"SolidWorks produced excellent results, achieving record revenues and record new licenses in 2004. It continues to win over many former 2D users with software solutions delivering significant power, ease of use and quick return on investment. Based upon its revenue performance in 2004, we are pleased that, once again, SolidWorks maintains its market leadership position in the entry 3D market.

"In summary, 2004 was a year of strong performance as well as a period in which we made significant investments for our growth in the years to come. The Company is well-positioned to deliver new, breakthrough technologies in PLM based upon our strategic focus on Research and Development. These investments are enabling our end-to-end PLM software solutions to provide value to our customers in innovation and productivity, and are driving our penetration of key vertical industries and entry into new business lines as we are doing in Automation," Mr. Charles concluded.

Strategy, Technology and Partnerships

During the fourth quarter Dassault Systemes and Microsoft Corp. announced a multiyear, global strategic alliance to deliver Dassault Systemes product lifecycle management (V5 PLM) and 3D design solutions to companies of all sizes taking advantage of the Microsoft(R) software platform. By capitalizing on the Microsoft platform, the companies intend to deliver greater customer value through solutions that are easy to use, deploy and maintain with reduced ownership and integration costs. This alliance enables a far broader set of customers to realize the benefits of 3D collaboration and PLM. Microsoft and Dassault Systemes have also agreed to explore opportunities to work together to encourage broad market adoption of XML for 3D applications across the design and graphics industry.

Dassault Systemes and CAXA, the leading domestic PLM vendor in China, entered into a strategic alliance during the fourth quarter to create and sell design packages developed in China based on Dassault Systemes V5 PLM technology. These solutions will be developed in a joint R&D center operated by CAXA in Beijing combining CAXA's R&D expertise and technology with Dassault Systemes 3D PLM solutions and V5 technology components. Through the strategic alliance, CAXA will develop and market in China CAXA V5, a new generation of integrated and scalable 2D and 3D PLM solutions for the Chinese market that embed V5 technology components from Dassault Systemes.

Delmia Corp. and OMRON Corp., a leading manufacturer of control equipment for factory automation, entered into a strategic partnership in November through which OMRON will distribute DELMIA Automation as its new collaborative programming desktop for control engineers. OMRON becomes a DELMIA business partner and will integrate DELMIA Automation into its new generation of Control and Network Solutions using Dassault Systemes' Component Application Architecture Version 5 (CAA V5).

In early January 2005, Dassault Systemes completed the previously announced acquisition of RAND Worldwide's subsidiaries in the United Kingdom, Sweden, Germany and Switzerland, plus the subsidiary Rand Technologies C.I.S., Inc., which serves Russia and also increased its ownership of RAND North America, Inc. to 70% from 60%.

Business Outlook

Thibault de Tersant stated, "Looking to the full year 2005, we believe the Company is positioned to accelerate revenue growth in constant currencies in comparison to 2004. We are, therefore, reconfirming our revenue growth objective of approximately 11% to 12% in constant currencies. We are adjusting our reported revenue objective to approximately (euro)865-875 million for 2005, simply reflecting a weaker U.S. dollar to Euro exchange rate of $1.30 per (euro)1.00, from $1.25. Our EPS objective for 2005 is about (euro)1.45-1.47 per share excluding acquisition costs and stock-based compensation expense and this objective is based upon the same exchange rate assumptions as for reported revenue. For the first quarter of 2005, our objective is to grow revenues year over year about 9-12% in constant currencies, translating to a reported revenue objective of about (euro)190-195 million with the same exchange rate assumption. Our EPS objective for the first quarter is about (euro)0.25-0.26 per share excluding acquisition costs and stock-based compensation expense.

"We have elected to proceed with an early adoption of SFAS 123(R), Share-Based Payments, as of January 1, 2005. We estimate that stock-based compensation expense in 2005 would have less than a 1 percentage point impact on operating margin. While the actual number of stock options and their cost may vary, we believe this is a conservative assumption to take at this point in time.

"Reflecting our 2005 revenue objective, investment plans and key currency exchange rate assumptions, the Company has set a 2005 operating margin objective of about 29% excluding acquisition costs and stock-based compensation expense, unchanged from our preliminary views and stable with 2004."

Endnotes:

1. All comparative figures are given on a year-over-year basis unless specified otherwise.
2. All financial information is unaudited and reported in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (U.S. GAAP). Additional financial information is also presented that is not in conformity with U.S. GAAP, in particular the presentation of operating income, operating margin and earnings per share excluding acquisition costs (acquisition costs are primarily comprised of technology amortization in addition to other acquisition-related costs). The Company has provided in the tables to this press release and on its website <http://www.3ds.com/corporate/investors/> reconciliations between U.S. GAAP and non-U.S. GAAP figures.
3. The Company uses constant currency revenue growth to evaluate its financial performance in comparison to prior periods and as a measure of expected growth in planning and setting objectives for future periods. The Company believes this measure is an important indicator of the Company's progress and outlook because it provides a better gauge of the level of change in the business activity as it eliminates any changes arising from currency fluctuations. The Company believes the presentation of this measure is relevant and useful for investors because it allows investors to view revenue growth in a manner similar to the method used by the Company's management, helps improve investors' ability to understand the Company's revenue growth, and makes it easier to compare the Company's results with other companies, including competitors, whose reporting currency may be different from Dassault Systemes. Constant currency revenue growth, as calculated by the Company, may not be comparable to similarly titled measures employed by other companies.

In particular, the table presents operating income, operating margin and earnings per share excluding acquisition costs (acquisition costs are primarily comprised of technology amortization in addition to other acquisition-related costs).

The Company uses these non-U.S. GAAP measures, among other things, to evaluate the Company's operating performance and for planning and setting objectives for future periods. The Company believes these non-U.S. GAAP measures are useful to investors because they provide an alternative method for measuring the operating performance of the Company's business by isolating the effect of acquisition costs, which do not impact the underlying business. In addition, these measures are among the primary measures used externally by analysts for purposes of valuation and the comparing operating performance of the Company to other companies in the industry.

Since these measures of performance are not calculated in accordance with U.S. GAAP, they should not be considered in isolation of, or as a substitute for, operating income, operating margin and earnings per share including acquisition costs, as an indicator of operating performance.
