Unocal announces net earnings for third quarter 2004

El Segundo, Calif., Oct. 28, 2004 - Unocal Corporation (NYSE: UCL) today reported preliminary net earnings for the third quarter 2004 of $330 million, or $1.23 per share (diluted), 117 percent above the $152 million, or 58 cents per share (diluted), reported in the same period a year ago. The earnings included a number of special items discussed below in connection with Unocal's adjusted after-tax earnings.

Unocal's preliminary adjusted after-tax earnings for the third quarter 2004 were $294 million, or $1.09 per share (diluted). This compares with the Thomson/First Call mean of analyst estimates (published Oct. 25, 2004) of 96 cents per share. Unocal's adjusted after-tax earnings were $190 million, or 72 cents per share (diluted), in the third quarter 2003, and $231 million, or 86 cents per share (diluted), in the second quarter 2004. Adjusted after-tax earnings are net earnings excluding special items (discussed below) and the cumulative effect of accounting changes.

"We recorded another outstanding quarter, with the results driven by continued high commodity prices," said Charles R. Williamson, Unocal chairman and chief executive officer. "We continued to execute on our major development programs in the Caspian Sea, Thailand,

Edgar Filing: UNOCAL CORP - Form 8-K

Bangladesh and deepwater Gulf of Mexico - programs that we believe will contribute to production growth in 2005 and 2006."

Recent operational and financial highlights

Some of Unocal's operational highlights and other developments during the third quarter include:

- Completed the buyback of $150 million of common stock, redemption of one-half of Unocal Capital Trust's outstanding preferred convertible securities and a contribution of $100 million to Unocal's qualified U.S. pension plan
- Ramped-up gross production at the deepwater West Seno project in Indonesia to 39,000 barrel-of-oil equivalent (BOE) per day at the end of the quarter; Unocal is operator of the production-sharing contract (PSC) with a 90% working interest
- Signed a resolution with other investors sanctioning the Phase 3 development of the Azeri-Chirag-Deepwater Gunashli (ACG) field in the Azerbaijan sector of the Caspian Sea (Unocal, 10.28% working interest)
- Progressed with construction on the Phase 1 and 2 developments of the Azerbaijan International Operating Company (AIOC) project in the Caspian Sea (Unocal, 10.28% working interest); first oil at the wellhead expected in early 2005 for Phase 1
- Approximately 85 percent of construction completed on the Baku-Tbilisi-Ceyhan export pipeline from the Caspian Sea (Unocal, 8.9% equity interest)
- Received approximately $67 million cash from the sale of Unocal's indirect interest in its last remaining oil and natural gas assets in Brazil; possible future payments contingent on achieving certain natural gas prices and/or volume thresholds
- Deepwater appraisal wells encountered hydrocarbons on the St. Malo prospect in the Gulf of Mexico (Unocal operator, 28.75% working interest) and on the deepwater Ranggas, Gehem and Gula prospects in Indonesia (Unocal operator of PSCs, 80% working interest)
- Completed deepwater Gulf of Mexico Sardinia well as dry hole, but encountered significant porous sandstones (Unocal operator, 40% working interest; 3Q dry hole expense of about $1 million)
- Completed successful delineation drilling in the South Gomin operating area in the Gulf of Thailand; first gas production expected in 2006 (Unocal operator, 71.25% working interest)
- Elected not to proceed with its participation in five contracts to explore for, develop, and market natural gas resources in the Xihu Trough of the East China Sea

3Q 2004 financial and operating details

In the third quarter 2004, after-tax special items included $38 million in tax benefits from prior-year audit settlements with federal and state tax authorities and a $16 million gain from the sale of some non-oil and gas properties. These were offset partially by $17 million in environmental and litigation provisions. All of the special items are detailed in the Adjusted After-tax Earnings Reconciliation table included at the end of this news release.

Unocal's third quarter 2004 adjusted after-tax earnings (compared with 3Q 2003) reflected higher worldwide crude oil and natural gas prices and lower net interest expense and litigation costs. These positive factors were partially offset by lower North America natural gas and liquids production, Xihu Trough (China) exit costs and power generation impairments.

Worldwide hydrocarbon liquids and natural gas production for the third quarter 2004 averaged 407,000 BOE per day, compared with 441,000 BOE per day in the same period a year ago. The production decline was due primarily to the sale of oil and gas producing assets in North America, which accounted for nearly 27,000 BOE per day during 2003, Gulf of Mexico storms that reduced production by 2,400 BOE per day, natural production declines in North America, and lower contractor's cost recovery barrels from certain PSCs in Asia, as a result of higher commodity prices and recovery of sunk costs, which reduced production by about 7,200 BOE per day. Higher liquids production in Thailand and from the West Seno field in Indonesia partially offset these negative factors.

Third-quarter 2004 worldwide price realizations (including hedging activities) for natural gas averaged $3.90 per thousand cubic feet (mcf), up from $3.60 during the prior year's third quarter. The company's third quarter 2004 worldwide liquids price realizations (including hedging activities) were $38.85 per barrel, up from $27.28 in the third quarter 2003. Hedging activities in the 2004 third quarter decreased worldwide liquids realizations by $1.51 per barrel and decreased worldwide natural gas realizations by 3 cents per mcf.

Unocal's preliminary EBITDAX for the third quarter 2004 was $884 million, or $3.22 per share (diluted). This compares with $709 million, or $2.60 per share (diluted), for the same period in 2003. EBITDAX is net earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, depletion and amortization, impairments, exploration expenses, dry hole costs, special items, and the cumulative effect of accounting changes.

The company's total consolidated long-term debt (including current maturities) was $3.1 billion at Sept. 30, 2004. Because of an accounting rule change, in the first quarter 2004 the $522 million obligation for the Unocal Capital Trust convertible preferred securities was removed from the balance sheet and replaced by a debt liability of $538 million in 6-1/4-percent junior subordinated debentures of Unocal payable to Unocal Capital Trust. Approximately $269 million of this debt liability was repaid or converted to common stock in the third quarter 2004 in connection with Unocal's partial redemption of the trust's convertible preferred securities.

Unocal's cash and cash-equivalents were $780 million at Sept. 30, 2004.

Nine-months results

Preliminary net earnings for the first nine months of 2004 were $940 million, or $3.48 per share (diluted), compared with $463 million, or $1.78 per share (diluted), reported for the same period a year ago.

Unocal's preliminary adjusted after-tax earnings for the nine months 2004 were $764 million, or $2.84 per share (diluted). Unocal's adjusted after-tax earnings were $610 million, or $2.32 per share (diluted), for the nine months 2003.

4Q 2004 earnings outlook

For the fourth quarter 2004, Unocal is forecasting adjusted after-tax earnings of $1.15 to $1.30 per share (diluted). This forecast compares with the Thomson/First Call mean of analyst estimates (published Oct. 25, 2004) of 99 cents per share for the fourth quarter 2004. Unocal's fourth quarter forecast assumes average NYMEX benchmark prices of $53.00 per barrel of crude oil and $7.30 per million British thermal units (mmBtu) for North America natural gas for the period.

Unocal's fourth quarter 2004 adjusted after-tax earnings are expected to change $8 million for every $1 change in its average worldwide realized price for crude oil and $3 million for every 10-cent change in its average realized North America natural gas price, excluding the effect of hedging activities.

The forecast also assumes pretax dry hole costs in the fourth quarter of $50 to $75 million.

The fourth-quarter adjusted after-tax earnings forecast excludes special items and accounting changes. Because of the inherent uncertainty related to determining whether or when these items will occur and quantifying their dollar impact, Unocal does not believe it is able to provide a meaningful forecast of fourth-quarter net earnings.

2004 production outlook

Unocal currently expects worldwide production for the full-year 2004 to exceed 405,000 BOE per day.

The company's updated 2004-2005 net production outlook can be found in the Data Warehouse section of Unocal's Investor Relations web site, www.unocal.com. This document provides additional detailed ranges of the numerous areas of production, which describe the company's lowest and highest production estimates in those areas. In locations where Unocal is limited by market demand or pipeline capacity, the range is between the contract minimum and the highest past production or the estimated capacity limits of the producing assets. A sensitivity factor is provided to adjust future production for the impacts of PSC adjustments due to changes in oil prices.

Forward-Looking Statements; Preliminary 2004 Third Quarter Results This news release contains forward-looking statements about matters such as drilling and development plans and operations; dry hole costs; production rates, timing and growth; commodity prices; contingent payments pursuant to completed transactions; and adjusted after-tax earnings. Although these statements are based upon Unocal's current expectations and beliefs, they are subject to known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results and outcomes to differ materially from those described in, or implied by, the forward-looking statements, including volatility in commodity prices; the company's ability to find or acquire commercially productive oil and gas reservoirs and to develop and produce deepwater fields and other complex projects in a timely and cost-effective manner; local demand, infrastructure and the distance to markets for the company's hydrocarbon production; the accuracy of the company's estimates and judgments regarding hydrocarbon resources and formations; decline rates of producing properties; adverse geological and other operational factors; the extent of the company's operating cash flow and other capital resources available to fund its capital expenditures; international and domestic regulatory, political, and economic considerations; negotiations with, and performance by, foreign government entities, joint venture partners, independent contractors, equipment suppliers, operators of properties in which the company has an interest, and other third parties; competition within the company's highly competitive industry; and other factors discussed in Unocal's 2003 Annual Report on Form 10-K, as amended, and subsequent reports filed by Unocal with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Copies of the company's SEC filings are available from the company by calling 800-252-2233 or from the SEC by calling 800-SEC-0330. The reports are also available on the Unocal web site, www.unocal.com. Unocal undertakes no obligation to update the forward-looking statements in this news release to reflect future events or circumstances. All such statements are expressly qualified by this cautionary statement.

In addition, disclosures in this news release, including in the attached tables, regarding Unocal's third quarter 2004 financial results are preliminary. These disclosures are subject to change in connection with Unocal's preparation and filing of its Form 10-Q for the third quarter 2004.

Supplemental Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The news release includes certain "non-GAAP financial measures" as defined under SEC regulations. Specifically, Unocal has referred to (1) adjusted after-tax earnings and (2) EBITDAX. Adjusted after-tax earnings are defined as net earnings excluding special items and cumulative effects of accounting changes. EBITDAX is defined as net earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, depletion and amortization, asset impairments, exploration expenses, dry hole costs, special items and cumulative effects of accounting changes.

Special items represent certain significant matters which positively or negatively impact net earnings and that management determines to be not representative of the company's ongoing operations. Examples include: gain/loss from major asset sales; environmental remediation costs related primarily to inactive, closed or previously owned company facilities and third party sites; costs or settlements associated with major restructuring plans; litigation settlement costs primarily associated with former company operations or closed/inactive facilities; significant impairments due to changes in commodity prices; material damage to company facilities or operations due to fire, explosion, earthquakes, storms or other "acts of god" not covered by insurance; certain costs associated with major acquisitions including litigation and significant trading derivatives; and insurance recoveries associated with former company operations or for costs incurred in prior years.

Unocal's management believes that adjusted after-tax earnings is a useful supplemental financial measure to investors and analysts because it facilitates a focus on the company's ongoing operations and allows for convenient comparisons to the company's prior reporting periods. Adjusted after-tax earnings is also used as a factor in calculating various performance measures in connection with payments under the company's annual bonus plan, and it is used by management as a factor in reviewing business unit performance. Unocal's management believes that EBITDAX is helpful to investors and analysts because it facilitates a comparison of companies like Unocal that use the "successful efforts" accounting method with other companies in the exploration and production industry that utilize the "full-cost" method of accounting.

Adjusted after-tax earnings and EBITDAX are not substitutes for net earnings determined in accordance with GAAP as a measure of profitability or other GAAP financial measures. Special items excluded from these non-GAAP measures do in fact positively or negatively impact net earnings. Other companies may define special items differently, and the Thomson/First Call mean of analyst estimates may not use a similar definition. Hence, these measures may not be comparable with similarly titled amounts reported by other companies or analyst estimates reported by Thomson/First Call.

A quantitative historical reconciliation of adjusted after-tax earnings and EBITDAX to GAAP net earnings is found in this news release, including certain of the tables accompanying the text.
