December/08 - Same-store gross sales move up by 7.3%

São Paulo, Brazil, January 5, 2009. Grupo Pão de Açúcar [NYSE: CBD; BOVESPA: PCAR4 (PN)] announces its December 2008 sales performance (unaudited preliminary figures). The following information was calculated based on consolidated figures and in Reais, in accordance with Brazilian Corporate Law.

In December, Grupo Pão de Açúcar posted gross sales of R$ 2,355.6 million, up 9.3% year on year. Net sales came to R$ 2,037.1 million, up 12.6% in the period.

In the same-store concept, gross sales rose 7.3%, the best sales performance for the month of December as of 2004, with estimated real growth of 0.9% after deflated by the IPCA - General Consumer Price Index¹, while net sales rose 10.5% in nominal terms. Sales growth would have come to 9.4% excluding the impact of the calendar effect (one Saturday and Sunday less than in the previous year). Another important factor was the strong comparison base for December 2008 in relation to the previous months given that in December 2007, the Company posted growth of 3.5% (see chart below).

Also on a same-store basis, food products recorded gross sales growth of 7.8% in the period, with increases in the Grocery and Perishables categories, while non-food sales rose 6.0%, led by Textiles.

Among the formats, Pão de Açúcar, Extra, Assai, and Extra.com.br posted sales growth higher than the Company average. The Group also posted growth in customer traffic and average ticket.

The Company's 4Q08 sales totaled R$ 5,923.0 million, up 15.3% while net sales totaled R$ 5,143.3 million, up 18.8% year on year.

In the same-store concept, gross and net sales rose 10.4% and 13.7% respectively, with non-food sales growing by 11.0%, and food sales by 10.2%

In 2008, gross sales were R$ 20,857.3 million and net sales totaled R$ 18,033.7 million, up 18.2% and 21.0% respectively over the previous year. In the same-store concept, gross sales rose 8.5% in the year, above the guidance for 2008, with estimated real growth of 2.6% after deflated by the IPCA - General Price Index¹. Net sales grew 11.0% nominally. Though non-food products posted a double-digit growth, food products also contributed significantly to the Group's results, despite the lower inflation according to the food component of the General Price Index (IPCA - Alimentos) during the period.

The Company's strong sales growth posted in 2008 was due to the following factors: (i) adoption of a consistent pricing policy, which resulted in greater competitiveness in each format and region; (ii) an in-depth change in the mix in terms of region and socio-economic profile of consumers through the clusterization implemented over the course of the year, with positive impact on sales; and (iii) implementation of a specialized marketing strategy that addresses specific consumer needs and is in line with the mix and pricing of each region. Through this policy, the Group recorded sustainable growth and an increase in customer traffic, resulting in gains in market share, as well as increase in volume and average ticket.

Note that from January 2009, Grupo Pão de Açúcar will announce the preliminary sales figures on a quarterly basis instead of the current monthly sales reports. This change, which is aimed at reducing the volatility of its shares caused by the market's excessive concern on short-term sales performance, will ensure better alignment of market expectations with the Company's sales growth guidance on an annual basis.

December/08 - Same-store gross sales move up by 7.3%

(1) The Company has adopted as its inflation indicator, the IPCA – General Consumer Price Index, which is also used by the Brazilian Supermarkets Association (ABRAS), instead of the food component of the IPCA index, in view of: (i) the incompatibility of baskets (the food component of the IPCA index does not include the entire mix of products and brands sold by the Company – e.g., personnel care and household cleaning products); (ii) household profiles (the weighting of products in the composition of the IPCA index is determined by the Household Budget Survey (POF), which considers households with income from 1 to 40 minimum monthly wages. For example, in the IPCA index rice has a weighting of 3.61%, while at GPA it accounts for 1.30% of food sales); and (iii) the importance of the channel/region (the weighting of the sales regions/channels is incompatible with the weighting at GPA).

Note: Same-store sales figures include only those stores with at least 12 months of operations.

Statements included in this report regarding the Company's business prospects, the outlook for operating and financial results, and referring to the Company's growth potential are merely projections and were based on Management's expectations regarding the Company's future. These projections are highly dependent on market changes and the performance of Brazil's economy, the industry and the international markets and are, therefore, subject to change.
