ITEM 1. BUSINESS.

GENERAL

Airgas, Inc. and subsidiaries (Airgas or the Company) is the largest U.S. distributor of industrial, medical and specialty gases (delivered in packaged or cylinder form), and welding, safety and related products (hardgoods). Airgas also produces dry ice, liquid carbon dioxide, nitrous oxide, process chemicals and specialty gases for distribution throughout the United States. Airgas' integrated network of approximately 800 locations includes branches, retail stores, packaged gas fill plants, specialty gas labs, production facilities and distribution centers. Airgas also distributes its products and services to its diversified customer base through eBusiness, catalog and telesales channels. Sales were $1.79 billion, $1.64 billion, and $1.63 billion in fiscal years 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively.

The Company's two operating segments are Distribution and Gas Operations. Financial information by business segment can be found in Item 7, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (MD&A), and in Note 23 to the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements under Item 8, Financial Statements and Supplementary Data. Descriptions of the operating segments are as follows:

DISTRIBUTION

The Distribution segment accounts for over 90% of consolidated sales and reflects the distribution of industrial, medical and specialty gases, process chemicals and hardgoods. The Distribution segment also includes the equity affiliate earnings related to the Company's investment in National Welders Supply Company, Inc. (National Welders), which is a producer and distributor of industrial, medical and specialty gases and hardgoods.

Principal Products and Services

The Distribution segment's principal products and services include packaged and small bulk gases, gas cylinder and welding equipment rental, process chemicals and hardgoods. Gas sales include industrial, medical and specialty gases such as: nitrogen, oxygen, argon, helium, acetylene, carbon dioxide, nitrous oxide, hydrogen, welding gases, ultra high purity grades and special application blends. Rent is derived from gas cylinders, cryogenic liquid containers, bulk storage tanks, tube trailers and through the rental of welding equipment. Gas and rent represented approximately 53%, 47%, and 44% of the Distribution segment's sales in each of the fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Hardgoods consist of welding supplies and equipment, safety products, and industrial tools and supplies. In each of the fiscal years 2003, 2002, and 2001, hardgoods sales represented approximately 47%, 53%, and 56% of the Distribution segment's sales, respectively (see Note 23 of the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information regarding segment sales).

Principal Markets and Methods of Distribution

The Company believes that the market for industrial, medical and specialty gases in the United States is approximately $9.4 billion annually. The industry has three principal modes of distribution: on-site supply, bulk or merchant supply and cylinder (packaged gas) supply. In the U.S. market, on-site supply accounts for approximately 25% of sales, bulk or merchant supply accounts for approximately 35% of sales, and packaged gas supply accounts for the remaining 40% or $3.8 billion in sales. Airgas' market focus has been on the packaged gas segment of the market and on customers who purchase gases in small bulk quantities. Generally, packaged gas distributors also distribute welding products. The Company believes the U.S. market for welding products to be approximately $3.9 billion annually.

Edgar Filing: AIRGAS INC - Form 10-K

Airgas is the largest distributor of packaged gases and welding products in the United States, with approximately a 19% market share. The Company's competitors in this market are approximately 900 independent distributors that serve approximately 50% of the market through a fragmented distribution network. Large distributors, including vertically integrated gas producers such as Praxair, Inc. (Praxair), Liquid Air Corporation of America (Air Liquide), and BOC Gases Group (BOC Gases), serve the remaining 31% of the packaged gas market. The Company also sells safety equipment. The United States market for safety equipment is approximately $6 billion, of which Airgas' share is approximately 4%.

Customer Base

The Company's customer base is broad and includes many major industries. The Company estimates the following industry segments account for the indicated percentages of the Company's total sales:

Manufacturing (39%);

Service Sector (21%) - principally medical;

Wholesale Trade (13%),

Agriculture and Mining (4%);

Construction (9%);

Retail Consumer Establishments (7%);

Transportation and Utilities (5%); and

All Other (2%).

Suppliers

The Company purchases industrial, medical and specialty gases pursuant to requirements contracts from national and regional producers of industrial gases. In February 2002, the Company entered into a 15-year take-or-pay supply agreement under which Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. (Air Products) will supply at least 35% of the Company's bulk liquid nitrogen, oxygen and argon requirements. Additionally, the Company will purchase helium from Air Products under the terms of the supply agreement. Effective December 1, 2002, the Company entered into a 3-year take-or-pay supply agreement with BOC Gases to purchase liquid nitrogen, oxygen and argon. Under the BOC Gases agreement, BOC Gases will reserve specified production volumes at certain plants and the Company will purchase at least 75% of those volumes. At the conclusion of the initial 3-year term of the BOC agreement, the Company may elect to extend it for an additional 3-year term. Both the Air Products and BOC Gases supply agreements contain market pricing subject to certain economic indices and market analysis. Furthermore, the Company believes the minimum product purchases under the agreements are well within the Company's normal product purchases.

The Company also manufactures certain gases, including acetylene, nitrous oxide, nitrogen, oxygen and argon. The Company believes that, if a contractual arrangement with any supplier of gases or other raw materials was terminated, it would be able to locate alternative sources of supply without disruption of service. The Company purchases hardgoods from major manufacturers and suppliers. For certain products, the Company has negotiated national purchasing arrangements. The Company believes that if an arrangement with any supplier of hardgoods was terminated, it would be able to arrange comparable alternative supply arrangements.

GAS OPERATIONS

The Gas Operations segment produces and distributes certain gas products, principally dry ice, carbon dioxide, nitrous oxide and specialty gases. The Company also operates two air separation plants that produce oxygen, nitrogen and argon which are sold to on-site customers and to the Distribution segment. A description of the businesses included in the Gas Operations segment follows:

Dry Ice

The Company is a producer and distributor of dry ice. With 14 dry ice plants (converting liquid carbon dioxide into dry ice), the Company has the largest national network of conversion plants in the United States. Customers include food processors, food service, pharmaceutical and biotech industries, wholesale trade and grocery and other retail outlets. The dry ice business generally experiences a higher level of sales during the warmer months. The Company's carbon dioxide requirements are purchased from the vertically integrated producers of carbon dioxide and from internal production sources.

Carbon Dioxide

The Company is a producer and distributor of liquid carbon dioxide. Carbon dioxide is a byproduct of other chemical processes, typically the production of ammonia or ethanol. Carbon dioxide can also be extracted from natural wells. The Company's requirements are met by 9 Company-owned production facilities including a newly constructed plant in Hopewell VA, a 50%-owned joint venture, and long term supply contracts with vertically integrated gas producers. The Company believes the United States bulk supply market for liquid carbon dioxide is approximately $500 million annually. The largest customer segments include chemical producers and manufacturers of foods and beverages. The Company's market share is approximately 14% making it the third largest marketer of liquid carbon dioxide in the United States. However, the Company is heavily concentrated in the southeastern United States and maintains a 36% market share in that region.

Specialty and Other Gases

The Company operates six national labs, full-scale testing and blending facilities, which blend various special application gas mixes, ultra high purity grade gases, multi-component hydrocarbon blended EPA protocol gases, and vehicle emission standard gases. Gas mixtures are used in process control, final product qualification and emissions monitoring. Specialty gases produced are primarily sold to the Distribution segment (see Note 23 of the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements for disclosure related to inter-segment sales). The third-party customer base for these products consists primarily of environmental-related businesses, manufacturers of electronics, governmental entities, petroleum refiners, pharmaceutical companies and automotive businesses. Gas Operations also provides quality management and technical support to 46 regional labs, which are operated by the Distribution segment. The national and regional labs perform testing and certification services for gas purity. Twenty of the Company's labs are ISO 9001:2000 registered facilities for quality management in the manufacture and sale of specialty gases.

Nitrous Oxide

The Company is a manufacturer of nitrous oxide gas. Nitrous oxide is used as an anesthetic in the medical and dental fields, as a propellant in the packaged food business and is utilized in the manufacturing process of certain high technology electronics industries. The Company's market focus includes bulk customers as well as sales to the Distribution segment. The Company purchases the raw materials utilized in its nitrous oxide production pursuant to contracts with major manufacturers and suppliers.

Suppliers

The Company believes that if a contractual arrangement with any Gas Operations segment supplier was terminated, it would not have a material adverse effect on operations. However, two of the Company's 14 dry ice production facilities are located on property owned by BOC Gases. If the current arrangements with BOC Gases were terminated, the Company's dry ice production capabilities may be reduced.

AIRGAS GROWTH STRATEGIES

The Company's strategic objectives are to establish itself as the low-cost supplier in the industry and drive market-leading sales growth by leveraging its national distribution infrastructure. To meet these objectives, the Company has established the following strategic initiatives:

increasing market penetration by growing the strategic account business (sales to large customers with multiple locations), increasing account penetration by selling more products to existing customers, strengthening sales leadership training and leveraging the market presence of acquisitions;

migrating customers to the appropriate distribution channel by leveraging the Company's safety telesales capabilities, expanding its second-generation eBusiness capability and providing sales training on channel management;

improving supply chain efficiencies through more efficient cylinder filling and management, centralizing procurement, enhancing the operations of the Company's five regional distribution centers and implementing a company wide inventory management system;

implementing redesigned business processes to standardize and centralize certain support functions of the Company's matrix organization structure; and acquiring core packaged gas distributors to complement and expand its distribution network of locations.

These strategic objectives are primarily designed to facilitate aggressive sales and earnings growth.

REGULATORY AND ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERS

The Company's subsidiaries are subject to federal and state laws and regulations adopted for the protection of the environment and the health and safety of employees and users of the Company's products. The Company has programs for the operation and design of its facilities to achieve compliance with applicable environmental regulations. The Company believes that it is in compliance, in all material respects, with such laws and regulations. Expenditures for environmental compliance purposes during fiscal 2003 were not material.

INSURANCE

The Company has established insurance programs to cover workers' compensation, business automobile, general and products liability. These programs have self-insured retention of $500,000 per occurrence and an annual aggregate limit of $1.7 million of claims in excess of $500,000. The Company accrues estimated losses using actuarial models and assumptions based on the Company's historical loss experience.

EMPLOYEES

On March 31, 2003, the Company employed approximately 8,500 employees of whom less than 5% were covered by collective bargaining agreements. The Company believes it has good relations with its employees and has not experienced a significant strike or work stoppage in over ten years.

PATENTS, TRADEMARKS AND LICENSES

The Company holds the following registered trademarks: Airgas, Red-D-Arc, RED-D-ARC WELDERENTAL, Python, Viper, Extreme Gold Gas, SteelMIX, and RADNOR branded products. The Company also holds trademarks for AluMIX, and StainMIX. The Company believes that its businesses as a whole are not materially dependent upon any single patent, trademark or license.

COMPANY INFORMATION

The Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, Current Reports on Form 8-K and amendments to those reports filed with or furnished to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) are available free of charge on our website (www.airgas.com) under the Investors section. The Company makes these documents available as soon as reasonably practicable after they are filed with or furnished to the SEC.

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES.

The principal executive offices of the Company are located in leased space in Radnor, Pennsylvania.

The Company's Distribution segment operates a network of multiple use facilities consisting of 616 branch stores, 46 regional gas laboratories, 15 acetylene manufacturing facilities, 5 regional distribution centers, 195 cylinder fill plants and various customer call centers. The Distribution segment conducts business in 46 states. The Company owns approximately 26% of these facilities. The remaining facilities are primarily leased from third parties. A limited number of facilities leased from employees are on terms consistent with commercial rental rates prevailing in the surrounding rental market.

The Company's Gas Operations segment consists of businesses, located throughout the United States, which operate 39 branch locations, 9 liquid carbon dioxide and 14 dry ice production facilities, 2 air separation plants, 6 national gas laboratories, and 4 nitrous oxide production facilities. The Company owns approximately 45% of these facilities. The remaining facilities are leased from third parties.

During fiscal 2003, the Company's production facilities operated at approximately 81% of capacity based on an average daily production shift of 14 hours. If required, additional shifts could be run to expand production capacity.

The Company believes that its facilities are adequate for its present needs and that its properties are generally in good condition, well maintained and suitable for their intended use.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Company is involved in various legal and regulatory proceedings that have arisen in the ordinary course of its business and have not been fully adjudicated. These actions, when ultimately concluded and determined, will not, in the opinion of management, have a material adverse effect upon the Company's consolidated financial condition, results of operations or liquidity.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS.

No matters were submitted to a vote of security holders during the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003.

PART II

ITEM 5. MARKET FOR THE COMPANY'S COMMON STOCK AND RELATED STOCKHOLDER MATTERS.

The Company's common stock (the "common stock") is listed on the New York Stock Exchange (ticker symbol: ARG). The following table sets forth, for each quarter during the last two fiscal years, the high and low closing price per share for the common stock as reported by the New York Stock Exchange:

	High	Low
Fiscal 2003
First Quarter	$ 19.68	$ 15.72
Second Quarter	16.97	12.68
Third Quarter	17.25	11.87

Second Quarter	14.31	10.34
Third Quarter	15.65	12.79
Fourth Quarter	20.61	14.54

The closing sale price of the Company's common stock as reported by the New York Stock Exchange on June 19, 2003, was $18.19 per share. As of June 19, 2003, there were approximately 17,500 stockholders of record of the Company's common stock.

On May 13, 2003, the Company's Board of Directors declared the first quarterly cash dividend in the Company's history. The first quarterly dividend of $0.04 per share will be paid on June 30, 2003 to stockholders of record of the Company's common stock as of June 13, 2003. Future dividend declarations and the amounts thereof will depend upon the Company's earnings, financial condition, loan covenants, capital requirements and other factors deemed relevant by management and the Company's Board of Directors.

ITEM 6. SELECTED FINANCIAL DATA.

Selected financial data for the Company are presented in the table below and should be read in conjunction with Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations included in Item 7 and the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements and notes thereto included in Item 8 herein.

- (1) As discussed in Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and in the notes to the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8, the results for fiscal 2003 include a first quarter restructuring charge of $2.7 million ($1.7 million after-tax) related to the integration of the business acquired from Air Products and costs related to the consolidation of certain of the Company's hardgoods procurement functions.

Edgar Filing: AIRGAS INC - Form 10-K

- (2) As discussed in Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and in the notes to the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8, the results for fiscal 2002 include: (a) a non-cash after-tax charge of $59 million representing the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle associated with the adoption of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets; (b) a litigation settlement charge of $8.5 million ($5.7 million after-tax); and (c) a net non-recurring gain of $1.9 million ($120 thousand after-tax) related to divestitures and a write-down of a business held for sale to its net realizable value.
- (3) As discussed in Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and in the notes to the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8, the results for fiscal 2001 include: (a) net special charges of $3.6 million ($2.3 million after-tax), (b) litigation charges, net, of $5.8 million ($3.6 million after-tax), and (c) asset impairments associated with two equity affiliates of $700 thousand after-tax. The decrease in working capital compared to fiscal 2000 was partially attributable to a trade receivables securitization program entered into during fiscal 2001 and the classification of $50 million of medium-term notes maturing September 2001 as a component of Current Liabilities. Cash proceeds of approximately $73.2 million from the securitization program were used to reduce long-term debt.
- (4) The results for fiscal 2000 include: (a) special charge recoveries of $2.8 million ($1.7 million after-tax), (b) divestiture gains of $17.5 million ($8.6 million after-tax), (c) a litigation charge of $7.5 million ($4.8 million after-tax), (d) an inventory write-down of $3.8 million ($2.2 million after-tax), and (e) an after-tax charge of $590 thousand representing a change in accounting principle.
- (5) The results for fiscal 1999 include: (a) special charge recoveries of $1.0 million ($575 thousand after-tax), (b) divestiture gains of $25.5 million ($15 million after-tax), and (c) a $1.8 million after-tax non-recurring gain relating to insurance proceeds recorded by an equity affiliate.
- (6) Fiscal 2003 and Fiscal 2002 exclude the amortization of goodwill in accordance with SFAS 142.
- (7) The Company has not historically paid any dividends on its common stock. However, on May 13, 2003, the Company's Board of Directors declared the Company's first quarterly cash dividend. The first quarterly dividend of $.04 per share will be paid on June 30, 2003 to stockholders of record of the Company's common stock as of June 13, 2003.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Item 7.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS: 2003 COMPARED TO 2002

OVERVIEW

The Company's net sales for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003 (fiscal 2003) were $1.79 billion compared to $1.64 billion in the prior year. Sales growth was driven by the fiscal 2002 fourth quarter acquisition of the majority of Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. (Air Products) U.S. packaged gas business. The Company continues to pursue opportunistic acquisitions to complement its national distribution network, completing four acquisitions in fiscal 2003. Although there was significant acquisition-related sales growth, net sales were adversely affected by the sluggish economic environment. The weak manufacturing and industrial markets contributed to a same-store sales decline of 1.7% compared to the prior year reflecting lower hardgoods sales mitigated by higher gas and rent sales. Higher gas and rent sales reflect the Company's focus on strategic sales initiatives related to medical and bulk gases and strategic account customers. The Company's sales initiatives contributed to an 8% increase in medical gas sales, a 9% increase in bulk gas delivery sales, and a 7% increase in sales to strategic account customers. With a focus on controlling costs and improving operational effectiveness, the Company has also embarked on other strategic initiatives, including the centralization of certain hardgoods procurement functions, rollout of an inventory management system, and implementation of a sales force effectiveness program. The procurement centralization and inventory management system are expected to help lower both purchasing and inventory carrying costs. The sales force effectiveness program will assist the Company's sales representatives in targeting, monitoring and more effectively managing their customer accounts. Management believes that these sales and infrastructure programs will position the Company well to take advantage of a future economic rebound.

Fiscal 2003 net earnings were $68.1 million, or $.94 per diluted share, compared to a net loss of $10.4 million, or a loss of $.15 per diluted share, in fiscal 2002.

As discussed in the Income Statement Commentary below, fiscal 2003 results were affected by the following:

special charges of $2.7 million ($1.7 million after-tax), or $.03 per diluted share, consisting of a restructuring charge related to the integration of the business acquired from Air Products and costs related to the consolidation of certain hardgoods procurement functions. Fiscal 2002 results were affected by the following:

a non-cash after-tax charge of $59 million, or $.84 per diluted share, representing the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle associated with the adoption of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets,

a litigation settlement charge of $8.5 million ($5.7 million after-tax), or $.08 per diluted share, and a net non-recurring gain of $1.9 million ($120 thousand after-tax) resulting from divestitures and a write-down of a business held for sale to its net realizable value.

Edgar Filing: AIRGAS INC - Form 10-K

During fiscal 2003, the Company successfully integrated the business acquired from Air Products in the prior year. In addition, during fiscal 2003, the Company completed the acquisition of four complementary packaged gas distributors with combined annual sales of approximately $33 million. The acquired businesses will further expand the Company's broad distribution network and national market reach.

Strong cash flow fundamentals have been characteristics of the Company since its inception. The cash flow generated by the Company, excluding the cash generated from the expanded trade receivables securitization program that was used to pay down the Company's revolving credit facilities, enabled it to repay debt of $93.5 million in fiscal 2003. Additionally, the Company was able to reduce its off-balance sheet commitments by $2.5 million in fiscal 2003. Lower interest rates prevalent in the economy during fiscal 2003 also reduced the Company's debt service requirements and aided in the ability to repay debt as well as favorably impacted net earnings during the year.

Looking forward, the Company anticipates that fiscal 2004 may be difficult given the economic climate. The Company estimates that fiscal 2004 net earnings will be approximately $1.05 to $1.12 per diluted share. The low-end of the range is based on a continuation of the economic conditions experienced in fiscal 2003, while the high-end of the range reflects a modest improvement in the economy during fiscal 2004. Further, the Company estimates that net earnings in the fiscal 2004 first quarter will be $.24 to $.26 per diluted share. Same-store sales growth of 1% is targeted for the first half of fiscal 2004. Barring any significant deterioration in the economy, the Company intends to continue its initiatives designed to position itself for growth in the future as well as take advantage of acquisition opportunities as they arise.

INCOME STATEMENT COMMENTARY

Net Sales

Net sales increased 9.2% in fiscal 2003 compared to fiscal 2002 driven primarily by the prior year acquisition of Air Products' packaged gas business, while same-store sales declined 1.7%. The Company estimates same-store sales based on a comparison of current period sales to prior period sales, adjusted for acquisitions and divestitures. The pro-forma adjustments consist of adding acquired sales to, or subtracting sales of divested operations from, sales reported in the prior period. These pro forma adjustments are not reflected in the table below. The intercompany eliminations represent sales from the Gas Operations segment to the Distribution segment. The Company previously reflected these elimination entries within the Gas Operations segment.

(In thousands)	2003	2002	Increase (Decrease)
Distribution	$ 1,642,076	$ 1,494,267	$ 147,809	9.9%
Gas Operations	183,849	173,594	10,255	5.9%
Intercompany eliminations	(38,961)	(31,814)	(7,147)
	$ 1,786,964	$ 1,636,047	$ 150,917	9.2%

The Distribution segment's principal products include industrial, medical and specialty gases, process chemicals, equipment rental and hardgoods. Industrial, medical and specialty gases consist of packaged and small bulk gases. Equipment rental fees are generally charged on cylinders, cryogenic liquid containers, bulk tanks, tube trailers and welding equipment. Hardgoods consist of welding supplies and equipment, safety products, and industrial tools and supplies. Distribution segment sales increased $148 million (9.9%) driven by acquisitions, partially offset by a decline in same-store sales. The Company estimates that net acquisition and divestiture activity contributed $181 million to sales in fiscal 2003. The net acquisition and divestiture activity primarily reflects the current year impact of the February 28, 2002 acquisition of Air Products. The Air Products' operations contributed $17.6 million to the Company's fiscal 2002 net sales. On a same-store basis, the Distribution segment's sales decreased $33 million (-2.0%) reflecting a decline in hardgoods same-store sales of $42 million (-5.2%), partially offset by gas and rent sales growth of $9 million (1.1%). The decline in hardgoods same-store sales resulted from lower sales volumes of industrial tools and welding hardgoods, reflecting the general weakness in the industrial and manufacturing sectors of the economy. Although overall safety product sales were flat due to a decline in branch-based sales, safety product sales through the telesales channel grew 4%.

Distribution gas and rent same-store sales growth was driven by sales initiatives related to medical and bulk gases, as well as strategic accounts. The growth achieved through these initiatives was partially offset by volume declines in industrial gases reflecting the general weakness in the industrial and manufacturing sectors of the economy. Fiscal 2003 medical gas and rent revenues grew 8% to $125 million versus the prior year reflecting volume gains. Bulk gas and rent revenues increased to approximately $100 million, representing a 9% increase over the prior year with pricing remaining relatively stable. On a same-store basis, sales to strategic account customers (sales to large customers with multiple locations) grew 7% to $226 million in fiscal 2003 reflecting the Company's success in leveraging its broad distribution network to service large customers. Although several major strategic account customers purchased lower volumes of products, the addition of nearly 80 new strategic account customers during fiscal 2003 generated sales growth and supported the Company's long-term objective of growing strategic account sales by 10% annually. Rental revenue was also favorably impacted by an 8% increase in welding equipment rentals from the Company's expansion of its rental welder fleet. The Company has followed a strategy of focusing on strategic sales initiatives to drive sales growth and market penetration in the industries that it serves. The strategic sales initiatives are designed to develop niches in products and services that are expected to grow at a faster rate than the overall economy and to position the Company for growth into the future.

Edgar Filing: AIRGAS INC - Form 10-K

The Gas Operations segment's sales primarily include dry ice and carbon dioxide that are used for cooling and the production of food, beverages and chemical products. In addition, the segment includes businesses that produce and distribute specialty gases and nitrous oxide. Net of intercompany sales eliminations, Gas Operations' sales increased $3.1 million (2.2%), principally from net acquisition and divestiture activity and same-store sales growth. Acquired sales of high-end specialty gases from the Air Products acquisition more than offset divested sales from two nitrous oxide plants sold in the third quarter of fiscal 2002. Same-store sales increased $1.5 million (1%) driven by specialty gas sales and higher volumes of liquid carbon dioxide associated with the January 2003 completion of a new carbon dioxide plant in Hopewell, Virginia.

Gross Profits

Gross profits do not reflect depreciation expense and distribution costs. As disclosed in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, the Company reflects distribution costs as elements of Selling, Distribution and Administrative Expenses and recognizes depreciation on all its property, plant and equipment on the income statement line item Depreciation. Some companies may report certain or all of these costs as elements of their Cost of Products Sold. Consequently, gross profits discussed below may not be comparable to those of other entities.

Gross profits increased 14.6% and the gross profit margin increased 240 basis points to 52.4% in fiscal 2003 compared to 50% in fiscal 2002.

(In thousands)	2003	2002	Increase
Distribution	$ 835,756	$ 724,173	$ 111,583	15.4%
Gas Operations	100,892	93,121	7,771	8.3%
	$ 936,648	$ 817,294	$ 119,354	14.6%

Distribution gross profits increased approximately $112 million (15.4%) primarily from the Air Products acquisition. The Distribution segment's gross profit margin of 50.9% in fiscal 2003 increased 240 basis points from 48.5% in fiscal 2002. The gross margin improvement resulted from a shift in sales mix towards higher-margin gas and rent and reduced product discounting associated with the Company's hardgoods discount management program. The shift in sales mix was primarily attributable to the Air Products acquisition, which had a sales mix of 76% gas and rent. On a same-store basis, lower volumes of hardgoods also contributed to the shift in sales mix towards gas and rent. Distribution segment sales consisted of 52.6% gas and rent compared to 47.3% in the prior year.

Gas Operations' gross profits increased $7.8 million (8.3%) driven by lower raw material and production costs of the dry ice operations and net acquisition and divestiture activity. Gas Operations' gross profits were helped by lower raw material and production costs associated with dry ice, which reduced the cost per ton produced. Gross profits attributable to specialty gas business acquired from Air Products more than compensated for the fiscal 2002 divestiture of two nitrous oxide plants. Same-store sales growth of specialty gases also contributed to the increase in Gas Operations' gross profits. Gas Operations' gross profit margin of 54.9% increased 130 basis points from 53.6% in the prior year. Gas Operations' gross profit margin percentages were revised to reflect the change in the application of intercompany eliminations.

Operating Expenses

Selling, distribution and administrative expenses (SD&A) consist of labor and overhead associated with the purchasing, marketing and distribution of the Company's products, as well as costs associated with a variety of administrative functions such as legal, treasury, accounting, tax and facility-related expenses. SD&A expenses increased $78.9 million (12.7%) compared to the prior year principally from the addition of the Air Products' operations. Although salaries and benefits, fuel and acquisition integration costs increased in fiscal 2003 compared to the prior year, the increases were partially mitigated by lower legal expenses and management's focus on expense control in other areas. Legal expense in fiscal 2002 included a charge of $8.5 million associated with the settlement of litigation brought by a competitor. There were no similar charges in fiscal 2003. As a percentage of net sales, SD&A expenses increased 120 basis points to 39.1% compared to 37.9% in the prior year. The increase in operating expenses as a percentage of net sales reflects the addition of the Air Products business, a majority of which is comprised of the distribution of packaged gases. Packaged gas distribution typically carries higher operating expenses than the hardgoods portion of the business and correspondingly higher gross profit margins.

Edgar Filing: AIRGAS INC - Form 10-K

Depreciation expense of $73.5 million in fiscal 2003 increased $8.7 million (13.4%) compared to $64.8 million in fiscal 2002. The increase in depreciation expense was primarily due to the addition of the fixed assets from the Air Products acquisition.

Amortization expense of $6.4 million in fiscal 2003 decreased $1.8 million compared to $8.2 million in fiscal 2002. The decrease in amortization expense was primarily attributable to the expiration of certain non-compete agreements.

Special Charges

Special charges of $2.7 million incurred by the Distribution segment in fiscal 2003 consist of a first quarter restructuring charge related to the integration of the business acquired from Air Products and costs related to the consolidation of certain hardgoods procurement functions. The special charges included facility exit costs associated with the closure of certain facilities and severance for approximately 130 employees. The facilities exited and the affected employees were part of the Company's existing operations prior to the acquisition of the Air Products business.

Operating Income

Operating income increased 24.7% in fiscal 2003 compared to fiscal 2002.

(In thousands)	2003	2002	Increase
Distribution	$ 130,534	$ 103,430	$ 27,104	26.2%
Gas Operations	25,348	21,603	3,745	17.3%
	$ 155,882	$ 125,033	$ 30,849	24.7%

The Distribution segment's operating income margin of 7.9% in fiscal 2003 increased 100 basis points compared to 6.9% in fiscal 2002. The operating income margin increase reflects the higher gross profit margin, described above, partially offset by the special charge noted above and an increase in operating expenses as a percentage of sales.

The Gas Operations segment's operating income margin increased 140 basis points to 13.8% compared to 12.4% in fiscal 2002. The improved operating income margin reflects lower raw material and production costs of the Company's dry ice operations, higher gross profits from higher specialty gas sales leveraging fixed manufacturing costs, and a focus on cost control by management.

Interest Expense and Discount on Securitization of Trade Receivables

Interest expense, net, and the discount on securitization of trade receivables totaled $49.7 million representing a decrease of $2.2 million (-4.2%) compared to the prior fiscal year. The decrease in interest expense resulted from lower weighted-average interest rates associated with the Company's variable rate debt, partially offset by higher average debt levels. Higher average debt levels resulted from indebtedness associated with acquisition activity, principally the Air Products acquisition.

The Company participates in a securitization agreement with two commercial banks to sell up to $175 million of qualifying trade receivables. The amount of outstanding receivables under the agreement was $158.9 million and $134 million at March 31, 2003 and March 31, 2002, respectively. Net proceeds from the sale of trade receivables were used to reduce borrowings under the Company's revolving credit facilities. The discount on the securitization of trade receivables represents the difference between the carrying value of the receivables and the proceeds from their sale. The amount of the discount varies on a monthly basis depending on the amount of receivables sold and market rates.

As discussed in Liquidity and Capital Resources and in Item 7A Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk, the Company manages its exposure to interest rate risk through participation in interest rate swap agreements. Including the effect of the interest rate swap agreements, the Company's ratio of fixed to variable interest rates at March 31, 2003 was 41% fixed to 59% variable. A majority of the Company's variable rate debt is based on a spread over the London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR). Based on the Company's outstanding variable rate debt and credit rating at March 31, 2003, for every 25 basis point increase in LIBOR, the Company estimates its annual interest expense would increase approximately $1.2 million.

Other Income (Expense), net

Other income (expense), net, totaled $645 thousand of expense in fiscal 2003 compared to $1.4 million of income in fiscal 2002. Fiscal 2003 included a loss on a divestiture of $1.7 million partially offset by the favorable resolution of an indemnity claim of $1.5 million. Fiscal 2002 included a net non-recurring gain of $1.9 million consisting of a $7.4 million gain on the divestiture of two nitrous oxide plants partially offset by a $3.6 million charge to write down a business unit held for sale to its net realizable value and a $1.9 million loss resulting from an indemnity claim related to a prior period divestiture.

Income Tax Expense

The effective income tax rate was 37.7% of pre-tax earnings in fiscal 2003 compared to 38% in fiscal 2002.

Pursuant to an accelerated depreciation provision of a fiscal 2002 change in the tax law, the Company anticipated receiving a tax refund of approximately $19 million during fiscal 2003 related to the assets acquired in the Air Products acquisition. After further review, it was concluded that the Company would not be eligible for the refund in fiscal 2003, but instead would receive the cash benefit over the next four years. As a result, an adjustment was made in the first quarter of fiscal 2003 that resulted in approximately a $19 million reclassification between current and deferred income taxes. The adjustment did not impact net earnings or operating cash flows in the current period or in fiscal 2002.

Earnings before the Cumulative Effect of a Change in Accounting Principle

Earnings before the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle for fiscal 2003 were $68.1 million, or $.94 per diluted share, compared to $48.6 million, or $.69 per diluted share in fiscal 2002.

Cumulative Effect of a Change in Accounting Principle

In connection with the adoption of SFAS 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, on April 1, 2001, the Company performed an evaluation of goodwill, which indicated that goodwill of one reporting unit, its tool business, was impaired. Fiscal 2002 included a $59 million, or $.84 per diluted share, non-cash charge as the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle for the write-down of goodwill to its fair value. The impaired goodwill was not deductible for taxes, and consequently, no tax benefit was recorded in relation to the charge.

Net Earnings (Loss)

Net earnings for fiscal 2003 were $68.1 million, or $.94 per diluted share, compared to a net loss in fiscal 2002 of $10.4 million, or a loss of $.15 per diluted share.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS
OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS: 2002 COMPARED TO 2001

OVERVIEW

The Company's net sales for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2002 (fiscal 2002) were $1.64 billion compared to $1.63 billion in the prior year. Fiscal 2002 was marked by continued slowing of the U.S. economy, particularly in relation to industrial and manufacturing markets. Despite the weak economic environment, the Company was successful in maintaining sales through its focus on strategic sales initiatives, including account penetration through the sale of safety products and sales to strategic account customers. The Company also continued to implement selective price increases and a discount and contract management program during fiscal 2002 that helped offset rising costs related to purchased gases, personnel costs, insurance and process improvement initiatives. Results as reported in fiscal 2002 were a net loss of $10.4 million, or a loss of $.15 per diluted share, compared to net earnings of $28.2 million, or $.42 per diluted share, in fiscal 2001.

As discussed in the Income Statement Commentary below, fiscal 2002 results were affected by the following:

- a non-cash after-tax charge of $59 million, or $.84 per diluted share, representing the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle,

- a litigation settlement charge of $8.5 million ($5.7 million after-tax), or $.08 per diluted share, and

- a net non-recurring gain of $1.9 million ($120 thousand after-tax) resulting from divestitures and a write down of a business held for sale to its net realizable value.

Fiscal 2001 results were affected by the following:

- goodwill amortization of $14.4 million ($13.7 million after-tax), or $.20 per diluted share,

- net special charges of $3.6 million ($2.3 million after-tax), or $.03 per diluted share,

- litigation charges, net, of $5.8 million ($3.6 million after-tax), or $.06 per diluted share, and

- asset impairments associated with two equity affiliates of $700 thousand after-tax, or $.01 per diluted share.

Fiscal 2002 was a significant year for the Company. In February 2002, the Company completed the largest acquisition in its 20-year history with the acquisition of the majority of Air Products and Chemicals, Inc.'s U.S. packaged gas business for cash of $247 million, including transaction costs. The acquisition included 88 locations in 30 states associated with the filling and distribution of cylinders, liquid dewars, tube trailers, and other containers of industrial gases and non-electronic specialty gases, and the selling of welding hardgoods. In September 2001, the Company also acquired six distributor locations from Air Liquide America Corporation (Air Liquide) for $11 million. In a separate transaction in October 2001, the Company sold two of its nitrous oxide facilities to Air Liquide for cash proceeds of $10 million.

The Company entered into an agreement with Praxair, Inc. (Praxair) settling the litigation brought by Praxair against the Company in July 1996. The litigation alleged tortious interference with Praxair's right of first refusal agreement with National Welders Supply Company, Inc. The parties entered into the settlement agreement in order to avoid the time and expense of a lengthy trial, which was scheduled to begin in July 2002. The settlement resulted in the Company recognizing a charge of $8.5 million in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2002.

In July 2001, the Company refinanced its revolving credit facilities to extend the term to 2006. Concurrent with the financing, the Company issued $225 million of 9.125% senior subordinated notes. In conjunction with the Air Products acquisition, the Company also obtained a $100 million term loan from a syndicate of lenders. These transactions enabled the Company to finance the Air Products acquisition entirely with senior bank debt. In fiscal 2002, exclusive of acquisition and divestiture activity and the Company's trade receivables securitization, the Company reduced total debt by $119 million. The ability to reduce debt is indicative of the strong cash flow characteristics of the Company's business.

On April 1, 2001, the Company adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. SFAS 142 requires goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives to no longer be amortized, but instead be tested for impairment at least annually. With the adoption of SFAS 142, the Company used new criteria to assess whether goodwill associated with its business units was impaired. The valuation indicated that goodwill associated with the Company's tool business was impaired, which resulted in the recognition of a $59 million non-cash charge as the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle. The impaired goodwill was not deductible for taxes, and accordingly, no tax benefit was recorded in relation to the charge.

As prescribed by SFAS 142, fiscal 2002 results exclude the amortization of goodwill. For comparability to prior periods, certain discussions in the Management's Discussion and Analysis present fiscal 2001 results adjusted to exclude the amortization of goodwill. The actual results as reported in fiscal 2001 are presented in the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8. Additionally, Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements provides a reconciliation between the fiscal 2001 reported results and the adjusted results discussed in the Management's Discussion and Analysis.

INCOME STATEMENT COMMENTARY*Net Sales*

Net sales increased 0.4% in fiscal 2002 compared to 2001, reflecting same-store sales growth of 0.2%. The intercompany eliminations represent sales from the Gas Operations segment to the Distribution segment. The Company previously reflected these elimination entries within the Gas Operations segment.

(In thousands)	2002	2001	Increase (Decrease)
Distribution	$ 1,494,267	$ 1,487,422	$ 6,845	0.5%
Gas Operations	173,594	174,899	(1,305)	(0.7%)
Intercompany eliminations	(31,814)	(33,420)	1,606
	$ 1,636,047	$ 1,628,901	$ 7,146	0.4%

Sales of the Distribution segment increased $6.8 million driven by acquisitions, partially offset by a decline in same-store sales. Fiscal 2002 acquisitions contributed sales of $22.6 million. Distribution same-store sales decreased $15.8 million (-0.6%) resulting from a decline in hardgoods same-store sales of $59.9 million (-6.7%), partially offset by gas and rent sales growth of $44.1 million (7.1%). The decline in hardgoods same-store sales resulted from lower sales volumes of industrial tools and welding products reflecting the weak industrial and manufacturing environment, particularly with regard to metal fabrication and machinery industries. The decrease in hardgoods sales was correlated with the decline in non-tech industrial production during fiscal 2002. Partially offsetting the decline in tools and welding hardgoods, sales of safety products grew 4% to $258 million compared to the prior year reflecting continued success of account penetration initiatives and growth through the Company's telemarketing sales channel. Gas and rent same-store sales growth was driven by price increases during the year in response to rising costs and by growth derived from strategic sales initiatives. Growth in strategic gas sales was driven by higher volumes of medical, specialty and bulk gases. Rental revenue was also favorably impacted by a 12% increase in welder equipment rentals from the Company's expansion of its rental welder fleet. Sales to strategic account customers (sales to large customers with multiple locations) grew 10% to $165 million in fiscal 2002 reflecting the Company's success in leveraging its broad distribution network to service large customers. The Company has followed a strategy of focusing on strategic sales initiatives to drive sales growth and market penetration in the industries that it serves.

Gas Operations sales, net of intercompany sales eliminations, were flat as same-store sales growth was offset by divestiture activity. Same-store sales increased $7.4 million (5.9%) driven by price increases to help offset rising costs and higher volumes of liquid carbon dioxide and dry ice. Divestiture activity consisted of the sale of two nitrous oxide plants in fiscal 2002 and the divestiture of the Jackson Dome carbon dioxide reserves and associated pipeline (the Jackson Dome pipeline) in January 2001.

Edgar Filing: AIRGAS INC - Form 10-K

Gross Profits

Gross profits do not reflect depreciation expense and distribution costs. As disclosed in Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, the Company reflects distribution costs as elements of Selling, Distribution and Administrative Expenses and recognizes depreciation on all its property, plant and equipment on the income statement line item Depreciation. Some companies may report certain or all of these costs as elements of their Cost of Products Sold. Consequently, gross profits discussed below may not be comparable to those of other entities.

Gross profits increased 4.6% in fiscal 2002 compared to 2001. The gross profit margin increased 200 basis points to 50% in fiscal 2002 as compared to 48% in the prior year.

(In thousands)	2002	2001	Increase
Distribution	$724,173	$689,999	$34,174	5.0%
Gas Operations	93,121	91,702	1,419	1.5%
	$817,294	$781,701	$35,593	4.6%

Distribution gross profits increased $34.2 million from both same-store gross profit growth and acquisition activity. The Distribution segment's gross profit margin of 48.5% in fiscal 2002 increased 210 basis points from 46.4% in the prior year. The improved margin was primarily due to a shift in sales mix towards higher margin gas and rent sales as well as price increases and a discount management program. The shift in sales mix was driven principally by strategic sales initiatives and declining hardgoods sales. Gas and rent comprised 47.3% of Distribution sales compared to 43.5% in the prior year.

Gas Operations gross profits increased $1.4 million primarily from same-store gross profit growth of $5.5 million partially offset by divestiture activity. Same-store gross profit growth reflected higher volumes and pricing for liquid carbon dioxide and dry ice. Gas Operations gross profit margin of 53.6% increased 120 basis points from 52.4% in the prior year, reflecting volume gains leveraging fixed manufacturing costs and price increases. Gas Operations gross profit margin percentages were revised to reflect the change in the application of intercompany eliminations.

Operating Expenses

SD&A expenses increased $36 million (6.2%) compared to the prior fiscal year primarily from net acquisition and divestiture activity and higher costs associated with personnel, health and workers' compensation insurance, costs associated with the Company's Project One initiative and litigation. The Project One initiative began in the second half of fiscal 2001 and is focused on improving certain operational and administrative processes. Higher legal expenses resulted from a litigation settlement, discussed below. As a percentage of net sales, SD&A expenses increased 210 basis points to 37.9% from 35.8% in fiscal 2001.

Legal expenses were $11 million in fiscal 2002 compared to $7.5 million in fiscal 2001. Fiscal 2002 included a charge of $8.5 million, net of previously established reserves, to settle litigation brought by Praxair, a competitor, against the Company in July 1996. Fiscal 2001 included a charge of $6.9 million for costs to defend against the lawsuit brought by Praxair and the recovery of $1.1 million of costs associated with the settlement of a fiscal 2000 class action suite related to hazardous materials handling charges.

Amortization expense was $8.2 million in fiscal 2002 compared to $23.8 million in fiscal 2001. The decrease in amortization expense primarily relates to the adoption of SFAS 142 on April 1, 2001, under which goodwill is no longer amortized. Fiscal 2002 amortization expense relates to non-competition agreements, which are amortized over the terms of the respective agreements. Depreciation expense of $64.8 million in fiscal 2002 increased 3% compared to fiscal 2001.

Special Charges

Special charges, net, in fiscal 2001 of $3.6 million included a charge of $8.5 million related to a cost reduction plan implemented by the Company to improve operating results at certain business units as well as to mitigate rising operating expenses. The fiscal 2001 special charges impacted the Distribution segment by $6.3 million and the Gas Operations segment by $2.2 million. The fourth quarter 2001 cost reduction charge included severance costs for a reduction in workforce, exit costs for the closure of 30 branch locations and losses associated with the anticipated divestiture of certain non-core businesses. The non-core businesses to be divested generated annual sales of approximately $10 million in fiscal 2001 and were included in the Company's Distribution segment. The charge was partially offset by $4.9 million of special charge recoveries, recognized in the Gas Operations segment, primarily consisting of a favorable insurance settlement associated with the fiscal 1997 special charge. As a result, the Gas Operations segment reflected a net special charge recovery of $2.7 million in fiscal 2001.

Operating Income

Operating income increased 2.2% in fiscal 2002 as compared to 2001, adjusted to exclude the amortization of goodwill.

(In thousands)	2002	2001 (a)	Increase (Decrease)		As Reported 2001
Distribution	$ 103,430	$ 98,227	$ 5,203	5.3%	$ 85,907
Gas Operations	21,603	24,159	(2,556)	(10.6%)	22,042
	$ 125,033	$ 122,386	$ 2,647	2.2%	$ 107,949

(a) Fiscal 2001 operating income has been adjusted for comparative purposes to exclude the amortization of goodwill in connection with the fiscal 2002 adoption of SFAS 142.

The Distribution segment's operating income margin of 6.9% in fiscal 2002 increased from 6.6% in fiscal 2001, as adjusted. The increase reflects the absence in fiscal 2002 of the $6.3 million in fiscal 2001 special charges noted above. Excluding the impact of the fiscal 2001 special charges, the operating margins were relatively stable reflecting the Company's success in raising prices to offset higher operating expenses.

The Gas Operations segment's operating income margin was 12.4% in fiscal 2002, down 140 basis points from 13.8% in fiscal 2001, as adjusted. The decline in the operating income margin reflects the absence in fiscal 2002 of the fiscal 2001 $2.7 million net special charge recovery noted above. Additionally, higher gross profits from volume and price increases in fiscal 2002 were not enough to offset the divestiture of the Jackson Dome pipeline and the two nitrous oxide plants, both of which had higher than average operating margins reflected in the prior year's results.

Interest Expense and Discount on Securitization of Trade Receivables

Interest expense, net, and the discount on securitization of trade receivables totaled $51.9 million representing a decrease of $9.7 million (-15.7%) compared to the prior fiscal year. The decrease resulted primarily from lower average debt levels. The decrease in average debt levels was attributable to cash flow provided from operations and proceeds from the divestiture of the Jackson Dome pipeline in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2001. Although the Air Products acquisition increased debt levels at the end of fiscal 2002, average debt levels during fiscal 2002 were approximately $130 million lower than fiscal 2001. Weighted-average financing costs were slightly lower in the current year compared to the prior year as higher rates of fixed cost debt associated with the Company's July 2001 debt refinancing were offset by lower prevailing market rates related to variable rate debt.

The Company participates in a securitization agreement with two commercial banks to sell up to $175 million of qualifying trade receivables. The amount of outstanding receivables under the agreement was $134 million and $73 million at March 31, 2002 and March 31, 2001, respectively. Net proceeds from the sale of trade receivables were used to reduce borrowings under the Company's revolving credit facilities. The discount on the securitization of trade receivables represents the difference between the carrying value of the receivables and the proceeds from their sale. The amount of the discount varies on a monthly basis depending on the amount of receivables sold and market rates.

As discussed in Liquidity and Capital Resources and in Item 7A Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk, the Company manages its exposure to interest rate risk of certain borrowings through participation in interest rate swap agreements. Including the effect of interest rate swap agreements, the Company's ratio of fixed to variable interest rates at March 31, 2002 was 48% fixed to 52% variable. A majority of the Company's variable rate debt is based on a spread over LIBOR.

Other Income, net

Other income, net, totaled $1.4 million in fiscal 2002 compared to $242 thousand in fiscal 2001. Fiscal 2002 includes a net non-recurring gain of $1.9 million consisting of a $7.4 million gain on the divestiture of two nitrous oxide plants partially offset by a $3.6 million charge to write down a business unit held for sale to its net realizable value and a $1.9 million loss resulting from an indemnity claim related to a prior period divestiture.

Equity in Earnings of Unconsolidated Affiliates

Equity in earnings of unconsolidated affiliates of $3.8 million was relatively flat compared to $4.0 million in fiscal 2001, adjusted for comparative purposes to exclude goodwill amortization. Fiscal 2001 includes after-tax charges of $700 thousand related to asset impairments associated with two equity affiliates. Including goodwill amortization, equity in earnings of unconsolidated affiliates as reported in fiscal 2001 was $2.3 million.

Income Tax Expense

The effective income tax rate was 38.0% of pre-tax earnings in fiscal 2002 compared to 35.5% in fiscal 2001, adjusted for comparative purposes for the impact of SFAS 142. The increase in the effective income tax rate in fiscal 2002 was primarily due to the $3.6 million write-down of a business unit to its net realizable value, which was not deductible for income taxes. The effective income tax rate as reported in fiscal 2001 was 42.3%.

Earnings before the Cumulative Effect of a Change in Accounting Principle

Earnings before the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle for fiscal 2002 were $48.6 million, or $.69 per diluted share, compared to $28.2 million, or $.42 per diluted share in fiscal 2001.

Cumulative Effect of a Change in Accounting Principle

In connection with the adoption of SFAS 142, the Company performed an evaluation of goodwill as of April 1, 2001. The results of the evaluation indicated that goodwill related to one reporting unit, the Company's tool business, was impaired. The Company measured the amount of impairment based on a comparison of the fair value of the reporting unit to its carrying value. Accordingly, the Company recognized a $59 million, or $.84 per diluted share, non-cash, after-tax charge, recorded as of April 1, 2001, as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle for the write-down of goodwill of the tool business reporting unit to its fair value. The impaired goodwill was not deductible for taxes, and as a result, no tax benefit was recorded in relation to the charge.

On April 1, 2001, the Company adopted SFAS 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities, as amended by SFAS No. 137 and 138. SFAS 133 requires all derivatives to be recorded on the balance sheet at fair value. In accordance with the transition provisions of SFAS 133, the Company recorded the cumulative effect of this accounting change as a liability and a deferred loss of $6.7 million in the accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) component of stockholders' equity to recognize, at fair value, interest rate swap agreements that are designated as cash flow hedging instruments. Additionally, the Company recorded an asset and adjusted the carrying value of the hedged portion of its fixed rate debt by $6 million to recognize, at fair value, interest rate swap agreements that are designated as fair value hedging instruments.

Net Earnings (Loss)

The Company recognized a net loss in fiscal 2002 of $10.4 million, or a loss of $.15 per diluted share, compared to net earnings of $28.2 million, or $.42 per diluted share, in fiscal 2001.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Fiscal 2003 Cash Flows

Net cash provided by operating activities totaled $194.4 million in fiscal 2003 compared to $249.4 million in fiscal 2002. The decline in operating cash flows resulted from the completion of the second tranche of the trade receivables securitization program in the prior year period. Excluding the trade receivables securitization, cash provided by operating activities decreased by approximately $19 million. Fiscal 2003 cash flows from operations were driven by an increase in net earnings offset by cash used for working capital. Cash used for working capital in the current period primarily resulted from the settlement of accrued expenses and higher levels of trade receivables. Accrued expenses used cash primarily due to the payment of prior year obligations associated with the Praxair, Inc. litigation, accrued interest on the senior subordinated notes, and prior year bonuses. The Company's trade receivables increased due to the higher level of sales from the operations acquired from Air Products. Cash flows provided by operating activities were primarily used to fund capital expenditures and to repay outstanding debt.

Cash used in investing activities totaled $87 million and primarily consisted of capital expenditures and acquisitions, partially offset by proceeds from the sale of plant and equipment and a divestiture. Capital expenditures of $68 million were approximately $10 million higher than fiscal 2002 primarily due to construction of a liquid carbon dioxide plant in Hopewell, Virginia during fiscal 2003. The Company estimates fiscal 2004 capital spending will remain approximately $70 million. Cash of $27.2 million was used in fiscal 2003 to acquire four packaged gas distributors and to settle liabilities associated with the Air Products acquisition. The divestiture of Kendeco, Inc., an industrial tool business, during the first quarter of fiscal 2003 provided cash of $3.2 million.

Financing activities used cash of $107.4 million primarily for the net repayment of debt under the Company's revolving credit facilities of $118.4 million. Financing activities also included proceeds received from the exercise of stock options of $9.8 million and an increase in the cash overdraft of $1.1 million. The cash overdraft represents the change in the balance of outstanding checks.

Cash on hand at the end of each fiscal year is zero. On a daily basis, depository accounts are swept of all available funds. The funds are deposited into a concentration account through which all cash on hand is used to repay debt under the Company's revolving credit facilities.

The Company will continue to look for appropriate acquisitions of businesses to complement its broad distribution network. Capital expenditures, current debt maturities and any future acquisitions will be funded through the use of cash flow from operations, revolving credit facilities, and other financing alternatives. The Company believes that its sources of financing are adequate for its anticipated needs and that it could arrange additional sources of financing for unanticipated requirements. The cost and terms of any future financing arrangement depend on the market conditions and the Company's financial position at that time.

Dividends

On May 13, 2003, the Company's Board of Directors declared the first quarterly cash dividend in the Company's history. The first quarterly dividend of $.04 per share will be paid on June 30, 2003 to stockholders of record of the Company's common stock as of June 13, 2003. Future dividend declarations and associated amounts paid will depend upon the Company's earnings, financial condition, loan covenants, capital requirements and other factors deemed relevant by management and the Company's Board of Directors.

Financial Instruments

Revolving Credit Facilities

The Company has unsecured revolving credit facilities with a syndicate of lenders totaling $367.5 million and $50 million Canadian (U.S. $33.9 million) under a credit agreement with a maturity date of July 30, 2006. At March 31, 2003, the Company had borrowings under the credit agreement of approximately $124 million and $31 million Canadian (U.S. $21 million). The Company also had commitments under letters of credit supported by the credit agreement of approximately $31 million at March 31, 2003. The credit agreement contains covenants that include the maintenance of certain leverage ratios, a fixed charge ratio, and potential restrictions on certain additional borrowing, the amount of dividends declared and paid, and the repurchase of common stock. Based on restrictions related to certain leverage ratios, the Company had additional borrowing capacity under the revolving credit facilities of approximately $197 million at March 31, 2003. The variable interest rates of the U.S. and Canadian revolving credit facilities are based on the London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR) and Canadian Bankers' Acceptance Rates, respectively. At March 31, 2003, the effective interest rates on borrowings under the revolving credit facilities were 3.52% on U.S. borrowings and 3.08% on Canadian borrowings.

Borrowings under the revolving credit facilities are guaranteed by certain of the Company's domestic subsidiaries and Canadian borrowings are guaranteed by foreign subsidiaries. During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2002, the Company's credit rating as determined by third-party credit agencies was lowered in response to additional indebtedness related to the Air Products acquisition. The lower credit rating required the Company to pledge 100% of the stock of its domestic guarantor subsidiaries and 65% of the stock of its foreign guarantor subsidiaries for the benefit of the syndicate of lenders. If the Company's credit rating is further reduced, the Company will be required to grant a security interest in substantially all of the tangible and intangible assets of the Company for the benefit of the syndicate of lenders. In January 2003, one third-party credit agency reaffirmed the Company's credit rating and revised its outlook to positive from stable based on expectations that the Company's financial position will continue to strengthen as economic conditions improve.

In May 2003, the Company obtained an amendment to its credit agreement associated with its revolving credit facilities. Subject to existing financial covenants, the amendment allows for the issuance of up to an additional $200 million of senior public debt and for the expansion of its senior credit facilities by up to $150 million. The amendment also provided the Company with additional flexibility to pay dividends and repurchase shares as well as invest in acquisitions.

Term Loan

In connection with the fiscal 2002 Air Products acquisition, the Company obtained a $100 million term loan from a syndicate of lenders. The term loan is due in quarterly installments with a final payment due July 30, 2006. Principal payments on the term loan are classified as Long-term Debt in the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets based on the Company's ability and intention to refinance them with borrowings under its long-term revolving credit facilities. The term loan is unsecured and bears a variable interest rate based on LIBOR plus a spread related to the Company's credit rating. At March 31, 2003, the Company had $87 million outstanding under the term loan at an effective interest rate of 3.29%.

Medium-Term Notes

The Company had the following medium-term notes outstanding at March 31, 2003: $75 million of unsecured notes due March 2004 bearing interest at a fixed rate of 7.14% and $100 million of unsecured notes due September 2006 bearing interest at a fixed rate of 7.75%. The medium-term notes due in March 2004 are classified as Long-term debt based upon the Company's ability and intention to refinance the medium-term notes with borrowings under its long-term revolving credit facilities. Additionally, the medium-term notes are guaranteed by each of the domestic guarantors under the revolving credit facilities.

Acquisition and Other Notes

The Company's long-term debt also included acquisition and other notes principally consisting of notes issued to sellers of businesses acquired and are repayable in periodic installments. At March 31, 2003, acquisition and other notes totaled approximately $10 million with interest rates ranging from 7.00% to 9.00%.

Senior Subordinated Notes

The Company has $225 million of senior subordinated notes (the Notes) outstanding with a maturity date of October 1, 2011. The Notes bear interest at a fixed annual rate of 9.125%, payable semi-annually on April 1 and October 1 of each year. The Notes contain covenants that could restrict the amount of dividends declared and paid, issuance of preferred stock, and the incurrence of additional indebtedness and liens. The Notes are guaranteed on a subordinated basis by each of the domestic guarantors under the revolving credit facilities.

Interest Rate Swap Agreements

The Company manages its exposure to changes in market interest rates. At March 31, 2003, the Company was party to a total of nine interest rate swap agreements. The swap agreements are with major financial institutions and aggregate $245 million in notional principal amount at March 31, 2003. Four swap agreements with approximately $90 million in notional principal amount require the Company to make fixed interest payments based on an average effective rate of 4.55% and receive variable interest payments from its counterparties based on three-month LIBOR (average rate of 1.36% at March 31, 2003). The remaining terms of these swap agreements range from between sixteen and thirty-one months. Five swap agreements with approximately $155 million in notional principal amount require the Company to make variable interest payments based primarily on six-month LIBOR (average effective rate of 3.05% at March 31, 2003) and receive fixed interest payments from its counterparties based on an average effective rate of 8.05% at March 31, 2003. The remaining terms of these swap agreements range from between one and nine years. The Company monitors its positions and the credit ratings of its counterparties, and does not anticipate non-performance by the counterparties. After considering the effect of interest rate swap agreements on the Company's debt and off-balance sheet financing agreements, the Company's ratio of fixed to variable interest rates was 41% fixed to 59% variable at March 31, 2003.

A majority of the Company's variable rate debt is based on a spread over LIBOR. Based on the Company's outstanding variable rate debt and credit rating at March 31, 2003, for every increase in LIBOR of 25 basis points, the Company estimates its annual interest expense would increase approximately $1.2 million.

Trade Receivables Securitization

The Company participates in a securitization agreement with two commercial banks to sell up to $175 million of qualifying trade receivables. The agreement was originally to expire in December 2003, but the agreement was extended to December 2005, and remains subject to renewal provisions contained in the agreement. During fiscal 2003, the Company sold, net of its retained interest, $1.879 billion of trade receivables and remitted to bank conduits, pursuant to a servicing agreement, $1.720 billion in collections on those receivables. The net proceeds were used to reduce borrowings under the Company's revolving credit facilities. The amount of outstanding receivables under the agreement was $158.9 million at March 31, 2003 and $134 million at March 31, 2002.

The transaction has been accounted for as a sale under the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 140, Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities. Under the securitization agreement, eligible trade receivables are sold to bank conduits through a bankruptcy-remote special purpose entity, which is consolidated for financial reporting purposes. The difference between the proceeds from the sale and the carrying value of the receivables is recognized as Discount on securitization of trade receivables in the accompanying Consolidated Statements of Earnings and varies on a monthly basis depending on the amount of receivables sold and market rates. The Company retains a subordinated interest in the receivables sold, which is recorded at the receivables' previous carrying value. A subordinated retained interest of approximately $45 million and $41 million is included in Trade receivables in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets at March 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The Company's retained interest is generally collected within 60 days. On a monthly basis, management measures the fair value of the retained interest at management's best estimate of the undiscounted expected future cash collections on the transferred receivables. Changes in the fair value are recognized as bad debt expense. Actual cash collections may differ from these estimates and would directly affect the fair value of the retained interest. In accordance with a servicing agreement, the Company will continue to service, administer and collect the trade receivables on behalf of the bank conduits. The servicing fees charged to the bank conduits approximate the costs of collections.

Operating Lease with Trust

The Company leases real estate and certain equipment from a trust established by a commercial bank. The operating leases are structured as a sale-leaseback transaction in which the trust holds title to the properties and equipment included in the leases. The operating leases terminate in October 2004, but may be renewed subject to provisions of the lease agreements. The rental payments are based on LIBOR plus an applicable margin and the cost of the property acquired by the trust. At March 31, 2003, the non-cancelable lease obligation of the real estate and equipment lease totaled approximately $42 million. The Company has guaranteed a residual value of the real estate and the equipment at the end of the lease term of approximately $30 million. A gain of approximately $12 million on the equipment portion of the transaction has been deferred until the expiration of the Company's guarantee of the residual value. The trust established in connection with the sale-leaseback arrangement has been determined to be a variable interest entity as defined by Financial Interpretation (FIN) No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities. In accordance with FIN 46, the Company will consolidate the trust for financial reporting purposes effective July 1, 2003.

Employee Benefits Trust

The Company maintains a grantor trust (the Trust) to fund certain future obligations of the Company's employee benefit and compensation plans. The Company, pursuant to a Common Stock Purchase Agreement, sold shares of common stock to the Trust. During fiscal 1999 through 2001, the Trust purchased a total of approximately 7 million shares of common stock, previously held as treasury stock, from the Company, for approximately $54 million (based on the average market closing price for the five days preceding each transaction). The Company holds promissory notes from the Trust in the amount of each purchase. Shares held by the Trust serve as collateral for the promissory notes and are available to fund certain employee benefit plan obligations as the promissory notes are repaid. The shares held by the Trust are not considered outstanding for earnings per share purposes until they are released from serving as collateral for the promissory notes. Approximately 900 thousand and 1.4 million shares were issued from the Trust for employee benefit programs during fiscal 2003 and 2002, respectively. As of March 31, 2003, the Trust held approximately 3.4 million shares of Company common stock. An independent third-party financial institution serves as the Trustee. The Trustee votes or tenders shares held by the Trust in accordance with instructions received from the participants in the employee benefit and compensation plans funded by the Trust.

Inflation

While the U.S. inflation rate has been relatively modest for several years, rising costs continue to affect the Company's business. The Company strives to minimize the effects of inflation through cost containment and price increases under highly competitive conditions.

OTHER

Critical Accounting Policies

The preparation of financial statements and related disclosures in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make judgments, assumptions and estimates that affect the amounts reported in the Consolidated Financial Statements and accompanying notes. Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements describes the significant accounting policies and methods used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. Estimates are used for, but not limited to, determining the net carrying value of trade receivables, inventories, goodwill, other intangible assets and business insurance reserves. Actual results could differ from these estimates. The following critical accounting policies are impacted significantly by judgments, assumptions and estimates used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Trade Receivables

The Company must make estimates of the collectability of its trade receivables. Management has established an allowance for doubtful accounts to adjust the carrying value of trade receivables to fair value based on an estimate of the amount of trade receivables that are uncollectible. The allowance for doubtful accounts is determined based on historical experience, economic trends, and known bankruptcies and problem accounts. Management believes that the allowances for doubtful accounts as of March 31, 2003 and 2002 are adequate.

Inventories

The Company's inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market. The Company writes down its inventory for estimated obsolescence or unmarketable inventory equal to the difference between the cost of inventory and the estimated market value based upon its physical condition as well as assumptions about future demand and market conditions. If actual demand or market conditions in the future are less favorable than those estimated, additional inventory write-downs may be required.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

The Company adopted SFAS 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, as of April 1, 2001. SFAS 142 requires goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives will not be amortized, but instead be tested for impairment at least annually. The Company has elected to perform its annual tests for indications of goodwill impairment as of October 31 of each year. The annual impairment test used by the Company consists of a discounted cash flow analysis. The discounted cash flow analysis requires estimates, assumptions and judgments that could be materially different if different estimates, assumptions and judgments were used.

Business Insurance Reserves

The Company has insurance programs to cover workers' compensation, business automobile, general and products liability. The insurance programs have self-insured retention of $500 thousand per occurrence and an annual aggregate limit of $1.7 million of claims in excess of $500 thousand. The Company accrues estimated losses using actuarial models and assumptions based on the Company's historical loss experience. Although management believes that the insurance reserves are adequate, the reserve estimates are based on historical experience, which may not be indicative of current and future losses. In addition, the actuarial calculations used to estimate insurance reserves are based on numerous assumptions, some of which are subjective. The Company will adjust its insurance reserves, if necessary, in the event that future loss experience differs from historical loss patterns.

New Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations. SFAS 143 requires the recognition of a liability for an asset retirement obligation in the period in which it is incurred. A retirement obligation is defined as one in which a legal obligation exists in the future resulting from existing laws, statutes or contracts. The Company was required to adopt SFAS 143 on April 1, 2003. The Company's adoption of SFAS 143 did not have a material impact on its results of operations, financial position or liquidity.

In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 149, Amendment of Statement 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS 149 amends and clarifies financial accounting and reporting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts and for hedging activities under SFAS 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS 149 requires, among other things, that contracts with comparable characteristics be accounted for similarly and clarifies the circumstances under which a contract with an initial net investment meets the characteristic of a derivative and when a derivative contains a financing component that warrants special reporting in the statement of cash flows. SFAS 149 is generally effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003 and for hedging relationships designated after June 30, 2003. The Company has not yet determined the impact that the adoption of SFAS 149 will have on its financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

In May 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 150, Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity. SFAS 150 establishes standards for how an issuer classifies and measures certain financial instruments with characteristics of both liabilities and equity in the statement of financial position. The Standard requires that an issuer classify a financial instrument that is within its scope as a liability (or an asset in some circumstances). Many of those financial instruments were previously classified as equity. SFAS 150 is effective for financial instruments entered into or modified after May 31, 2003, and otherwise is effective for the Company as of July 1, 2003. The Company does not believe that adoption of SFAS 150 will have a material impact on its financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

In January 2003, the FASB issued Financial Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, (FIN 46). FIN 46 addresses consolidation by a business enterprise of variable interest entities. Variable interest entities are defined as corporations, partnerships, trusts, or any other legal structure used for business purposes, and by design, the holders of equity instruments in those entities lack one of the characteristics of a controlling financial interest. Under previous accounting practice, entities generally were not consolidated unless the entity was controlled through voting interests. FIN 46 changes previous accounting practice by requiring a variable interest entity to be consolidated by a company if that company is subject to a majority of the risk of loss from the variable interest entity's activities or entitled to receive a majority of the entity's residual returns or both. FIN 46 applied immediately to variable interest entities created after January 31, 2003. It applies in the first fiscal year or interim period beginning after June 15, 2003, to variable interest entities in which an enterprise holds a variable interest in existence before February 1, 2003. If it is reasonably possible that an enterprise will consolidate or disclose information about a variable interest entity when FIN 46 becomes effective, then disclosure is required in financial statements issued after January 31, 2003. Accordingly, the Company has provided certain disclosures required by FIN 46 in Notes 15 and 20 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included herein.

Forward-looking Statements

This report contains statements that are forward looking within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements include, but are not limited to, statements regarding: the Company's strategy of leveraging its distribution network and focusing on strategic sales initiatives to drive sales growth and market penetration in the industries that it serves; management's belief that the Company's sales and infrastructure programs will position the Company well to take advantage of a future economic rebound; the expectation that the procurement centralization and inventory management system will lower both purchasing and inventory carrying costs; the success of the sales effectiveness program in assisting the Company's sales representatives in targeting, monitoring and more effectively managing their customer accounts; the Company's anticipation that fiscal 2004 may be difficult given the economic climate; the Company's estimate that net earnings in fiscal 2004 will be in the range of $1.05 to $1.12 per diluted share; the Company's estimate that net earnings in the fiscal 2004 first quarter will be $.24 to $.26 per diluted share; the Company's estimate of same-store sales growth of 1% for the first half of fiscal 2004; the Company's long-term objective of growing strategic account sales by 10% annually; the success of strategic sales initiatives in developing niches in products and services that are expected to grow at a faster rate than the overall economy and position the Company for future growth; the success of the Project One initiative in improving certain operational and administrative processes; the Company's estimate that for every 25 basis point increase in LIBOR, annual interest expense will increase approximately $1.2 million; the Company's strong cash flow characteristics and its ability to reduce debt; the Company's estimate of fiscal 2004 capital spending of approximately $70 million; the identification of acquisition candidates; the funding of capital expenditures, current debt maturities and any future acquisitions through the use of cash flow from operations, revolving credit facilities and other financing alternatives; the ability of the Company to arrange additional sources of financing for unanticipated requirements; the effect on the Company of higher interest rates; and performance of counterparties under interest rate swap agreements. These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those predicted in any forward-looking statement include, but are not limited to: adverse customer response to the Company's strategic sales initiatives and resulting inability to drive sales growth and market penetration; the ineffectiveness of the Company's infrastructure programs in lowering purchasing and inventory carrying costs; the Company's inability to identify niche products and services that will grow at a faster rate than the overall economy; the Company's inability to control operating expenses and the potential impact of higher operating expenses in future periods; adverse changes in customer buying patterns; the inability of the Company's Project One initiatives to improve operational and administrative processes; an economic downturn (including adverse changes in the specific markets for the Company's products); higher than estimated interest expense resulting from increases in LIBOR and/or changes in the Company's credit rating; disruption to the Company's business from integration problems associated with acquisitions; higher or lower capital spending in fiscal 2004 than that estimated by the Company; inability to generate sufficient cash flow from operations or other sources to fund future acquisitions, capital expenditures, current debt maturities and to reduce debt; the inability to identify and successfully integrate acquisition candidates; changes in the Company's debt levels and/or credit rating which prevent the Company from arranging additional financing; the inability to manage interest rate exposure; the effects of competition from independent distributors and vertically integrated gas producers on products, pricing and sales growth; changes in product prices from gas producers and name-brand manufacturers and suppliers of hardgoods; uncertainties regarding accidents or litigation which may arise in the ordinary course of business; and the effects of, and changes in, the economy, monetary and fiscal policies, laws and regulations, inflation and monetary fluctuations and fluctuations in interest rates, both on a national and international basis. The Company does not undertake to update any forward-looking statement made herein or that may be made from time to time by or on behalf of the Company.

ITEM 7A. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK*Interest Rate Risk*

The Company manages its exposure to changes in market interest rates. The interest rate exposure arises primarily from the interest payment terms of the Company's borrowing agreements. Interest rate swap agreements are used to adjust the interest rate risk exposures that are inherent in its portfolio of funding sources. The Company has not, and will not establish any interest risk positions for purposes other than managing the risk associated with its portfolio of funding sources. The Company maintains the ratio of fixed to variable rate debt within parameters established by management under policies approved by the Board of Directors. Including the effect of interest rate swap agreements on the Company's debt and off-balance sheet financing agreements, the Company's ratio of fixed to variable rate debt was 41% to 59% at March 31, 2003. Counterparties to interest rate swap agreements are major financial institutions. The Company has established counterparty credit guidelines and only enters into transactions with financial institutions with long-term credit ratings of A or better. In addition, the Company monitors its position and the credit ratings of its counterparties, thereby minimizing the risk of non-performance by the counterparties.

The table below summarizes the Company's market risks associated with long-term debt obligations, interest rate swaps and LIBOR-based agreements as of March 31, 2003. For long-term debt obligations, the table presents cash flows related to payments of principal and interest by fiscal year of maturity. For interest rate swaps and LIBOR-based agreements, the table presents the notional amounts underlying the agreements by year of maturity. The notional amounts are used to calculate contractual payments to be exchanged and are not actually paid or received. Fair values were computed using market quotes, if available, or based on discounted cash flows using market interest rates as of the end of the period.

(a) The variable rate of U.S. revolving credit facilities and term loan is based on LIBOR as of March 31, 2003. The variable rate of the Canadian dollar portion of the revolving credit facilities is the rate on Canadian Bankers' acceptances as of March 31, 2003.

(b) The operating lease terminates October 8, 2004, but may be renewed subject to provisions of the lease agreement.

(c) The agreement was originally to expire in December 2003, but the agreement was extended to December 2005, and remains subject to renewal provisions contained in the agreement.

Limitations of the tabular presentation

As the table incorporates only those interest rate risk exposures that exist as of March 31, 2003, it does not consider those exposures or positions that could arise after that date. In addition, actual cash flows of financial instruments in future periods may differ materially from prospective cash flows presented in the table due to future fluctuations in variable interest rates, debt levels and the Company's credit rating.

Foreign Currency Rate Risk

Canadian subsidiaries of the Company are funded with local currency debt. The Company does not otherwise hedge its exposure to translation gains and losses relating to foreign currency net asset exposures. The Company considers its exposure to foreign currency exchange fluctuations to be immaterial to its consolidated financial position and results of operations.

ITEM 8. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY DATA.

The consolidated financial statements, supplementary information and financial statement schedule of the Company are set forth at pages F-1 to F-51 of the report.

ITEM 9. CHANGES IN AND DISAGREEMENTS WITH ACCOUNTANTS ON ACCOUNTING AND FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE.

None.

PART III

ITEM 10. DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS OF THE COMPANY.

The biographical information of the Company's directors appearing in the Proxy Statement relating to the Company's 2003 Annual Meeting of Stockholders is incorporated herein by reference. Biographical information relating to the Company's executive officers set forth in Item 1 of Part I of this Form 10-K Report is incorporated herein by reference.

ITEM 11. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION.

The information under "Board of Directors and Committees," "Executive Compensation" and "Certain Transactions" appearing in the Proxy Statement relating to the Company's 2003 Annual Meeting of Stockholders is incorporated herein by reference.

ITEM 12. SECURITY OWNERSHIP OF CERTAIN BENEFICIAL OWNERS AND MANAGEMENT.

The information required by this Item is set forth in the sections headed "Security Ownership" and "Equity Compensation Plan Information" under "Executive Compensation" appearing in the Company's Proxy Statement relating to the Company's 2003 Annual Meeting of Stockholders and such information is incorporated herein by reference.

ITEM 13. CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS.

None.

ITEM 14. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

(a) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Within 90 days prior to the date of this report, the Company carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 Rules 13a-14(c) and 15-d-14(c)). Based on that evaluation, the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that as of such date, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in the reports it files or submits under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is recorded, processed, summarized and reported in the periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms.

(b) Changes in Internal Controls

As part of the efforts to improve operating efficiencies, the Company has been consolidating and outsourcing certain financial functions to a shared services center. The internal control structure related to these functions continues to be modified to reflect the new processing environment associated with the shared services center. In executing this transition, management continues to monitor the effectiveness of the new control structure. There were no significant changes to the Company's internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect those controls subsequent to the date of their evaluation.

ITEM 15. PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTANTS FEES AND SERVICES.

The information required by this Item is set forth in the Proxy Statement under the section "Proposal to Ratify Accountants" and such information is incorporated herein by reference.

PART IV

ITEM 16. EXHIBITS, FINANCIAL STATEMENT SCHEDULES, AND REPORTS ON FORM 8-K.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors
Airgas, Inc.:

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Airgas, Inc. and subsidiaries (the Company) listed in the accompanying index. In connection with our audits of the consolidated financial statements, we also have audited the financial statement schedule listed in the accompanying index. These consolidated financial statements and financial statement schedule are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements and financial statement schedule based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Airgas, Inc. and subsidiaries as of March 31, 2003 and 2002, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended March 31, 2003, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Also in our opinion, the related financial statement schedule, when considered in relation to the basic consolidated financial statements taken as a whole, presents fairly, in all material respects, the information set forth therein.

As discussed in Note 1 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company changed its method of accounting for goodwill and other intangible assets and derivative instruments and hedging activities effective April 1, 2001.

STATEMENT OF MANAGEMENT'S FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Management has prepared and is responsible for the integrity and objectivity of the consolidated financial statements and related financial information in this Annual Report on Form 10-K. The statements are prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The financial statements reflect management's informed judgment and estimation as to the effect of events and transactions that are accounted for or disclosed.

Management maintains a system of internal control, which includes disclosure controls and procedures, at each business unit. This system is designed to provide reasonable assurance that assets are safeguarded, records properly reflect transactions executed in accordance with management's authorization, and material information related to the Company is made known to management and disclosed in the Consolidated Financial Statements. Management has evaluated the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls within 90 days of this annual report's filing date. Based on that evaluation, management has concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective and ensure that material information is recorded, processed, summarized and reported as required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The Company also maintains a staff of internal auditors who review and evaluate the system of internal control on a continual basis. In determining the extent of the system of internal control, management recognizes that the cost should not exceed the benefits derived. The evaluation of these factors requires estimates and judgment by management.

The Company's financial statements have been audited by KPMG LLP, independent auditors. Their Independent Auditors' Report, which is based on an audit made in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, is presented on the previous page. In performing their audit, KPMG LLP considers the Company's internal control structure to the extent they deem necessary in order to plan their audit, determine the nature, timing and extent of tests to be performed and issue their report on the consolidated financial statements.

The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors, consisting solely of non-employee Directors, meets regularly (jointly and separately) with the independent auditors, the internal auditors and management to satisfy itself that they are properly discharging their responsibilities. The auditors have direct access to the Audit Committee.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(1) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Description of the Business

Airgas, Inc. and subsidiaries (the Company) is the largest U.S. distributor of industrial, medical and specialty gases (delivered in packaged or cylinder form), process chemicals, and welding, safety and related products. The Company also produces dry ice, liquid carbon dioxide, nitrous oxide and specialty gases for distribution throughout the United States. The Company was founded in 1982 and became publicly traded on the New York Stock Exchange in 1986.

(b) Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Airgas, Inc. and subsidiaries. Unconsolidated affiliates are accounted for on the equity method and generally consist of 50% owned operations. Intercompany accounts and transactions are eliminated in consolidation.

The Company has made estimates and assumptions relating to the reporting of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities to prepare these statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Estimates are used for, but not limited to, determining the net carrying value of trade receivables, inventories, plant and equipment, goodwill, other intangible assets and loss contingencies. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(c) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market. Cost is determined using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method for approximately 90% of the inventories at both March 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Cost for the remainder of inventories is determined using the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method.

(d) Plant and Equipment

Plant and equipment are initially stated at cost. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method based on the estimated useful lives of the related assets. The carrying values of long-lived assets, including plant and equipment, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the recorded value cannot be recovered from undiscounted future cash flows. When the book value of an asset exceeds associated expected future cash flows, it is considered to be impaired and is written down to fair value, which is determined based on either future cash flows or appraised values.

(e) Other Intangible Assets and Deferred Financing Costs

Costs and payments pursuant to non-competition arrangements entered into in connection with business acquisitions are amortized over the terms of the arrangements, which are principally over five years. The Company assesses the recoverability of non-competition arrangements by determining whether the amortization of the asset balance can be recovered through projected undiscounted future cash flows of the related business over its remaining life.

Costs related to the issuance of long-term debt are deferred and amortized over the term of the related debt.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(f) Commitments and Contingencies

The Company's policy is to accrue estimated legal fees to defend the Company through the resolution of the outstanding litigation when probable and reasonably estimable. Liabilities for loss contingencies arising from claims, assessments, litigation and other sources are recorded when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the claim, assessment or damages can be reasonably estimated.

The Company maintains business insurance programs with significant self-insured retention, which covers workers' compensation, business automobile and general products liability claims. The Company accrues estimated losses using actuarial models and assumptions based on historical loss experience. The actuarial calculations used to estimate business insurance reserves are based on numerous assumptions, some of which are subjective. The Company will adjust its business insurance reserves, if necessary, in the event future loss experience differs from historical loss patterns.

The Company maintains a self-insured health benefits plan, which provides medical benefits to employees electing coverage under the plan. The Company maintains a reserve for incurred but not reported medical claims and claim development. The reserve is an estimate based on historical experience and other assumptions, some of which are subjective. The Company will adjust its self-insured medical benefits reserve as the Company's loss experience changes due to medical inflation, changes in the number of plan participants and an aging employee base.

(g) Income Taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss and tax credit carry forwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. Valuation allowances are recorded to reduce deferred tax assets when it is more likely than not that a tax benefit will not be realized.

(h) Foreign Currency Translation

The functional currency of the Company's foreign operations is the applicable local currency. The translation of foreign currencies into U.S. dollars is performed for balance sheet accounts using current exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date and for revenue and expense accounts using average exchange rates during each reporting period. The gains or losses resulting from such translations are included in stockholders' equity as a component of Accumulated other comprehensive loss. Gains and losses arising from foreign currency transactions are reflected in the consolidated statements of earnings as incurred.

(i) Concentrations of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of trade receivables. Concentrations of credit risk are limited due to the Company's large number of customers and their dispersion across many industries throughout North America. Credit terms granted to customers are generally net 30 days.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(j) Financial Instruments

In managing interest rate risk exposure, the Company enters into interest rate swap agreements. An interest rate swap is a contractual exchange of interest payments between two parties. A standard interest rate swap involves the payment of a fixed rate times a notional amount by one party in exchange for a floating rate times the same notional amount from another party. As interest rates change, the difference to be paid or received is accrued and recognized as interest expense over the life of the agreement. These instruments are not entered into for trading purposes and the Company has the ability and intent to hold these instruments to maturity. Counterparties to the Company's interest rate swap agreements are major financial institutions. With the adoption of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities, as amended by SFAS No. 137 and 138, in fiscal 2002 (see Note (1) (q)), the Company recognizes interest rate swap agreements on the balance sheet at fair value. The interest rate swap agreements are marked to market with changes in fair value recognized in either other comprehensive income (loss) or in the carrying value of the hedged portions of the medium term and senior subordinated debt notes.

The carrying amounts for trade receivables and accounts payable approximate fair value based on the short-term maturity of these financial instruments.

(k) Employee Benefits Trust

The Company established a grantor trust (the Trust) to fund future obligations of the Company's employee benefit and compensation plans. Shares are purchased by the Trust from the Company at fair market value and are reflected as a reduction of stockholders' equity in the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets under the caption Employee benefits trust. Shares are transferred from the Trust to fund compensation and employee benefit obligations based on the original cost of the shares to the Trust. The satisfaction of compensation and employee benefit plan obligations is based on the fair value of shares transferred. Differences between the original cost of the shares to the Trust and the fair market value of shares transferred is charged or credited to capital in excess of par value.

(l) Revenue Recognition

Revenue from sales of gases and hardgoods products is recognized when products are delivered to customers. Rental fees on cylinders, cryogenic liquid containers, bulk gas storage tanks and other equipment are recognized when earned. Under long-term lease agreements in which rental fees are collected in advance, revenues are deferred and recognized over the terms of the lease agreements.

(m) Cost of Products Sold

Cost of products sold for the Distribution segment principally consists of direct material costs and freight-in for bulk gas purchases and hardgoods (welding supplies and equipment, safety products and industrial tools and supplies). Maintenance costs associated with cylinders, cryogenic liquid containers and bulk tanks are also reflected in Cost of products sold.

Cost of products sold for the Gas Operations segment, which produces much of the gas it sells, consists of direct material costs, direct labor, manufacturing overhead, freight-in and internal transfer costs associated with the production of certain gas products, principally, dry ice, carbon dioxide, nitrous oxide and specialty gases.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(n) Selling, Distribution and Administrative Expenses

Selling, distribution and administrative expenses consist of labor and overhead associated with the purchasing, marketing and distribution of the Company's products, as well as costs associated with a variety of administrative functions such as legal, treasury, accounting and tax, and facility-related expenses.

(o) Depreciation

The Company recognizes depreciation expense on all its property, plant and equipment in the income statement line item depreciation.

(p) Shipping and Handling Fees and Distribution Costs

The Company recognizes delivery and freight charges to customers as elements of net sales. Costs of third-party freight are recognized as cost of products sold. The majority of the costs associated with the distribution of the Company's products, which include direct labor and overhead associated with filling, warehousing and delivery by Company vehicles, is reflected in selling, distribution and administrative expenses and were $258 million, $217 million and $209 million for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The Company conducts multiple operations out of the same facilities and does not allocate facility-related expenses to each operational function. Accordingly, there is no facility-related expense in the distribution costs disclosed above. Depreciation expense associated with the Company's delivery fleet of $4.5 million, $4.9 million, and $4.8 million was recognized in depreciation for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

(q) Accounting and Disclosure Changes

SFAS 133

On April 1, 2001, the Company adopted SFAS No. 133, which requires all derivatives to be recorded on the balance sheet at fair value. In accordance with the transition provisions of SFAS 133, on April 1, 2001, the Company recorded the cumulative effect of this accounting change as a liability and a deferred loss of $6.7 million in the accumulated other comprehensive loss component of stockholders' equity to recognize, at fair value, interest rate swap agreements that are designated as cash flow hedging instruments. Additionally, the Company recorded an asset and adjusted the carrying value of the hedged portion of its fixed rate debt by $6 million to recognize, at fair value, interest rate swap agreements that are designated as fair value hedging instruments.

SFAS 141

Effective July 1, 2001, the Company adopted SFAS No. 141, Business Combinations. SFAS 141 requires that the purchase method of accounting be used for all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001. The adoption of SFAS 141 did not have an impact on the historical results of operations, financial position or liquidity of the Company.

SFAS 142

In July 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. As permitted under the Statement, the Company adopted SFAS 142 retroactively to April 1, 2001. SFAS 142 requires goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives to no longer be amortized, but instead be tested for impairment at least annually. Upon adoption of SFAS 142, the Company performed an evaluation of goodwill, which indicated that goodwill recorded in the Distribution segment associated with its industrial tool reporting unit was impaired as of April 1, 2001. Accordingly, the Company recognized a $59 million non-cash charge, recorded as of April 1, 2001, as the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle for the write-down of goodwill to its fair value. The impaired goodwill was not deductible for taxes, and as a result, no tax benefit was recorded in relation to the charge.

With the adoption of SFAS 142, the Company reassessed the useful lives and residual values of all acquired intangible assets to make any necessary amortization period adjustments. Based on that assessment, no adjustments were made to the amortization period or residual values of other intangible assets. Additionally, certain reclassifications were made to previously issued financial statements to conform to the presentation required by SFAS 142 (see Note 7).

SFAS 142 also requires goodwill to be tested annually and between annual tests if events occur or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of a reporting unit below its carrying amount. The Company has elected to perform its annual tests for indications of goodwill impairment as of October 31 of each year. As of October 31, 2002 and 2001, the Company's annual assessment of each of its reporting units indicated that goodwill was not impaired.

SFAS 144

On April 1, 2002, the Company adopted SFAS No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, as required. SFAS 144 addresses financial accounting and reporting for the impairment or disposal of long-lived assets, including discontinued operations. The adoption of SFAS 144 did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

SFAS 146

On January 1, 2003, the Company adopted SFAS No. 146, Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities, as required, which is effective for exit or disposal activities initiated after December 31, 2002. SFAS 146 nullifies Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 94-3, Liability Recognition for Certain Employee Termination Benefits and Other Costs to Exit an Activity (including Certain Costs Incurred in a Restructuring). SFAS 146 addresses financial accounting and reporting for costs associated with exit or disposal activities, including restructuring activities. The Statement requires that a liability for a cost associated with an exit or disposal activity be recognized when the liability is incurred as opposed to at the time the Company commits to an exit plan as previously permitted under EITF 94-3. The adoption of SFAS 146 did not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

SFAS 148

In December 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation - Transition and Disclosure. Based on the Statement's effective date of fiscal years ending after December 31, 2002, the Company adopted the provisions of SFAS 148 in fiscal 2003. SFAS 148 amends SFAS 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, to provide alternative methods of transition for an entity that voluntarily changes to the fair value basis of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. The Statement also amends the disclosure provisions of SFAS 123 to require prominent disclosure about the effects on reported net income of an entity's accounting policy decisions with respect to stock-based employee compensation. The Company has elected to continue to account for its stock-based compensation plans using the intrinsic value method of accounting as permitted by Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, but has adopted the disclosure requirements of SFAS 148 (see Note 14).

FASB Financial Interpretation No. 45

In November 2002, the FASB issued Financial Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, (FIN 45). FIN 45 elaborates on the disclosures to be made by a guarantor in its interim and annual financial statements about its obligations under certain guarantees that it has issued. It also clarifies that a guarantor is required to recognize, at the inception of a guarantee, a liability for the fair value of the obligation undertaken in issuing the guarantee. The initial recognition and measurement provisions of FIN 45 are applicable on a prospective basis to guarantees issued or modified after December 31, 2002.

Based on a review of the Company's material contracts and finance agreements, the only additional disclosure required by the interpretation relates to the Company's residual value guarantee associated with certain leased vehicles (see Note 20).

FASB Financial Interpretation No. 46

In January 2003, the FASB issued a Financial Interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51 (ARB 51) entitled, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities (FIN 46). The interpretation is effective for the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003. It defines a variable interest entity as a legal structure, such as a corporation, partnership or joint venture, created to conduct activities or hold assets. The interpretation introduces the concept of a Primary Beneficiary and requires variable interest entities, which do not effectively disperse risk among parties associated with the variable interest entity, to be consolidated by the party deemed to be the Primary Beneficiary. The Primary Beneficiary approach is a departure from the voting interest approach typically used under ARB 51 when determining which of the parties associated with a variable interest entity should consolidate it.

As disclosed in Notes 15 and 20, the Company participates in a joint venture with National Welders Supply Company, Inc. (National Welders) and a sale-leaseback arrangement of real estate and equipment with a grantor trust. The Company is reviewing the applicability of FIN 46 to its National Welders investment to determine if, as the only common stockholder and with only a 50% voting interest in the joint venture, the Company is disproportionately exposed to risk of loss. If National Welders is determined to be a Variable Interest Entity and the Company is determined to be the primary beneficiary, as defined by the FIN 46, the Company will consolidate the joint venture. The grantor trust associated with the sale-leaseback arrangement has been determined to be a variable interest entity as defined by FIN 46. In accordance with FIN 46, the Company will consolidate the grantor trust for financial reporting purposes effective July 1, 2003.

(r) Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications have been made to prior period financial statements to conform to the current presentation.

(2) ACQUISITIONS & DIVESTITURES

(a) Acquisitions

Acquisitions have been recorded using the purchase method of accounting and, accordingly, results of their operations have been included in the Company's consolidated financial statements since the effective dates of the respective acquisitions. The purchase price for business acquisitions was allocated to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values at the date of acquisition. Such allocations were based on preliminary estimates of fair value at the date of acquisition, which may be revised at a later date.

Fiscal 2003

During fiscal 2003, the Company purchased four businesses that distribute packaged gases and related equipment and hardgoods products with combined annual revenues of $33 million. The largest of these businesses and their effective dates of acquisition included Welding Metals, Inc. (November 27, 2002) and Union Industrial Gas and Supply, Inc. (March 31, 2003). The aggregate purchase price of all four acquisitions was $23.8 million, including assumed liabilities. The Company negotiated the respective purchase prices of the businesses based on the cash flows expected to be derived from their operations after integration into the Company's existing distribution network. The Company acquired the businesses to expand and strengthen its national network of branch store locations. The acquired businesses have been included in the Distribution segment from their effective dates of acquisition.

For the fiscal 2003 acquisitions, additional work related to the performance of asset appraisals needs to be completed to finalize the allocation of the purchase price to net assets, identified intangibles and goodwill acquired. The entire purchase price ultimately assigned to goodwill will be deductible for income taxes. The Company does not expect the final allocation of the purchase price to differ materially from the amounts included in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. Costs in excess of net assets acquired (goodwill) related to fiscal 2003 acquisitions amounted to $6.4 million.

Fiscal 2002

On February 28, 2002, the Company purchased the majority of Air Products and Chemicals, Inc.'s (Air Products) U.S. packaged gas business, excluding its electronic gases and magnetic resonance imaging-related helium operations, for cash of approximately $247 million, including transaction costs. The transaction was financed entirely with senior bank debt. The acquisition included 88 facilities in 30 states associated with the filling and distribution of cylinders, liquid dewars, tube trailers, and other containers of industrial gases and non-electronic specialty gases, and the selling of welding hardgoods, including customer service centers, warehouses, and other related assets. The Company acquired the business based on its strategic fit with the Company's existing packaged gas distribution business and to strengthen its national network by giving it a presence in important geographies. Additionally, the acquisition strengthened the core competencies of the Company's Specialty Gas Operations, enabling it to enhance its competitiveness. These operations historically generated annual revenues of approximately $220 million and had 1,100 employees. Air Products also sold its packaged gas operations in the Carolinas and southern Virginia to National Welders Supply Company, Inc. (National Welders), with which the Company has a joint venture.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Below is a rollforward of the Air Products acquisition purchase price allocation, as revised, to each major asset and liability caption of the acquired packaged gas business. Such allocations have been based on estimates of fair value determined primarily through third-party appraisals, which resulted in revisions to the preliminary allocation at March 31, 2002. In fiscal 2003, $25.9 million of purchase price allocation adjustments were made as cylinder fixed asset counts and valuations were finalized and other fixed asset appraisals were completed. Additionally, the revisions include $5.6 million of transaction costs paid subsequent to March 31, 2002.

(In thousands)	March 31, 2002	Revisions	March 31, 2003

Long-term liabilities	(812)	435	(377)
Total	$ 241,270	$ 5,560	$ 246,830

Additionally, in September 2001, the Company acquired six retail distributor locations from Air Liquide America Corporation (Air Liquide). The purchase price of $11 million was paid to Air Liquide on October 1, 2001 and resulted in goodwill of approximately $7 million. The amount of goodwill associated with the Air Liquide transaction is consistent with similarly sized gas distribution acquisitions and is entirely deductible for income taxes. These operations added annual revenues of approximately $10 million.

Fiscal 2001

During fiscal 2001, the Company purchased one business for approximately $2 million, including goodwill of $600 thousand.

Pro Forma Operating Results

The following presents unaudited pro forma operating results as if the fiscal 2003 and 2002 acquisitions had occurred on April 1, 2000. The pro forma results were prepared from financial information obtained during the due diligence process associated with the acquisitions. The pro forma operating results include financial information related to the Air Products acquisition reflecting that company's historic cost structure, which included a significant allocation of corporate overhead. Pro forma adjustments to the historic financial information of businesses acquired were limited to those related to the Company's stepped-up basis in acquired assets and adjustments to reflect the Company's borrowing and tax rates. The pro forma results have been prepared for comparative purposes only and do not purport to be indicative of what would have occurred had the acquisitions been made as of April 1, 2000 or of results that may occur in the future.

(b) Divestitures

In December 2001, the carrying values of the net assets of Kendeco, Inc. (Kendeco), an industrial tool business in the Distribution operating segment, were reduced by $3.6 million to their net realizable value based on the estimated selling price less cost to sell of $3.5 million. The loss, reflected in Other income (expense), net, included the write-off of $3.1 million of non-tax deductible goodwill. The Company completed the sale of Kendeco in May 2002 and recognized a loss on the sale of $1.7 million. Kendeco's operating results for fiscal 2002 and 2001 are included in the table below. Kendeco's fiscal 2003 operating results were insignificant.

In fiscal 2000, the Company divested its investment in a Polish gas distributor. As part of the sale agreement, the Company made representations and warranties about the business being sold. Subsequently, the acquirer presented the Company with an indemnity claim as a breach of the representations and warranties provided for under the sale agreement. In fiscal 2002, the Company recorded a liability and related expense of $1.9 million associated with the indemnity claim. In May 2002, the Company favorably resolved the indemnity claim and reversed $1.5 million of expense, net of legal fees paid, and the related liability. These items are reflected in Other income (expense), net in the respective fiscal years.

In October 2001, the Company sold two of its nitrous oxide production facilities to Air Liquide. The Company retained its remaining four nitrous oxide production facilities to meet its requirements as a major producer and distributor of nitrous oxide. After-tax proceeds from the sale of approximately $10 million were used to reduce borrowings under the Company's revolving credit facilities. The Company recognized a gain on the transaction of $7.4 million in Other income (expense), net in fiscal 2002. The nitrous oxide facilities were reflected in the operating results of the Gas Operations segment.

In January 2001, the Company divested its Jackson Dome carbon dioxide reserve and associated pipeline for cash proceeds of approximately $42 million resulting in an insignificant gain. The Jackson Dome carbon dioxide reserve and associated pipeline was reflected in the operating results of the Gas Operations segment.

In May 2000, the Company completed the sale of its equity investment in Boruka Gases Ltd., a regional industrial gas distributor in India. Proceeds from the sale, including a note receivable, were $1.1 million. The investment was sold for a loss of approximately $1.7 million, which had been provided for under the Company's 1998 special charges. In August 2000, the Company completed the sale of Superior Air Products Ltd., also located in India. Proceeds from the sale were $6.4 million and resulted in an insignificant gain. The equity investments in India were reflected in the operating results of the Distribution segment.

Results of Divested Operations

The following table sets forth selected financial data, by business segment, related to the divested operations in fiscal 2002 and 2001. As noted above, the fiscal 2003 operating results for Kendeco, which was divested in May 2002, were insignificant.

(3) SPECIAL CHARGES, NET

During the first quarter of fiscal 2003, the Company recorded special charges of $2.7 million (the 2003 Special Charges) consisting of a restructuring charge related to the integration of the business acquired from Air Products during the fourth quarter of fiscal 2002 and costs related to the consolidation of certain hardgoods procurement functions. The special charges included facility exit costs associated with the closure of certain facilities and severance for approximately 130 employees. The facilities exited and the affected employees were part of the Company's existing operations prior to the acquisition of the Air Products business.

During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2002, the Company announced the outsourcing of certain administrative functions to a financial shared services center to be managed and operated by an outside firm. The Company recorded a special charge of approximately $1.0 million (the 2002 Special Charges) for severance costs (workforce reduction of 125 employees) and costs related to exiting one facility associated with the fiscal 2003-2004 transition to the shared services center.

During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2001, the Company recorded net special charges of $3.6 million. The net special charges (the 2001 Special Charges) included a charge of $8.5 million related to a cost reduction plan focused on improving results at certain business units partially offset by special charge recoveries of $4.9 million principally consisting of a favorable insurance settlement. The insurance settlement related to a fiscal 1997 special charge associated with the fraudulent breach of contract by a third-party supplier of refrigerant gases. The cost reduction plan included severance costs from a reduction in workforce; facility exit costs, primarily non-cancelable lease obligations, for the closure of 30 branch locations; and impairment write-downs associated with the planned divestiture of certain non-core businesses.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

At March 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, accrued liabilities associated with the special charges were as follows:

(In thousands)	Severance costs	Facility exit costs	Divestitures	Total
2001 Special Charges	$ 3,880	$2,464	$ 2,188	$ 8,532

2003 Special Charges	1,326	1,368		2,694
Cash payments	(1,269)	(758)		(2,027)
March 31, 2003 liability	$ 973	$2,400	$	$ 3,373

During fiscal 2002, the Company reduced its estimate related to severance and facility exit costs associated with the 2001 cost reduction plan by approximately $1.0 million. The change in estimate was recorded as a recovery in fiscal 2002 through the Special charges, net line in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings.

The severance liability at March 31, 2003 will be utilized during fiscal 2004 as the remaining subsidiaries of the Company transition into the financial shared services center and consolidation of certain procurement functions are completed. The liability for facility exit costs at March 31, 2003 relates to non-cancelable lease obligations that will be reduced over future periods as lease payments are made over the remaining terms of the leases.

(4) EARNINGS (LOSS) PER SHARE

Basic earnings (loss) per share is calculated by dividing net earnings (loss) by the weighted average number of shares of the Company's common stock outstanding during the period. Outstanding shares consist of issued shares less treasury stock and common stock held by the Employee Benefits Trust. Diluted earnings (loss) per share is calculated by dividing net earnings (loss) by the weighted average common shares outstanding adjusted for the dilutive effect of common stock equivalents related to stock options, warrants and contingently issuable shares.

The table below reconciles basic weighted average common shares outstanding to diluted weighted average common shares outstanding for the three years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001:

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Pursuant to a joint venture agreement between the Company and the holders of the preferred stock of National Welders, between June 30, 2006 and June 30, 2009 the preferred shareholders have the option to exchange their 3.2 million preferred shares of National Welders either for cash at a price of $17.78 per share or to tender them to the joint venture in exchange for approximately 2.38 million shares of Airgas common stock (see Note 15). When Airgas common stock is at a market value of approximately $24.00 per share, the stock and cash redemption options are equivalent. As of March 31, 2003, there were no contingently issuable shares included in the diluted weighted average common shares calculation (the diluted computation).

Additionally, there were 2 million, 2.6 million and 5.4 million outstanding stock options at March 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively, with an exercise price above market, excluded from the Company's diluted computation as their effect would be anti-dilutive. As the market value of the Company's stock increases above the respective exercise prices of the options, these options will be included in the diluted computation as common stock equivalents.

(5) INVENTORIES, NET

Inventories, net, consist of:

Net inventories determined by the LIFO inventory method totaled $15.7 million and $15.2 million at March 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. If the FIFO inventory method had been used for these inventories, they would have been $1.4 million and $1.3 million higher at March 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Substantially all of the inventories are finished goods.

Other intangible assets amounted to $19.8 million (net of accumulated amortization of $87.8 million) and $25.7 million (net of accumulated amortization of $77.6 million) at March 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. These intangible assets primarily consist of non-compete agreements entered into in connection with business combinations and are amortized over the term of the agreements, principally five years. There are no expected residual values related to these intangible assets. Estimated future amortization expense by fiscal year is as follows: 2004 - $5.6 million; 2005 - $5.4 million; 2006 - $3.1 million; 2007 - $2.5 million; 2008 - $1.8 million and $1.4 million thereafter.

Revolving Credit Facilities

The Company has unsecured revolving credit facilities with a syndicate of lenders totaling $367.5 million and $50 million Canadian (US $33.9 million). The revolving credit facilities will mature on July 30, 2006. At March 31, 2003, the Company had borrowings under the revolving facilities of approximately $124 million and $31 million Canadian (US $21 million). The Company also had commitments under letters of credit supported by the revolving credit facilities of approximately $31 million at March 31, 2003. Based on restrictions related to certain leverage ratios, the Company had additional borrowing capacity under the revolving facilities of approximately $197 million at March 31, 2003. The variable interest rates of the U.S. and Canadian revolving credit facilities are based on the London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR) and Canadian Bankers' Acceptance Rates, respectively. At March 31, 2003, the effective interest rates on borrowings under the revolving facilities were 3.52% on U.S. borrowings and 3.08% on Canadian borrowings. Certain of the Company's domestic subsidiaries guarantee borrowings under the revolving facilities and foreign subsidiaries also guarantee Canadian borrowings. During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2002, the Company's credit rating as determined by third-party credit rating agencies was lowered in response to additional indebtedness related to the Air Products acquisition (see Note 2). The lower credit rating required the Company to pledge 100% of the stock of its domestic guarantor subsidiaries and 65% of the stock of its foreign guarantor subsidiaries for the benefit of the syndicate of lenders. If the Company's credit rating is further reduced, the Company will be required to grant a security interest in substantially all of the tangible and intangible assets of the Company for the benefit of the syndicate of lenders. The revolving credit facilities also contain covenants, which include the maintenance of certain leverage ratios, a fixed charge ratio, and potential restrictions on certain additional borrowings, the amount of dividends declared and paid, and the repurchase of common stock.

In May 2003, the Company obtained an amendment to its credit agreement associated with its revolving credit facilities. Subject to existing financial covenants, the amendment allows for the issuance of up to an additional $200 million of senior public debt and for the expansion of its senior credit facilities by up to $150 million. The amendment also provided the Company with additional flexibility to pay dividends and repurchase shares as well as invest in acquisitions.

Term Loan

In connection with the fiscal 2002 Air Products acquisition, the Company obtained a $100 million term loan from a syndicate of lenders. The term loan is due in quarterly installments with a final payment due July 30, 2006. Principal payments on the term loan are classified as Long-term Debt in the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets based on the Company's ability and intention to refinance them with borrowings under its long-term revolving credit facilities. The term loan is unsecured and bears a variable interest rate based on LIBOR plus a spread related to the Company's credit rating. At March 31, 2003, the Company had $87.5 million outstanding under the term loan at an effective interest rate of 3.29%.

Medium-Term Notes

At March 31, 2003, the Company had the following medium-term notes outstanding: $75 million of unsecured notes due March 2004 bearing interest at a fixed rate of 7.14% and $100 million of unsecured notes due September 2006 bearing interest at a fixed rate of 7.75%. The medium-term notes due in March 2004 are classified as Long-term debt based upon the Company's ability and intention to refinance the medium-term notes with borrowings under its long-term revolving credit facilities. Additionally, the medium-term notes are guaranteed by each of the domestic guarantors under the revolving credit facilities.

Acquisition and Other Notes

Acquisition and other notes principally represent notes issued to sellers of businesses acquired and are repayable in periodic installments. At March 31, 2003, acquisition and other notes of $10 million had interest rates ranging from 7.00% to 9.00%.

Senior Subordinated Notes

The Company has $225 million of senior subordinated notes (the Notes) outstanding with a maturity date of October 1, 2011. The Notes bear interest at a fixed annual rate of 9.125%, payable semi-annually on April 1 and October 1 of each year. The notes contain covenants that restrict the amount of dividends declared and paid, the issuance of preferred stock, and the incurrence of additional indebtedness and liens. The notes are guaranteed on a subordinated basis by each of the domestic guarantors under the revolving credit facilities.

(b) Interest Rate Swap Agreements

In managing interest rate exposure, the Company participates in nine interest rate swap agreements with a total notional principal amount of $245 million at March 31, 2003. Counterparties to the interest rate swap agreements are major financial institutions. The Company monitors its positions and the credit ratings of its counterparties, and does not anticipate nonperformance by the counterparties.

Four swap agreements with approximately $90 million in notional principal amount require the Company to make fixed interest payments based on an average effective rate of 4.55% and receive variable interest payments from its counterparties based on three-month LIBOR (average rate of 1.36% at March 31, 2003). The remaining terms of these swap agreements range from between sixteen and thirty-one months. Five swap agreements with approximately $155 million in notional principal amount require the Company to make variable interest payments based primarily on six month LIBOR (average rate of 3.05% at March 31, 2003) and receive fixed interest payments from its counterparties based on an average effective rate of 8.05% at March 31, 2003. The remaining terms of these swap agreements range from between one and nine years. The effect of the swap agreements was to decrease interest expense by approximately $3.4 million in 2003 and increase interest expense by $2.9 million and $1.6 million in 2002 and 2001, respectively.

The aggregate maturities of the Company's interest rate swaps by type of swap for the five years ending March 31, 2008 and thereafter are as follows:

(10) FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Summarized below are the carrying and fair values of the Company's financial instruments at March 31, 2003 and 2002.

The fair value of the Company's financial instruments is based on estimates using standard pricing models that take into account the present value of future cash flows as of the balance sheet date. The computation of fair values of these instruments is generally performed by the Company. The carrying amounts reported in the balance sheet for trade receivables and payables, accrued liabilities, accrued income taxes, and short-term borrowings approximate fair value due to the short-term nature of these instruments. Accordingly, these items have been excluded from the table below.

(In thousands)	2003 Carrying Value	2003 Fair Value	2002 Carrying Value	2002 Fair Value
Financial Instruments:
Revolving credit borrowings	$ 145,143	$ 145,143	$ 229,309	$ 229,309

Medium-term notes	185,202	186,024	181,275	175,000
Acquisition and other notes	9,937	10,372	33,132	33,094
Prepaid interest rate swap agreements			424	680
Interest rate swap agreements:
- Fair value hedge	(17,681)	(17,681)	(4,140)	(4,140)
- Cash flow hedge	4,452	4,452	4,924	4,924

(11) DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS AND HEDGING ACTIVITIES

The Company's involvement with derivative instruments is limited to highly effective fixed and floating interest rate swap agreements used to manage well-defined interest rate risk exposures. Interest rate swap agreements are not entered into for trading purposes. As described in Note 1, the Company adopted SFAS 133 as of April 1, 2001.

At March 31, 2003, the Company had a notional amount of $90 million in fixed interest rate swap agreements that effectively convert a corresponding amount of variable interest rate borrowings under the revolving credit facilities and operating leases to fixed interest rate instruments. In fiscal 2003 and 2002, the Company recorded a net change in the fair value of the fixed interest rate swap agreements of $565 thousand and $1.7 million as accumulated other comprehensive income (loss), respectively. The net additional interest payments made under these swap agreements during the fiscal 2003 were recognized in interest expense. Over the next 12 months, the Company expects to reclassify $2.9 million of the deferred loss from accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) to interest expense as the related interest payments that are being hedged are recognized.

At March 31, 2003, the Company also had a notional amount of $155 million in variable interest rate swap agreements that effectively converts a corresponding amount of fixed rate medium-term and senior subordinated notes to variable rate debt. The fair value of these variable interest rate swap agreements and the increased carrying value of the hedged portions of the medium-term and senior subordinated notes at March 31, 2003 was $17.7 million. The changes in the fair value of the swap agreements are offset by changes in the fair value of the hedged portions of the medium-term and senior subordinated notes.

(12) TRADE RECEIVABLES SECURITIZATION

The Company participates in a securitization agreement with two commercial banks to sell up to $175 million of qualifying trade receivables. The agreement was originally to expire in December 2003, but the agreement was extended to December 2005, and remains subject to additional renewal provisions contained in the agreement. During fiscal 2003, the Company sold, net of its retained interest, $1,879 million of trade receivables and remitted to bank conduits, pursuant to a servicing agreement, $1,720 million in collections on those receivables. The net proceeds were used to reduce borrowings under the Company's revolving credit facilities. The amount of outstanding receivables under the agreement was $159 million at March 31, 2003 and $134 million at March 31, 2002.

The transaction has been accounted for as a sale under the provisions of SFAS No. 140, Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities. Under the securitization agreement, eligible trade receivables are sold to bank conduits through a bankruptcy-remote special purpose entity, which is consolidated for financial reporting purposes. The difference between the proceeds from the sale and the carrying value of the receivables is recognized as discount on securitization of trade receivables in the accompanying Consolidated Statements of Earnings and varies on a monthly basis depending on the amount of receivables sold and market rates. The Company retains a subordinated interest in the receivables sold, which is recorded at the receivables' previous carrying value. A subordinated retained interest of approximately $45 million and $41 million is included in trade receivables in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets at March 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The Company's retained interest is generally collected within 60 days. On a monthly basis, management measures the fair value of the retained interest at management's best estimate of the undiscounted expected future cash collections on the transferred receivables. Changes in the fair value are recognized as bad debt expense. Actual cash collections may differ from these estimates and would directly affect the fair value of the retained interest. In accordance with a servicing agreement, the Company will continue to service, administer and collect the trade receivables on behalf of the bank conduits. The servicing fees charged to the bank conduits approximate the costs of collections.

(13) STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

(a) Common Stock

The Company is authorized to issue up to 200 million shares of common stock with a par value of $.01 per share. At March 31, 2003, the number of shares of common stock outstanding was 72.4 million, excluding 547 thousand shares of common stock held as treasury stock and 3.4 million shares of common stock held in a grantor trust as described below. At March 31, 2002, the number of shares of common stock outstanding was 70.3 million, excluding 547 thousand shares of common stock held as treasury stock and 4.3 million shares of common stock held in the grantor trust.

(b) Preferred Stock and Redeemable Preferred Stock

The Company is authorized to issue up to 20 million shares of preferred stock. Of the 20 million shares authorized, 200 thousand shares have been designated as Series A Junior Participating Preferred Stock and 200 thousand shares have been designated as Series B Junior Participating Preferred Stock (see further discussion below). At March 31, 2003 and 2002, no shares of the preferred stock were issued or outstanding. The preferred stock may be issued from time to time by the Company's Board of Directors in one or more series. The Board of Directors is authorized to fix the dividend rights and terms, conversion rights, voting rights, rights and terms of redemption, liquidation preferences, and any other rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions of any series of preferred stock, and the number of shares constituting each such series and designation thereof.

Additionally, the Company is authorized to issue 30 thousand shares of redeemable preferred stock. At March 31, 2003 and 2002, no shares were issued or outstanding.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(c) Treasury Stock

In March 1999, the Company's Board of Directors authorized the repurchase of up to seven million shares of the Company's outstanding common stock. The authorization provided for the repurchase of shares in the open market or in privately negotiated transactions depending on market conditions and other factors. In accordance with the March 1999 share repurchase authorization, the Company acquired 31 thousand and 1.4 million shares of common stock in fiscal 2002 and 2001, respectively. The Company's stock repurchase program was completed in fiscal 2002. In fiscal 2001, the Company reissued 2 million shares of common stock to the Company's Employee Benefits Trust (the Trust), as discussed below. No shares were reissued from treasury in fiscal 2003 or 2002. When treasury shares are reissued, the Company uses an average cost method with the difference between the repurchase cost and the reissuance price accounted for as a charge to capital in excess of par value.

(d) Shares in Employee Benefits Trust

In March 1999, the Company established the grantor Trust to fund certain future obligations of the Company's employee benefit and compensation plans. The Company, pursuant to a Common Stock Purchase Agreement, sold shares of common stock to the Trust. The Company holds promissory notes from the Trust in the amount of each purchase. Shares held by the Trust serve as collateral for the promissory notes and are available to fund employee benefit plan obligations as the promissory notes are repaid. The shares held by the Trust are not considered outstanding for earnings per share purposes until they are released from serving as collateral for the promissory notes. An independent third-party financial institution serves as the Trustee. The Trustee votes or tenders shares held by the Trust in accordance with instructions received from the participants in the employee benefit and compensation plans to be funded by the Trust. Since inception of the Trust in fiscal 1999, the Trust purchased from the Company approximately seven million shares of common stock, previously held as treasury stock, for approximately $54 million. Approximately 909 thousand, 1.4 million and 1.2 million shares were issued from the Trust for employee benefit programs during fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

(e) Stockholder Rights Plan

Effective April 1, 1997, the Company's Board of Directors adopted a stockholder rights plan (the 1997 Rights Plan). Pursuant to the 1997 Rights Plan, the Board of Directors declared a dividend distribution of one right for each share of common stock. Each right entitles the holder to purchase from the Company one one-thousandth of a share Series B Junior Participating Preferred Stock at an initial exercise price of $100 per share.

Rights become exercisable only following the acquisition by a person or group of 15% (or 20% in the case of the Chairman and certain of his affiliates) or more of the Company's common stock or after the announcement of a tender offer or exchange offer to acquire 15% (or 20% in the case of the Chairman and certain of his affiliates) or more of the outstanding common stock. If such a person or group acquires 15% or more (or 20% or more, as the case may be) of the common stock, each right (other than such person's or group's rights, which will become void) will entitle the holder to purchase, at the exercise price, common stock having a market value equal to twice the exercise price. In certain circumstances, the rights may be redeemed by the Company. If not redeemed, they will expire on April 1, 2007.

(f) Warrants

During fiscal 2002, the Company granted warrants to purchase 324,000 shares of the Company's common stock to an outside consulting firm for services rendered. The warrants have a term of three years from the date of grant and have exercise prices in excess of market value on the date of grant ranging from $11.98 to $18.78 per share. The aggregate value of the warrants on the dates of grant, as determined by the Black-Scholes model, was $1.1 million, which the Company expensed during fiscal 2002. No additional warrants were granted during fiscal 2003.

(14) STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

The Company has elected to continue to account for its stock-based compensation plans in accordance with Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, as permitted by SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, as amended by SFAS No. 148. Accordingly, no compensation expense has been recognized for its stock option and employee stock purchase plans. The following table illustrates the effect on net income and earnings per share for fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001 as if the Company had applied the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS 123 to stock-based compensation.

The Company's stock-based compensation plans are described below.

(a) Employee Stock Option Plans

The Company has a stock plan under which officers and key employees may be granted options. In May 1997, the Company adopted the 1997 Stock Option Plan (the 1997 Plan). The 1997 Plan replaced the previous 1984 Stock Option Plan. In May 2002, the Company amended the 1997 Plan to increase the total number of shares of common stock reserved for sale upon the exercise of stock options and restricted stock granted under the 1997 Plan from 8 million to 11.2 million. The amendment was approved by the Company's stockholders in July 2002.

Options granted under the 1997 Plan vest 25% annually and have a maximum term of ten years. Under the 1997 Plan, at March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, 4.7 million, 2.6 million and 3.7 million options, respectively, were available for issuance. In fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001, 1.2 million, 1.5 million and 1.7 million options, respectively, were granted with an exercise price equal to market price at the date of grant. Options under the 1997 Plan are generally granted in May of each year.

The fair value of each option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions used for fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001 option grants, respectively: expected volatility of 40.3%, 48.8% and 51.1%, risk-free interest rate of 4.3%, 4.7% and 6.5%, and expected life of 7.5, 7.2 and 5.6 years. The weighted average fair value per share of the options granted during fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001 was $8.42, $5.31 and $3.13, respectively.

Options for 5.1 million, 4.7 million and 4.9 million shares were exercisable at March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

(b) Board of Directors Stock Option Plans

The Company also maintains stock option plans covering directors who are not employees. In May 1997, the Company adopted the 1997 Directors Stock Option Plan (the 1997 Directors Plan). The 1997 Directors Plan replaced the previous 1989 Stock Option Plan for Directors. The 1997 Directors Plan reserved 500 thousand shares for issuance. Options under the 1997 Directors Plan are exercisable in full on the date of grant.

Under the 1997 Directors Plan, at March 31, 2003, 109,500 options were available for issuance. During fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001, 64,000, 80,000 and 100,000, respectively, were granted with an exercise price equal to the market price at the date of grant and have a maximum term of ten years.

The fair value of each option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions used for fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001 option grants, respectively: expected volatility of 41.5%, 51.1% and 51.1%, risk-free interest rate of 3.6%, 4.6% and 6.1%, and expected life of 5.9, 5.7 and 5.6 years. The weighted average fair value per share of the stock options granted during fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001 was $6.70, $6.61 and $2.85, respectively.

(c) Employee Stock Purchase Plans

In August 2001, the Company established the Airgas, Inc. 2001 Employee Stock Purchase Plan (the 2001 Plan) to encourage and assist employees in acquiring an equity interest in the Company. The 2001 Plan replaced the previous 1998 Employee Stock Purchase Plan (the 1998 Plan). During fiscal 2002, the remaining shares of common stock authorized under the 1998 Plan were issued. The 2001 Plan is authorized to issue up to 1.5 million shares of common stock. Eligible employees may elect to have up to 15% of their annual gross earnings withheld to purchase common stock at 85% of the market value. Market value under the 2001 Plan is defined as either the closing share price on the New York Stock Exchange as of the employees' enrollment date or the closing price on the last business day of a fiscal quarter, whichever is lower. An employee may lock-in a purchase price for up to 27 months. The 2001 Plan is designed to comply with the requirements of Sections 421 and 423 of the Internal Revenue Code. The terms of the Company's previous 1998 Plan were substantially identical to the terms of the 2001 Plan. During fiscal 2003 and 2002, the Company issued 809 thousand shares and 1.1 million shares, provided from the Employee Benefits Trust, to fund purchases made by employees under the 2001 and 1998 Plans. The average purchase price per share in fiscal 2003 and 2002 was $11.06 and $6.58, respectively. During fiscal 2001, the Company issued 1.2 million shares from the Employee Benefits Trust under the 1998 Plan at an average purchase price of $4.86 per share.

Compensation expense under SFAS 123 is measured based on the fair value of the employees' option to purchase shares of common stock at the grant date and is recognized over the future periods in which the related employee service is rendered. The fair value of the employees' option to purchase shares of common stock is estimated using the Black-Scholes model. The assumptions used to estimate the fair value of the employees' option to purchase shares of common stock at grant dates in fiscal 2002 and 2001, respectively, were: average expected volatility of 61% and 63%, average risk-free interest rate of 2.6% and 5.4%, and expected option terms ranging from 3 to 27 months. Had the Company adopted SFAS 123, compensation expense related to the Employee Stock Purchase Plans would have been $3.6 million, $4.1 million and $1.7 million in fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Fiscal 2003 expense is related to the fiscal 2002 grant and represents the value of the options as they would vest over the employee service period.

(15) INVESTMENTS IN UNCONSOLIDATED AFFILIATES

The Company accounts for investments in unconsolidated affiliates by the equity method of accounting, as described in Note 1(b). The Company's investments in unconsolidated affiliates totaled approximately $66 million at March 31, 2003, and $65 million at March 31, 2002. The Company's investments principally consist of two corporate joint ventures. The most significant investment, totaling approximately $59 million at March 31, 2003 and $57 million at March 31, 2002, is with National Welders. National Welders, which is reported in the Distribution segment, is a producer and distributor of industrial gases based in Charlotte, North Carolina. National Welders owns and operates 46 branch stores, two acetylene plants, a specialty gas lab, and three air separation plants that produce over 95% of the joint venture's oxygen, nitrogen and argon requirements. The joint venture also distributes medical and specialty gases, process chemicals and welding equipment and supplies.

Ownership interest in the National Welders joint venture consists of voting common stock and voting redeemable preferred stock with a 5% annual dividend. The Company owns 100% of the joint venture's common stock, which represents a 50% voting interest. A family is the holder of approximately 3.2 million shares of redeemable preferred stock and controls the balance of the voting interest. Between June 30, 2006 and June 30, 2009, the preferred shareholders have the option to redeem their preferred shares for cash at a price of $17.78 per share or to tender them to the joint venture in exchange for approximately 2.38 million shares of Airgas common stock. If Airgas common stock has a market value of approximately $24.00 per share, the common stock and cash redemption options are equivalent. If the preferred shareholders elect to exchange their shares for Airgas common stock, the Company is obligated to provide the necessary shares to the joint venture by capital contribution or other means the Company reasonably deems appropriate.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company may purchase shares on the open market or may issue new or treasury shares to meet its exchange obligation. Following such redemption or exchange, the Company would be the sole owner of National Welders and the earnings available to the Company (i.e., the common stockholder) would be expected to increase by the amount of the annual preferred dividend, or $2.9 million per year. Following a cash redemption, the additional income related to the preferred dividend savings would be partially offset by higher interest expense on the additional debt incurred to finance the redemption. The preferred shareholders may also elect to retain their interest in the preferred stock beyond June 30, 2009.

As disclosed in Note 1(q), the Company is reviewing whether its investment in National Welders meets the definition of a Variable Interest Entity under the newly released FASB Financial Interpretation No. 46 (FIN 46). The Company is reviewing the applicability of FIN 46 to its National Welders investment to determine if, as the only common stockholder and with only a 50% voting interest in the joint venture, the Company is disproportionately exposed to risk of loss. If National Welders is determined to be a Variable Interest Entity and the Company is determined to be the primary beneficiary, as defined by the FIN 46, the Company will consolidate the joint venture. The Company believes the consolidation of the joint venture would not have a material impact on the net earnings of the Company.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company's investment in National Welders exceeds its underlying equity in the net assets of National Welders by approximately $57 million. The excess of the Company's investment over its underlying equity in the net assets is principally attributable to a stepped-up basis in the assets, deferred taxes and goodwill. Prior to the adoption of SFAS 142 on April 1, 2001, the Company applied the amortization of goodwill against its equity in the earnings of National Welders. The Company's fiscal 2003 and 2002 equity in earnings from National Welders reflects the Company's adoption of SFAS 142 under which the goodwill associated with the Company's investment is no longer amortized. See Note 7 for a reconciliation of prior period results as reported to results adjusted to exclude this amortization expense.

The Company's other investments in unconsolidated affiliates totaled approximately $7 million and $8 million at March 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively, and primarily consist of a 50% joint venture interest in AC Industries, which is a carbon dioxide production plant reported in the Gas Operations segment.

The Company's share of earnings from AC Industries was $1.1 million, $1.0 million and $900 thousand for the years ended March 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively.

Pursuant to an accelerated depreciation provision of a fiscal 2002 change in the tax law, the Company anticipated receiving a tax refund of approximately $19 million during fiscal 2003 related to the assets acquired in the Air Products acquisition. After further review, it was concluded that the Company would not be eligible for the refund in fiscal 2003, but instead would receive the cash benefit over the next four years. As a result, an adjustment was made in the first quarter of fiscal 2003 that resulted in approximately a $19 million reclassification between current and deferred income taxes. The adjustment did not impact net earnings or operating cash flows in the current period or in fiscal 2002.

Significant differences between taxes computed at the federal statutory rate and the provision for income taxes were:

	Years Ended March 31,
	2003	2002	2001
Taxes at U.S. federal statutory rate	35.0%	35.0%	35.0%
Increase in income taxes resulting from:

Other, net	0.8%	0.9%	2.4%
	37.7%	38.0%	42.3%

The decrease in the effective tax rate from fiscal 2001 is primarily related to the Company no longer amortizing goodwill as described in Notes 1 and 7.

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities have been netted for presentation purposes. Non-current tax assets and non-current tax liabilities have also been netted. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are reflected in the Company's consolidated balance sheets as follows:

(In thousands)	March 31,
	2003	2002
Current deferred tax asset, net	$ 17,688	$ 13,210
Non-current deferred tax liability, net	(209,140)	(198,173)

The Company has recorded tax benefits amounting to $5.8 million, $4.3 million, and $800 thousand in fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively, resulting from the exercise of stock options. This benefit has been recorded in capital in excess of par value.

In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the reversal of deferred tax liabilities and projected future taxable income in making this assessment. Based upon the level of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable income over the periods which the deferred tax assets are deductible, management believes it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences, net of the existing valuation allowances, at March 31, 2003. Valuation allowances, which increased by $3.7 million in fiscal year 2003, primarily relate to certain state tax net operating loss carryforwards.

The Internal Revenue Service is currently conducting an examination of the Company's federal income tax return for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2000. Management believes that the results of this examination will not have a material effect on the Company's earnings, financial position or liquidity.

(18) BENEFIT PLANS

The Company has a defined contribution 401(k) plan (the "401(k) plan") covering substantially all full-time employees. Under the terms of the 401(k) plan, the Company makes matching contributions up to two percent of participants' wages plus additional discretionary profit sharing contributions based upon the profitability of the Company. Amounts expensed under the 401(k) plan for fiscal 2003, 2002, and 2001 were $5 million, $4.7 million and $5.8 million, respectively.

Certain subsidiaries of the Company participate in multi-employer pension and post-retirement plans which provide defined benefits to union employees. Contributions are made to the plans in accordance with negotiated labor contracts. During fiscal 2003 labor contract negotiations, the Company negotiated the withdrawal from one plan effective in fiscal 2006. The potential withdrawal liability under this plan was approximately $300 thousand at March 31, 2003. The Company has not taken action to terminate or withdraw from any other plans. Management believes that the Company's liability, if any, for multi-employer plan withdrawal liability will not have a material effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or liquidity. Amounts expensed under the pension plans for fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001 were $679 thousand, $642 thousand and $543 thousand, respectively.

Effective January 2002, the Company offered eligible employees the opportunity to participate in a non-qualified deferred compensation plan (the "Plan"). The Plan allows eligible employees to defer a portion of their compensation until their retirement. The Company has elected to fund the plan with Company owned life insurance policies taken out on the plan participants. The costs associated with the Plan during fiscal 2003 were $64 thousand. At March 31, 2003, the Company had a liability of $1.6 million related to compensation deferred under the Plan. At March 31, 2003, the Company also had life insurance policies with a cash surrender value of $1.6 million available to fund the plan liability.

(19) RELATED PARTIES

During the years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, National Welders (see Note 15), an unconsolidated equity affiliate, paid $4.7 million, $3.8 million and $3.8 million, respectively, to the Company for gas products, hardgoods and services. In addition, National Welders sold gas products and hardgoods to the Company in the amounts of $1.1 million, $1.1 million and $787 thousand in fiscal 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. In connection with the Praxair litigation (see Note 21), the Company reimbursed National Welders for legal fees of $482 thousand and $260 thousand in fiscal 2002 and 2001, respectively.

The Company paid $ 9.0 million, $7.7 million and $7.9 million to AC Industries (see Note 15), an unconsolidated equity affiliate, for the purchase of liquid carbon dioxide during the years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. In addition, the Company had a net payable balance to AC Industries totaling $1.4 million, $1.2 million and $1.2 million at March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

The Company purchases and sells goods and services in the ordinary course of business with certain corporations in which some of its directors are officers.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(20) LEASES

The Company leases certain distribution facilities and equipment under long-term operating leases with varying terms. Most leases contain renewal options and in some instances, purchase options. Rentals under these long-term leases for the years ended March 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, amounted to $54.7 million, $45.4 million, and $43.7 million, respectively. Certain operating facilities are leased at market rates from employees of the Company who were previous owners of businesses acquired. Outstanding capital lease obligations and the related capital assets are not material to the consolidated balance sheets at March 31, 2003 and 2002.

The Company leases real estate and certain equipment from a trust established by a commercial bank. The operating leases are structured as a sale-leaseback transaction in which the trust holds title to the properties and equipment included in the leases. The rental payments are based on LIBOR plus an applicable margin and the cost of the property acquired by the trust. At March 31, 2003, the non-cancelable lease obligation of the real estate and equipment leases totaled approximately $42 million. The lease terms expire in October 2004, but may be renewed subject to provisions of the lease agreements. The Company has guaranteed a residual value of the real estate and the equipment at the end of the lease terms of approximately $30 million. A gain of approximately $12 million on the equipment portion of the transaction has been deferred until the expiration of the Company's guarantee of the residual value. The trust established in connection with the sale-leaseback arrangement has been determined to be a variable interest entity as defined by FIN 46 (see Note 1(q)). In accordance with FIN 46, the Company will consolidate the trust for financial reporting purposes effective July 1, 2003. The Company also leases approximately $37 million in fleet vehicles under long-term operating leases with varying terms. Associated with these operating leases, the Company guarantees a residual value of $9.3 million.

At March 31, 2003, future minimum lease payments under non-cancelable operating leases, including the residual value associated with the sale-leaseback transaction, are as follows:

(In thousands)

(21) COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES*(a) Legal*

In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2002, the Company settled a lawsuit brought in 1996 by Praxair, Inc. alleging tortious interference with a right of first refusal in connection with the Company's joint venture investment in National Welders (see Note 15). As a result of the settlement, Praxair agreed to early termination of the right of first refusal, and in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2002, the Company recorded a charge to earnings, net of previously established reserves related to the litigation, of $8.5 million. In fiscal 2001, the Company recorded a charge of $6.9 million for costs associated with defending the Praxair lawsuit.

AIRGAS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

In fiscal 1997, the Company announced it was the victim of a fraudulent breach of contract by a third-party supplier of refrigerant gases and recorded a special charge related to product losses and costs associated with the Company's efforts to investigate the fraud and pursue recoveries. In March 2001, the Company reached a final settlement with its insurance carriers resulting in insurance recoveries of $4.9 million (see Note 3). The insurance settlement, net of associated legal expenses, was reflected in Special charges, net in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings.

In fiscal 2000, the Company recorded a $7.5 million charge representing an estimate of the overall costs associated with the defense and settlement of certain class action lawsuits pertaining to hazardous material charges paid to the Company by customers. In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2001, a settlement agreement and approving court orders covering all such class actions against the Company became final, and the Company reversed $1.1 million of the previously accrued defense and settlement costs.

The Company is involved in various legal and regulatory proceedings that have arisen in the ordinary course of its business and have not been fully adjudicated. These actions, when ultimately concluded and determined, will not, in the opinion of management, have a material adverse effect upon the Company's consolidated financial condition, results of operations or liquidity.

(b) Insurance Coverage

The Company has established insurance programs to cover workers' compensation, business automobile, general and products liability. These programs have self-insured retention of $500 thousand per occurrence and an annual aggregate limit of $1.7 million for claims in excess of $500 thousand. The Company believes its insurance reserves are adequate. The Company accrues estimated losses using actuarial models and assumptions based on historical loss experience.

The nature of the Company's business may subject it to product and general liability lawsuits. To the extent that the Company is subject to claims that exceed its liability insurance coverage of $200 million, such suits could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

(c) Supply Agreements

The Company purchases industrial, medical and specialty gases pursuant to requirements contracts from national and regional producers of industrial gases. In February 2002, the Company entered into a 15-year take-or-pay supply agreement under which Air Products and Chemical (Air Products) will supply at least 35% of the Company's bulk liquid nitrogen, oxygen and argon requirements. Additionally, the Company will purchase helium from Air Products under the terms of the supply agreement. Based on fiscal 2003 results, the Air Products supply agreement represents approximately $40 million in annual liquid bulk gas purchases. Effective December 1, 2002, the Company entered into a 3-year take-or-pay supply agreement with BOC Gases to purchase liquid nitrogen, oxygen and argon. Under the BOC Gases agreement, BOC Gases will reserve specified production volumes at certain plants and the Company will purchase at least 75% of those volumes. At the conclusion of the initial 3-year term of the BOC agreement, the Company may elect to extend it for an additional 3-year term. Purchases under the BOC Gases supply agreement are anticipated to be approximately $10 million annually. Both the Air Products and BOC Gases supply agreements contain market pricing subject to certain economic indices and market analysis. In addition, the Company is a party to other long-term supply agreements primarily for the purchase of liquid carbon dioxide, representing approximately $15 million, or 24% of the Company's annual carbon dioxide requirements. The Company believes the minimum product purchases under the agreements are well within the Company's normal product purchases.

(23) SUMMARY BY BUSINESS SEGMENT

The Company aggregates its operations, based on products and services, into two reportable segments, Distribution and Gas Operations. The Distribution segment accounts for over 90% of consolidated sales. The segment's principal products are packaged and small bulk gases, rent on gas cylinders and welding equipment, process chemicals and hardgoods. Gas sales include industrial, medical and specialty gases such as: nitrogen, oxygen, argon, helium, acetylene, carbon dioxide, nitrous oxide, hydrogen, welding gases, ultra high purity grades and special application blends. Rent is derived from gas cylinders, cryogenic liquid containers, bulk storage tanks, tube trailers and through the rental of welding equipment. Hardgoods consist of welding supplies and equipment, safety products, and industrial tools and supplies.

The Gas Operations segment produces and distributes certain gas products, principally dry ice, carbon dioxide, nitrous oxide and specialty gases. The Company also operates two air separation plants that produce oxygen, nitrogen and argon that are sold to on-site customers and to the Distribution segment. The elimination entries represent inter-company sales from the Company's Gas Operations segment to its Distribution segment. The Company previously reflected these elimination entries within the Gas Operations segment.

The Company's operations are predominantly in the United States. The Company's customer base is diverse and sales are not dependent on a single or small group of customers.

The accounting policies of the segments are the same as those described in the Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Note 1). Additionally, Corporate operating expenses are allocated to each segment, pro rata, based on sales dollars. Corporate assets have been allocated to the Distribution segment, inter-company sales are recorded on the same basis as sales to third parties, and inter-company transactions are eliminated in consolidation. As a result of adopting SFAS 142 effective April 1, 2001, the financial results for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2003 and 2002 do not reflect goodwill amortization expense (see Note 1(q)). See Note 7 for a reconciliation of prior period financial results as reported to financial results adjusted to exclude goodwill amortization expense. See Note 2 for the impact of acquisitions and divestitures on the operating results of each segment.

Management utilizes more than one measurement and multiple views of data to measure segment performance and to allocate resources to the segments. However, the dominant measurements are consistent with the Company's consolidated financial statements and, accordingly, are reported on the same basis herein.

(24) SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION (UNAUDITED)

This table summarizes the unaudited results of operations for each quarter of fiscal 2003 and 2002:

(In thousands, except per share amounts)	First	Second	Third	Fourth
2003
Net sales	$457,668	$451,053	$435,339	$442,904
Operating income (b)	36,210	42,424	38,090	39,158
Net earnings (b)	14,044	19,200	16,696	18,165
Basic earnings per share (a),(b)	$.20	$.27	$.24	$.26
Diluted earnings per share (a),(b)	$.20	$.27	$.23	$.25
2002
Net sales	$415,675	$411,982	$392,433	$415,957
Operating income (c)	32,784	34,839	31,194	26,216
Net earnings (loss) (c)	(45,549)	14,553	11,845	8,736
Basic earnings (loss) per share (a),(c)	$ (.68)	$.21	$.17	$.13
Diluted earnings (loss) per share (a),(c)	$ (.67)	$.21	$.17	$.12

- (a) Earnings per share calculations for each of the quarters are based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding in each period. Therefore, the sum of the quarters does not necessarily equal the full year earnings per share.
- (b) As discussed in the Notes to the Company's consolidated financial statements, operating income and net earnings for fiscal 2003 include first quarter special charges of $2.7 million ($1.7 million after-tax) consisting of a restructuring charge related to the integration of the business acquired from Air Products in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2002, and costs related to the consolidation of certain of the Company's hardgoods procurement functions.
- (c) As discussed in the Notes to the Company's consolidated financial statements, net earnings (loss) for fiscal 2002 include in the first quarter, a non-cash charge of $59 million, or $.86 per diluted share, as the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle for the write-down of goodwill to its fair value. Operating income and net earnings (loss) include in the fourth quarter, a litigation charge of $8.5 million ($5.7 million after-tax), or $.08 per diluted share, related to the Praxair litigation settlement.

(25) SUBSEQUENT EVENT

On May 13, 2003, the Company announced that its Board of Directors declared a quarterly cash dividend of $.04 per share to be paid on June 30, 2003 to stockholders of record as of June 13, 2003.

(26) CONDENSED CONSOLIDATING FINANCIAL INFORMATION OF SUBSIDIARY GUARANTORS

At March 31, 2003, the Company has $225 million of senior subordinated notes and $175 million of medium term notes (collectively, the Notes). The obligations of the Company under the Notes are guaranteed by the Company's domestic subsidiaries that guarantee the Company's revolving credit facilities (the Guarantors). The Company's joint venture operations, foreign holdings and bankruptcy remote special purpose entity (the Non-guarantors) are not guarantors of the Notes. The guarantees are made on a joint and several basis. The claims of creditors of Non-guarantor subsidiaries have priority over the rights of the Company to receive dividends or distributions from such subsidiaries. Presented below is condensed consolidating financial information for the Company, the Guarantors and the Non-guarantors as of March 31, 2003 and March 31, 2002 and for the years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001.
