Quorum. The presence at the meeting, either in person or by proxy, of stockholders entitled to cast a majority of the votes entitled to be cast at the Annual Meeting will constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at the Annual Meeting. Abstentions, votes withheld and broker non-votes (i.e., shares held by a broker or nominee which are represented at the meeting, but with respect to which the broker or nominee is not voting on a particular proposal) will be included in the calculation of the number of shares considered to be present at the meeting for purposes of determining if a quorum exists. You should rely only on the information provided in this Proxy Statement. We have authorized no one to provide you with different information. You should not assume that the information in this Proxy Statement is accurate as of any date other than the date of this Proxy Statement or, where information relates to another date set forth in this Proxy Statement, then as of that date.

PROPOSAL 1

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The Company's Board of Directors is divided into three classes with staggered three-year terms. Currently, the Board of Directors has six members. The terms of current Directors K. Paul Singh and John F. DePodesta expire at the Annual Meeting, while the terms of the remaining Directors expire at the respective annual meetings of stockholders to be held in 2003 or 2004, as specified below. Messrs. Singh and DePodesta have been nominated and recommended for election to serve as directors for a three-year term expiring at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders to be held following the year ending December 31, 2004 (the "2005 Annual Meeting"). If, for any reason, at the time of election, any of the nominees named should decline or be unable to accept his nomination or election, it is intended that such proxy will be voted in favor of the election, in the nominee's place, of a substituted nominee, who would be recommended by the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors, however, has no reason to believe that any of the nominees will be unable or unwilling to serve as a director.

Information Regarding Directors

The information set forth below is submitted with respect to the nominees for election to the Board of Directors, as well as those Directors whose terms of office are continuing after the Annual Meeting. There are no family relationships among any of the directors of the Company.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Compensation Committee consists of Messrs. Earle and Hershberg. Set forth below is the full report of the Compensation Committee regarding the compensation of its executive officers on account of fiscal year 2001. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in any of the Company's filings under the Securities Act of 1933 or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that might incorporate SEC filings, in whole or in part, this Compensation Committee Report on Executive Compensation will not be incorporated by reference into any such filings.

General

During 2001, the compensation of the executive officers was administered and determined by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. The Company's executive compensation programs are designed to attract, motivate and retain the executive talent needed to optimize stockholder value in a competitive environment. The programs are intended to support the goal of increasing stockholder value while facilitating the business strategies and long-range plans of the Company.

Compensation Policy and Philosophy

The Company's executive compensation policy (i) is designed to establish an appropriate relationship between executive pay and the Company's annual performance against annual budgets and relative to the performance of the peer group of the industry sector, its long-term growth objectives and its ability to attract and retain qualified executive officers, and (ii) is based on the belief that the interests of the executives should be closely aligned with the Company's stockholders. In support of this philosophy, a meaningful portion of each executive's compensation is placed at-risk and linked to the accomplishment of specific results that are expected to lead to the creation of value for the Company's stockholders from both the short-term and long-term perspectives. The Compensation Committee believes that cash compensation in the form of salary and performance-based incentive bonuses provides company executives with short-term rewards for success in operations, and that long-term compensation through the award of stock options encourages growth in management stock ownership which are intended to lead to the creation of value for the Company's stockholders and expansion of management's stake in the long-term performance and success of the Company. The Compensation Committee considers all elements of compensation and the compensation policy when determining individual components of pay.

The Compensation Committee believes that leadership and motivation of the Company's employees are critical to achieving the objectives of the Company. The Compensation Committee is responsible for ensuring that its executive officers are compensated in a way that furthers the Company's business strategies and which aligns their interests with those of the stockholders. To support this philosophy, the following principles provide a framework for executive compensation: (i) offer compensation opportunities that attract the best talent to the Company; (ii) motivate individuals to perform at their highest levels; (iii) reward outstanding achievement; (iv) retain those with leadership abilities and skills necessary for building long-term stockholder value; (v) maintain a significant portion of executives' total compensation at-risk, tied to both the annual and long-term financial performance of the Company and the creation of incremental stockholder value; and (vi) encourage executives to manage from the perspective of owners with an equity stake in the Company.

Executive Compensation Components

As discussed below, the Company's executive compensation package is primarily comprised of three components: base salary, annual incentive bonuses and stock options.

Base Salary. For 2001, the Compensation Committee approved the base salaries of the executive officers based on (i) salaries paid to executive officers with comparable responsibilities employed by companies with comparable businesses, and (ii) performance and accomplishment of the Company in 2001, which is the most important factor, and (iii) individual performance reviews for 2001 for most executive officers. The Compensation Committee reviews executive officer salaries annually and exercises its judgment based on all the factors described above in making its determination, subject to the terms of such officer's employment agreement. No specific formula is applied to determine the weight of each criteria.

Annual Incentive Bonuses. Regular 2001 annual incentive bonuses for the Chief Executive Officer and the other Named Executive Officers were paid based upon the following criteria: (i) the Company's financial performance for the current year, which for 2001 included a significant level of debt and interest expense reduction and accelerated EBITDA generation from cost reductions and increased operational efficiency; (ii) the furthering of the Company's strategic position in the marketplace; and (iii) individual merit. In addition to regular annual incentive bonuses, the Compensation Committee, in November 2001, authorized a special bonus program to provide incentives for enhancing the Company's cash flow attributable to operations for the period from November 2001 to February 2002. Half of the special bonus that is attributable to the success of each applicable Named Executive Officer for November and December 2001 is reflected in the Summary Compensation Table on page 6. In return for the special bonus, each recipient entered into a retention agreement requiring the officer to remain with the Company through October 1, 2002.

Long-Term Incentive Compensation. Stock options encourage and reward effective management which results in long-term corporate financial success, as measured by stock price appreciation. The number of options granted during 2001 to each executive officer or employee was based primarily on the executive's or employee's ability to influence the Company's long-term growth and profitability. The Compensation Committee believes that option grants afford a desirable long-term compensation method because they closely ally the interests of management with stockholder value and that grants of stock options are the best way to motivate executive officers to improve long-term stock market performance. The vesting provisions of options granted under the Employee Option Plan are designed to encourage longevity of employment with the Company and generally extend over a three-year period.

Compensation of Chief Executive Officer

The Compensation Committee believes that K. Paul Singh, the Company's Chief Executive Officer, provides valuable services to the Company and that his compensation should therefore be competitive with that paid to executives at comparable companies. In addition, the Compensation Committee believes that an important portion of his compensation should be based on performance. Mr. Singh's annual base salary for 2001 remained unchanged at $400,000. The annual performance bonus paid to Mr. Singh for 2001 was $375,000. The factors which the Compensation Committee considered in setting his total compensation for the year 2001 were his individual and Company performance and pay practices of peer companies relating to executives of similar responsibility.

Internal Revenue Code Section 162

The Compensation Committee has reviewed the potential consequences for the Company of Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code, which imposes a limit on tax deductions for annual compensation in excess of one million dollars paid to any of the five most highly compensated executive officers. It is the current policy of the Compensation Committee to maximize, to the extent reasonably possible, the Company's ability to obtain a corporate tax deduction for compensation paid to executive officers of the Company to the extent consistent with the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. In calendar year 2001, the limitation under Section 162(m) had no net tax effect on the Company. The limitations of Section 162(m) are not expected to have a material effect on the Company in calendar year 2002.

REPORT OF THE AUDIT COMMITTEE

The Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed the audited consolidated financial statements of the Company for fiscal year 2001 with the Company's management, and also has discussed with Deloitte & Touche LLP, the Company's independent auditors, the matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61. The Audit Committee has received both the written disclosures and the letter from Deloitte & Touche LLP required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1, and has discussed with Deloitte & Touche LLP the independence of Deloitte & Touche LLP from the Company.

Based on the foregoing, the Audit Committee recommended to the Board of Directors of the Company that the audited consolidated financial statements of the Company for fiscal year 2001 be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC on April 16, 2002.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in any of the Company's filings under the Securities Act of 1933 or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that might incorporate SEC filings, in whole or in part, this Report of the Audit Committee will not be incorporated by reference into any such filings.

Respectfully submitted,

David Hershberg, one of the Company's directors, is the chairman, president and a stockholder of the vendor providing such services. The Company paid the vendor an approximately $100,000 one-time charge in 2000 and pays a monthly charge of $144,000.

Executive Officer Loans

On January 5, 2001, the Company loaned Neil L. Hazard the principal amount of $786,147 in the form of a full recourse note. The loan was made in connection with the exercise of options which were expiring and was payable in full five years from the date of agreement (subject to earlier repayments upon the termination of the officer's employment under certain circumstances) and was secured by shares of the Company's Common Stock obtained upon exercise of such options. Interest is compounded quarterly at a rate of 6% per annum and payable upon maturity. The portion of this note related to the issuance of stock was reflected as a reduction of additional paid-in capital. In November 2001, the Company's Board of Directors approved a rescission of the exercise of Mr. Hazard's options and as a result, the note was cancelled, the options expired and compensation expense of $0.5 million was recorded.

On December 13, 2000, the Company loaned Jay Rosenblatt the principal amount of $268,500. This loan is payable in full five years from the date of agreement (subject to earlier repayments upon the termination of Mr. Rosenblatt's employment under certain circumstances) and is secured by shares of the Company's Common Stock and is full recourse notes. Interest is compounded quarterly at a rate of 6% per annum and payable upon maturity. In February 2002, the Company entered into a Retention Agreement with Mr. Rosenblatt which provided that the personal recourse feature of the notes would be removed if Mr. Rosenblatt remained employed with the Company through May 1, 2003. The shares of the Company's Common Stock acquired upon exercise of Mr. Rosenblatt's options will continue to be held by the Company as collateral for the notes, which collateral had a value of $14,657 at March 31, 2002.

Subject to compliance with applicable securities law, the Company plans to offer employees the right to exchange stock options with an exercise price of $2.00 or more for a like number of options which will vest ratably each year over a two-year period. It is expected that the exercise price of the replacement options will be set based upon the market value of common stock approximately seven months from the date the program is initiated (unless extended or altered).
