Special Opportunities Fund, Inc.
Semi-Annual Report
For the six months ended
June 30, 2011

Special Opportunities Fund, Inc.

August 10, 2011

Dear Fellow Shareholders:

In the first half of 2011 the S&P 500 Index rose by 6.02% while the net asset value of Special Opportunities Fund advanced 6.15%.

So much for the past. I would be remiss if I ignored the severe correction that has occurred since June 30th. In my last semi-annual letter, I said: “While greed may be the order of the day, fear can raise its ugly head at any time.” With the caveat that things could change dramatically by the time shareholders receive this letter, fear has rather suddenly become the dominant emotion driving investors. As indicated in the table below, the first week of August was one of the worst in recent history for the stock market, capped by the downgrading of our Treasury debt.

	Week of 8/1/11 – 8/5/11	Period of 6/30/11 – 8/5/11	Year to Date (as of 8-5-11)
SPE (NAV Change)	-5.79%	-4.37%	0.00%
S&P 500	-7.15%	-9.04%	-3.56%

As these statistics suggest, we are risk averse. Thus, we tend to outperform in down or choppy markets. On the other hand, we expect to underperform the stock market when it booms, as was the case in the second half of 2010. For the most part, we eschew any attempt to predict markets. Instead, we focus on trying to find investments where we think we have an edge. By seeking out and exploiting inefficiencies in the marketplace, we hope to generate above average returns over time for our Fund with reduced risk. We also will use activism when necessary to try to unlock the value of our investments. This strategy has worked quite well for us in the past and we see no reason to alter it.

The opposite approach is to try to predict where the market will be in the near future and to buy or sell securities based upon that prediction. Maybe a few investment managers can do that consistently but we don’t know any of them. This year has been a prime example of how hard it is to translate predictions of geopolitical and macroeconomic developments into investment profits. Assume that on January 1, 2011 our crystal ball told us that the major world events between then and July 31, 2011 would be:

1. Greece will be on the precipice of bankruptcy (with Spain, Portugal, Ireland and Italy, like dominos, facing a similar fate).
2. Turmoil, regime change, and violence will take place in a number of autocratic Middle Eastern countries including Egypt, Libya, Iran and Syria.

Special Opportunities Fund, Inc.

3. Japan will suffer one of the most powerful earthquakes in history. As a result, there will be severe damage to infrastructure and factories supplying everything from high-tech components to steel. Around 4.4 million households in northeastern Japan will be left without electricity and explosions will occur at several nuclear reactors.

4. Unemployment in the United States will languish at more than 9%. It will remain difficult for businesses to get credit and home buyers to get a mortgage. The price of gold will exceed $1,600 per ounce.

5. The United States will come closer to defaulting on its debt than at any time in its history and may suffer a credit downgrade.

If we had to choose on January 1, 2011 between buying and selling short an S&P 500 index fund, what should we have done? Obviously, sell short. But, on July 31, 2011, the Index was still up 3.9%. Go figure!

Of course, no one could have known all these things. But, even if one could, there is no guarantee that such knowledge will be profitable to an investment manager. Beating the market is always tough – even if one is pretty sure what major events will occur. True, the market has deteriorated rapidly since the beginning of August – but that could easily have happened after the Japanese earthquake. The bottom line is that securities markets are inherently unpredictable. That is why we are generally agnostic about making forecasts. To reiterate, we just try to invest where we think we have an edge and use activism when necessary to try to unlock the value of our investments.

The primary reason we have outperformed during the recent market decline is our significant weighting in special purpose acquisition companies (SPACs) and auction rate preferred stock (ARPs) issued by closed-end funds. Both of these are low risk securities whose prices are usually unaffected by world events.

Despite the recent selloff, we see a bright future for Special Opportunities Fund. I personally purchased 5,000 shares of our Fund on August 8th, a day when the S&P 500 Index fell more than 6.6%. As typically happens when the market falls rapidly, discounts of closed-end funds widened. We took advantage of this phenomenon to purchase some of these funds. Whether the market rises or falls, we hope to gain “alpha” when their discounts narrow, as they inevitably have done in the past after that sort of panic selling runs its course. That is consistent with our philosophy that getting an edge – not trying to predict market moves – is the best way to beat the market over the long term without incurring undue risk.

Sincerely yours,

Phillip Goldstein
Chairman

Past performance does not predict future performance. The return and value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's share, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The Fund's common stock net asset value ("NAV") return assumes, for illustration only, that dividends and other distributions, if any, were reinvested at the NAV on payable dates for dividends and other distributions payable through December 31, 2009 and reinvested at the NAV on the ex-dividend date for dividends and other distributions payable after December 31, 2009. The Fund's common stock market price returns assume that all dividends and other distributions, if any, were reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's Dividend Reinvestment Plan (which was terminated on January 1, 2010) for dividends and other distributions payable through December 31, 2009 and reinvested at the lower of the NAV or the closing market price on the ex-dividend date for dividends and other distributions payable after December 31, 2009. NAV and market price returns for the period of less than one year have not been annualized. Returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder could pay on Fund dividends and other distributions, if any, or the sale of Fund shares.

*The Fund's investment objective and investment adviser have changed. See Note 1 of the Notes to financial statements for more information about the change in investment objective and see Note 2 of the Notes to financial statements for more information about the change in investment adviser. On January 25, 2010, the Fund began investing using its new investment objective, therefore, performance prior to that date is not relevant.

The S&P 500 Index is a capital weighted, unmanaged index that represents the aggregate market value of the common equity of 500 stocks primarily traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Financial highlights

- (1) Calculated using the average shares method.
- (2) Recognition of net investment income by the Fund is affected by the timing and declaration of dividends by the underlying investment companies in which the Fund invests.
- (3) Total net asset value return is calculated assuming a $10,000 purchase of common stock at the current net asset value on the first day of each period reported and a sale at the current net asset value on the last day of each period reported, and assuming reinvestment of dividends and other distributions at the net asset value on the payable date for dividends and other distributions payable through December 31, 2009 and reinvested at the NAV on the ex-dividend date for dividends and other distributions payable after December 31, 2009. Total investment return based on net asset value is hypothetical as investors can not purchase or sell Fund shares at net asset value but only at market prices. Returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder could pay on Fund dividends and other distributions, if any, or the sale of Fund shares.
- (4) Total market price return is calculated assuming a $10,000 purchase of common stock at the current market price on the first day of each period reported and a sale at the current market price on the last day of each period reported, and assuming reinvestment of dividends and other distributions to common shareholders at prices obtained under the Fund's Dividend Reinvestment Plan (which was terminated on January 1, 2010) for dividends and other distributions payable through December 31, 2009 and reinvested at the lower of the NAV or the closing market price on the ex-dividend date for dividends and other distributions payable after December 31, 2009. Total investment return does not reflect brokerage commissions and has not been annualized for the period of less than one year. Returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder could pay on Fund dividends and other distributions, if any, or the sale of Fund shares.
- (5) Annualized.
- (6) Interest expense represents interest and fees on short term floating rate notes issued in conjunction with inverse floating rate securities. Interest income from such transactions was included in income from investment operations.
- (7) Does not include expenses of the investment companies in which the Fund invests.

Note 1

Organization and significant accounting policies

Special Opportunities Fund, Inc. (formerly, Insured Municipal Income Fund Inc.) (the “Fund”) was incorporated in Maryland on February 18, 1993, and is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a closed-end diversified management investment company. Effective December 21, 2009, the Fund changed its name to the Special Opportunities Fund, Inc. and changed its investment objective to total return. There can be no assurance that the Fund’s investment objective will be achieved. The Fund’s previous investment objective was to achieve a high level of current income that was exempt from federal income tax, consistent with the preservation of capital.

In the normal course of business, the Fund may enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations or that provide indemnification for certain liabilities. The Fund’s maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, the Fund has not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts and expects the risk of loss to be remote.

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification Topic 105 Generally Accepted Accounting Principles requires the Fund’s management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates. In preparing these financial statements, the Fund has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure and has determined that there were no subsequent events requiring recognition or disclosure in the financial statements. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies:

Valuation of investments—The Fund calculates its net asset value based on the current market value for its portfolio securities. The Fund normally obtains market values for its securities from independent pricing sources and broker-dealers. Independent pricing sources may use last reported sale prices or if not available the most recent bid price, current market quotations or valuations from computerized “matrix” systems that derive values based on comparable securities. A matrix system incorporates parameters such as security quality, maturity and coupon, and/or research and evaluations by its staff, including review of broker-dealer market price quotations, if available, in determining the valuation of the portfolio securities. If a market value is not available from an independent pricing source or a broker-dealer for a particular security, that security is valued at fair value as determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Fund’s Board of Directors (the “Board”). Various factors may be reviewed in order to make a good faith determination of a security’s fair value.

Special Opportunities Fund, Inc.—

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

The auction rate preferred securities and the structured life settlement notes are valued at cost, unless other observable market events occur. The purchase price, or cost, of these securities is arrived at through an arms length transaction between a willing buyer and seller in the secondary market and is indicative of the value on the secondary market. Current transactions in similar securities in the marketplace are evaluated. Factors for other securities may include, but are not limited to, the type and cost of the security; contractual or legal restrictions on resale of the security; relevant financial or business developments of the issuer; actively traded similar or related securities; conversion or exchange rights on the security; related corporate actions; and changes in overall market conditions. If events occur that materially affect the value of securities between the close of trading in those securities and the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange, the securities may be fair valued. The amortized cost method of valuation, which approximates market value, generally is used to value short-term debt instruments with sixty days or less remaining to maturity, unless the Board or its delegate determines that this does not represent fair value.

The Fund has adopted fair valuation accounting standards that establish an authoritative definition of fair value and set out a hierarchy for measuring fair value. These standards require additional disclosures about the various input and valuation techniques used in measuring fair value. Fair value inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1—Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access.

Level 2—Observable inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs may include quoted prices for the identical instrument on an inactive market, prices for similar instruments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, yield curves, default rates and similar data.

Level 3—Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, to the extent relevant observable inputs are not available, representing the Fund's own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in valuing the asset or liability, and would be based on the best information available.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of security, whether the security is new and not yet established in the marketplace, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in Level 3.

Special Opportunities Fund, Inc.—

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement falls in its entirety, is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The following is a summary of the fair valuations according to the inputs used as of June 30, 2011 in valuing the Fund's investments:

	Quoted Prices in Active Markets	Significant Other Observable Inputs	Unobservable Inputs	Total
	for Identical Investments (Level 1)	(Level 2)	(Level 3)
Investment Companies	$ 59,198,128	$ 40,633	$ 17,971,625	$77,210,386
Common Stocks	11,191,506	13,420,040	—	24,611,546
Corporate Bonds	—	4,477,500	—	4,477,500
Convertible Bonds	—	—	350,000	350,000

Total	$ 77,557,273	$ 18,414,756	$ 19,413,818	$ 115,385,847

The following is a reconciliation of Level 3 assets for which significant unobservable inputs were used to determine fair value:

Balance as of December 31, 2010	$ 19,966,625
Accrued discounts / premiums	—
Realized gain (loss)	642,437
Change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation)	831,438

Sales	(5,322,307)
Transfers in and / or out of Level 3	—
Balance as of June 30, 2011	$ 19,413,818

There were transfers from Level 1 to Level 2 of $2,979,963 using market value as of June 30, 2011. The transfers were due to lack of trading volume on June 30, 2011. There were transfers from Level 2 to Level 1 of $2,425,000 using market value as of June 30, 2011. The transfers were due to increased trading volume on June 30, 2011. Transfers between levels are recognized at the end of the reporting period.

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

In May 2011, the FASB issued ASU No. 2011-04 “Amendments to Achieve Common Fair Value Measurement and Disclosure Requirements” in GAAP and the International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”). ASU No. 2011-04 amends FASB ASC Topic 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, to establish common requirements for measuring fair value and for disclosing information about fair value measurements in accordance with GAAP and IFRSs. ASU No. 2011-04 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2011 and for interim periods within those fiscal years. Management is currently evaluating the impact of these amendments and does not believe they will have a material impact on the Company’s financial statements.

Concentration risk—The Fund invested 15.44% of its net assets in auction rate preferred securities as of June 30, 2011. An active market for auction rate preferred securities does not exist. There is no guarantee that the Fund could receive the fair value price for these securities if it tried to sell them in the secondary market.

Investment transactions and investment income—Investment transactions are recorded on the trade date. Realized gains and losses from investment transactions are calculated using the identified cost method. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Discounts are accreted and premiums are amortized as adjustments to interest income and the identified cost of investments.

Dividends and distributions—Dividends from net investment income and distributions of net realized capital gains, if any, will be declared and paid at least annually. Dividends and distributions to common shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends from net investment income and distributions from net realized capital gains was determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. These “book/tax” differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the capital accounts based on their federal tax-basis treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassification.

Note 2

Investment adviser and administrator

Effective October 19, 2009, the Board appointed Brooklyn Capital Management, LLC (“Brooklyn”) as the interim investment adviser to the Fund. At a Special Meeting of Shareholders held on December 10, 2009, shareholders approved an investment advisory agreement between the Fund and Brooklyn. In accordance with the investment advisory agreement, the Fund is obligated to pay Brooklyn a monthly investment advisory fee at an annual rate of 1.00% of the Fund’s average weekly net assets. The Fund entered into an administrative services agreement (the “Administration Agreement”) with U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC (the “Administrator”), which was effective on October 19, 2009.

Special Opportunities Fund, Inc.—

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

Note 3

Auction preferred shares

The Fund was subject to certain restrictions relating to the APS. Failure to comply with these restrictions could have precluded the Fund from declaring any distributions to common shareholders or repurchasing common shares and/or could have triggered the mandatory redemption of APS at liquidation value.

All APS were redeemed in October 2009.

Note 4

Purchases and sales of securities

For the six months ended June 30, 2011, aggregate purchases and sales of portfolio securities, excluding short-term securities, were $41,305,571 and $43,340,399, respectively. The Fund did not have any purchases or sales of U.S. government securities during the six months ended June 30, 2011.

Note 5

Capital share transactions

The Fund did not have any capital share transactions during the six months ended June 30, 2011. During the year ended December 31, 2010, a total of 13,951,912 shares or approximately 67.63% of the Fund’s outstanding common shares were validly tendered pursuant to a tender offer approved by the Board. All such shares were accepted for payment at a price of $14.18 per share (99.5% of the NAV per common share of $14.25).

Note 6

Federal tax status

The Fund intends to distribute its income and to comply with the other requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies. Accordingly, no provision for federal income taxes is required. In addition, by distributing during each calendar year substantially all of its net investment income, net realized capital gains and certain other amounts, if any, the Fund would not to be subject to a federal excise tax.

Special Opportunities Fund, Inc.—

Notes to financial statements (unaudited)

The tax character of distributions paid during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2010 and the nine months ended December 31, 2009 were as follows:

	For the year ended December 31, 2010	For the nine months ended December 31, 2009	For the year ended March 31, 2009
Distributions paid from:
Tax-exempt income	$ 184,078	$ 11,378,171	$ 17,283,881
Ordinary income	16,215	—	2,066
Total distributions paid	$ 200,293	$ 11,378,171	$ 17,285,947

The Fund designated as long-term capital gain dividends, pursuant to Internal Revenue Code Section 852(b)(3), the amount necessary to reduce the earnings and profits for the Fund related to net capital gains to zero for the year ended December 31, 2010.

The following information is presented on an income tax basis as of December 31, 2010:

Tax cost of investments	$ 100,417,267
Unrealized appreciation	9,242,232
Unrealized depreciation	(375,673)
Net unrealized appreciation	8,866,559
Undistributed ordinary income	273,788
Undistributed long-term gains	—
Total distributable earnings	273,788
Other accumulated losses and other temporary differences	(3,645,121)
Total accumulated losses	5,495,226

At December 31, 2010, the Fund had a net capital loss carryforward of $3,645,121. This loss carryforward is available as a reduction, to the extent provided in the regulations, of any future net realized capital gains and will expire on December 31, 2016. To the extent that such losses are used to offset future net realized capital gains, it is probable these gains will not be distributed.

In accordance with U.S. Treasury regulations, the Fund may elect to defer realized capital losses arising after October 31, 2010. Such losses are treated for tax purposes as arising on January 1, 2011. The Fund did not defer any realized capital losses.

The Fund did not have any permanent “book/tax” differences for the year ended December 31, 2010.

For the year ended December 31, 2010, the Fund did not have any liabilities for any unrecognized tax positions. The Fund recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax positions as income tax expense in the Statement of operations. During the year ended December 31, 2010, the Fund did not incur any interest or penalties.

Each of the tax years in the two year period ended March 31, 2009, the nine months ended December 31, 2009 and the year ended December 31, 2010 remains subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service and state taxing authorities.

On December 22, 2010, The Regulated Investment Company Modernization Act of 2010 (the “Modernization Act”) was signed by The President. The Modernization Act is the first major piece of legislation affecting Regulated Investment Companies (“RICs”) since 1986 and it modernizes several of the federal income and excise tax provisions related to RICs. Some highlights of the enacted provisions are as follows:

New capital losses may now be carried forward indefinitely, and retain the character of the original loss. Under pre-enactment law, capital losses could be carried forward for eight years, and carried forward as short-term capital, irrespective of the character of the original loss.

The Modernization Act contains simplification provisions, which are aimed at preventing disqualification of a RIC for “inadvertent” failures of the asset diversification and/or qualifying income tests. Additionally, the Modernization Act exempts RICs from the preferential dividend rule, and repealed the 60-day designation requirement for certain types of pay-through income and gains.

Finally, the Modernization Act contains several provisions aimed at preserving the character of distributions made by a fiscal year RIC during the portion of its taxable year ending after October 31 or December 31, reducing the circumstances under which a RIC might be required to file amended Forms 1099 to restate previously reported distributions.

Except for the simplification provisions related to RIC qualification, the Modernization Act is effective for taxable years beginning after December 22, 2010. The provisions related to RIC qualification are effective for taxable years for which the extended due date of the tax return is after December 22, 2010.
