The following FAQs were provided to the employees of General Electric Company on July 12, 2018:

GENERAL Q&A

What are the next steps, and when can we expect the next communication? Will we have concrete answers prior to the finalization of the deal? (Added 7-12-2018)

There are many details that will be worked out between now and closing of the transaction. We will communicate on a regular and timely basis as decisions which affect our employees are made.

HR/BENEFITS

Are Transportation employees allowed to post on Wabtec jobs now? (Added 7-12-2018)

Neither GE or Wabtec is permitted to solicit employees of the other company under the existing non-solicit that is part of the NDA. Should you post for and be hired by Wabtec prior to the close of the transaction, you will be considered as having resigned from the GE company and will go through the GE exit process. In doing so, your service credit with GE would not transfer to the new company as it would had you been a GE employee at the time of the close of the transaction. The hiring systems of the two companies must remain separate before closing under the anti-trust gun jumping rules.

What will our benefits look like after close? (Added 7-12-2018)

Subject to local law, GE and Wabtec are working through the integration and transition process, and information about changes to any pay or benefits (including leave policies, tuition reimbursement, healthcare (including in network doctors), disability, life insurance, etc.) will be communicated closer to the close of the transaction; however, GE and Wabtec have agreed that compensation and benefits for each employee will be held comparable in the aggregate for at least 12 months after closing.

Will the new company honor the current union contract until it expires in June 2019? (Added 7-12-2018)

The contracts between GE Transportation and its constituent unions (there are several different collective bargaining agreements) will continue in effect until closing. Under applicable law, Wabtec is not obligated to assume any of the collective bargaining agreements after closing and Wabtec will be making the decisions regarding bargaining with the unions.

Does Wabtec have affinity groups like Women's Network, GLBTA, etc.? (Added 7-12-2018)

We are still discovering what employee network or affinity groups Wabtec has in place. Information about these groups will be provided as we know more.

Who will be determining our raises every year and what does career advancement look like at Wabtec? (Added 7-12-2018)

Wabtec will be responsible for determining its compensation philosophy and structure in the future, but we anticipate that your merit increases will continue to be directly linked to your performance, and your leadership team will determine an appropriate raise amount. As far as career advancement goes, both your past experiences and job performance will determine your ability to compete for new roles that are of interest.

Who will be involved in figuring out our new benefits? (Added 7-12-2018)

GE and Wabtec are working through the integration and transition process, and information about any new benefits, where applicable and subject to local law, will be communicated closer to the close of the transaction.

Is Wabtec union or non-union? (Added 7-12-2018)

Wabtec operates union represented sites and also has sites where employees are not represented by a union.

If Wabtec does not have a pension, will our other benefits go up to compensate for a loss? And what do you mean by “benefits comparable in the aggregate”? (U.S. Only) (Added 7-12-2018) Wabtec agreed that for one year following the close of the transaction, employees would be provided the same pay and bonus opportunities and employee benefits having a comparable aggregate value to the ones you have today. This means, where there are changes in the benefits or plans, then the overall value of your new benefits, when taken as a whole, will be comparable, despite there being some differences in any specific benefit or plan. Information about any benefits changes will be communicated closer to the close of the transaction.

Will I lose my accrued personal time? (Added 7-12-2018)

No. Wabtec agreed to honor all obligations of the company for accrued, unused vacation and paid time off.

Will my seniority carry over to the new company when it comes to job posting, layoff and recall? (Added 7-12-2018) Assuming you accept an offer of employment with the new Wabtec entity, Wabtec has agreed to credit your service with GE where relevant for purposes of administering Wabtec benefits, such as for eligibility, vesting or the calculation of vacation, severance, layoff or similar employee benefit plans, programs or arrangements.

How does one become eligible for Special Benefits Protection coverage? I have almost 34 years of continued service as a salaried employee, am I eligible? (Added 7-12-2018)

Special Benefits Protection eligibility generally applies to employees under age 60 with at least 25 years of PQS that experience a qualifying event – if you are not sure, consult your online benefits handbook or call the benefits center at 1-866-234-9230.

Will the Crotonville leadership classes still be available to us? (Added 7-12-2018)

No. Crotonville courses are a benefit to active GE employees. Upon close of the transaction, Crotonville courses will no longer be available to you.

Will Wabtec require college degrees in certain positions like GE does? (Added 7-12-2018)

There will always be a set of minimum requirements specific to every job posted for hire subject to local law. The hiring of individuals into roles will be subject to those requirements and the applicants for each position.

What will happen to points I have been awarded through GE's Impact Award program? Do I need to redeem those points before the close? (Added 7-12-2018)

Whether you terminate employment now or transfer to Wabtec, points will remain in your account. Since the Impact Award program is SSO enabled, employees will no longer have direct access to the application. Awards should be redeemed via email or phone by contacting Globoforce customer service, accessible here.

Are union members going to have to reapply for our current jobs? (Added 7-12-2018)

Wabtec has agreed to offer employment to all GE Transportation employees on active payroll at closing in terms to be determined.

When we transition to Wabtec, how will pre-existing conditions (such as cancer) be handled for medical plans? (Added 7-12-2018)

Wabtec has agreed to waive limitations on benefits relating to any pre-existing conditions of employees who transfer or continue employment with a Wabtec entity. Also, under the ACA, health insurers cannot refuse coverage or charge more for coverage based on a pre-existing condition.

Will GET be offering internships next summer or will I have to apply through Wabtec? (Added 7-12-2018)

As we expect the deal to close before next summer, that would mean that any internship program would be offered through and managed by Wabtec.

Will there still be a union or will it be dissolved? (Added 7-12-2018)

Wabtec has agreed to comply with any legal obligation it may have under the NLRA to recognize, and, if requested to, bargain in good faith as a successor employer with any union that represents employees who are offered and accept employment with the new Wabtec entity.

Will Wabtec cut our pay? (Added 7-12-2018)

Wabtec has indicated to our leadership that it has no plans to reduce pay at Transportation non-union operations following the one-year post close period. At union locations, in the event of post-closing negotiations, wage rates could increase, decrease or stay the same. We cannot predict the result.

Will they cut the number of weeks of vacation we currently have earned upon close? (Added 7-12-2018)

No. Wabtec agreed to provide at least the same amount of vacation that you would have been entitled to under the GE Transportation vacation plan in place at close.

Retirement / Pension

Will we be able to carry over our GE service time when we move over to Wabtec and do they offer a pension plan? (U.S. Only) (Added 7-12-2018)

Assuming you accept an offer of employment with the new Wabtec entity, Wabtec has agreed to credit your service with GE where relevant for purposes of administering Wabtec benefits. Regarding pension, Wabtec will develop and provide a replacement for the GE Pension Plan to transferring GE employees. The replacement plan will be developed over the next several months. The new plan may be a defined contribution plan rather than the current defined benefit plan, but even if that's the case your full benefit package will still be comparable in the aggregate at close.

Can I still retire under the GE pension plan at age 60 after I become a Wabtec employee? (Added 7-12-2018)

If you are a participant in the GE pension plan who transfers to Wabtec at closing you will automatically be vested in your GE pension, and you will be eligible to start receiving your benefit at age 60 (even if you are still working for Wabtec). If you keep your address updated with GE Benefits Center, you should receive a notification shortly before you turn 60 with details about starting your payments.
