NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the Quarterly Period Ended June 30, 2018

1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION

MobileSmith, Inc. (referred to herein as the “Company,” “us,” “we,” or “our”) was incorporated as Smart Online, Inc. in the State of Delaware in 1993. The Company changed its name to MobileSmith, Inc. effective July 1, 2013. The same year the Company focused exclusively on development of do-it-yourself customer facing platform that enabled organizations to rapidly create, deploy, and manage custom, native smartphone and tablet apps deliverable across iOS and Android mobile platforms without writing a single line of code. During 2017 the Company concluded that it had highest rate of success with clients within Healthcare industry and concentrated its development and sales and marketing efforts in that industry. During 2018 we further refined our Healthcare offering and redefined our product - a suite of e-health mobile solutions, that consists of:

access to a catalog of ready to deploy mobile app solutions (app Blueprint catalog) related deployment, support and integration services (app build and managed services and custom development, where applicable) ;

hosting of the deployed mobile apps.

Our flagship MobileSmith® Platform has transformed from a do-it-yourself customer facing platform into an internally used engine that supports the deployment of mobile apps created from Blueprints, integration of various third-party code and services into the mobile apps produced from Blueprints, hosting of deployed apps and design of new Blueprints.

The Company prepared the accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”). Pursuant to these rules and regulations, the Company has condensed or omitted certain information and footnote disclosures it normally includes in its audited annual consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”). In management’s opinion, the Company has made all adjustments (consisting only of normal, recurring adjustments, except as otherwise indicated) necessary to fairly present its financial position, results of operations, cash flows, and stockholders’ deficit as of June 30, 2018. The Company’s interim period operating results do not necessarily indicate the results that may be expected for any other interim period or for the full fiscal year. These condensed consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes should be read in conjunction with the audited annual consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2017 on file with the SEC (the “Annual Report”).

Except as otherwise noted, there have been no material changes to the Company’s significant accounting policies as compared to the significant accounting policies described in the Annual Report. The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. During the six months ended June 30, 2018 and 2017, the Company incurred net losses as well as negative cash flows from operations. These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts or classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements and Their Impact on Significant Accounting Policies

The Company's significant accounting policies are detailed in "Note 2: Significant Accounting Policies" of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017.

Adoption of Financial Accounting Standards Board, Accounting Standards Codification, Topic 606, Revenue Recognition ("Topic 606") did not have material impact on the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements. The adoption of Topic 606 did result in changes to the Company's accounting policies and introduced new definitions and disclosure requirements that are discussed below and throughout these condensed consolidated financial statements.

Revenue Recognition: General Overview and Performance Obligations to Customers

The Company derives revenue primarily from contracts for subscription to the suite of e-health mobile solutions and, to a much lesser degree, ancillary services provided in connection with subscription services.

The Company's contracts include the following performance obligations:

Access to the content available on the App Blueprint Catalog, including hosting of the deployed apps;

App Build and Managed Services;

Custom development work.

The majority of the Company's contracts are for subscription to a catalog of mobile app Blueprints, hosting of the deployed apps and related services. Custom work for specific deliverables is documented in the statements of work. Customers may enter into subscription and various statements of work concurrently or consecutively. Most of the Company's performance obligations are not considered to be distinct from the subscription to Blueprints, hosting of deployed apps and related services and are combined into a single performance obligation. New statements of work and modifications of contracts are reviewed each reporting period and significant judgment is applied as to nature and characteristics of the new or modified performance obligations on a contract by contract basis.

Revenue Recognition: Transaction Price of the Contract and Satisfaction of Performance Obligations

The transaction price of the contract is an aggregate amount of consideration payable by customer for delivery of contracted services. Transaction price is impacted by the terms of a contracted agreement with the customer. Such terms range from one to three years. Transaction price excludes any future renewal periods or any marketing or sales discounts. Transaction price may include a significant financing component in instances where Company offers discounts for accelerated payments on the long-term contracts. Significant financing component is recorded in other assets and is amortized as interest expense in the Company's income statement over the term of the contract.

The transaction price is predominantly allocated to the single performance obligation of access to the Blueprints, hosting and related services and to a lesser degree allocated between the access and other distinct performance obligations based on the stand-alone selling price. The subscription revenue is then recognized over time over the term of the contract, using the output method of time elapsed. Other performance obligations are usually recognized at a point in time upon delivery of a specific documented output. Management believes that such chosen methods faithfully depict satisfaction of Company performance obligations and transfer of benefit to the customers.

The full transaction price of the contract may be billed in its entirety or in agreed upon installments. Billed transaction price in excess of revenue recognized results in the recording of a contract liability. Unbilled portion of transaction price represents contracted consideration receivable by the Company, that was not yet billed.

Incremental Costs of Obtaining a Contract

The Company's incremental costs of obtaining a contract include sales commissions and are recognized as other assets on the balance sheet for the contracts with a term exceeding 12 months. These costs are amortized through the term of the contract and are recorded as sales and marketing expense. As of June 30, 2018 the Company's other assets include approximately $59,000 of such costs.

Contract Liabilities

A new contract liability is created every time the Company records receivables due from its customers. Contract liability represents Company's obligation to transfer services for which the Company has already invoiced. Most of the contract liabilities will be recognized in revenue over a period of 12 to 36 months.

Customer Credit Risk

Most of Company's receivables (billings) are collected within 30-45 day period. The majority of Company's customers are healthcare organizations, which historically have had low credit risk.

Use of practical expedients in application of the Topic 606

The newly adopted recognition standard prescribes the application of accounting standards to individual contracts with customers, but allows for the application of the guidance to a portfolio of contracts (or performance obligations) with similar characteristics if the effect of such application is immaterial. The Company applies practical expedients in following instances:

The Company does not adjust promised amount of consideration for the effects of a significant financing component if, at contract inception, the period between when the Company transfers its services to a customer and when the customer pays services will be one year or less.

The Company recognizes incremental costs of obtaining a contract as expenses when incurred if the amortization period of the asset that the Company otherwise would have recognized is one year or less.

Transition Disclosures in the Period of Adoption of Topic 606

The Company applied the transition guidance in Topic 606 to the contracts that were not substantially completed as of January 1, 2018.

The Company selected a modified retrospective approach at the time of adoption, at which time cumulative effect of initially adopting the standard is to be recognized in retained earnings as of the date of adoption and additional footnote disclosures will be included in the financial statements. The impact of adoption on the selected accounts is as follows:

The cumulative effects of the changes made to the Company's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet at January 1, 2018 due to the adoption of Topic 606 were as follows:

Convertible Notes

During the six months ended June 30, 2018, the Company privately placed $3,365,000 in principal amount of additional unsecured Convertible Subordinated Notes (the "2014 NPA Notes") to Union Bancaire Privée ("UBP") under its existing unsecured Convertible Subordinated Note Purchase Agreement dated December 10, 2014 (the "2014 NPA"). The 2014 NPA Notes are convertible by the holder into shares of the Company's common stock, par value $0.001 per share (the "Common Stock") at a per share conversion price of $1.43.

On May 25, 2018, the Company and the holders of the majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the 2014 NPA Notes and holders of the majority of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Secured Promissory Notes (the "2007 NPA Notes") issued under the Convertible Secured Subordinated Note Purchase Agreement dated

Edgar Filing: MobileSmith, Inc. - Form 10-Q

November 14, 2007 (the "2007 NPA") agreed to extend to November 14, 2020, the maturity date of the 2014 NPA Notes and the 2007 NPA Notes. Except as so extended, all of the terms relating to the outstanding 2007 Notes and the 2014 Notes continue in full force and effect. The Company is entitled to utilize the amounts available for future borrowing under each of the 2007 Note Purchase Agreement and the 2014 Note Purchase Agreement through November 14, 2020.

As a result of modification, any unamortized discount will be amortized into interest expense through the new maturity date of November 14, 2020.

The market value of the Company's common stock on the date of each issuance of the 2014 NPA Notes to UBP was higher than the conversion price, which resulted in a beneficial conversion feature totaling $1,359,126 and corresponding debt discount, which is being amortized into interest expense through the maturity of the Notes.

During the three months period ended June 30, 2018 three noteholders converted a total of $5,025,000 of Notes into 3,513,986 shares of Company's common stock at the stated conversion price of $1.43 per share.

The table below summarizes convertible notes issued and outstanding as of June 30, 2018 by type:

Legal Proceedings

From time to time, the Company may be subject to routine litigation, claims or disputes in the ordinary course of business. The Company defends itself vigorously in all such matters. In the opinion of management, no pending or known threatened claims, actions or proceedings against the Company are expected to have a material adverse effect on its financial position, results of operations or cash flows. However, the company cannot predict with certainty the outcome or effect of any such litigation or investigatory matters or any other pending litigations or claims. There can be no assurance as to the ultimate outcome of any such lawsuits and investigations. The Company will record a liability when it believes that it is both probable that a loss has been incurred and the amount can be reasonably estimated. The Company periodically evaluates developments in its legal matters that could affect the amount of liability that it has previously accrued, if any, and makes adjustments as appropriate. Significant judgment is required to determine both the likelihood of there being, and the estimated amount of, a loss related to such matters, and the Company's judgment may be incorrect. The outcome of any proceeding is not determinable in advance. Until the final resolution of any such matters that the Company may be required to accrue for, there may be an exposure to loss in excess of the amount accrued, and such amounts could be material.

In 2018 we continue to refine our healthcare focus with expansion of our service offering to health insurance companies - the payer market.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Highlights of operational results.

Company revenue in 2018 when compared to 2017 fluctuated significantly due to revenue from two major customers, that did not renew their contracts in 2018. The first such customer is a government agency with a significant contract for which revenue recognition was deferred in compliance with United States Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("US GAAP") revenue recognition requirements for sale of software products and services. During the 2017 Period, revenue recognition criteria have been satisfied and therefore, the Company commenced and completed related revenue recognition in accordance with our revenue recognition policy. There is no revenue associated with this contract in 2018. The second customer is a retail customer, which did not renew the contract as their technological needs in retail and our healthcare focused offering diverged.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We have not yet achieved positive cash flows from operations, and our main source of funds for our operations continues to be the sale of our notes under our convertible note facilities. We expect to continue to rely on this source until we are able to generate sufficient cash from revenues to fund our operations or obtain alternate sources of financing. We believe that anticipated cash flows from operations, and additional funding under the convertible note facilities, of which no assurance can be provided, together with cash on hand, will provide sufficient funds to finance our operations for the next 12 months. Changes in our operating plans, lower than anticipated sales, increased expenses, or other events may cause us to seek additional equity or debt financing in future periods. There can be no guarantee that financing will continue to be available to us under the convertible note facilities or otherwise on acceptable terms or at all. Additional equity and convertible debt financing could be dilutive to the holders of shares of our common stock, and additional debt financing, if available, could impose greater cash payment obligations and more covenants and operating restrictions.

Nonetheless, there are factors that can impact our ability to continue to fund our operating activities for the next twelve months. These include:

Our ability to expand revenue volume;

Our ability to maintain product pricing as expected, particularly in light of increased competition and its unknown effects on market dynamics;

Our continued need to reduce our cost structure while simultaneously expanding the breadth of our business, enhancing our technical capabilities, and pursuing new business opportunities.

In addition, we have an outstanding Loan and Security Agreement (the "LSA") with Comerica Bank in the amount of $5 million, which matures in June of 2020 and is secured by an extended irrevocable letter of credit issued by UBS AG (Geneva, Switzerland) ("UBS AG") with a renewed term expiring on May 31, 2019, which term is renewable for one year periods, unless notice of non-renewal is given by UBS AG at least 45 days prior to the then current expiration date. If UBS were to elect to not renew the irrevocable letter of credit issued by it beyond May 31, 2019, the currently scheduled expiration date, then such non-renewal will result in an event of default under the LSA, at which time all amounts outstanding under the LSA of approximately $5 million will become due and payable. Currently, the letter of credit is automatically extended for one year periods, unless notice of non-renewal is given by UBS AG at least 45 days prior to the then current expiration date. As of the date of this report on Form 10Q, no such notice has been provided to us nor have we been provided with any indication that we are to receive notice of non-renewal of the letter of credit.

Additionally, we extended maturities on all notes issued under the 2007 and 2014 NPAs through November 14, 2020 and extended maturity of Comerica LSA through June 9, 2020.

Uses of Cash

During the six months ended June 30, 2018, we used in operating activities approximately $4.0 million, which was offset by $1.2 million in cash collected from our customers, netting approximately $2.8 million of net cash used in operating activities. Approximately $1.8 million of this amount was used to pay interest payments on the convertible notes and bank debt; approximately $1.5 for payroll, benefits and related costs; approximately $212,000 was used for non-payroll related sales and marketing efforts, such as tradeshows and marketing campaigns and approximately $517,000 was used for other non-payroll development and general and administrative expenses, which included among other things: infrastructure costs, rent, insurance, legal, professional, compliance, and other expenditures.

During the six months ended June 30 2017, we used in operating activities approximately $4.0 million, which was offset by $1.8 million in cash collected from our customers, netting approximately $2.1million of net cash used in operating activities. Approximately $1.8 million of this amount was used to pay interest payments on the convertible notes and bank debt; approximately $1.6 million for payroll, benefits and related costs; approximately $201,000 was used for non-payroll related sales and marketing efforts, such as tradeshow and marketing campaigns and approximately $416,000 was used for other non-payroll development and general and administrative expenses, which included among other things: infrastructure costs, rent, insurance, legal, professional, compliance, and other expenditures.

Capital Expenditures and Investing Activities

Our capital expenditures are limited to the purchase of new office equipment and new mobile devices that are used for testing. Cash used for investing activities was not significant and we do not plan any significant capital expenditures in the near future.

Going Concern

Our independent registered public accounting firm has issued an emphasis of matter paragraph in their report included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017 in which they express substantial doubt as to our ability to continue as a going concern. The condensed consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts or classification of liabilities that might be necessary should we be unable to continue as a going concern. Our continuation as a going concern depends on our ability to generate sufficient cash flows to meet our obligations on a timely basis, to obtain additional financing that is currently required, and ultimately to attain profitable operations and positive cash flows. There can be no assurance that our efforts to raise capital or increase revenue will be successful. If our efforts are unsuccessful, we may have to cease operations and liquidate our business.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Not applicable.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Our management, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, has evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures for the six months ended June 30, 2018. The term “disclosure controls and procedures,” as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act, means controls and other procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC’s rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company’s management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, as appropriate to allow for timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Management recognizes that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives, as ours are designed to do, and management necessarily applies its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. Based on such evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of March 31, 2018, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at a reasonable assurance level.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

During the quarter ended June 30, 2018, there were no changes made in our internal controls over financial reporting (as such term is defined in Rule 13a-15(f) of the Exchange Act) that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls over financial reporting.
