On December 11, 2002 registrant issued a press release entitled "Halliburton Close to Agreement in Principle on Asbestos Claims - Company says deal is not complete yet."

The text of the press release is as follows:

Halliburton Close to Agreement in Principle on Asbestos Claims
Company says deal is not complete yet

Houston, Texas (December 11, 2002) - Halliburton (NYSE: HAL) today said it is close to an agreement in principle with plaintiffs' attorneys representing more than 300,000 claimants that will resolve all of the asbestos-related personal injury claims against the company.

Company officials stated that the transaction is not complete yet and if it is achieved it would still be subject to financing, board approval, and court approval, none of which can be assured. However, the company outlined tentative terms including saying it would involve as much as $2.8 billion in cash payments and up to 60 million shares of Halliburton common stock.

Under the proposed agreement, the settlement would not include a bankruptcy filing of Halliburton and the company expects to retain 100% ownership of all of its subsidiaries. The proposed agreement would cover all present and future personal injury asbestos claims. Halliburton would retain the rights to the first $2.3 billion of insurance proceeds and any amounts in excess of $3.0 billion; although there is no assurance the company would collect that amount.

"If this is completed," said Dave Lesar, chairman, president and CEO of the company, "it's important to note that it would be business-as-usual for customers, employees, vendors and financial creditors."

Halliburton further stated that it will not provide further updates on the negotiations until a transaction is more likely.

"We are working hard to achieve an agreement that protects the shareholders and is fair to those who have been affected by asbestos," said Lesar.
