scientific amortization method). Income earned from securities lending activities (i.e. Securities lending income), net of fees payable to the securities borrower and/or securities lending agent, is accrued daily.

Foreign Currency Translation The accounting records of the Funds are maintained in U.S. dollars. Foreign currencies, as well as investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, are translated into U.S. dollars using exchange rates prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions that are deemed appropriate by WTAM. Realized and unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses on investments are included as a component of net realized gain (loss) from investment transactions and net increase (decrease) in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) from investment transactions, respectively, on the Statements of Operations. Realized and unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses from foreign currency contracts are included in net realized gain (loss) from foreign currency contracts and net increase (decrease) in unrealized appreciation/depreciation from foreign currency contracts, respectively, on the Statements of Operations. Realized and unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses arising from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses recognized between the trade and settlement dates on investment transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Funds' books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid are included in net realized gain (loss) from foreign currency related transactions and/or increase (decrease) in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) from translation of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies in the Statements of Operations. Certain foreign exchange gains and losses included in realized and unrealized gains or losses are included in, or are a reduction of, ordinary income in accordance with U.S. Federal income tax regulations.

Expenses/Reimbursements Under the investment advisory agreement for each Fund, WTAM has agreed to pay all expenses of the Trust, except for: (i) brokerage expenses and other fees, charges, taxes, levies or expenses (such as stamp taxes) incurred in connection with the execution of portfolio transactions or in connection with creation and redemption transactions (including without limitation any fees, charges, taxes, levies or expenses related to the purchase or sale of an amount of any currency, or the partition or repatriation of any security or other asset, related to the execution of portfolio transactions or any creation or redemption transactions); (ii) legal fees or expenses in connection with any arbitration, litigation or pending or threatened arbitration or litigation, including any settlements in connection therewith; (iii) compensation and expenses of trustees who are not interested persons of the Funds (Independent Trustees); (iv) compensation and expenses of counsel to the Independent Trustees; (v) compensation and expenses of the Trust's Chief Compliance Officer (CCO); (vi) extraordinary expenses (in each case as determined by a majority of the Independent Trustees); (vii) distribution fees and expenses paid by the Trust under any distribution plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act; (viii) interest and taxes of any kind or nature (including, but not limited to, income, excise, transfer and withholding taxes); (ix) fees and expenses related to the provision of securities lending services; and (x) the advisory fee payable to WTAM.

Acquired fund fees and expenses (AFFEs) (which are fees and expenses incurred indirectly by a Fund through its investments in certain underlying investment companies) are not operating expenses of the Funds and are not paid by WTAM.

Pursuant to a separate contractual arrangement, WTAM arranges for the provision of CCO services with respect to each Fund, and is liable and responsible for, and administers, payments to the CCO, the Independent Trustees and counsel to the Independent Trustees. WTAM receives a fee, as shown on the Statements of Operations under Service fees, of up to 0.0044% per annum of each Fund's average daily net assets for providing such services and paying such expenses. WTAM provides CCO services to the Trust.

Foreign minimum reserve funds In order to mitigate the risk of failed trades in the onshore China equity market, the China Securities Depository and Clearing Corporation Limited (CSDCC) requires investors to maintain minimum reserve funds in one of the CSDCC's designated cash clearing banks. At June 30, 2018, the ICBCCS S&P China 500 Fund, held foreign currency in such a CSDCC designated clearing bank having a U.S. dollar equivalent value equal to $4,226.

Currency Transactions The Funds may enter into foreign currency contracts to facilitate local securities settlements or to protect against currency exposure. The Funds, other than the Currency Hedged Equity Funds, do not expect to engage in currency transactions for the purpose of hedging against declines in the value of the Fund's assets that are denominated in one or more foreign currencies. The Funds may not enter into such contracts for speculative purposes.

Forward Foreign Currency Contracts The Currency Hedged Equity Funds, except the Global Hedged SmallCap Dividend Fund, utilized forward foreign currency contracts (Forward Contract) to dynamically obtain either a net long or net short exposure to foreign currencies consistent with each Currency Hedged Equity Fund s investment objective. The Global Hedged SmallCap

Dividend Fund utilized Forward Contracts to obtain net short exposure to foreign currencies consistent with its investment objective. The Emerging Markets Dividend Fund, Europe Domestic Economy Fund, Global ex-Mexico Equity Fund, Global SmallCap Dividend Fund, and the ICBCCS S&P China 500 Fund utilized Forward Contracts to facilitate foreign security settlements. A Forward Contract involves an obligation to purchase or sell a specific currency at a future date, which may be any fixed number of days from the date of the contract agreed upon by the parties, at a price set at the time of the contract. These contracts are principally traded in the inter-bank market conducted directly between currency traders (usually large, commercial banks) and their customers. A Forward Contract generally does not require an initial margin deposit and no commissions are charged at any stage for trades. However, if a Fund is in an unrealized loss position on a Forward Contract, it may be required to pledge collateral (or additional collateral) to the counterparty. If a Fund is in an unrealized gain position on a Forward Contract, it may receive collateral from the counterparty.

Risks may arise upon entering into Forward Contracts from the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts and from unanticipated movements in the value of foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar or each other.

Fluctuations in the value of open Forward Contracts are recorded for book purposes as unrealized gains or losses on Forward Contracts by the Funds and included in net increase (decrease) in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) from foreign currency contracts on the Statements of Operations. Realized gains and losses on Forward Contracts include net gains or losses recognized by the Funds on contracts which have settled are included in net realized gain (loss) from foreign currency contracts on the Statements of Operations.

Futures Contracts The Global SmallCap Dividend Fund utilized equity futures contracts on a temporary basis to obtain market exposure consistent with its investment objective during the Fund's annual portfolio rebalance. When a Fund purchases a listed futures contract, it agrees to purchase a specified reference asset (e.g., commodity, currency or Treasury security) at a specified future date. When a Fund sells a listed futures contract, it agrees to sell a specified reference asset (e.g., commodity, currency or Treasury security) at a specified future date. The price at which the purchase and sale will take place is fixed when the Fund enters into the contract. The exchange clearing corporation is the ultimate counterparty for all exchange-listed contracts, so credit risk is limited to the creditworthiness of the exchange's clearing corporation.

Upon entering into a futures contract, a Fund is required to deliver to a broker an amount of cash and/or government securities equal to a certain percentage of the contract amount. This amount is known as the initial margin. Subsequent payments, known as variation margin, generally are made or received by the Fund each day or at other agreed-upon time periods depending on the fluctuations in the value of the underlying futures contracts, except that in the case of certain futures contracts payments may be made or received at settlement. Such variation margin is recorded for financial statement purposes on a daily basis as an unrealized gain or loss on futures until the financial futures contract is closed, at which time the net gain or loss is reclassified to realized gain or loss on futures. When a Fund purchases or sells a futures contract, the Fund is required to cover its position in order to limit the risk associated with the use of leverage and other related risks. To cover its position, a Fund will segregate assets consisting of, or take other measures with respect to, cash or liquid securities that, when added to any amounts deposited with a futures commission merchant as margin, will cover its position in a manner consistent with the 1940 Act or the rules and SEC interpretations thereunder. This will function as a practical limit on the amount of leverage which a Fund may undertake and on the potential increase in the speculative character of a Fund's outstanding portfolio securities.

Total Return Swap Contracts The Dynamic Bearish U.S. Equity Fund and the Dynamic Long/Short U.S. Equity Fund utilized total return swap contracts to obtain short exposure to the S&P 500 Index. Total return swap contracts are agreements between counterparties to exchange the return of a given underlying reference asset/index, including income and any appreciation/depreciation in value of the reference asset/index, in exchange for payments equal to a rate of interest on another reference asset. During the term of the outstanding swap agreement, changes in the underlying value of the swap are recorded as unrealized gains and losses and the periodic payments received or made on the swap are recorded as realized gains or losses. Swap agreements may be used to achieve exposure to, for example, currencies, interest rates, indexes and money market securities without actually purchasing such currencies or securities. A Fund may use swap agreements to invest in a market without owning or taking physical custody of the underlying securities in circumstances in which direct investment is restricted for legal reasons or is otherwise impractical. Swap agreements will tend to shift a Fund's investment exposure from one type of investment to another or from one payment stream to another. Depending on their structure, swap agreements may increase or decrease a Fund's exposure to long- or short-term interest rates (in the United States or abroad), foreign currencies, corporate borrowing rates, or other factors, and may increase or decrease the overall volatility of a Fund's investments and its share price. Total return swaps are exposed to the market risk factor of the specific underlying reference asset/index such as unanticipated movements in the value of the exchange rates, interest rates, securities, or the reference asset/index. Additional risks to a Fund include the possibility that there is no liquid market for these agreements or that the swap counterparty may default on its obligation to perform. A Fund's maximum loss from counterparty risk is the fair value of the contract.

Securities Lending Each Fund may lend portfolio securities to certain creditworthy borrowers, including the Funds' securities lending agent. It is the Funds' policy that, at origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral in the form of cash and/or high-grade debt obligations, equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities, is maintained at all times. The cash collateral can be invested in certain money market mutual funds which also have exposure to the fluctuations of the market. The values of the investments of cash collateral for securities on loan along with the obligations to return such collateral are included on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. The total value of securities received as collateral for securities on loan is included in a footnote following each Schedule of Investments, but is not included within the Statements of Assets and Liabilities because the receiving Fund does not have the right to sell or repledge the securities received as collateral. Each Fund receives compensation for lending its securities from interest or dividends earned on the cash or U.S. government securities held as collateral, net of fee rebates paid to the borrower plus reasonable administrative and custody fees, all of which are included in the securities lending income earned by the Funds and disclosed on the Statements of Operations. The dividend and interest income earned on the securities loaned is accounted for in the same manner as other dividend and interest income. The borrower pays to the Funds an amount equal to any dividends or interest received on loaned securities. Dividends received while a security is out on loan are not considered Qualified Dividend Income (QDI) under the specific criteria issued by the Internal Revenue Service and are subject to taxation at the shareholder's ordinary income tax rate instead of the lower long-term capital gains tax rate. Lending portfolio securities could result in a loss or delay in recovering each Fund's securities if the borrower defaults.

Master Netting Arrangements ASU No. 2011-11 Disclosures about Offsetting Assets and Liabilities (ASU 2011-11) is generally intended to (i) help investors and other financial statement users to better assess the effect or potential effect of offsetting arrangements on a company's financial position, (ii) improve transparency in the reporting of how companies mitigate credit risk, and (iii) facilitate comparisons between those entities that prepare their financial statements on the basis of GAAP and those entities that prepare their financial statements on the basis of international financial reporting standards. ASU 2011-11 requires entities to disclose (i) gross and net information about both instruments and transactions eligible for offset in the financial statements, and (ii) instruments and transactions subject to an agreement similar to a master netting agreement. ASU 2011-11 is limited in scope to the following financial instruments, to the extent they are offset in the financial statements or subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement: (i) recognized derivative instruments accounted for under ASC 815 (Derivatives and Hedging); (ii) repurchase agreements and reverse repurchase agreements; and (iii) securities borrowing and securities lending transactions.

In order to better define its contractual rights and to secure rights that will help a Fund mitigate its counterparty risk, a Fund may enter into an International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. Master Agreement (ISDA Master Agreement) or similar agreement with its counterparties. An ISDA Master Agreement is a bilateral agreement between a Fund and a counterparty that governs over-the-counter derivatives (OTC), such as total return swap contracts and Forward Contracts, and typically contains, among other things, collateral posting terms, netting and rights of set-off provisions in the event of a default and/or termination event. Under an ISDA Master Agreement, a Fund may, under certain circumstances, offset with the counterparty certain derivative financial instruments' payables and receivables to create a single net payment. The provisions of the ISDA Master Agreement typically permit a single net payment in the event of a default (close-out netting) or similar event, including the bankruptcy or insolvency of the counterparty.

Collateral requirements generally differ by type of derivative. Collateral terms are contract-specific for OTC derivatives (e.g. foreign exchange contracts, options and certain swaps). Generally, for transactions traded under an ISDA Master Agreement, the collateral requirements are calculated by netting the marked to market amount for each transaction under such agreement and comparing that amount to the value of any collateral currently pledged by a Fund and the counterparty. Generally, the amount of collateral due from or to a counterparty must exceed a minimum transfer amount threshold before a transfer is required to be made. To the extent amounts due to a Fund from its derivatives counterparties are not fully collateralized, contractually or otherwise, the Fund bears the risk of loss from a counterparty's non-performance.

The Funds' security lending activities are governed by a Securities Lending Authorization Agreement (Lending Agreement) between the Funds and the lending agent. The Lending Agreement authorizes the lending agent to lend qualifying U.S. and foreign securities held by a Fund to approved borrowers (each a Borrower). To mitigate borrower risk, a Fund typically receives from a Borrower collateral in the form of U.S. dollar cash and/or securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government or its agencies in excess of the market value of the securities loaned. Under the provisions of the Lending Agreement, a Fund shall have, as to the collateral, all of the rights and remedies of a secured party under applicable law. A Fund is exposed to risk of loss if a Borrower defaults on its obligation to return borrowed securities and the value of the collateral a Fund received is insufficient to cover the market value of the securities loaned. Also, the lending agent is permitted to invest the cash collateral it receives from a Borrower into a money market fund which is subject to market fluctuation. Therefore, a Fund is exposed to risk of loss if the value of invested cash collateral is insufficient to satisfy the Fund's obligation to return the full amount owed to such Borrower.

For financial reporting purposes, the Funds elect to not offset assets and liabilities subject to an ISDA Master Agreement or Lending Agreement, if any, in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Therefore, all qualifying transactions are presented on a gross basis in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. As of June 30, 2018, the impact of netting of assets and liabilities and the offsetting of collateral pledged or received based on contractual netting/set-off provisions in the ISDA Master Agreement and the Lending Agreement are detailed in the following table:

Short-Term Investments Each Fund may invest a portion of its assets in high-quality money market instruments on an ongoing basis to provide liquidity or for other reasons. The instruments include short-term obligations issued by the U.S. government, its agencies, non-U.S. government agencies, negotiable certificates of deposit (CDs), fixed time deposits and bankers' acceptances of U.S. and foreign banks and similar institutions, commercial papers, repurchase agreements and money market funds. CDs are short-term negotiable obligations of commercial banks. Time deposits are non-negotiable deposits maintained in banking institutions for specified periods of time at stated interest rates. Banker's acceptances are time drafts drawn on commercial banks by borrowers, usually in connection with international transactions.

Tax Information and Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders It is each Fund's policy to comply with all requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). Each Fund intends to qualify for and to elect treatment as a separate Regulated Investment Company (RIC) under Subchapter M of the Code. In order to qualify for the special tax treatment accorded RICs and their shareholders, each Fund must, among other things, distribute with respect to each taxable year an amount equal to or greater than the sum of 90% of its investment company taxable income and 90% of its net tax-exempt interest income. There can be no guarantee that a Fund will pay dividends. Taxable net realized gains from investment transactions, reduced by capital loss carryforwards, if any, are declared and distributed to shareholders at least annually. The capital loss carryforward amount, if any, is available to offset future net capital gains. The Funds may occasionally be required to make supplemental distributions at some other time during the year. The Trust reserves the right to declare special distributions if, in its reasonable discretion, such action is necessary or advisable to preserve the status of each Fund as a RIC or to avoid imposition of income or excise taxes on undistributed income. Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions from net investment income and net realized capital gains are determined in accordance with the requirements of the Code and the U.S. Treasury regulations. These book/tax differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the components of net assets based on their Federal tax basis treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassification. Dividends and distributions that exceed earnings and profit for tax purposes are reported for tax purposes as a return of capital.

As part of our audits we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Trust's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of June 30, 2018, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers or by other appropriate auditing procedures where replies from brokers were not received. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We have served as the auditor of one or more WisdomTree investment companies since 2006.

The WisdomTree Funds are exchange traded funds (ETFs) registered with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission as separate series (Funds) of WisdomTree Trust (Trust). WisdomTree Asset Management, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of WisdomTree Investments, Inc., serves as the investment adviser to the Trust. None of the WisdomTree entities are affiliated with Foreside Fund Services, LLC, the Funds distributor. WisdomTree Investments, its affiliates and their independent providers are not liable for any informational errors, incompleteness, delays, or for any actions taken in reliance on information contained herein.

Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Funds carefully before investing. A prospectus, containing this and other information, is available at www.wisdomtree.com, or by calling 1-866-909-WISE (9473). Investors should read the prospectus carefully before investing. There are risks associated with investing, including possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Indexes are unmanaged and you cannot invest directly in an index.

There are risks associated with investing including possible loss of principal. Foreign investing involves special risks, such as risk of loss from currency fluctuation or political or economic uncertainty. Investments in real estate involve additional special risks, such as credit risk, interest rate fluctuations and the effect of varied economic conditions. Funds that focus their investments in one country or region may be significantly impacted by events and developments associated with the region which can adversely affect performance. Funds focusing on a single sector and/or smaller companies generally experience greater price volatility. Investments in emerging, offshore or frontier markets are generally less liquid and less efficient than investments in developed markets and are subject to additional risks, such as risks of adverse governmental regulation and intervention or political developments. Fixed income investments are subject to interest rate risk; their value will normally decline as interest rates rise. In addition, when interest rates fall income may decline. Fixed income investments are also subject to credit risk, the risk that the issuer of a bond will fail to pay interest and principal in a timely manner, or that negative perceptions of the issuer's ability to make such payments will cause the price of that bond to decline. High-yield or junk bonds have lower credit ratings and involve a greater risk to principal. While the Fundamental Fixed Income Funds attempt to limit credit and counterparty exposure, the value of an investment in the Funds may change quickly and without warning in response to issuer or counterparty defaults and changes in the credit ratings of the Fund's portfolio investments. Investments in currency involve additional special risks, such as credit risk and interest rate fluctuations. Derivative investments can be volatile and these investments may be less liquid than other securities, and more sensitive to the effect of varied economic conditions. As these Funds can have a high concentration in some issuers the Funds can be adversely impacted by changes affecting such issuers. Due to the investment strategy of certain Funds they may make higher capital gain distributions than other ETFs. Please read the Fund's prospectus for specific details regarding the Fund's risk profile.

Transactions in Fund shares will result in brokerage commissions and will generate tax consequences. Shares may be sold through brokerage accounts, but may be redeemed from the Funds only by Authorized Participants in large creation unit sizes of shares.
