(the “Company”) took action to start the process by which the Company will change its name from “Imprimis Pharmaceuticals, Inc.” to “Harrow Health, Inc.” The Delaware General Corporations Law permits the Company to change its name by board action without the approval of the stockholders of the Company. It is anticipated that the name change will be completed within the next thirty days.

The stockholders of the Company need not take any action in respect of the name change. Additionally, once the name change is completed, stockholders do not need to exchange their certificates representing their shares of common stock. The current stock certificate will continue to represent their ownership interest in the Company. Stockholders, however, may return their certificates to the transfer agent for the Company after the name change is completed, and obtain an updated certificate with a new CUSIP number.
