Certain United States Tax Considerations

The following discussion supplements the discussion contained in the Prospectus Supplement dated June 18, 2004 under the heading "United States Tax Considerations." Prospective purchasers of Notes are advised to consult their own tax advisors with respect to tax matters relating to the Notes.

Notes Used as Qualified Replacement Property

Prospective investors seeking to treat the Notes as "qualified replacement property" for purposes of section 1042 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), should be aware that, in order for the Notes to constitute such qualified replacement property, the Notes themselves and the issuer must meet certain requirements. In general, qualified replacement property is a "security" issued by a domestic corporation that did not, for the taxable year preceding the taxable year in which such security was purchased, have "passive investment income in excess of 25 percent of the gross receipts of such corporation for such preceding taxable year (the "Passive Income Test"). The term "securities," is defined pursuant to section 1042 of the Code to include bonds, debentures, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of a corporation in registered form. The Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") has in some cases expressed the view that the definition of "security" in section 354 of the Code (which generally does not include short-term debt instruments) may also be relevant in applying section 1042. The Company does not express any conclusion on whether the Notes constitute "securities" for purposes of section 1042 of the Code and potential investors should consult their own tax advisors as to the appropriate characterization of the Notes as qualified replacement property for this purpose.

In regards to the Passive Income Test, where the issuing corporation is in control of one or more corporations or such issuing corporation is controlled by one or more other corporations, all such corporations are treated as one corporation (the "Affiliated Group") for purposes of computing the amount of 1) passive investment income for purposes of section 1042. The Company believes that less than 25 percent of its Affiliated Groups gross receipts (which includes the General Electric Company and its controlled subsidiaries) are passive investment income for the taxable year ending December 31, 2003. In making this determination, the Company has made certain assumptions and used procedures which it believes are reasonable. However, the calculation and characterization of certain types of income (as active or passive investment income) in certain of the Affiliated Groups finance and insurance companies (the "Finance Companies") is not entirely clear as there are no Treasury regulations or rulings promulgated by the IRS that explain the calculation and characterization of such income in circumstances similar to those of the Company's Affiliated Group. Even if such categories of income were treated as passive investment income, the Company believes that the Affiliated Groups passive investment income did not exceed more than 25 percent of the Affiliated Groups gross receipts for the taxable year ending December 31, 2003. No assurance can be given as to whether the Company will continue to meet the Passive Income Test. It is, in addition, possible that the IRS may disagree with the manner in which the Company has calculated the Affiliated Groups gross receipts (including the characterization thereof) and passive investment income and the other conclusions reached herein.

Consolidated Ratio of Earning to Fixed Charges

Edgar Filing: GENERAL ELECTRIC CAPITAL CORP - Form 424B3

The information contained in the Prospectus under the caption "Consolidated Ratio of Earnings to Fixed Charges" is hereby amended in its entirety, as follows:

Year Ended December 31,					Six Months Ended June 30, 2004
