Item 5.02. Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers

On January 29, 2007, the Compensation Committee of the Company's Board of Directors, with the assistance of independent compensation consultants, changed the Company's Annual Incentive Plan ("AIP") under the Company's 2000 Stock Award and Incentive Plan. Under the AIP, each executive officer, including the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"), will have an annual incentive award target based on the achievement of specific quantitative financial corporate goals, derivative regional and/or category performance goals and non-financial strategic initiatives, which will be determined by the Compensation Committee no later than March of each year. The corporate objectives and the derivative regional and/or category objectives for 2007 under the AIP, which the Compensation Committee approved on January 29, 2007, relate to increases in sales, earnings before interest and taxes and return on investment. The non-financial strategic initiatives, which the Compensation Committee also approved on January 29, 2007, relate to (i) customers, including market share, customer satisfaction, service performance and product quality, (ii) workforce, including managing talent and development, and (iii) innovation, including new products, growth and return on product investment, cost savings initiatives and research and development innovation.

Under the AIP, each executive officer will have a range of potential awards, both above and below target, which will be specified each year when the performance goals are established. The amount paid to each executive officer, including the CEO, following the end of the year will depend on the extent to which the performance goals are achieved. Based on the specific quantitative financial and non-financial objectives, if threshold performance is achieved for the year, the executive officer may be paid 25% of his or her target award and if maximum performance is achieved for the year, the executive officer may be paid up to a ceiling of 200% of that officer's target award. Failure to meet threshold performance for both the financial objectives and non-financial strategic initiatives, based on the performance goals, will result in no AIP award to the executive officer for that year.

Each executive officer's AIP target award is a stated percentage of his or her base salary. For 2007, as approved by the Compensation Committee on January 29, 2007, the CEO's target award is 120% of base salary and the Flavors and Fragrances Group Presidents' and other Senior Vice Presidents' target award is 60% of base salary.

Subject to the approval of the Compensation Committee, at the end of each year, based on the achievement for the year against the specific quantitative and non-financial objectives and based upon individual performance, the CEO may recommend that the Compensation Committee allocate AIP awards upwards or downwards among executive officers so long as the total AIP amount that is available based on actual achievement is not exceeded and so long as no executive officer is paid more than 200% of that officer's target award. The Compensation Committee also has negative discretion with respect to awards under the AIP.

Attached as Exhibit 10.1 are the corporate performance objectives and the derivative regional and/or category objectives, as well as the non-financial strategic initiatives, for 2007 under the AIP.
