Miramar Announces that the Nunavut Impact Review Board Makes Positive Recommendation on Doris North Project

VANCOUVER Miramar Mining Corporation is pleased to announce today that the Nunavut Impact Review Board (the NIRB) has issued its final hearing report recommending to the Minister of Indian and Northern Affairs Canada that the Doris North Project should proceed. The NIRB report completes the environmental impact assessment conducted by the NIRB under Part 5 of Article 12 of the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement. The NIRB report requires acceptance by the Minister before the NIRB can issue a project certificate. The NIRB reviewed the Environmental Impact Statement on the Doris North Project (the EIS) submitted by Miramar Hope Bay Ltd. (a wholly owned subsidiary of Miramar Mining Corporation) and conducted public hearings in Cambridge Bay, Nunavut during the week of January 30 February 3, 2006.

The NIRB's recommendation represents a significant milestone for our company and for the communities of Nunavut that will directly benefit from the Doris North project, said Tony Walsh, President and CEO of Miramar Mining Corporation. We appreciate the very thorough review conducted by the NIRB and the support shown for the project by the local communities and Inuit organizations. Pending acceptance of the NIRB report by the Minister and the issuance of a project certificate by the NIRB, we will look forward to working with the various agencies and stakeholders to obtain the individual permits and licences required to put the Doris North project into production. Miramar will also continue with its work to bring forward future phases of production from the Hope Bay belt.

The NIRB report recommends that the project proceed subject to certain terms and conditions. Miramar has completed a preliminary review of these terms and conditions and believes that Miramar will be able to satisfy them. The NIRB will be posting its report on its website at www.nirb.nunavut.ca or on its FTP site at www.ftp.nunavut.ca/nirb.

In order to construct, operate and close the Doris North Project, Miramar will require permits, authorizations and agreements under regulatory processes from various authorities and organizations, including a water licence from the Nunavut Water Board, an Inuit Impact and Benefits Agreement with the Kitikmeot Inuit Association (an agreement in principle is in place), an authorization from the Department of Fisheries and Oceans, an amendment to Schedule 2 of the Metal Mining Effluent Regulations, and various other leases and authorizations. These authorities and organizations participated in the NIRB hearings.

Production Timeline

Miramar had initially targeted production for Doris North to commence in 2007. This was contingent on receiving all permits and licenses in a manner that would allow mobilizing during the 2006 shipping season. Miramar now anticipates that permits should be obtained in 2006 in order to permit shipping of equipment to Hope Bay in the summer of 2007, enabling production to commence in 2008.

Hope Bay Project

The Doris North project will be the first operating mine from within the broader Hope Bay project. The Hope Bay project is 100% owned by Miramar, extends over 1,000 sq.km. and encompasses one of the most prospective undeveloped greenstone belts in Canada. The belt contains a number of significant gold deposits including the Doris North Project which is anticipated to become the first new gold mine in Nunavut.
