SUMMARY TERM SHEET

The following summary highlights selected information in this proxy statement and may not contain all the information that may be important to you. Accordingly, we encourage you to read carefully this entire proxy statement, its annexes and the documents referred to in this proxy statement. Each item in this summary includes a page reference directing you to a more complete description of that topic. References to we, us, our, PHH Corporation, or the Company in this proxy statement refer to PHH Corporation and its subsidiaries and does not include certain joint ventures in which we, directly or indirectly through our subsidiaries, own interests unless otherwise indicated or the context otherwise requires.

The Parties to the Merger (Page [1])

PHH Corporation

PHH Corporation, a Maryland corporation, is a leading outsource provider of residential mortgages and vehicle fleet management services. We conduct our business through three operating segments, a mortgage production segment, a mortgage servicing segment and a fleet management services segment. Our mortgage production segment originates, purchases and sells mortgage loans through PHH Mortgage Corporation, its subsidiaries and affiliates (collectively, PHH Mortgage), which includes PHH Home Loans, LLC (PHH Home Loans). Our mortgage servicing segment services mortgage loans that either PHH Mortgage or PHH Home Loans originates. Our mortgage servicing segment also purchases mortgage servicing rights (MSRs) and acts as a subservicer for certain clients that own the underlying MSRs. In this proxy statement, we refer to our mortgage production and servicing segments collectively as our mortgage business. Our fleet management services segment provides commercial fleet management services to corporate clients and government agencies throughout the United States and Canada through PHH Vehicle Management Services Group LLC, doing business as PHH Arval (PHH Arval). PHH Arval is a fully integrated provider of fleet management services with a broad range of offerings, including management and leasing of vehicles and other fee-based services for vehicle fleets. In this proxy statement, we refer to the operations conducted by our fleet management services segment as our fleet management business.

For more information about us, please visit our website at www.phh.com. Our website address is provided as an inactive textual reference only. The information provided on our website is not part of this proxy statement, and therefore is not incorporated by reference. Our common stock is publicly traded on the NYSE under the symbol PHH. Our executive offices are located at 3000 Leadenhall Road, Mt. Laurel, New Jersey 08054 and our telephone number is (856) 917-1744.

General Electric Capital Corporation

General Electric Capital Corporation (GE Capital) was incorporated in 1943 in the State of New York under the provisions of the New York Banking Law relating to investment companies. On July 2, 2001, GE Capital reincorporated and changed its domicile from New York to Delaware. All outstanding common stock of GE Capital is owned by General Electric Capital Services, Inc., the common stock of which is in turn wholly owned directly or indirectly by General Electric Company. Through its division GE Capital Solutions Fleet Services, GE Capital offers a broad range of financial services throughout North America with more than 934,265 commercial vehicles under lease and service management.

Additional information about GE Capital Solutions Fleet Services is available on its website at <http://www.gecapsol.com>. The information contained on this website is not incorporated into, and does not form a part of, this proxy statement or any other report or document on file with or furnished to the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC). GE Capital's principal executive office is located at 3135 Easton Turnpike, Fairfield, Connecticut, and its telephone number is (203) 373-2211.

Jade Merger Sub, Inc.

Jade Merger Sub, Inc. (the merger sub), a Maryland corporation, is currently a wholly owned subsidiary of GE Capital. Merger sub was formed exclusively for the purpose of effecting the merger. Merger sub has not carried on any activities to date other than those incident to its formation and the negotiation and execution of the merger agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby. Merger sub's principal executive offices are located at [1], and its telephone number is [1].

The merger agreement provides that merger sub will merge with and into the Company (the merger). We will be the surviving corporation (the surviving corporation) in the merger. Upon completion of the merger, you will be entitled to receive $31.50 in cash, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes, for each share of our common stock that you own. See Exchange and Payment Procedures beginning on page [1]. We refer to this amount in this proxy statement as the merger consideration. As a result of the merger, PHH Corporation will cease to be an independent, publicly traded company and will be wholly owned by GE Capital. Our common stock will no longer be listed on any stock exchange or quotation system and will be delisted from the NYSE. The registration of our common stock under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act) will be terminated upon application to the SEC. Additionally, in conjunction with the merger, GE Capital entered into a separate agreement with Pearl Mortgage Acquisition 2 L.L.C. (the Mortgage Business Purchaser) to sell our mortgage business. We refer to this agreement as the mortgage business sale agreement in this proxy statement. The mortgage business sale agreement includes provisions that affect the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, and is further described in the section of this proxy statement captioned Mortgage Business Sale Agreement beginning on page [1]. The Mortgage Business Purchaser was formed solely to effect the acquisition of our mortgage business and is an affiliate of The Blackstone Group (Blackstone).

We have been informed that at the closing, GE Capital will assume and/or repay all of our outstanding indebtedness which, as of March 31, 2007, aggregated approximately $7,834 million. The assumption and/or repayment of such indebtedness, when taken together with the aggregate merger consideration payable by GE Capital in the merger and the aggregate consideration to be received by holders of stock options and restricted stock units, would, assuming the closing of the merger occurred on March 31, 2007, have resulted in the effective payment by GE Capital of a total dollar amount equal to approximately $9,607 million in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger.

We have been advised that pursuant to the terms and conditions of the mortgage business sale agreement, the Mortgage Business Purchaser has agreed to pay GE Capital an amount in cash to be adjusted in accordance with a formula that takes into account, among other things, the repayment of a portion of outstanding indebtedness assumed by GE Capital and the payment of certain of our transaction expenses. If calculated as of March 31, 2007, we have been advised by GE Capital and the Mortgage Business Purchaser, based upon certain financial information provided by us, that such amount would have resulted in a payment by the Mortgage Business Purchaser of approximately $3,115 million, which includes an amount equal to approximately $2,346 million to be paid in respect of outstanding indebtedness allocated to the mortgage business and to be repaid by GE Capital. The Mortgage Business Purchaser has also agreed to assume certain outstanding indebtedness of the Company of the mortgage business, which, based upon certain financial information provided by us, we have been advised by GE Capital and the Mortgage Business Purchaser, was approximately $1,911 million as of March 31, 2007. The amount of such assumed indebtedness, when taken together with the portion of the purchase price to be paid to GE Capital by the Mortgage Business Purchaser in respect of the indebtedness of the Company allocated to our mortgage business, aggregated approximately $4,257 million as of March 31, 2007. GE Capital and the Mortgage Business Purchaser have also advised us that the cash payment to GE Capital, when taken together with the assumption of such indebtedness, would have resulted in the effective payment by the Mortgage Business Purchaser of a total dollar amount (calculated as of March 31, 2007) equal to approximately $5,026 million in connection with its acquisition of the mortgage business, or approximately 52% of the effective payment to be made by GE Capital in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger. The dollar amounts and percentages expressed above are only indicative of the consideration that would have been paid had the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, and the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement been consummated as of March 31, 2007.

Date, Time and Place. The special meeting will be held on [1], 2007 starting at [1] a.m., local time, at the [1] located at [1].

Purpose. At the special meeting, you will be asked to consider and vote upon (1) a proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger, pursuant to which merger sub will merge with and into PHH Corporation, (2) a proposal to approve any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies, and (3) such other business as may properly come before the special meeting or any adjournments or postponements thereof.

Record Date. You are entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the special meeting if you owned shares of our common stock at the close of business on [1], 2007, the record date specified by our board of directors for the special meeting. You will have one vote for each share of our common stock that you owned on the record date. As of the record date, there were [1] shares of our common stock issued and outstanding and entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the special meeting.

Vote Required; Quorum. The merger agreement and the merger must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of our common stock outstanding on the record date and entitled to vote at the special meeting. We refer to this vote as the requisite stockholder vote in this proxy statement. Holders of at least a majority of our common stock issued and outstanding as of the record date and entitled to vote at the special meeting must be present in person or by proxy at the special meeting to constitute a quorum to conduct business at the special meeting. In the event that a quorum is not present at the special meeting, we expect that we will adjourn or postpone the special meeting to solicit additional proxies.

For the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger, you may vote FOR, AGAINST or ABSTAIN. Abstentions will not be counted as votes cast or shares voting on the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger, but will count for the purpose of determining whether a quorum is present at the special meeting. If you abstain, it will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger.

The merger agreement provides that, immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, each outstanding, unexercised stock option (whether vested or not) shall be deemed to be fully vested at the effective time of the merger and shall be canceled, and the holder thereof shall be entitled to receive, at the effective time of the merger or as soon as practicable thereafter, an amount of cash, less applicable withholding taxes, equal to:

the aggregate number of shares of our common stock underlying such stock option immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, multiplied by the excess of $31.50 over the exercise price per share of our common stock subject to such stock option.

In addition, under the terms of the merger agreement, at the effective time of the merger, each restricted stock unit that is outstanding or earned but not awarded immediately prior to the effective time of the merger (whether vested or unvested) shall be deemed to be fully vested and shall be canceled, entitling the holder thereof to the right to receive, at the effective time of the merger or as soon as practicable thereafter, an amount of cash, equal to the aggregate number of shares of our common stock underlying such restricted stock unit immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, multiplied by $31.50, less any applicable withholding taxes.

Our board of directors, at a special meeting held on March 13, 2007, after due consideration, unanimously:
(i) determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, are advisable and in the best interests of our stockholders, (ii) approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, along with other transaction documents presented to the board of directors relating to the merger, and (iii) directed that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, be submitted for consideration by our common stockholders at the special meeting of stockholders. Our board of directors unanimously recommends that the holders of our common stock vote FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger. For a discussion of the factors considered by our board of directors in reaching its conclusions, see Background of the Merger beginning on page [1].

Interests of Our Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger (Page [1])

In considering the recommendation of the board of directors with respect to the merger and the merger agreement, you should be aware that certain of our directors and executive officers may have interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, your interests as a stockholder and that such interests may present actual or potential conflicts of interest. Such interests include, among other matters:

severance payments and benefits payable to certain of our executive officers upon termination of employment pursuant to our existing policies or agreements;

retention bonuses payable to certain of our executive officers in order to retain their services at least through the consummation of the merger;

accelerated vesting of certain equity awards; and rights to continued indemnification and insurance coverage after the merger for acts or omissions occurring prior to the merger.

As of the date of this proxy statement, except for Mr. George J. Kilroy, a member of our board of directors and the President and Chief Executive Officer of PHH Arval, who has entered into an offer letter with GE Capital Solutions pursuant to which he is expected to become the Chairman of GE Capital Solutions Fleet Services upon consummation of the merger (as described below), none of our executive officers have entered into any agreement, arrangement or understanding with GE Capital, Blackstone or their respective affiliates, regarding employment or other matters.

Following the execution of the merger agreement and the mortgage business sale agreement, Blackstone has held preliminary discussions with Mr. Terence W. Edwards, a member of our board of directors and the chief executive officer of the Company, regarding possible terms of his continued employment following the consummation of the merger. In addition, Blackstone has informed us that it is their intention to engage in discussions with additional executive officers involved in the mortgage business regarding (i) the terms of their continued employment, and (ii) the right to participate in the equity of and the right to participate in equity-based incentive compensation plans for the mortgage business following the consummation of the merger. Such arrangements remain to be negotiated and no terms have been finalized. It is expected that any such arrangements will be negotiated and finalized prior to the consummation of the merger, although we cannot presently determine whether such negotiations will result in agreements, arrangements or understandings.

As of the record date, our directors and executive officers held in the aggregate approximately [1] % of the shares of our common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting.

Each of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated (Merrill Lynch) and Gleacher Partners LLC (Gleacher Partners) (collectively, the financial advisors), delivered its opinion to our board of directors that, as of the date of its opinion and based upon and subject to the assumptions, qualifications and limitations set forth in its opinion, the merger consideration to be received by holders of our common stock in the merger was fair, from a financial point of view, to such stockholders.

The full text of the written opinion of each of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners, dated March 14, 2007, which set forth the assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken in connection with the opinions, are attached to this document as Annex B and Annex C, respectively. You are urged to read each opinion carefully in its entirety.

Table of Contents

Each written opinion is addressed to our board of directors and special committee, is directed only to the consideration to be paid pursuant to the merger, and does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of shares of our common stock should vote at our special meeting with respect to the merger agreement and the merger.

Under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the HSR Act) and the rules promulgated thereunder by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), neither the merger nor the sale of our mortgage business by GE Capital to the Mortgage Business Purchaser may be consummated until the requisite notification and report forms have been filed with the FTC and the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice (the DOJ), and the applicable waiting periods have expired or been terminated. On March 23, 2007, we and GE Capital filed the requisite notification and report forms under the HSR Act with the FTC and the Antitrust Division of the DOJ with respect to the merger. The waiting period relating to the merger expired on April 23, 2007. On March 30, 2007, we and an affiliate of Blackstone filed the requisite notification and report forms under the HSR Act with the FTC and the Antitrust Division of the DOJ with respect to the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement. On April 11, 2007, the FTC and the Antitrust Division of the DOJ granted early termination of the waiting period relating to the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement.

Under Canada's Competition Act, the merger may not be completed until Canada's Commissioner of Competition issues an advance ruling certificate or waives the applicable notification requirements, or until prescribed notification information has been filed with the Commissioner of Competition and the applicable waiting period has expired. On March 29, 2007, GE Capital requested that the Commissioner of Competition either issue an advance ruling certificate or indicate that the Commissioner did not intend to challenge the merger and waive the parties' obligation to file prescribed notification information under the Competition Act. On April 13, 2007, the Commissioner of Competition issued an advance ruling certificate in respect of the merger.

On May 7, 2007, certain affiliates of Blackstone filed an application with the New York State Department of Insurance pursuant to New York Insurance Law in connection with the proposed change in control of Atrium Insurance Corporation (Atrium), a New York domiciled mortgage guaranty insurer and a subsidiary of the Company. In addition, on May 25, 2007, GE Capital filed a request for an exemption with the New York Department of Insurance relating to the change in control of Atrium due to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement and the mortgage business sale agreement. The approvals and notices required to complete the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement also include the approvals of various state regulatory authorities and notices to various state authorities relating to ownership changes with respect to our mortgage business. We cannot assure you, however, that these consents, waivers, approvals, permits or authorizations will be obtained in a timely manner, or at all.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences (Page [1])

The receipt of cash in exchange for shares of our common stock pursuant to the merger generally will be a taxable transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In general, holders of our common stock whose shares of common stock are converted into the right to receive cash in the merger will recognize capital gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes in an amount equal to the difference, if any, between the amount of cash received with respect to such shares and the stockholder's adjusted tax basis in such shares. You should consult your tax advisor for a complete analysis of the effect of the merger on your federal, state and local and/or foreign taxes.

Conditions to the Merger (Page [1])

Conditions to Each Party's Obligations. Each party's obligation to complete the merger is subject to the satisfaction or waiver, at or prior to the effective time of the merger, of the following mutual conditions:

we shall have obtained the requisite stockholder vote;

no governmental authority shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any injunction, order, decree or ruling that would make the consummation of the merger illegal or otherwise prohibit the consummation of the merger; and all waiting periods or extensions thereof applicable to the merger or any of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, under the HSR Act or the Canadian Antitrust Law shall have expired or early termination thereof shall have been granted.

Conditions to GE Capital's and Merger Subsidiary's Obligations. The obligation of GE Capital and merger sub to complete the merger is subject to the satisfaction or waiver, at or prior to the effective time of the merger, of the following additional conditions:

our representations and warranties must be true and correct, subject to certain materiality thresholds;

we must have performed in all material respects the obligations, and complied in all material respects with the agreements and covenants to be performed or complied with by us under the merger agreement;

there shall not be any action, investigation, proceeding or litigation instituted, commenced, pending or threatened by or before any governmental entity relating to the merger, transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement in which a governmental entity is a party that would or is reasonably likely to (a) restrain, enjoin, prevent, restrict, prohibit or make illegal the acquisition of some or all of the shares of our common stock by GE Capital or merger sub or the consummation of the merger or the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, or (b) result in a governmental investigation or material governmental damages being imposed on GE Capital or the surviving corporation or any of their respective affiliates;

the merger and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement and the mortgage business sale agreement, respectively, shall have been approved by the New York State Insurance Department;

certain specified consents, approvals, notifications, or certificates (including the approval of certain state and federal regulatory authorities related to the sale of our mortgage business) shall have been obtained and copies of such consents shall have been delivered by us to GE Capital;

we shall have filed all forms, reports, and other documents required to be filed with the SEC with respect to periods from January 1, 2006 through the effective time of the merger;

our audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006 shall not reflect a consolidated financial condition or results of operations of us, our consolidated subsidiaries and our consolidated joint ventures that is different from the consolidated financial condition or results of operations of us, our consolidated subsidiaries and our consolidated joint ventures reflected in the unaudited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006 that we provided to GE Capital in connection with the execution of the merger agreement, unless such difference would not constitute, or would not reasonably be expected to constitute, a material adverse effect;

all of the conditions to the obligations of the Mortgage Business Purchaser under the mortgage business sale agreement to consummate the sale of our mortgage business (other than the condition that the merger shall have been consummated) shall have been satisfied or waived in accordance with the terms thereof, and the Mortgage Business Purchaser shall otherwise be ready, willing and able (including with respect to access to financing) to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby; and we shall have delivered to the Mortgage Business Purchaser acknowledgement agreements fully executed by the applicable agency and us and/or our applicable mortgage entity.

Conditions to PHH's Obligations. Our obligation to complete the merger is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the following further conditions:

the representations and warranties of GE Capital and merger sub, must be true and correct, subject to certain materiality thresholds; and each of GE Capital and merger sub shall have performed in all material respects the obligations, and complied in all material respects with the agreements and covenants, required to be performed by or complied with by it under the merger agreement at or prior to the effective time of the merger.

Table of Contents

Pursuant to the mortgage business sale agreement, GE Capital has agreed not to consummate the merger unless all the mutual conditions to closing and the closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital and the merger sub specified in the merger agreement have been satisfied or waived. GE Capital and the merger sub are required to obtain the prior written consent of the Mortgage Business Purchaser before agreeing to any such waiver, unless the waiver relates solely to our fleet management business and would not otherwise materially prejudice the Mortgage Business Purchaser's position or obligation under the mortgage business sale agreement. See Mortgage Business Sale Agreement beginning on page [1].

We have agreed that from March 15, 2007 to the effective time of the merger and subject to specified exceptions, we will not and we will cause our subsidiaries and joint ventures (along with our and their respective representatives) to not:

directly or indirectly, initiate, solicit or knowingly encourage or facilitate (including by way of furnishing information or assistance) any inquiries or the making of any proposal or offer with respect to, or the making or effectuation of, an acquisition proposal for us;

approve or recommend (or propose publicly to approve or recommend) any acquisition proposal for us or enter into any agreement to acquire us;

directly or indirectly, engage in any negotiations or discussions with respect to, or provide access to our properties, books and records or any confidential or non-public information to any person relating to, or that would reasonably be expected to lead to, an acquisition proposal for us; or amend, terminate, waive, fail to use commercially reasonable efforts to enforce, or grant any consent under, any confidentiality, standstill, shareholder rights or similar agreement (other than any such agreement with GE Capital).

For purposes of the merger agreement, acquisition proposal means any proposal or offer (other than the merger) made or commenced after the date of the merger agreement, for a tender offer or exchange offer, proposal for a merger, consolidation or other business combination, sale of shares of capital stock, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving us and our subsidiaries and joint ventures or any proposal or offer to acquire (whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions) in any manner:

equity interest representing a 20% or greater economic interest or voting interest in us and our subsidiaries and joint ventures, taken as a whole; or assets, securities or ownership interests of or in, us or our subsidiaries or joint ventures (a) representing 20% or more of the consolidated assets of us and our subsidiaries and joint ventures, taken as a whole, or (b) with respect to which 20% or more of our revenues or earnings on a consolidated basis are attributable.

Prior to the holders of at least a majority of our common stock approving the merger agreement and the merger in accordance with the merger agreement, we may provide confidential information with respect to such proposals, with the maker of an unsolicited written acquisition proposal (which did not result from a breach of an enumerated section of the merger agreement or any standstill agreement) only if our board of directors makes a prior determination in good faith and after consultation with its outside counsel and a financial advisor of nationally recognized reputation, that:

the acquisition proposal constitutes, or is reasonably likely to, lead to a superior proposal, and

failure to take such action would be inconsistent with the statutory duties of our board members, as directors, under the MGCL.

In addition, we are required to (a) enter into a confidentiality agreement with the maker of the unsolicited written acquisition proposal containing confidentiality restrictions no less favorable to us than those contained in the confidentiality agreement with GE Capital before we provide any confidential information to such person, (b) provide a copy of such confidentiality agreement to GE Capital within twenty-four hours of execution, and

(c) furnish a copy to GE Capital of any confidential information we furnish to such person, to the extent such information was not previously furnished to GE Capital.

For purposes of the merger agreement, superior proposal means an unsolicited bona fide written offer made by a third party, not involving a breach of the merger agreement or any standstill agreement, to acquire, directly or indirectly,

at least a majority of our equity securities; or

all or substantially all of the stock or assets of us and our subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, all or substantially all of the assets of, or the stock of our subsidiaries or entities engaged in the mortgage business, or all or substantially all of the assets of, or the stock of our subsidiaries or entities engaged in, the fleet business.

In addition, such an offer also must not be subject to a financing contingency and must otherwise be on terms which our board concludes in good faith (taking into account (x) the likelihood of consummation of such transaction on the terms set forth therein as compared to the terms of the merger agreement, including the ability of such proposal to be financed, (y) legal, financial, regulatory, and timing aspects of the proposal and the person making the acquisition proposal and (z) any changes to the terms of the merger agreement that as of such time have been proposed by GE Capital) and after consultation with its outside counsel and financial advisors, to be more favorable from a financial point of view to our stockholders than the merger.

We have agreed to promptly notify GE Capital (within 24 hours) of our receipt of any proposal, offer, inquiry, or other contact or request for information or if any discussions or negotiations are sought to be initiated or continued with us either regarding, or that could reasonably be expected to lead to, an acquisition proposal. We have agreed to provide to GE Capital prompt notice of any such proposal along with a copy of any written materials received from the maker of the acquisition proposal. We have also agreed to indicate such party's identity and to provide to GE Capital the material terms and conditions of the proposal and to keep GE Capital fully informed of all material developments regarding any such acquisition proposal, offer, inquiry or request.

The merger agreement provides that prior to obtaining our stockholders' approval on the merger agreement:

if our board of directors determines in good faith that, due to an intervening event that arose after, and was unknown to our board of directors at the time it approved the merger agreement, the failure of the board of directors to withdraw, qualify or modify its recommendation of the merger agreement would be inconsistent with the statutory duties of our board members, as directors, under the MGCL, then we and our board of directors are permitted to withdraw, qualify or modify the recommendation of our board of directors that our stockholders vote in favor of the merger agreement, or

then if we desire either to further pursue the opportunity that arose due to the intervening event or to take action with respect to the prior recommendations of our board of directors concerning the merger agreement, among other matters, we are required to deliver to GE Capital a notice listing certain relevant items. We are required to negotiate in good faith with GE Capital and its representatives regarding revisions to the terms of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The merger agreement also sets forth the procedures we and GE Capital have agreed to follow, including setting specific time lines within which each party should respond.

Under the merger agreement, we may not permit any of our subsidiaries and joint ventures to terminate, waive, amend or modify any provision of any existing standstill or confidentiality agreement to which we or our subsidiaries and joint ventures are a party and we have agreed to, and to cause each of our subsidiaries and joint ventures to, enforce the provisions of any such agreements. We also agreed to, and to cause each of our subsidiaries and joint ventures to, terminate or cause to be terminated any existing discussions, negotiations, or communications with any parties regarding any acquisition proposal.

The merger agreement may be terminated and the merger may be abandoned at any time prior to the effective time of the merger, as follows:

by mutual written consent of the parties;

by either GE Capital or us if:

requisite governmental approval with respect to anti-trust laws of the United States and Canada shall have been denied and such denial shall have been final and non-appealable, or any governmental authority shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any injunction, order, decree or ruling or taken any other action which has the effect of making consummation of any of the merger illegal or otherwise prevents or prohibits the consummation of the merger and is final and non-appealable, provided that this right shall not be available to a party if either the failure to obtain the governmental approval or the action taken by the governmental authority was primarily due to the action or failure to fulfill such party's obligations under the merger agreement and such action or failure constitutes a breach of the merger agreement, the merger has not occurred on or before December 31, 2007, provided that this right will not be available to a party whose failure to fulfill its obligations under the merger agreement primarily contributed to the failure of the merger to occur on or before December 31, 2007 and such action or failure constitutes a breach of the merger agreement, or the requisite stockholder vote was not obtained at a duly convened meeting of our stockholders in accordance with the requirements of the merger agreement;

by us if:

we are not in material breach of our obligations under the merger agreement such that certain closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital and the merger sub are incapable of being satisfied, and (a) any of GE Capital's or merger sub's representations and warranties are or become untrue or incorrect such that the closing condition pertaining to their representations and warranties would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007, or (b) there has been a breach of any of GE Capital's or merger sub's covenants or agreements under the merger agreement such that the closing condition pertaining to their performance and compliance with covenants and agreements would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007, or

by GE Capital if:

each of GE Capital and merger sub are not in material breach of their respective obligations under the merger agreement, and (a) any of our representations and warranties are or become untrue or incorrect such that the closing condition pertaining to our representations and warranties would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007, or (b) there has been a breach of any of our covenants and agreements under the merger agreement such that the closing condition pertaining to our performance and compliance with covenants or agreements would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007;

our board of directors fails to recommend the merger agreement and the merger in this proxy statement, fails to take certain enumerated actions or withdraws, modifies or amends its recommendation that our stockholders vote to approve the merger agreement and the merger in any manner adverse to GE Capital or merger sub; or

if the mortgage business sale agreement is terminated by GE Capital, as a result of a breach of the Mortgage Business Purchaser's representations and warranties or covenants, in the mortgage business sale agreement, if such breach, either individually or in the aggregate, results in the failure of a closing condition pertaining to GE Capital, provided that GE Capital is not in material breach of its obligations under the merger business sale agreement such that certain closing conditions pertaining to the Mortgage Business Purchaser are incapable of being satisfied.

Pursuant to the mortgage business sale agreement, GE Capital has agreed to obtain the prior written consent of the Mortgage Business Purchaser prior to terminating the merger agreement pursuant to this section.

Termination Fee, Reverse Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursement (Page [1])

Under certain circumstances, if either we or GE Capital terminate the merger agreement, we may be required to pay a termination fee to GE Capital. The termination fee is $50 million. Under certain enumerated instances in the merger agreement, we may receive a reverse termination fee in the amount of $50 million from the Mortgage Business Purchaser. In addition, subject to the limitations and requirements contained in the merger agreement, we may be required to reimburse the GECC group's reasonable transaction expenses incurred in connection with the merger and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement up to a limit of $5 million.

No Dissenter's Rights of Appraisal (Page [1])

Holders of our common stock are not entitled to dissenting stockholders' appraisal rights or other similar rights in connection with the merger or the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The MGCL does not provide for appraisal rights or other similar rights to stockholders of a corporation in connection with a merger if the shares of the corporation are listed on the NYSE on the record date for determining stockholders entitled to vote on the merger. On [1], 2007, the record date specified by our board of directors for the purpose of determining our stockholders who are entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the special meeting, shares of our common stock were listed on the NYSE.

Market Price of Common Stock (Page [1])

The closing sale price of our common stock on the NYSE on March 13, 2007, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the merger, was $27.55. The $31.50 per share to be paid for each share of our common stock in the merger represents a premium of $3.95 for each share, or 14.3% premium to the closing price on March 13, 2007, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the merger.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE SPECIAL MEETING AND THE MERGER

The following questions and answers are intended to address briefly some commonly asked questions regarding the merger, the merger agreement and the special meeting. These questions and answers may not address all questions that may be important to you as a PHH stockholder. Please refer to the Summary Term Sheet and the more detailed information contained elsewhere in this proxy statement and the annexes to this proxy statement which you should read carefully.

Q. When and where is the special meeting?

A. The special meeting of stockholders of PHH Corporation will be held on [1], 2007, starting at [1] a.m., local time, at the [1] located at [1].

Q. What is the proposed transaction?

A. The proposed transaction is our acquisition by GE Capital, an affiliate of the General Electric Company. Once we obtain the requisite stockholder vote and the other closing conditions to the merger in the merger agreement and related documents are satisfied or waived in accordance with their respective terms, merger sub will merge with and into us. We will survive the merger and continue our corporate existence in accordance with Maryland law. In addition, GE Capital has entered into the mortgage business sale agreement to sell our mortgage business to the Mortgage Business Purchaser. Accordingly, upon the consummation of the merger and the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement, GE Capital will own our fleet management business and Blackstone, through the Mortgage Business Purchaser, will own our mortgage business.

Q. What will I receive in the merger?

Upon completion of the merger, you will be entitled to receive $31.50 in cash, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes, for each share of our common stock that you own. For example, if you own 100 shares of our common stock, you will be entitled to receive $3,150.00 in cash in exchange for your shares of our common stock, less any applicable withholding taxes. You will not own any shares in the surviving corporation. See Exchange and Payment Procedures beginning on page [1].

You will not be entitled to receive the merger consideration until you surrender your stock certificate or certificates to the paying agent, together with a duly completed and executed letter of transmittal and any other documents the paying agent requires. The merger consideration may be paid to a person other than the person in whose name the corresponding certificate is registered if the certificate is properly endorsed or is otherwise in the proper form for transfer. In addition, the person requesting payment must either pay any applicable stock transfer taxes or establish to the satisfaction of the surviving corporation that such stock transfer taxes have been paid or are not applicable. No interest will be paid or accrued on the merger consideration payable upon surrender of your shares of common stock.

If you hold options to acquire shares of our common stock, immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, each outstanding, unexercised stock option (whether vested or not) shall be deemed to be fully vested at the effective time of the merger and shall be canceled, and the holder thereof shall be entitled to receive, at the effective time of the merger or as soon as practicable thereafter, an amount of cash, less applicable withholding taxes, equal to the aggregate number of shares of our common stock underlying such stock option multiplied by the excess of $31.50 over the exercise price per share of our common stock subject to such stock option.

In addition, under the terms of the merger agreement, at the effective time of the merger, each restricted stock unit that is outstanding or earned but not awarded immediately prior to the effective time of the merger agreement (whether vested or unvested) shall be deemed to be fully vested and shall be canceled, entitling the holder thereof to the right to receive, at the effective time of the merger or as soon as practicable thereafter, an amount of cash, equal to the product of the aggregate number of shares of our common stock underlying such restricted stock unit immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, multiplied by $31.50, less any withholding taxes.

Q. What will happen to my shares of common stock after completion of the merger?

A. Following the consummation of the merger, your shares of our common stock will be canceled and will represent only the right to receive your portion of the merger consideration. On or before the effective time of the merger, GE Capital will deposit the merger consideration for the benefit of the holders of our common stock with a paying agent. Promptly after the effective time of the merger (but in any event within five business days), the paying agent will mail a letter of transmittal and instructions to you advising you how to surrender your stock certificates in exchange for the merger consideration. In addition, shares of our common stock will no longer be listed on any stock exchange or quotation system, including the NYSE, and the registration of our common stock and our reporting obligations with respect to our common stock under the Exchange Act will be terminated upon application to the SEC.

Q. What vote is required for PHH's stockholders to approve the merger agreement and the merger?

A. The merger agreement and the merger must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of our common stock outstanding on the record date and entitled to vote at the special meeting.

Q. How does the board of directors recommend that I vote?

A. Our board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger and FOR the proposal to consider and vote on a proposal to approve any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies. You should read Our Reasons for the Merger beginning on page [1] for a discussion of the factors that our board of directors considered in deciding to recommend the approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger.

Q. What effects will the merger have on PHH Corporation?

A. As a result of the merger, we will cease to be an independent, publicly-traded company and will be wholly owned by GE Capital. You will no longer have any interest in our future earnings or growth. In addition, GE Capital has entered into a separate agreement to sell our mortgage business to the Mortgage Business Purchaser. Accordingly, upon the consummation of the merger and the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement, GE Capital will own our fleet management business and Blackstone, through the Mortgage Business Purchaser, will own our mortgage business.

Q. What happens if the merger is not consummated?

A. If the merger agreement is not approved by the requisite stockholder vote or if the merger is not consummated for any other reason, you will not receive any payment for your shares of our common stock in connection with the merger. Instead, we expect that we will remain an independent public company and that shares of our common stock will continue to be listed and traded on the NYSE. However, under specified circumstances, we may be required to pay GE Capital a termination fee or reimburse GE Capital for its out-of-pocket expenses as described under the caption The Merger Agreement Termination Fee and Expenses beginning on page [1].

Q. Will I owe taxes as a result of the receipt of the merger consideration?

A. Yes. Your receipt of the merger consideration for each share of our common stock pursuant to the merger will be a taxable transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In general, you will recognize gain or loss as a result of the merger equal to the difference, if any, between the merger consideration that you receive for each of your shares of our common stock and the adjusted tax basis of your shares of our common stock. See Certain Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger to Our Stockholders beginning on page [1] for a more complete discussion of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger. You should consult your tax advisors about the specific tax consequences to you of the merger.

Q. What do I need to do now?

- A. Even if you plan to attend the special meeting, after carefully reading and considering the information contained in this proxy statement, if you hold your shares in your own name as the stockholder of record, please vote your shares by completing, signing, dating and returning the enclosed proxy card; using the telephone number printed on your proxy card; or via the Internet voting instructions printed on your proxy card. If you have Internet access, we encourage you to record your vote via the Internet. You can also attend the special meeting and vote. If you hold your shares in street name, follow the procedures provided by your broker, bank or other nominee. See The Special Meeting beginning on page [1].

Q. How do I vote?

A. You may vote in person or by valid proxy received by telephone, via the Internet or by mail. If voting by mail, you must:

indicate your instructions on the proxy;

date and sign the proxy;

mail the proxy promptly in the enclosed envelope; and allow sufficient time for the proxy to be received before the date of the Special Meeting.

Alternatively, in lieu of returning signed proxy cards, our stockholders of record can vote their shares by telephone or via the Internet. If you are a registered stockholder (that is, if you hold your stock in certificate form), you may vote by telephone or electronically via the Internet by following the instructions included with your proxy card. The deadline for voting by telephone or electronically via the Internet is 11:59 p.m., eastern standard time, on [1], 2007. If your shares of our common stock are held in street name, please check your proxy card or contact your broker, bank or other nominee to determine whether you will be able to vote by telephone or electronically via the Internet. See The Special Meeting beginning on page [1].

Q. Should I send in my stock certificates now?

A. No. Promptly after the effective time of the merger (but in any event within five business days), the paying agent will mail a letter of transmittal and instructions to you advising you how to surrender your stock certificates in exchange for the merger consideration. You will not be entitled to receive the merger consideration until you surrender your stock certificate or certificates to the paying agent, together with a duly completed and executed letter of transmittal and any other documents the paying agent requires. PLEASE DO NOT SEND ANY STOCK CERTIFICATES WITH YOUR PROXY CARD.

Q. How can I change or revoke my vote?

A. You have the right to change or revoke your proxy at any time before the vote is taken at the special meeting:

if you hold your shares in your name as a stockholder of record, by notifying, in writing, our Secretary, William F. Brown, at 3000 Leadenhall Road, Mt. Laurel, New Jersey 08054;

by attending the special meeting and voting in person (your attendance at the meeting will not, by itself, revoke your proxy; you must vote in person at the meeting);

by submitting a later-dated proxy card;

if you voted by telephone or via the Internet, by voting again by telephone or via the Internet; or if you have instructed a broker, bank or other nominee to vote your shares, by following the directions received from your broker, bank or other nominee to change those instructions.

Q. If my shares are held in street name by my broker, bank or other nominee, will my broker, bank or other nominee vote my shares for me?

Your broker, bank or other nominee will only be permitted to vote your shares if you instruct your broker, bank or other nominee how to vote. You should follow the procedures provided by your broker, bank or other nominee regarding the voting of your shares. If you do not instruct your broker, bank or other nominee to vote your shares, your shares will not be voted and the effect will be the same as a vote AGAINST the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger, but will not have an effect on the proposal to adjourn the special meeting.

Q. How do participants in our employee savings plans vote?

A. For participants in the PHH Corporation Employee Savings Plan and the PHH Home Loans, LLC Employee Savings Plan (the savings plans) with shares of our common stock credited to their accounts, voting instructions for the trustees of the savings plans are also being solicited through this proxy statement. In accordance with the provisions of the savings plans, the respective trustees will vote shares of our common stock in accordance with instructions received from the participants to whose accounts such shares are credited. To the extent such instructions are not received prior to noon, eastern standard time, on [1], 2007, the trustees of the savings plans will vote the shares with respect to which it has not received instructions proportionately in accordance with the shares for which it has received instructions. Instructions given with respect to shares in accounts of the savings plans may be changed or revoked only in writing, and no such instructions may be revoked after noon, eastern standard time, on [1]. Participants in the savings plans are not entitled to vote in person at the special meeting. If a participant in the savings plans has shares of our common stock credited to his or her account and also owns other shares of our common stock, he or she should receive separate proxy cards for shares credited to his or her account in the savings plans and any other shares that he or she owns. All such proxy cards should be completed, signed and returned to the transfer agent to register voting instructions for all shares owned by him or her or held for his or her benefit in the savings plans.

Q. What do I do if I receive more than one proxy or set of voting instructions?

A. If you also hold shares directly as a record holder in street name, or otherwise through a nominee, you may receive more than one proxy and/or set of voting instructions relating to the special meeting. These should each be voted and/or returned separately as described elsewhere in this proxy statement in order to ensure that all of your shares are voted.

Q. What happens if I sell my shares before the special meeting?

A. The record date of the special meeting is earlier than the date of the special meeting and the date that the merger is expected to be consummated. If you transfer your shares of common stock after the record date but before the special meeting, you will retain your right to vote at the special meeting, but will have transferred the right to receive $31.50 per share in cash to be received by our stockholders in the merger. In order to receive the $31.50 per share, you must hold your shares through completion of the merger. See Exchange and Payment Procedures beginning on page [1] for details about the payment of the merger consideration.

Q. What rights do I have if I oppose the merger?

A. If you are a holder of our common stock of record, you can vote against the merger by indicating a vote against the proposal on your proxy card and signing and mailing your proxy card or by voting against the merger in person at the special meeting. If you hold your shares in street name, you can vote against the merger in accordance with the voting instructions provided to you by the recordholder of your shares. You are not, however, entitled to dissenting stockholder's appraisal rights or other similar rights in connection with the merger or any of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement because our shares of common stock are listed on the NYSE. See No Dissenter's Rights of Appraisal on page [1].

Q. When is the merger expected to be consummated?

A. We are working toward consummating the merger as quickly as possible. However, the exact timing of the consummation of the merger cannot be predicted. In order to consummate the merger, we must obtain stockholder approval and the other closing conditions under the merger agreement must be satisfied or waived. The closing date of the merger will occur no later than the second business day following satisfaction or waiver of all conditions to closing or as we and GE Capital may mutually agree.

Q. Will a proxy solicitor be used?

- A. Yes. The Company expects to engage Georgeson Shareholder Communications, Inc. (Georgeson) to assist in the solicitation of proxies for the special meeting for a fee of approximately $12,500, a nominal fee per stockholder contact, reimbursement of reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and indemnification against certain losses, costs and expenses.

Our board of directors has specified the close of business on [1], 2007 as the record date for purpose of determining our stockholders who are entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the special meeting. Only our stockholders of record on the close of business on the record date are entitled to notice of and to vote at the special meeting. As of the record date, there were [1] shares of our common stock issued and outstanding and entitled to notice of and to vote at the special meeting. Vote Required

The merger agreement and the merger must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of our common stock outstanding on the record date and entitled to vote at the special meeting. Holders of at least a majority of our common stock issued and outstanding as of the record date and entitled to vote at the special meeting must be present in person or by proxy at the special meeting to constitute a quorum to conduct business at the special meeting. In the event that a quorum is not present at the special meeting, we expect that we will adjourn or postpone the special meeting to solicit additional proxies.

Abstentions and Broker Non-Votes

For the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger, you may vote FOR, AGAINST or ABSTAIN. Abstentions will not be counted as votes cast or shares voting on the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger, but will count for the purpose of determining whether a quorum is present at the special meeting. If you abstain, it will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger.

Under the rules of the NYSE, brokers who hold shares in street name for customers have the authority to vote on routine proposals when they have not received instructions from beneficial owners. However, brokers are precluded from exercising their voting discretion with respect to approving non-routine matters such as the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger. As a result, absent specific instructions from the beneficial owner of such shares, brokers cannot vote those shares, referred to generally as broker non-votes. These broker non-votes will be counted for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present at the special meeting, but will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger.

Proxies and Revocation

If you submit a proxy by telephone, via the Internet or by returning a signed proxy card by mail, your shares will be voted at the special meeting as you indicate. If you sign your proxy card without indicating your vote, your shares will be voted FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger and FOR the proposal to consider and vote on a proposal to approve any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies. If your shares of common stock are held in street name, you will receive instructions from your broker, bank or other nominee that you must follow in order to have your shares voted. If you do not instruct your broker to vote your shares, it has the same effect as a vote against the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger.

Any stockholder of record entitled to vote at the special meeting may submit a proxy by telephone, via the Internet, by returning the enclosed proxy card by mail, or by voting in person by appearing at the special meeting. If your shares of our common stock are held in street name by your broker, you should instruct your broker on how to vote such shares of common stock using the instructions provided by your broker. If you do not vote or do not instruct your broker, bank or other nominee how to vote, it will have the same effect as voting against the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger. The persons named in the accompanying proxy card will also have discretionary authority to vote on any adjournments or postponements of the special meeting.

Proxies received at any time before the special meeting, and not revoked or superseded before being voted, will be voted at the special meeting. You have the right to change or revoke your proxy at any time before it is voted at the special meeting in the following ways:

if you hold your shares in your name as a stockholder of record, by notifying, in writing, our Secretary, William F. Brown, at 3000 Leadenhall Road, Mt. Laurel, New Jersey 08054;

by attending the special meeting and voting by paper ballot in person (your attendance at the meeting will not, by itself, revoke your proxy; you must vote in person at the meeting);

by submitting a later-dated proxy card;

if you voted by telephone or via the Internet, by voting again by telephone or via the Internet; or if you have instructed a broker, bank or other nominee to vote your shares, by following the directions received from your broker, bank or other nominee to change those instructions.

Other Business

We do not expect that any matter other than the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the merger and the proposal to grant the persons named as proxies discretionary authority to vote to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to permit further soliciting of additional proxies will be brought before the special meeting. If, however, any other matter properly comes before the special meeting, or in the event of any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting, proxy holders will vote thereon in accordance with their discretion.

Adjournments and Postponements

Although it is not currently expected, the special meeting may be adjourned or postponed for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies. Whether or not a quorum is present, a special meeting of stockholders may be adjourned without notice by announcement made at the special meeting, of the time, date and place of the adjourned meeting. Any signed proxies received by us in whom no voting instructions are provided on such matter will be voted FOR the proposal to consider and vote on a proposal to approve any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies.

Dissenters' Rights

Holders of our common stock are not entitled to dissenting stockholders' appraisal rights or other similar rights in connection with the merger or any of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The MGCL does not provide for appraisal rights or other similar rights to stockholders of a corporation in connection with a merger if the shares of the corporation are listed on the NYSE on the record date for determining stockholders entitled to vote on the merger. See "No Dissenters' Rights of Appraisal" beginning on page [1].

PROPOSAL NO. 1: THE MERGER

This discussion of the merger is qualified in its entirety by reference to the merger agreement, which is attached to this proxy statement as Annex A. You should read the entire merger agreement carefully as it is the legal document that governs the merger.

Background of the Merger

We are a leading outsource provider of residential mortgages and vehicle fleet management services. Prior to February 1, 2005, we were a wholly owned subsidiary of Cendant Corporation (Cendant) (now known as Avis Budget Group, Inc.). On February 1, 2005, we began operating as an independent, publicly traded company pursuant to our spin-off (the Spin-Off) from Cendant and our stock started trading on the NYSE under the symbol PHH . After the Spin-Off, our board of directors and senior management team periodically assessed and reviewed our business, strategic direction, performance, prospects and competitive position in light of trends and developments impacting our business.

From time to time after the Spin-Off, we had been approached by, and held informal discussions with, various entities about the possibility of either engaging in a potential strategic transaction with us or acquiring us. These entities included private equity funds and GE Finance Fleet Services (GE Fleet Services), a business unit of GE Capital. We entered into a confidentiality agreement with GE Fleet Services on October 5, 2005 and held exploratory discussions with GE Fleet Services and its representatives, including its financial advisors at Lehman Brothers. We abandoned these discussions after a few weeks for a variety of reasons. While we entered into confidentiality agreements and engaged in informal discussions with certain of the other entities, for a variety of reasons none of these discussions resulted in a transaction and were terminated.

In February 2006, Lehman Brothers contacted us and informed us that in addition to representing GE Fleet Services, it also represented an affiliate of Blackstone. Lehman Brothers indicated that the Blackstone affiliate was interested in possibly partnering with GE Fleet Services or its affiliates, with our consent, to pursue a potential strategic transaction with us and wished to meet with our senior management to discuss our operations, especially our mortgage business.

On March 1, 2006, we issued a press release indicating that we did not expect to meet the March 16, 2006 deadline to file our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005 (the 2005 Form 10-K) because we had not yet finalized our financial statements for the fourth quarter and the fiscal year 2005 and that the audit of our 2005 financial statements was ongoing. On the same day, we also announced that our board of directors had appointed Mr. Clair M. Raubenstine as our Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer. On March 17, 2006, we filed a Form 12b-25 with the SEC, disclosing that we would not be able to file the 2005 Form 10-K by the SEC filing deadline and that we were unable to provide an expected date for the filing of the 2005 Form 10-K.

On March 22, 2006, members of our senior management met with the Blackstone affiliate and its representatives. Shortly after this meeting, we told the parties that we were going to focus on finalizing our financial statements and, accordingly, abandoned further discussions.

During a meeting of our board of directors held on April 4, 2006, our board of directors discussed the potential risks and benefits presented by the strategic alternatives available to the Company. The board reviewed our current strategic business plan, including the risks associated with achieving and executing our business plan, the nature of the industries in which we operate, industry trends, economic and market conditions, both on an historical and prospective basis, and the uncertainty associated with our future plans. The board also considered the risks and challenges associated with delays in finalizing our financial statements and in not satisfying the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act, the risks inherent in our business model, and the risks associated with stockholder litigation. The board considered our proposed timetable for becoming compliant with the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act, our continuing need to identify and remediate deficiencies in its internal control over financial reporting and to achieve effective internal control over financial reporting, potential contractual defaults, the potential delisting of our common stock from the NYSE and the reasons described in The Merger – Our Reasons for the Merger beginning on page [1]. Our board of directors discussed alternatives to enhance stockholder value, including continuing to operate the Company under our current business plan, a sale of all or part of the Company and other strategic alternatives. The board also considered the alternative risks involved in pursuing a strategic transaction or sale of the Company, including distraction of management, disruption of the business and the risk of non-consummation of the transaction. A representative from DLA Piper US LLP (DLA Piper), our outside corporate and securities counsel, advised regarding the fiduciary duties of the directors in connection with their review of strategic alternatives. After discussion, our board of directors approved the formation of a special committee (the special committee) composed solely of independent non-employee directors to review and evaluate the strategic alternatives available to the Company. Messrs. A. B. Krongard, James W. Brinkley, Jonathan D. Mariner, Francis J. Van Kirk and Ms. Ann D. Logan were appointed to serve on the special committee, with Mr. Krongard serving as chairman.

On April 12, 2006, the special committee met with members of our senior management and representatives of DLA Piper. The parties discussed the strategic alternatives available to us including, among other matters, the possible sale or spin-off of one or the other of our businesses, the challenges and benefits of remaining a stand-alone public company, the timing of a process to explore strategic alternatives and our proposed timetable for becoming compliant with the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act. During the course of discussions regarding strategic alternatives, the special committee discussed the fact that our mortgage business continued to be dependent on the results and cash flows of the fleet management business to support an investment grade rating. The special committee did not believe that the mortgage business could support an investment grade rating on a stand-alone basis for the foreseeable future. The special committee believed that maintaining an investment grade rating was critical to the ability of the mortgage business to attract and retain key mortgage outsourcing relationships, which represented a significant percentage of revenue and the key source of future growth for the mortgage business. Further, without an investment grade rating, the mortgage business would have had significantly higher cost of funds and consequently lower margins. Accordingly, because the special committee believed that the mortgage business could not support an investment grade rating as a stand-alone business, the special committee did not consider a tax free spin-off of either the fleet business or the mortgage business to be a realistic alternative available to the Company for the next several years and believed that such a spin-off, if effected prior to the mortgage business being able to sustain an investment grade rating on its own, would have a negative impact on total stockholder value.

The special committee also considered the possible sale of one or the other business and use of the proceeds for the retained business. In considering such transactions the special committee considered the adverse tax consequences to the Company from such a sale in light of the low tax basis of each of the businesses. The special committee believed that following a sale or spin-off of either business, the remaining business (or, in a spin-off, the spun-off business) would lack adequate human resources and the economies of scale to justify the costs of being a public company. Our costs of being a public company exceeded $20 million per year in 2005 and 2006, which included certain costs associated with the restatement process and remediation of deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting. Our costs of being a public company were not expected to be proportionately reduced if the Company sold or spun-off one of its businesses. The special committee also considered the alternative of the Company continuing as an independent, stand-alone company. In connection with the special committee's consideration of the various strategic alternatives available to us, including continuing as an independent, stand-alone company, the special committee considered the Company's prospects and the current challenges of the mortgage business, including increased pricing competition, increased costs associated with managing our mortgage servicing rights hedge, the deteriorating real estate market, and declining mortgage origination volumes.

The special committee also considered risks relating to the unresolved accounting matters and the ongoing restatement process, including the impact of these issues on the Company's ability to maintain existing and establish new client relationships for both of the Company's businesses and the risk that the restatement process could not be completed in a timely manner, if at all. After considering the foregoing factors, the special committee determined that it was appropriate to commence a process to explore the possible sale of the entire Company, while at the same time monitoring the Company's performance and the progress regarding the unresolved accounting matters and the ongoing restatement process. The special committee discussed the process for the exploration of the sale of the Company and possible bidders. The special committee recognized that any expressions of interest relating to the sale of the Company would need to be compared to the value of the Company as a stand-alone entity, taking into account the factors described above, and that it was possible that the bid would not be as attractive as the value of the Company on a stand-alone basis. The special committee authorized the chairman and certain other members of the special committee to interview investment bankers and make a recommendation to the special committee regarding selection of financial advisors for the special committee.

On April 27, 2006, we advised the NYSE that we were not prepared to file our 2005 Form 10-K and had postponed our annual meeting of stockholders and the mailing of the related proxy statement.

During the course of the next several weeks, members of the special committee met with and interviewed representatives of several investment banks regarding their expertise and qualifications to advise us with respect to potential opportunities for strategic alternatives and discussed their conclusions with the chairman of the special committee. The special committee concluded after these discussions that the best advisory team for the special committee would be a team of bankers, including both Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners. The special committee authorized the chairman to discuss this joint representation with representatives of the two investment banks and to receive verbal assurances from each bank that the investment banks would work together as a team to represent the special committee and our board of directors.

The special committee met on June 8, 2006 with members of our senior management and a representative of DLA Piper. The special committee reported on the investment bank interview process. The DLA Piper representative advised regarding the scope of the engagement of the investment banks and certain related disclosure requirements. The special committee discussed, among other matters, the timing of the process of exploring strategic alternatives, fee arrangements and the provisions for fairness opinions. The special committee approved and authorized the engagement of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners to serve as our joint financial advisors (our financial advisors) to investigate and analyze our strategic alternatives, subject to the negotiation and execution of mutually satisfactory engagement letters.

The special committee met on June 27, 2006 with members of our senior management and a representative of DLA Piper. The special committee reviewed the terms of the engagement letters with Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners. The chairman of the special committee updated the special committee on his prior discussions with the financial advisors regarding their proposed due diligence and informed the special committee that the financial advisors were developing a list of entities that might be interested in a potential strategic transaction with us. The special committee asked the chairman to take charge of the coordination of the process with the financial advisors. Members of the special committee then engaged in a discussion regarding the risks related to the process of exploring strategic alternatives, including the risks presented as a result of the delays in finalizing our financial statements, risks of non consummation of a transaction, as well as risks of remaining independent. The special committee concluded that it was in the best interest of the Company and its stockholders to commence a competitive sales process to explore strategic alternatives, in light of the significant execution risks associated with our business plan. The DLA Piper representative advised regarding the fiduciary duties of the special committee and the board of directors.

During the next three months, the financial advisors conducted a due diligence process regarding our operations and worked with the chairman of the special committee to develop the list of potential bidders that might be interested in a transaction with us. The chairman of the special committee kept the financial advisors informed about the status of the completion of our financial statements and our outstanding SEC filings along with our proposed timetable for becoming compliant with the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act. The chairman of the special committee also periodically conferred with other members of the special committee regarding, among other matters, the list of entities that might be interested in a transaction with us. The process of completing our financial statements and filing our 2005 Form 10-K took longer than expected, which in turn delayed the process of exploring strategic alternatives. The financial advisors and members of our senior management, with assistance from DLA Piper representatives, began drafting a confidential offering memorandum and preparing an on-line data room to facilitate access to due diligence materials that would be provided to potential transaction parties.

On August 16, 2006, we commenced a cash tender offer and consent solicitation to the holders of certain outstanding notes to undertake one or a combination of the following: (i) retire certain notes from tendering note holders or (ii) obtain consent from the holders of at least a majority of note holders to (a) amend certain provisions of the indenture governing the notes, regarding, among other matters, the requirement to file with the SEC and the trustee our annual reports, quarterly reports and other documents pursuant to the Exchange Act and (b) waive certain default and potential events of default under the indenture. On September 14, 2006, we concluded our tender offer and consent solicitation for certain outstanding notes.

The financial advisors began contacting potential bidders in late September 2006 and, over the course of the next three months, contacted forty-nine entities resulting in twenty-seven confidentiality agreements being executed. Pursuant to the confidentiality agreements, each entity agreed to maintain the confidentiality of the information to be provided to it by us and the entity's discussions of a possible transaction, to provide customary standstill protection and to place certain restrictions on their ability to enter into agreements with co-bidders in connection with a transaction. As part of this process, GE Capital and the Blackstone affiliate informed the financial advisors that they expected to work together to submit a combined bid.

On October 11, 2006, the special committee met with members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper and discussed, among other matters, the status of our financial statements and outstanding SEC filings, the draft confidential offering memorandum and the proposed timing of a strategic transaction. Our senior management presented financial projections to the special committee and advised the special committee that those projections were preliminary and that management intended to work with the financial advisors to prepare certain other financial analyses for inclusion in the final confidential offering memorandum. The special committee reviewed the financial projections and noted that the Company's achieving the results included in those projections was subject to a variety of execution and industry risks. The financial advisors discussed the list of potential bidders and the merits of a competitive sales process by which the Company solicited interest from the most likely bidders, as compared to a public auction, and the risks to our business from a public auction. The financial advisors provided an update on the status of their contacts with both strategic and financial bidders, including the possibility that certain potential bidders may team up to submit a combined bid. The special committee discussed the expected levels of interest in us and our fleet management business and mortgage business, the difficulty of locating bidders with serious interest in both lines of our business and the risks of closing conditions attendant to sales to two different bidders at two different times. The special committee then engaged in a discussion regarding the timing of the process of exploring strategic alternatives. The special committee concluded that it would be in the best interest of the Company to continue the competitive sales process by contacting designated potential bidders identified by the financial advisors as having significant potential interest in a strategic transaction.

During a meeting of our board of directors held on October 23, 2006, our board of directors discussed the current state of the mortgage business, and the fact that mortgage originations for the third quarter of 2006 had declined dramatically from the comparable period of 2005, resulting in expected significant losses which had not been forecast previously. Management discussed the fact that the decline in mortgage originations appeared to be industry-wide. Our board of directors reviewed with management several cost cutting measures to address the mortgage business downturn.

Beginning in late October 2006, the financial advisors distributed our confidential information memorandum to the potential bidders that had executed confidentiality agreements.

On November 22, 2006, we filed our 2005 Form 10-K with the SEC.

On November 27, 2006, the entities that had received our confidential information were informed that we intended to follow a two-step bidding process involving the submission of a preliminary non-binding bid following review of the confidential information memorandum and, thereafter, selection of certain bidders to conduct due diligence and receive presentations by members of our senior management. The deadline for the preliminary non-binding bids was December 5, 2006.

On or about December 5, 2006, we received five preliminary non-binding bids to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock and one preliminary non-binding bid to acquire only our fleet management business.

GE Capital and a Blackstone affiliate (collectively, the GECC group) submitted a bid to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock in an all cash transaction for between $31.00 and $33.00 per share. The GECC group noted that its bid purchase price was based upon certain assumptions, including, among other matters, that a specified number of common shares, stock options and restricted stock units were outstanding. The GECC group also noted that it was still determining its proposed transaction structure, which would be based on a number of factors, including transaction costs and tax consequences, and that it anticipated finalizing its structure in the course of due diligence as additional information became available from the Company. The bid indicated that GE Capital was interested in our fleet management business and that the Blackstone affiliate was interested in our mortgage business. The bid explained that the GECC group expected to fund the purchase price of our common stock with a combination of cash and proceeds of secured financing. The GECC group expected to have firm financing commitments consistent with standard public company acquisitions and did not anticipate the transaction to be subject to a financing contingency.

A second bidder, which we refer to as Bidder B, submitted a bid to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock in an all cash transaction for between $32.00 and $34.00 per share. Bidder B indicated that it did not expect to have a financing contingency and was flexible with respect to the transaction structure. The bid was subject to additional due diligence, including, among other matters, a review of operational, business, financial, accounting, legal, tax, employee benefit and information systems.

A third bidder, which we refer to as Bidder C, submitted a bid to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock in an all cash transaction for between $28.50 and $30.50 per share. Bidder C indicated that based upon its knowledge of current market conditions and its experience in financing similar transactions, it was confident that it would be able to finance and consummate the transaction in a timely manner. The bid was subject to the satisfactory completion of its accounting, business and legal due diligence and certain other conditions.

A fourth bidder, which we refer to as Bidder D, submitted a bid to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock in an all cash transaction for between $31.00 and $33.00 per share. Bidder D noted that the final share price was to be determined upon successful completion of additional due diligence and that the purchase of the Company was to be financed through a mix of asset-based debt and equity financing. Bidder D indicated that, given the size of the transaction, it would arrange for an equity investment consortium to include its limited partners, other private equity firms and institutional asset managers.

A fifth bidder, a strategic buyer, which we refer to as Bidder E, proposed to acquire only our fleet management business in an all cash transaction for between $825 million and $925 million (on a debt and cash free basis). Bidder E expected to finance the acquisition with a combination of existing cash, existing credit lines and additional debt financing, as applicable. The bid was based upon certain assumptions and satisfactory resolution of additional due diligence. Bidder E noted that it hoped to find a suitable partner to work towards making a final offer for the Company as a whole.

The special committee met on December 7, 2006 to discuss the preliminary non-binding bids received. Members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper attended the meeting as well. Representatives from Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners presented summaries of the bids and discussed the relative strengths and weaknesses of the various bids. The financial advisors noted that, based upon their experience, each of the bidders had access to sufficient capital to close a transaction with us and had expressed sufficient interest in us to potentially facilitate the execution of a definitive transaction agreement on a rapid timetable, thereby reducing our business risk and disruption from the transaction.

The financial advisors and senior management also discussed with members of the special committee the potential impact on certain of the bids of the third-party waivers and consents with respect to our contracts with two of the most significant customers of the mortgage business, Realogy Corporation and its affiliates (Realogy) and Merrill Lynch Credit Corporation (Merrill Lynch), which together generated approximately 71% of our mortgage loan originations for the year ended December 31, 2006 and the possible concessions needed to obtain such waivers and consents. The special committee concluded that Realogy and Merrill Lynch would have significant leverage in any negotiation to obtain such waivers and consents. Our contracts with Realogy established our mortgage venture with Realogy, PHH Home Loans, LLC, and generally provide for our access to Realogy's various mortgage loan origination channels, as well as our use of certain intellectual property assets of Realogy in connection with our mortgage loan origination services. Pursuant to our contracts with Merrill Lynch, we originate and service mortgage loans as well as purchase and sell mortgage loans and mortgage servicing rights. (See Item 1. Business Arrangements with Realogy and Arrangements with Merrill Lynch in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006 filed on May 24, 2007 for more information regarding the terms of the Realogy Agreements and the Merrill Lynch Agreements, including the termination of the Realogy Agreements and Merrill Lynch Agreements upon a change of control of us.) The special committee concluded that discussions with the two customers should be deferred until the sales process was further advanced and a transaction was likely.

The financial advisors provided a summary of their discussions with each bidder and, given the relatively close grouping of all the bid ranges, recommended that we continue active discussion with all the bidders seeking to acquire all our issued and outstanding common stock. The financial advisors did not recommend active discussions with Bidder E since, among other reasons, its bid was for only our fleet management business and also advised the special committee that they expected one more bid in the near future, which they believed would be a viable bid.

The special committee then discussed the relative weaknesses in Bidder E's bid, including, among other matters, the fact that its bid was only for our fleet management business and the fact that it did not appear that Bidder E could consummate a transaction with us without one or more joint bidders that it had yet to identify. The financial advisors recommended against continuing active discussion with Bidder E unless it found a bidding partner. Based on the special committee's evaluation of the five bids and the recommendations of the financial advisors, the special committee determined that the resources and attention of our senior management and our legal and financial advisors should be focused primarily on the bidders seeking to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock and recommended that the financial advisors proceed with the next round of negotiations and bidding with four of the five bidders. The special committee directed our financial advisors to encourage Bidder E to find a bidding partner if they wanted to continue in the process. Later that day, the chairman of the special committee provided input to a representative of DLA Piper regarding the terms and conditions of the proposed acquisition agreement.

On December 12, 2006, a sixth bidder, which we refer to as Bidder F, submitted a bid to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock in an all cash transaction for between $31.00 and $33.00 per share. Bidder F indicated that it expected to use a combination of asset-based, bank debt and equity financing to effect the proposed transaction. The offer was conditioned on satisfactory review and completion of additional due diligence and the signing of a definitive transaction agreement containing customary representations and warranties. Bidder F informed the financial advisors that it intended to work with a private equity firm.

On or about December 12, 2006, the financial advisors sent a letter to each of the six bidders seeking to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock, instructing them on the next phase of the process, including information on how to access the on-line due diligence data room and scheduling management presentations. Over the course of the next three weeks, we provided access to the on-line data room and gave management presentations to each of these bidders and their representatives. To the extent applicable, during the management presentations, management discussed the waivers and consents that would be required under our contracts with Realogy and Merrill Lynch and the possible concessions needed to obtain such waivers and consents.

In late December, representatives of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners periodically updated the chairman of the special committee regarding the status of their discussions with each bidder and the timing of the process.

On January 8, 2007, the bidders were requested to submit updated proposals to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock, with a deadline of January 25, 2007 for their responses. During the next three weeks, members of our senior management held several additional due diligence sessions with the bidders, including on-site meetings with representatives of the bidders in New Jersey and Maryland to discuss our business, operations, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we continued to respond to any due diligence requests made by the bidders by updating the on-line data room.

During a meeting of our board of directors held on January 24, 2007, members of our senior management reviewed the business plans for our fleet management business and mortgage business, and discussed, among other matters, the financial results of those businesses for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006. Members of our senior management reported that the financial results of our mortgage business had declined significantly as a result of increased pricing competition, a downturn in our mortgage origination volume, continued pressure on origination margins, delays in signing new outsourcing clients and significant increased costs associated with managing our mortgage servicing rights hedge. The board of directors took note of the difficulty of forecasting the financial results of the mortgage business given the volatility associated with managing our mortgage servicing rights hedge.

On January 25, 2007, three bidders provided us with preliminary non-binding proposals to acquire all of the issued and outstanding shares of our common stock in an all cash transaction for an effective bid price between $28.50 and $32.00 per share. The other three bidders decided not to continue in the process.

The GECC group's proposal indicated that they were interested in acquiring all of our issued and outstanding common stock in an all cash transaction for $33.50 per share, less $150 million for transaction tax expenses associated with bifurcating our fleet management business and mortgage business (which resulted in an effective bid price of $30.80 per share). The determination of the GECC group's transaction tax expense was based upon certain updated information provided by us regarding our tax basis in the assets constituting the mortgage business, which information allowed the GECC group to estimate the taxable gain to the Company upon the sale of the mortgage business to Blackstone and had not been made available to the GECC group prior to its December 2006 preliminary non-binding bid. The GECC group reiterated that GE Capital was interested in our fleet management business and that the Blackstone affiliate was interested in our mortgage business. The proposal indicated that GE Capital would use cash on hand to pay for its portion of the purchase price related to our fleet management business and that the Blackstone affiliate would use cash from its funds and debt secured by some of the mortgage assets acquired in the transaction to pay for its portion of the purchase price related to our mortgage business. The GECC group noted that, while it had committed substantial resources to the due diligence process, including engaging a number of third parties and advisors, it needed to complete its outstanding due diligence. The GECC group indicated that its proposal was based upon certain assumptions, including our capitalization, and the successful resolution of the due diligence items. The GECC group proposed to enter into an exclusivity period with us to finalize its due diligence process and negotiate a definitive transaction agreement, including finalizing the transaction structure.

Bidder B submitted a proposal to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock in an all cash transaction for $32.00 per share. Bidder B indicated that it was prepared to invest up to $500 million of equity capital and that debt financing for the transaction would be fully-committed at the time of the execution of a definitive transaction agreement. The proposal was subject to additional due diligence, including, among other matters, a review of operational, business, financial, accounting, legal, tax, employee benefit matters and our information systems. Bidder C submitted a proposal to acquire all of our issued and outstanding common stock in an all cash transaction for between $28.50 and $30.50 per share. Bidder C noted that based upon its knowledge of current market conditions, its experience in financing similar transactions and guidance from its financing sources, it was confident that it would be able to arrange financing to consummate the transaction and that it and its financing partners anticipated providing financing commitments upon signing a definitive merger agreement. Bidder C indicated that while it had undertaken a substantial amount of due diligence and had devoted substantial internal resources to the proposed transaction, it had substantial due diligence remaining prior to being able to execute a definitive merger agreement. Bidder C noted that, with the support of our management and legal and financial advisors, it was confident that it could complete its due diligence, secure committed financing and enter into a definitive merger agreement with us within a four-week period.

On January 31, 2007, the special committee met with members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper to discuss the second round preliminary non-binding proposals. Representatives from Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners discussed each proposal and their views of the relative strengths and weaknesses of each proposal. Representatives of DLA Piper discussed the fiduciary duties of the directors. The special committee discussed with its legal and financial advisors, among other matters, the risks associated with our business and prospects. The special committee considered the alternative of remaining independent, but took note of the ongoing execution risks of the businesses, as well as significant industry risks in the mortgage industry and the continuing challenges of identifying and remediating material weaknesses in the Company's internal control over financial reporting. The special committee also considered the risks associated with pursuing strategic alternatives, including regulatory risks, and concluded that it was advisable to continue to pursue the competitive sales process. The special committee also discussed with its legal and financial advisors the risks to our business if a transaction were announced but not consummated. The special committee discussed with its legal and financial advisors the waivers and consents required under our contracts with Realogy and Merrill Lynch prior to entering into a change-in-control transaction agreement with certain of the bidders, the possible concessions needed to obtain such waivers and consents and the process to seek consents and waivers from the two customers. The legal and financial advisors also discussed the GECC group's request for exclusivity, which the special committee concluded was premature. The special committee then discussed with the financial advisors whether any of the bidders might be willing to increase their respective per share valuation. After further discussion and based on the special committee's evaluation of the relative merits of the various proposals and the recommendations of the financial advisors, the committee instructed the financial advisors to continue discussions with the GECC group and Bidder B and seek to increase the prices offered. The special committee also instructed the financial advisors to seek clarification regarding each bidder's intended due diligence process for the proposed transaction, and clarification regarding the terms of their proposal. Thereafter, the financial advisors held discussions with each bidder in accordance with the special committee's instructions.

On February 5, 2007, the financial advisors circulated a proposed draft merger agreement prepared by DLA Piper to the GECC group and Bidder B.

On February 9, 2007, the financial advisors received a supplemental due diligence request list from Bidder B's counsel and a lengthy list of open due diligence items from Bidder B's financial advisor. The financial advisors also received a shorter supplemental list of due diligence items from the GECC group. The financial advisors instructed each bidder to complete their due diligence and to finalize the key terms of their second round proposal.

For the next several days, the GECC group, Bidder B and their respective representatives continued their due diligence investigation and held several in-person meetings and telephonic conference calls with us and our advisors. Members of our management also held several due diligence sessions with representatives of the GECC group and Bidder B in New Jersey and Maryland to discuss the Company's business, operations, financial condition, and results of operations.

During this time, representatives of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners kept the chairman of the special committee informed on a regular basis of the status of each of the two proposals.

On February 14, 2007, Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP (Weil Gotshal), counsel for GE Capital, delivered its comments on the draft merger agreement to the financial advisors. On February 15, 2007, a representative of senior management participated in a conference call, requested by representatives of GE Capital, with representatives of GE Capital, Weil Gotshal, DLA Piper and Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP (Simpson Thacher), counsel for Blackstone, to discuss the GECC group's approach to the comments to the merger agreement. Representatives of Weil Gotshal explained that its client, or an affiliate, expected to acquire all issued and outstanding shares of our common stock and subsequently sell our mortgage business to Blackstone or its affiliates. GE Capital representatives advised that GE Capital would be the contracting party to the merger agreement and that GE Capital would enter into a separate agreement for the sale of our mortgage business to Blackstone, or its affiliate. The GECC group explained that they expected this separate transaction to close simultaneously with the proposed merger. The parties also discussed issues related to allocation of risk, antitrust and other regulatory matters and certain ongoing due diligence matters.

On February 15, 2007, counsel for Bidder B, delivered its comments on the draft merger agreement to the financial advisors. On February 20, 2007, DLA Piper and members of our senior management held a call with counsel for Bidder B with regard to their client's approach to the comments to the draft merger agreement.

On February 19, 2007, Bidder B contacted the financial advisors and indicated that it did not intend to submit a final proposal at that time and that, should it ultimately submit a final proposal, based on the additional due diligence that it had conducted since submitting its bid on January 25, 2007 and the deterioration in the mortgage industry, it would not be prepared to maintain its earlier bid of $32.00 per share and instead its proposed price would be in the range of $30.00 to $31.00 per share.

On February 20, 2007, the GECC group submitted a letter increasing their proposed per share price from $30.80 to $32.25 per share and confirming certain aspects of their proposal. The GECC group indicated that, as reflected in its mark-up of the draft merger agreement, GE Capital, or an affiliate, would acquire all of our issued and outstanding shares of common stock in an all cash transaction and subsequently sell our mortgage business to Blackstone or its affiliate. The GECC group noted that the only way it was willing to proceed was to immediately enter into a period of exclusivity with us to finalize its due diligence and negotiate the terms of the merger agreement.

Later on February 20, 2007, the special committee met with members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper to discuss the new developments. Representatives from Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners presented an overview and analysis of the sales process up to that point. Representatives of DLA Piper provided a summary and analysis of the material issues raised by the two bidders regarding the merger agreement and advised that the issues raised by the GECC group's comments were not as significant as those raised by Bidder B. DLA Piper representatives reviewed the fiduciary duties of the directors in connection with their review of the proposed transaction, and discussed, among other matters, the no shop provisions, the termination provisions, including the fees proposed on termination, and the conditions to closing proposed by each bidder. Representatives of DLA Piper also reviewed the regulatory risks of the transaction proposed by each bidder.

The special committee discussed the price proposed by each bidder and the terms of the merger agreement offered by each bidder with representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper. The special committee and representatives from Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners also discussed the relative levels of risk and certainty surrounding the terms of each proposal, including regulatory risks, and the potential probability of successfully closing a transaction with each bidder. Representatives of the financial advisors discussed with the special committee that Bidder B had informed them that it did not intend to submit a final proposal and that, should it ultimately submit a final proposal, it would not be prepared to maintain its earlier bid of $32.00 per share and instead its proposed price would be in the range of $30.00 to $31.00 per share. The special committee directed the chairman of the special committee to contact the GECC group to see if they were willing to increase their per share valuation.

After these discussions, the GECC group agreed to increase its proposed per share price to $32.50 per share. On February 21, 2007, the special committee reconvened and the financial advisors reported on the increased per share price proposed by the GECC group. The special committee discussed the relative difficulty in resolving comments to the draft merger agreement from Bidder B compared to the GECC group, and the relatively short period of further due diligence requested by the GECC group compared with the substantial business and financial due diligence requirements of Bidder B. The special committee determined to proceed with negotiations with the GECC group on an exclusive basis, and authorized the chairman of the special committee to execute the letter agreement with GE Capital containing exclusivity provisions that would remain in effect from February 20, 2007 until March 2, 2007. The special committee also authorized the financial advisors to inform Bidder B that we had entered into exclusive negotiations with another party and were discontinuing any further discussions with them regarding a possible transaction. Representatives of the financial advisors communicated this to Bidder B.

On February 24, 2007, in response to the GECC group's original February 14, 2007 mark-up of the merger agreement, DLA Piper submitted a revised draft of the merger agreement to Weil Gotshal. From February 24, 2007 until the execution of the merger agreement on March 15, 2007, we, GE Capital and our respective representatives exchanged drafts of the merger agreement and other relevant documents and held extensive negotiations relating to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement. Blackstone and Simpson Thacher participated in certain of these negotiations.

From February 26 through February 28, 2007, a member of our senior management and representatives of DLA Piper met at Weil Gotshal's offices in New York to negotiate the terms of the merger agreement and met with representatives of GE Capital, Weil Gotshal, Blackstone and Simpson Thacher. The parties also discussed the waivers and consents that both GE Capital (as the ultimate buyer of the fleet management business) and Blackstone (as the ultimate buyer of the mortgage business) would require under our contracts with Realogy and Merrill Lynch to the proposed transaction, and the process to obtain these waivers and consents.

On March 1, 2007 and the morning of March 2, 2007, the chairman of the special committee and representatives of our senior management had several discussions with representatives of the GECC group regarding various diligence issues (including the determination that the number of our restricted stock units outstanding was larger than the number that the GECC group had previously assumed and specified in its proposal for the Company), a preliminary proposal for a retention and severance package for certain members of senior management and various terms of the merger agreement still being negotiated. The parties discussed the impact of these various issues on the GECC group's assessment of the transaction, and a range of potential compromises. Also on the morning of March 2, 2007, the compensation committee of our board of directors met with an independent compensation committee consultant, representatives of our senior management and representatives of DLA Piper to discuss, among other matters, the preliminary proposal on retention and severance for senior management. Our compensation committee considered the risks to our business if these employees were not retained during the pendency of the proposed merger, and received advice on the retention benefits and the terms of the proposed retention and severance plan from the independent consultant. After discussing these issues, our compensation committee approved the retention and severance plan in principle and directed senior management to provide a final list of participants, and the final terms of the retention and severance plan, as well as the final estimate of the financial impact of the plan, for compensation committee approval.

On the afternoon of March 2, 2007, the special committee met with members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper to discuss, among other matters, the status of negotiations to date. Representatives of senior management and the chairman of the special committee briefed the special committee on the open issues. The special committee discussed the potential impact of the open issues, including the diligence issues, the proposed retention and severance plan and the other terms being negotiated in the merger agreement, on the proposed per share purchase price offered by the GECC group, and discussed the other open issues, including the proposals for termination fees in various circumstances, and the conditions relating to our financial statements. The special committee then considered the terms of the draft merger agreement circulated by GE Capital. DLA Piper representatives reviewed the fiduciary duties of the directors in considering the proposed transaction and also reviewed negotiations relating to the structure of the proposed transaction, our representations and warranties, the conditions to closing, the amount of the termination fee and the events upon which the termination fee would be payable, the definition of material adverse effect, and interim covenants imposing restrictions on the operation of our business between signing and consummation of the merger. The DLA Piper representatives summarized the remaining issues to be negotiated, including the amount of and events triggering payment of termination fees, and conditions to closing. The special committee took note of the proposed retention and severance plan for certain members of senior management being considered by the compensation committee, and the risks to our business if these employees were not retained during the pendency of the proposed merger. The special committee also considered the closing conditions and the risks related to the delays in finalizing our financial statements and our proposed timetable for becoming compliant with the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act, the risks associated with the mortgage business sale agreement between GE Capital and Blackstone or its affiliate including the impact on the proposed merger if Blackstone or its affiliate failed to obtain the requisite financing to consummate the mortgage business sale agreement, as well as the potential adverse impact on our business if the merger were not consummated. The special committee also reviewed the regulatory approval process applicable to the proposed merger. The special committee discussed the negotiation relating to the amount of fees payable on various termination events and the related triggering events. Representatives of DLA Piper reviewed with the special committee the waivers and consents required under our contracts with Realogy and Merrill Lynch to the proposed merger, the proposed timing of the negotiation of such waivers and consents, the possible concessions needed to obtain such waivers and consents and the possible impact on the transaction from this negotiation. The special committee discussed the risks and benefits associated with the proposed merger, taking into account the likely impact of the open issues on the transaction value offered by the GECC group, compared to the potential alternatives available to us, including remaining independent, taking into account the risks attendant to the Company's business. The special committee concluded that it was advisable to continue to negotiate the best possible terms for a sale to the GECC group. The special committee then considered a proposal from the chairman of the special committee to address the material outstanding issues, including a proposal on the triggering events for termination of the agreement and fees payable on various termination events, including in the event of a failure of Blackstone or its affiliate to obtain financing in respect of the mortgage business sale agreement, as well as closing conditions, addressing our concerns relating to deal certainty, and a proposed reduction in the purchase price from $32.50 to $32.00, which the special committee believed to be the smallest price reduction likely to be acceptable to the GECC group. After discussion, the special committee authorized the chairman of the special committee to present this proposal to the GECC group.

Thereafter, the chairman of the special committee and the financial advisors held discussions with the GECC group, in accordance with the special committee's instructions and the proposal authorized by the special committee was accepted by the GECC group, subject to further negotiations. Over the next week, we, the GECC group and our respective representatives continued negotiating the terms and conditions of the draft merger agreement. We also negotiated portions of the agreement for the subsequent sale of our mortgage business by GE Capital to Blackstone, or its affiliate, relevant to us with the GECC group.

On March 11, 2007, the special committee and our board of directors held separate meetings attended by members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper, to consider whether to approve the proposed merger with GE Capital. In advance of the meetings, each member of our board of directors received a copy of the draft merger agreement and other related documents, along with a copy of a presentation to be made by the financial advisors. At the meeting of the special committee, representatives of DLA Piper led a discussion with the special committee regarding certain provisions of the draft merger agreement, including, but not limited to, closing conditions, termination fees and the events upon which the termination fee would be payable, the scope of our representation and warranties, covenants relating to our financial statements, the definition of material adverse effect, the interim operating covenants, as well as the terms of the mortgage business sale agreement for the subsequent sale of our mortgage business by GE Capital to Blackstone or its affiliate, including closing conditions and termination fees. The special committee reviewed the risk of non-consummation of the transaction and the fees payable in certain termination events with representatives of DLA Piper. The special committee understood that the parties were still negotiating certain third-party waivers and consents, although the special committee believed these agreements were close to final terms. Representatives of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners made a formal presentation with respect to the process of exploring strategic alternatives and the background of the proposed merger with GE Capital. The financial advisors discussed a number of valuation metrics, including an analysis of the per share price paid by the GECC group for shares of our common stock compared to our historical per share trading price, an analysis of the current trading multiples of selected publicly traded companies that the financial advisors deemed relevant compared to the implied multiples of the proposed merger, an analysis of the transaction multiples in selected change of control transactions that the financial advisors deemed relevant compared to the implied multiples of the proposed merger and a discounted dividend analysis. The financial advisors then rendered an oral opinion to the effect that, as of that date and subject to and based on the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitation on the opinion and the review undertaken, as set forth in the opinion, the merger consideration to be paid in connection with the proposed merger was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of our common stock. After further discussion and based on the special committee's evaluation of the GE Capital proposal and other relevant factors including those discussed under Our

Reasons for the Merger, the special committee unanimously approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, and determined to recommend to our board of directors, the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger.

Our board of directors then convened to consider whether to approve the proposed merger with GE Capital. Representatives of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners made the same presentation with respect to the process of exploring strategic alternatives and the background of the proposed merger with GE Capital, and with respect to valuation metrics as had been presented to the special committee. The board of directors engaged in a discussion of the proposed merger and the financial advisors and representatives of DLA Piper responded to questions from the board of directors. The board of directors was also advised that the third-party waivers and consents were in the process of being finalized. The financial advisors then confirmed their oral opinion to the effect that, as of that date and subject to and based on the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitation on the opinion and the review undertaken, as set forth in the opinion, the merger consideration to be paid in connection with the proposed merger was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of our common stock.

Our board of directors then discussed at length the terms of the proposed merger and a variety of positive and negative considerations concerning the transaction and the overall strategic alternatives available to us. These factors are described in more detail below under the heading Our Reasons for the Merger beginning on page [1]. After a discussion and consideration of all relevant issues and after consulting with the financial advisors, the board of directors unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, are advisable and in the best interests of our stockholders, approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, along with the other transaction documents presented to the board of directors relating to the merger, and directed that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, be submitted for consideration by holders of our common stock at a special meeting of stockholders.

Following this meeting, we, the GECC group, and our respective representatives continued our discussions to finalize the merger agreement and related documents, including the waivers and consents to the proposed merger and related transactions required under our contracts with Realogy and Merrill Lynch. Negotiations among us, the GECC group, Realogy, Merrill Lynch and our respective representatives regarding the terms of the waivers and consents required by GE Capital and Blackstone under our contracts with Realogy (the Realogy Consent) and our contracts with Merrill Lynch (the Merrill Lynch Waiver) and the payments in connection with such waivers and consents proceeded over the next few days and resulted in final agreements on March 14, 2007.

The Realogy Consent provides that, effective upon completion of the sale of our mortgage business to Blackstone (which we contemplate will be substantially simultaneous with the consummation of the merger), Realogy will receive a specified fee for its consent to, and waiver of certain of its rights under its contracts with us in connection with, the proposed merger, the sale of the mortgage business and the related transactions. We also agreed under the Realogy Consent to certain amendments to our contracts with Realogy effective upon completion of the sale of our mortgage business to Blackstone. These amendments will apply over the term of our contracts with Realogy and include limitations on the scope of the noncompetition restrictions contained in our contracts with Realogy to PHH Mortgage and its subsidiaries (and terminate its application to the fleet management business), amendments to the parties and events with which a future acquisition of the mortgage business would result in a change in control under such contracts, the addition of a private label brand under our marketing agreement with Realogy, and adjustments to the fees that we pay to Realogy under our marketing agreement and our trademark license agreement and the fees that PHH Home Loans pays to us under our management services agreement.

The Merrill Lynch Waiver provides that, effective upon completion of the sale of our mortgage business to Blackstone, Merrill Lynch consents to, and waives certain of its rights under its contracts with us in connection with, the proposed merger, the sale of the mortgage business and the related transactions, but does not provide for any payments to Merrill Lynch. (See Item 1. Business Arrangements with Realogy and Arrangements with Merrill Lynch in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006 filed on May 24, 2007 for more information regarding the terms of the consents and waivers that we obtained from Realogy and Merrill Lynch, and Item 1.01(c) Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement Amendments to Certain Agreements in our Current Report on Form 8-K filed on March 15, 2007 for a discussion of the consents and waivers that we obtained from Realogy and Merrill Lynch.)

On March 12, 2007, the GECC group informed our financial advisors that it intended to decrease its per share price from $32.00 to $31.50 in consideration of the consent fee and the estimated aggregate financial impact of the various amendments included in the Realogy Consent. The special committee met with members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper to discuss the GECC group's reduction in price. The chairman of the special committee gave an update regarding discussions he had during the day related to the matters that formed the basis for the GECC group's reduction in price. The special committee discussed with its legal and financial advisors various alternatives in response to the price reduction, including the continuation of the business as a stand-alone business, or the initiation of a renewed process for the sale of the Company. The special committee considered the fact that certain bidders would face similar negotiations relating to the need for third-party waivers and consents, and that the costs of such waivers and consents needed to be factored into the transaction. The special committee met again that evening with members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper, and discussed the status of the negotiations held with GE Capital since its earlier meeting. The special committee considered the reduction in price and the terms of the transaction, and compared those to the alternative of remaining independent, taking into account the ongoing execution risks of the businesses, as well as significant industry risks in the mortgage industry and the continuing challenges of identifying and remediating material weaknesses in the Company's internal control over financial reporting. After considering the alternatives, the special committee concluded that the current transaction was in the best interests of stockholders, despite the reduction in price, and instructed the financial advisors to continue discussions with GE Capital and its representatives to determine if a definitive merger agreement could be finalized.

The special committee instructed the financial advisors to provide an updated analysis taking into account the revised per share price directed management to schedule a meeting of the board of directors the next day to consider whether to approve the proposed transaction with GE Capital.

On March 13, 2007, the special committee and our board of directors held separate meetings attended by members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper to consider whether to approve the revised terms of the merger agreement with GE Capital. In advance of the meetings, the members of our board of directors received a revised copy of the presentation to be made by the financial advisors. The financial advisors apprised the special committee of the current state of discussions with GE Capital and Blackstone. Representatives from Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners made a formal presentation and reviewed with the special committee their financial analysis of the $31.50 per share cash merger consideration to be received by holders of our common stock. The financial advisors then rendered to the special committee an oral opinion (which was subsequently confirmed in a written opinion on March 14, 2007) to the effect that, as of that date and subject to and based on the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the opinion and the review undertaken, as set forth in the opinion, the merger consideration to be paid in connection with the proposed merger was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of our common stock. After further discussion and based on the special committee's evaluation of the terms of the merger agreement and related documents, and the other relevant factors including those discussed under "Our Reasons for the Merger," beginning on page [1], the special committee unanimously determined to recommend to our board of directors, among other matters, the revised terms of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger.

Our board of directors then held a meeting, which was attended by members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper. The financial advisors apprised the board of directors of the current state of discussions with GE Capital and Blackstone. Members of our senior management discussed the reduction in the price and the special committee informed the board of directors of its deliberations and recommendation. The board of directors considered and discussed the revised terms and asked questions of the financial advisors and representatives of DLA Piper. Representatives from Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners made a formal presentation and reviewed with our board of directors their financial analysis of the $31.50 per share cash merger consideration to be received by holders of our common stock. The financial advisors then rendered to the board of directors an oral opinion (which was subsequently confirmed in a written opinion on March 14, 2007) to the effect that, as of that date and subject to and based on the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the opinion and the review undertaken, as set forth in the opinion, the consideration to be paid in connection with the proposed merger was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of our common stock.

Our board of directors then discussed the revised terms of the merger agreement and its prior review of the factors described in detail below under the heading "Our Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page [1]. After discussion and based on the recommendation of the special committee and other relevant factors, including those discussed under "Our Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page [1], the board of directors unanimously (1) determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, are advisable and in the best interests of our stockholders, (2) approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, along with other transaction documents presented to the board of directors relating to the merger and (3) directed that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, be submitted for consideration by holders of our common stock at a special meeting of stockholders. Our board of directors authorized senior management to finalize negotiations of the definitive merger agreement and the documents related thereto. The closing price of our common stock on March 13, 2007 was $27.55. Following this meeting, we, the GECC group, and our respective representatives continued finalizing the merger agreement and the documents related thereto.

Later that day, Blackstone informed the chairman of the special committee and the financial advisors that it was reevaluating its participation in the GECC group's bid in light of the developments in the mortgage industry generally, especially the deterioration in the subprime mortgage market and that it needed an additional day to determine whether it wished to participate in the GECC group's bid. Over the course of the next twenty-four hours, the chairman of the special committee had numerous telephone conferences with representatives of GE Capital and Blackstone to discuss the status of the proposed transaction in light of Blackstone's review of the current developments in the mortgage industry.

On March 15, 2007, we and GE Capital executed the definitive merger agreement and issued a joint press release announcing the merger. The terms of the merger agreement are set forth in more detail below under "The Merger Agreement" beginning on page [1]. On the same date, a Blackstone affiliate and GE Capital executed the mortgage business sale agreement.

Our Reasons for the Merger

The following discussion summarizes the material factors considered by the board of directors in their consideration of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, and is not intended to be exhaustive. It should be noted that part of this explanation of the board of director's reasoning and other information presented in this section is forward-looking in nature and therefore should be read in light of the factors discussed under "Forward-Looking Statements" beginning on page [1].

The board of directors believes that the merger is fair to and in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. In reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement and transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, the board of directors consulted numerous times with members of our senior management and representatives of the financial advisors and DLA Piper and considered, among other matters, the following factors:

current industry, economic and market conditions and trends in the markets in which we compete and the risks associated with the foregoing if we were to remain an independent public company;

our business model and our business, prospects, financial performance and condition, financial and operating plans, capital levels and asset quality and the risks associated with the foregoing if we were to remain an independent public company, including the continuing deterioration of the performance of our mortgage business and the mortgage industry generally during the second half of 2006 and early 2007;

risks associated with the restatement of our historical financial statements;

the impact of our inability to file certain reports with the SEC on a timely basis on our financial condition, operations and prospects, our ongoing obligations under our current outstanding debt, and under regulations applicable to our business;

the delays in our proposed timetable for becoming compliant with the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act and the ongoing distraction and costs associated with these delays;

the risk of delisting of our common stock from the NYSE if we were unable to become compliant with the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act in a reasonable time frame;

our continuing need to identify and remediate material weaknesses in internal control over financial reporting and to achieve effective internal control over financial reporting;

the belief of our board of directors and special committee that a sale of the entire Company at the price offered by the GECC group was advisable given the significant risks attendant to the Company as a stand alone company and preferable to the other strategic alternatives available to us (including the possible sale or spin-off of one or the other of our businesses)

the competitive sale process undertaken by the board of directors and the special committee, with the assistance of the financial advisors, aimed at maximizing stockholder value, which included:

contacting forty-nine potential bidders, executing confidentiality agreements with twenty-seven such potential bidders, each of whom received a confidential information memorandum, obtaining and evaluating preliminary non-binding bids from six potential bidders that were invited to conduct initial due diligence, receiving and responding to inquiries from such potential bidders, evaluating the non-binding proposals submitted by the GECC group, Bidder B and Bidder C following initial due diligence, and the difficulty of locating alternative bidders who expressed serious interest in both lines of our business, and the difficulty of pairing bidders who might be interested in only one line of business;

the disruption in the market surrounding the business conditions for sub-prime lenders and the impact on prospective bidders perceived risk for acquiring mortgage businesses generally;

the current and historical market prices of our common stock, including the fact that the merger consideration of $31.50 per share represents a premium to the closing price of our common stock of approximately:

$3.69 for each share, or a 11.7% premium, over the closing price of our common stock on March 14, 2007, the trading day prior to the date we announced the merger,

$4.60 for each share, or a 17.1% premium, over the closing price of our common stock on April 3, 2006, the trading day prior to the decision of our board of directors to pursue strategic alternatives,

$3.12 for each share, or a 11.0% premium, over the average closing price of our common stock for the six-month period before the public announcement of the merger,

$4.81 for each share, or a 18.0% premium, over the average closing price of our common stock since our Spin-Off on February 1, 2005; and

$11.50 for each share, or a 57.5% premium, over the trading price of our common stock immediately after our Spin-Off on February 1, 2005.

conditions of the mortgage business sale agreement between GE Capital and a Blackstone affiliate, and the board of directors' evaluation of the likely time period necessary to close the transaction;

the fact that the merger agreement, subject to the limitations and requirements contained in the merger agreement, permits the board of directors to provide information to, and conduct negotiations with, an unsolicited third party if there is a reasonable likelihood that such actions could lead to a superior proposal and to terminate the merger agreement to accept a superior proposal upon the payment to GE Capital of a termination fee of $50 million;

the opinion of each of the financial advisors that, subject to and based on the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the opinion and the review undertaken, as set forth in the opinion, the consideration to be paid in connection with the merger was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of our common stock as described under the heading "Opinion of the Financial Advisors" beginning on page [1]. The full text of the written opinion of each of the financial advisors, dated March 14, 2007, which set forth the assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken in connection with the opinion, are attached to this proxy statement as Annex B and Annex C. the fact that the merger is subject to the approval of the holders of our common stock.

Potential Negative Factors Relating to the Transaction

In the course of its deliberations, the board of directors also considered a variety of risks and other potentially negative factors relating to the merger, including the following:

if the merger is consummated, we will no longer exist as a public company and the holders of our common stock will not have the opportunity to participate in the future performance of our assets and any future appreciation in the value of our common stock;

the merger is a taxable transaction and, as a result, holders of our common stock will generally be required to pay U.S. taxes on any gains that result from their receipt of the cash consideration in the merger;

the regulatory risks associated with the merger and the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement. See "Regulatory Approvals" beginning on page [1];

certain terms of the merger agreement and related documents, including, but not limited to, the following:

in the event that the merger agreement is terminated in certain circumstances as a result of the Mortgage Business Purchaser not being ready, willing and able (including with respect to access to financing) to consummate the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement, our remedy may be limited to the payment of the reverse termination fee to us. See Conditions to the Merger , Termination Fee, Reverse Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursement beginning on [1], and Mortgage Business Sale Agreement beginning on pages [1] and [1], respectively, pursuant to the mortgage business sale agreement, GE Capital has agreed not to consummate the merger unless all the mutual conditions to closing and the closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital and the merger sub specified in the merger agreement have been satisfied or waived. GE Capital and the merger sub are required to obtain the prior written consent of the Mortgage Business Purchaser before agreeing to any waiver of such conditions unless such waiver relates solely to our fleet management business and would not otherwise materially prejudice the Mortgage Business Purchaser's position or obligations under the mortgage business sale agreement, even though the merger agreement permits the board of directors to receive unsolicited inquiries and proposals regarding other potential acquisition proposals, it prohibits us from soliciting, initiating, knowingly encouraging or taking certain actions, except under the circumstances discussed under the heading "No Solicitation of Transactions" beginning on page [1]. If we receive a superior proposal and ultimately enter into an agreement for such a transaction, subject to certain conditions, we would be obligated to pay GE Capital a termination fee in the amount of $50 million. See "Termination Fee, Reverse Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursement" beginning on [1]. Accordingly, the termination fee may discourage a third party from submitting a competing higher proposal to acquire us, under certain circumstances, we may be required to pay the GECC group's reasonable transaction expenses incurred in connection with the merger and the transaction contemplated by the merger agreement, up to a limit of $5 million;

the merger agreement includes covenants that set forth limitations on our ability to conduct our business prior to the completion of the merger. See "Conduct of Our Business Pending the Merger" beginning on page [1], the merger agreement may be terminated in certain circumstances if the merger does not occur on or before December 31, 2007, the merger agreement requires us to file any and all forms, reports and other documents required to be filed with the SEC with respect to periods from and after December 31, 2005 prior to the effective time of the merger agreement, our audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006, the audited financial statements of PHH Mortgage for the year ended December 31, 2006, a copy of the revised consolidating balance sheet for us and our consolidated subsidiaries and consolidated joint ventures as of December 31, 2006 and the related consolidating statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 2006 reflecting any adjustments as a result of the audit of our 2006 financial statements, and audited combined financial statements of our mortgage business for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2006, and certain unaudited combined financial statements for each quarter of 2007 together with unaudited combined financial statements for the corresponding periods from 2006, the merger agreement includes a provision that our audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006 shall not reflect a consolidated financial condition or results of operations of us, our consolidated subsidiaries and our consolidated joint ventures that is different from the consolidated financial condition or results of operations of us, our consolidated subsidiaries and our consolidated joint ventures reflected in the unaudited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006 that we had previously delivered to GE Capital, unless such difference would not constitute, or would not reasonably be expected to constitute, a material adverse effect. See Conditions to the Merger beginning on page [1], the risk that the failure to complete the merger may cause substantial damage to our relationships with our existing and potential customers;

This discussion of the information and factors considered by the board of directors in reaching its conclusions and recommendation includes all of the material factors considered by the board of directors, but is not intended to be exhaustive. In light of the variety of factors considered by the board of directors in evaluating the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, the board of directors did not find it practicable to, and did not quantify or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors considered in reaching its determinations and recommendations. Moreover, each member of the board of directors applied his or her own personal business judgment to the process and may have given different weight to different factors. The board of directors views its recommendation as being based on the totality of the information presented to and considered by it.

Recommendation of Our Board of Directors

Our board of directors, at a special meeting held on March 13, 2006, after due consideration, unanimously:

approved the merger agreement and the other transaction documents presented to the board of directors relating to the merger; and directed that the merger agreement and the merger be submitted for consideration by holders of our common stock at the special meeting of stockholders.

Our board of directors unanimously recommends that the holders of our common stock vote FOR the proposal to approve of the merger agreement and the merger.

Joint Financial Analyses of PHH's Financial Advisors

The following is a summary of the material financial analyses jointly performed by Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners in connection with rendering their respective opinions described above and contained in the presentations that were delivered to the Company's board of directors and special committee on March 13, 2007. Some of the summaries of the financial analyses include information presented in tabular format. The tables are not intended to stand alone, and in order to more fully understand the financial analyses used by Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners, the tables must be read together with the full text of each summary. Considering the data set forth below without considering the full narrative description of the financial analyses, including the methodologies and assumptions underlying the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of Merrill Lynch's and Gleacher Partners' financial analyses.

Table of Contents

Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners performed their analyses with respect to the Company based on financial forecasts provided by the management of the Company and a per share transaction value of $31.50 for the Company's common stock. All market data used by Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners in its analyses were as of March 12, 2007.

Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners performed various valuation analyses of our common shares, as described below. For purposes of the valuation analyses, diluted shares of the Company were calculated using the treasury stock method, based on 53.5 million basic common shares outstanding, 1.5 million restricted shares outstanding and options to acquire 3.4 million shares of common stock at a weighted average exercise price of $19.38.

Based on the combined valuation analyses described below, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners estimated a per share reference range of $27.73 to $32.57 for PHH.

Historical Stock Trading Analyses

Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners reviewed the historical stock price performance of our common stock and compared this performance against certain peer groups and indices determined by them to be relevant. Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners compared the per share transaction value of $31.50 for each share of the Company's common stock to the closing price of the Company's common stock as of March 12, 2007, the average closing price during the three months leading up to and including March 12, 2007, the average closing price during the six months leading up to and including March 12, 2007, the intraday high price of $30.53 on February 2, 2007 for the 52-week period ended March 12, 2007 and the initial trading price of $20.00 on January 19, 2005 in connection with the Spin-Off. Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners calculated the following implied multiples based on the per share transaction value of $31.50 for each share of the Company's common stock using projections prepared by the Company's management:

Implied Transaction Multiples

Transaction value/projected 2007 earnings per share	15.5x
Transaction value/projected 2008 earnings per share	10.1x
Transaction value/book value as of December 31, 2006	1.18x
Transaction value/tangible book value as of December 31, 2006	1.29x

Comparable Company Trading Multiples Analysis

Using publicly available information, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners calculated a range of implied per share values for the Company based on the calculation of the ratios of price to estimated earnings for 2008 and price to adjusted tangible book value per share as of December 31, 2006 for certain publicly traded companies. In addition to the Company, the following companies were selected by Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners, based on their experience with companies in similar lines of business, as potentially relevant to an evaluation of the Company:

Selected Companies by Business SegmentMortgage Companies

Countrywide
IndyMac

Prime Mortgage REITS

Thornburg Mortgage

Fleet Leasing Companies

CIT Group
Dollar Thrifty
Financial Federal

Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners reviewed, among other things, closing stock prices of the selected companies on March 12, 2007 as multiples of estimated calendar year earnings per share for 2007 and 2008 and book value per share and tangible book value per share as of December 31, 2006. Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners then compared these multiples derived from the selected companies with corresponding multiples for the Company based both on the closing price of the Company's common stock on March 12, 2007 and the per share transaction value. Financial data for the Company were based on management's projections, and financial data for the selected companies were based on publicly available research analysts' estimates, public filings and other information. This analysis indicated the following average and median multiples for the selected companies:

	Multiples for Selected Companies		Multiples for PHH
			Based on March 12, 2007	Based on the Per Share
	Average	Median	Closing Stock Price	Transaction Value
Closing Stock Price as a Multiple of:
Projected 2007 earnings per share	11.5x	11.1x	13.9x	15.5x
Projected 2008 earnings per share	9.8	10.0	9.1	10.1
Book value per share as of December 31, 2006	1.61	1.65	1.06	1.18
Tangible book value per share as of December 31, 2006	1.94	1.76	1.16	1.29

Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners determined, based on their experience with companies in similar lines of business, that the appropriate metric for use in determining the valuation of PHH, was the multiple to projected 2008 earnings per share, and therefore calculated an implied per share valuation range for the Company by applying a range of multiples of 8.4x to 9.9x derived from this analysis to the projected 2008 earnings per share of the Company. Although none of the selected companies is directly comparable to PHH, the companies included were chosen because they are publicly traded companies with operations that for purposes of analysis may be considered similar to certain operations of the Company. Based on this analysis, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners derived an implied per share range of values for the Company of approximately $26.31 to $30.95. Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners also applied a reference range of multiples to the Company's adjusted tangible book value per share as of December 31, 2006, which assumes a one-time dividend of $135 million and excludes $61 million of intangible items. Based on this metric, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners derived an implied per share range of values for the Company of approximately $29.70 to $34.40.

Precedent Transactions Multiples Analysis

Using company filings and publicly available information, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners examined the following selected transactions within the mortgage and fleet leasing industries:

Announcement Date	Acquiror	Target
Mortgage Industry
July 11, 2006	Deutsche Bank	MortgageIT Holdings
May 11, 2004	Citigroup	Principal Residential Mortgage
April 2, 2001	Washington Mutual	Fleet Mortgage Corp (FleetBoston)
October 2, 2000	Washington Mutual	PNC's Residential Mortgage
Fleet Leasing Industry
May 22, 2004	Volkswagen	LeasePlan Corp.

Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners calculated the transaction value in the selected transactions as a multiple of latest twelve months (LTM) earnings and book value as of the most recent completed accounting period prior to public announcement of the transaction for the target companies. No transaction reviewed was directly comparable to the proposed transaction and, accordingly, this analysis involved complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics of the Company relative to the targets in the selected transactions and other factors that would affect the acquisition values in the precedent transactions.

Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners calculated that the ratio of the transaction value to the LTM earnings for the target companies in the mortgage industry had an average and median of 10.4x and the transaction in the fleet leasing industry had a multiple of 11.0x. The ratio of the transaction value to the book value as of the most recent accounting period prior to the announcement of the selected transactions in the mortgage industry had an average of 1.55x and a median of 1.35x, and the transaction in the fleet leasing industry had a multiple of 2.08x. Based on the analysis of the transaction value in the selected transactions, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners determined an implied per share range of values for the Company of approximately $31.41 to $36.95. This range of per share values implied a range of multiples of the Company's 2008 estimated earnings of 10.0x to 11.8x and a range of multiples of the Company's book value as of December 31, 2006 of 1.17x to 1.38x.

Discounted Dividend Analysis

Using projections provided by the management of PHH, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners conducted discounted dividend analyses of PHH's business segments to calculate ranges of implied per share values of PHH. A discounted dividend analysis is a method of evaluating a company using estimates of the future theoretical dividends generated by the Company and taking into consideration the time value of money with respect to those future theoretical dividends by calculating their present value. Present value refers to the current value of one or more future cash dividends from the company and is obtained by discounting those dividends back to the present using a discount rate that takes into account macro-economic assumptions and estimates of risk, the opportunity cost of equity capital, capitalized returns and other appropriate factors. Terminal value refers to the capitalized value of all dividends from a company for periods beyond the final forecast period.

Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners performed the discounted dividend analysis of the Company to calculate the estimated present value of the dividends that the Company could generate over calendar years 2007 through 2011. Estimated financial data for the Company were based on internal estimates of the Company's management. For the mortgage business, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners calculated a range of terminal values by applying forward net income terminal value multiples of 6.5x to 7.5x to the Company's calendar year 2012 estimated net income attributable to the mortgage business. The dividends and terminal values were then discounted to present value using discount rates ranging from 11.0% to 13.0%. For the fleet management business, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners calculated a range of terminal values by applying forward net income terminal value multiples of 10.0x to 12.0x to the Company's calendar year 2012 estimated net income attributable to the fleet management business. The dividends and terminal values were then discounted to present value using discount rates ranging from 10.0% to 12.0%. Based on a level of equity capital for the Company deemed appropriate for purposes of this analysis, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners estimated a range of values of excess capital per share of the Company's common stock as between $2.22 to $2.67. The discounted dividend analysis, together with Merrill Lynch's and Gleacher Partners' estimate of excess capital per share, indicated an implied per share range of values for each share of the Company's common stock of $28.43 to $34.50.

General

In connection with the review of the merger by the Company's board of directors and special committee, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners performed a variety of generally accepted financial and comparable analyses for purposes of rendering their respective opinions. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process and is not susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. In arriving at their respective opinions, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners each considered the results of its analyses as a whole and did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor considered by it, but rather made its determination as to fairness on the basis of its experience and professional judgment after considering the results of all of its analyses. Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners believe that the summary provided and the analyses described above must be considered as a whole and that selecting any portion of their analyses, without considering all of them, would create an incomplete view of the process underlying their analyses and opinions. As a result, the ranges of valuations resulting from any particular analysis or combination of analyses described above were merely utilized to create points of reference for analytical purposes and should not be taken to be the view of Merrill Lynch or Gleacher Partners with respect to the actual value of the Company.

In performing their analyses, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners made, and were provided by the management of the Company, numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business and economic conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of Merrill Lynch, Gleacher Partners and the Company. Analyses based on estimates or forecasts of future results are not necessarily indicative of future results or actual values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than those suggested by such analyses. The analyses described above were performed solely as part of the respective analyses of Merrill Lynch and

Gleacher Partners of the fairness of the merger consideration, from a financial point of view, to the Company, and were performed in connection with the delivery by Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners of their respective opinions, each dated March 14, 2007, to the Company's board of directors and special committee. The analyses do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which the Company's common stock will trade following the announcement or consummation of the merger. Because such analyses are inherently subject to uncertainty, being based upon numerous factors or events beyond the control of the Company or its advisors, none of the Company, Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners, nor any other person assumes responsibility if future results or actual values are materially different from these forecasts or assumptions. The merger consideration and other terms of the merger were determined through arm's-length negotiations with the Company and were approved by the Company's board of directors.

The respective opinions of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners were one of many factors taken into consideration by the Company's board of directors and special committee in making their respective determination to approve the merger. The analyses of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners summarized above should not be viewed as determinative of the opinion of the Company's board of directors or special committee with respect to the value of the Company, or of whether the Company's board of directors or special committee would have been willing to agree to different or other forms of merger consideration. The foregoing summary does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses performed by Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners.

The Company's special committee selected Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners as its financial advisors because of their reputations as internationally recognized investment banking and advisory firms with substantial experience in transactions similar to this transaction and because Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners are each familiar with the Company and its business. As part of its investment banking and financial advisory business, each of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners is continually engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive biddings, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for corporate and other purposes.

Merrill Lynch and its affiliates have performed in the past, and may continue to perform, certain financial advisory and other investment banking and commercial banking services for the Company, all for customary compensation. Such past services have included acting as a dealer in the Company's commercial paper program. In the ordinary course of its businesses, Merrill Lynch and its affiliates may actively trade the debt and equity securities of the Company for its own account or for the accounts of customers and, accordingly, Merrill Lynch may at any time hold long or short positions in such securities. In addition, Merrill Lynch or its affiliates are party to several agreements with the Company relating to the origination, servicing, sub-servicing and/or purchase and sale of certain loans and lines of credit, including those agreements through which the Company provides mortgage loan origination assistance, acts as a servicer or sub-servicer for certain mortgage loans and revolving or equity line of credit loans and purchases from Merrill Lynch certain mortgage loans. Approximately 20% of the Company's mortgage loan originations for the year ended December 31, 2006 and 24% of the Company's mortgage loan originations for the year ended December 31, 2005 were under these agreements. Certain of these agreements provide Merrill Lynch or its affiliate, as the case may be, the right to terminate its relationship with the Company prior to the expiration of the term of the agreements in certain enumerated instances, which include, without limitation, a change-in-control of the Company. On March 14, 2007, the Company and Merrill Lynch entered into an agreement waiving certain of these restrictions. The letter agreement pursuant to which Merrill Lynch has acted as joint financial advisor to the Company expressly acknowledges that Merrill Lynch's role as financial advisor to the Company has no bearing or impact on other commercial relationships between the Company and Merrill Lynch and its affiliates.

Gleacher Partners may perform certain financial advisory and other investment banking services for the Company, all for customary compensation. Gleacher Partners and its affiliates may in the future trade the debt and equity securities of the Company for its own account or for the accounts of customers and, accordingly, Gleacher Partners may at any time hold long or short positions in such securities.

Under the terms of separate letter agreements, the Company engaged each of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners to act as its joint financial advisors in connection with the transaction. Pursuant to the terms of its letter agreement with Merrill Lynch, the Company has agreed to pay Merrill Lynch a fee for its services (including for the delivery of the Merrill Lynch opinion) in an aggregate amount equal to $7.01 million, a substantial portion of which will become payable only if the merger is consummated. Pursuant to the terms of its letter agreement with Gleacher Partners, the Company has agreed to pay Gleacher Partners a fee for its services (including for the delivery of the Gleacher Partners opinion) in an aggregate amount equal to $7.01 million, a substantial portion of which will become payable only if the merger is consummated. The Company has also agreed to reimburse each of Merrill Lynch and Gleacher Partners for its reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the engagement, including travel costs, document production and other customary expenses, including the reasonable fees and disbursements of legal counsel, and to indemnify each of Merrill Lynch, Gleacher Partners and their related parties from and against certain liabilities.

Projected Financial Information

The Company does not as a matter of course make public projections as to future performance, earnings or other results, and generally does not make projections for extended periods due to the unpredictability of the assumptions and estimates underlying such projections. However, certain financial projections prepared by the management of our mortgage business and fleet management business were made available to the special committee and its financial advisors and to potential bidders.

We have provided certain of these projections in this proxy statement. The inclusion of these projections should not be regarded as an indication that our board of directors, management, the financial advisors, GE Capital, the merger sub, Blackstone or any other recipient of this information considered, or now considers, these projections to be a reliable prediction of future results, and they should not be relied on as such.

The Company believes the assumptions our mortgage business and fleet management business management used as a basis for the projections were reasonable at the time the projections were prepared, given the information our management had at the time. However, the projections do not take into account any circumstances or events occurring after the date they were prepared and you should not assume that the projections are or will continue to be accurate or reflective of our management's view at the time you consider whether to vote for the merger agreement and the merger. The projections reflect numerous estimates and assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, including assumed effective interest rates, all of which are difficult to predict and many of which are beyond our control. The projections are also subject to significant uncertainties in connection with changes to our business and financial condition and results of operations, including among others, risks and uncertainties relating to industry performance, material litigation and general business, economic, regulatory, market and financial conditions and other factors described under Cautionary Statement Concerning Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page [1] and Risk Factors contained in Item 1A, of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 30, 2006 (the 2006 Form 10-K) and Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2007, filed with the SEC. In addition, the projections reflect projected information regarding the Company as a stand-alone company and do not take into account any of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, which may cause actual results to materially differ as well. As a result, there can be no assurance that the projected results will be realized or that actual results will not be significantly higher or lower than those contained in the projections; it is expected that there will be differences between actual and projected results. Since the projections cover multiple years, such information by its nature becomes less reliable with each successive year.

The financial projections were prepared for internal use and for our board of directors, to assist potential bidders with their due diligence investigations of the Company and for use by the financial advisors in their respective financial analyses and not with a view toward public disclosure or toward complying with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States or the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of prospective financial information. The Company's independent registered public accounting firm has not examined or compiled any of the projections, expressed any conclusion or provided any form of assurance with respect to the financial projections and, accordingly, assumes no responsibility for them. Additionally, since the date the projections described below for the fleet management business were prepared, the Company has completed and made publicly available its actual results of operations for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006 and for the fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2007. Further, the financial information in the projections were presented in a format previously utilized by the Company prior to the finalization of its financial statements included in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended

December 31, 2005, which were filed with the SEC on November 22, 2006. Accordingly, various components of revenues and expenses as reflected in the Company's financial statements filed with the SEC on and since November 22, 2006 for the fiscal years ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 and each of the quarters ended March 31, 2006, June 30, 2006, September 30, 2006 and March 31, 2007 are presented differently than the presentation of such items in the projections.

For the foregoing reasons, as well as the bases and assumptions on which the projections were compiled, the inclusion of specific portions of the projections in this proxy statement should not be regarded as an indication that such projections will be an accurate prediction of future events, and they should not be relied on as such. Except as required by applicable federal securities laws, the Company does not intend to update, and expressly disclaims any responsibility to, update or otherwise revise the information set forth below to reflect circumstances existing after the date when made or to reflect the occurrence of subsequent events even in the event that any or all of the assumptions underlying the information set forth below are shown to be in error.

Initial Projections

Management presented a two-year financial forecast to the special committee at the October 11, 2006 meeting (the Initial Projections) and worked with the financial advisors to prepare the preliminary financial analyses for inclusion in the confidential information memorandum distributed by the financial advisors to potential bidders in late October 2006. Certain of the Initial Projections resulting from this process are set forth below. The Initial Projections were based on the latest operating results available to management. Management advised the special committee that the Initial Projections were preliminary and that management was still in the process of updating these forecasts. The financial advisors did not rely upon the Initial Projections in preparing their respective analyses in connection with rendering their opinions with respect to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the consideration to be received by holders of our common stock in the merger.

Updated Projections

Following the distribution of the confidential information memorandum, management and the financial advisors continued to refine the financial forecasts based on the latest operating results and plans available to management. Certain of the updated projections resulting from this process, which we refer to as the Updated Projections are set forth below. The Updated Projections were provided to each of the six potential bidders who submitted preliminary non-binding bids in late December 2006. In addition to the Updated Projections, the chart below includes extrapolated projections for the fiscal year 2011 (the Extrapolated Projections) that were developed by the management of our mortgage business and fleet management business with the assistance of the financial advisors for the purpose of completing the financial advisors' respective discounted dividend analysis. The financial advisors have informed us that the Extrapolated Projections were not shared with any of the bidders.

The Updated Projections and the Extrapolated Projections were also used by the financial advisors for use in preparing certain financial analyses discussed with our board of directors and the special committee at their respective meetings held on March 11 and March 13, 2007.

The primary difference between the Initial Projections and the Updated Projections related to the mortgage business and resulted from, among other matters, increased price competition, a downturn in our mortgage origination volume, continued pressure on origination margins, delays in signing new outsourcing clients as a result of our inability to finalize our financial statements and increasing costs associated with managing our mortgage servicing rights hedge.

The primary difference in presentation between the projections and the financial statements in the 2006 Form 10-K relates to the inclusion of operating expenses (other than SG&A) as a reduction in revenue in the projections versus their classification as an expense in the 2006 Form 10-K resulting in a corresponding increase in revenues and expenses in the 2006 Form 10-K as compared to the projections above.

Interests of Our Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

In considering the recommendation of our board of directors with respect to the merger and the merger agreement, you should be aware that certain of our directors and executive officers may have interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, the interests of the holders of our common stock. Such interests include, among other matters, severance payments and benefits payable to certain executive officers upon termination of employment pursuant to our existing policies and agreements, retention bonuses payable to certain of our executive officers in order to retain their services at least through the consummation of the merger, accelerated vesting of certain equity awards and rights to continued indemnification and insurance coverage after the merger for acts or omissions occurring prior to the merger. In addition, the number of shares of our common stock owned by our directors and executive officers as of July 16, 2007, appears below under the heading Securities Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management beginning on page [1].

As of July 16, 2007, there were approximately 188,059 shares of our common stock issuable pursuant to outstanding and unvested stock options held by each person who served as a director or executive officer of the Company since January 1, 2006. Under the terms of the merger agreement at the effective time of the merger, each such stock option shall be deemed to be fully vested and shall be canceled and the holder thereof shall be entitled to receive at the effective time of the merger or as soon as practicable thereafter, an amount of cash equal to the merger consideration of $31.50 for each share subject to the stock option, less the applicable option exercise prices and any applicable withholding taxes. See Treatment of Stock Options and Restricted Stock Units beginning on page [1]. For information about the beneficial ownership of our common stock by our directors or executive officers, see Securities Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management beginning on page [1].

These shares are reflected in this column.

(2) The estimated payments do not include any reduction for any applicable withholding taxes.

(3) Mr. Cashen resigned his employment with us on September 20, 2006.

(4) Mr. Krongard elected to defer the cash portion of his director fees to the Non-Employee Directors Deferred Compensation Plan in exchange for 3,434 restricted stock units since January 1, 2006.

Retention Bonuses

Following the execution of the merger agreement we entered into letter agreements with certain of our executive officers in order to retain them at least through the effective time of the merger. The retention bonus equals and is in lieu of the executive's annual target bonus for 2007 set by the compensation committee of our board of directors, but will be pro-rated if the effective time of the merger is before December 31, 2007, and is payable as soon as practicable following the earlier of the effective time of the merger and December 31, 2007. In certain instances, the executive officer covered by a retention agreement may receive the retention bonuses even if his employment is terminated prior to the effective time of the merger. The following table sets forth the potential estimated payments to our executive officers pursuant to these retention bonuses upon consummation of the merger:

Name	Estimated Payments⁽¹⁾
William F. Brown	$ 150,000
Mark E. Johnson	64,890
Michael D. Orner	64,334
Total	$ 279,224

(1) The estimated payments are based on an effective time of the merger of December 31, 2007, subject to pro-rata as noted above, and do not include any reduction for any applicable withholding taxes.

Severance Payments

We have historically maintained a policy of providing post-termination payments of salary, or severance, to our executive officers in the event of a reduction in our workforce or the elimination or discontinuation of their position. Pursuant to this policy, the minimum severance is 26 weeks of base salary and the maximum severance is 52 weeks of base salary for our executive officers, payable in a lump sum amount. In addition, each executive officer is eligible to receive $7,500 in outplacement services, which may be declined by the executive officer, in lieu of an equivalent cash payment. The payment of severance is conditioned upon, among other things, the execution of a general release of any claims against us and our affiliates.

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, on June 7, 2007, our compensation committee approved severance agreements for Messrs. Kilroy, Brown, Johnson and Orner subject to certain parameters, in lieu of the severance payments that would otherwise be payable to these officers pursuant to our policy described above. We have entered into severance agreements with these executive officers to provide severance payments to them in the event, on or prior to the first anniversary of the effective time of the merger, of (i) the involuntary termination of employment other than for cause or disability (as such terms are defined in the applicable severance agreement) or (ii) the voluntary termination of employment as a result of (a) a change in the required location of the executive officer's employment in excess of 20 miles, (b) subject to certain enumerated exceptions, the material diminution of the executive officer's duties and responsibilities as of the date of the applicable severance agreement, or (c) a reduction in the executive officer's base salary or material reduction in compensation opportunity as of the date of the applicable severance agreement. The following table sets forth the potential estimated payments to our executive officers pursuant to the terms of our severance policy or the severance agreements, as applicable:

Terence W. Edwards ⁽²⁾	$ 572,135
Clair M. Raubenstine ⁽²⁾	507,500

William F. Brown	900,000
Mark E. Johnson	562,380
Michael D. Orner	557,562
Total	$ 5,069,577

- (1) The estimated payments do not include any reduction for any applicable withholding taxes.
- (2) Pursuant to our severance policy, the estimated payments to the executive officer include $7,500 in the form of either outplacement services or a cash payment, in lieu thereof.
- (3) As described more fully below under Arrangements with GE Capital and Blackstone, if Mr. Kilroy accepts employment with GE Capital pursuant to the terms of the offer letter he has with GE Capital, he will not be entitled to these payments.

Employment Arrangements with GE Capital and Blackstone

As of the date of this proxy statement, except for Mr. George J. Kilroy, a member of our board of directors and the President and Chief Executive Officer of PHH Arval (as described below), none of our executive officers has entered into any agreement, arrangement or understanding with GE Capital, Blackstone or their respective affiliates, regarding employment or other matters.

Pursuant to the terms of an offer letter entered into between GE Capital Solutions Fleet Services, a division of GE Capital, and Mr. Kilroy, Mr. Kilroy is expected to become the Chairman of GE Capital Solutions Fleet Services upon the consummation of the merger. We have been informed that Mr. Kilroy's gross annual salary is expected to be $450,000 per year and that he may be eligible to participate in certain other compensation and employee benefit plans offered by GE Capital. Based upon the offer letter, we believe that Mr. Kilroy is guaranteed to receive an incentive bonus of $450,000 for the 2007 calendar year and will be eligible to receive an incentive bonus of $1 million payable in 2010 if certain financial, operating and synergy targets are achieved. The offer letter provides that Mr. Kilroy will not be eligible to receive the severance payment described in the Severance Payments section above, instead his compensation and benefits will be as provided in the offer letter. In addition, Mr. Kilroy will be entitled to participate in GE Capital's compensation and benefits plans.

Following the execution of the merger agreement and the mortgage business sale agreement, Blackstone has held preliminary discussions with Mr. Terence W. Edwards, a member of our board of directors and the chief executive officer of the Company, regarding possible terms of his continued employment following the consummation of the merger. In addition, Blackstone has informed us that it is their intention to engage in discussions with additional executive officers involved in the mortgage business regarding (i) the terms of their continued employment, and (ii) the right to participate in the equity of and the right to participate in equity-based incentive compensation plans for the mortgage business following the consummation of the merger. Such arrangements remain to be negotiated and no terms have been finalized. It is expected that any such arrangements will be negotiated and finalized prior to the consummation of the merger, although we cannot presently determine whether such negotiations will result in agreements, arrangements or understandings.

Indemnification and Insurance

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, the surviving corporation has agreed to indemnify (including advancing expenses) each present and former director or officer of the Company, our subsidiaries or joint ventures, and present or past trustees or fiduciaries of our employee benefit plans, against any costs and expenses, judgments, fines, amounts paid in settlement, losses, claims, damages or liabilities incurred in connection with any threatened, pending or completed legal proceeding relating to or in connection with any action or omission occurring or alleged to have occurred whether existing or occurring at or prior to the effective time of the merger, including legal proceedings related to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. Subject to certain limitations, prior to the effective time of the merger, we shall, and if we are unable to, GE Capital shall cause the surviving corporation to obtain and fully pay for non-cancelable tail directors and officers liability insurance and fiduciary liability insurance with a policy term of at least six (6) years from and after the effective time of the merger.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger to Our Stockholders

The following discussion is a summary of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to U.S. holders (as defined below) of our common stock whose shares are converted into the right to receive cash in the merger. This summary is based on the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code), U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder, judicial authorities and administrative rulings, all as in effect as of the date of the proxy statement and all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect.

For purposes of this discussion, the term U.S. holder means a beneficial owner of shares of our common stock that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States;

Table of Contents

a corporation (including any entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized under the laws of the United States, any state thereof, or the District of Columbia;

a trust if (i) a court within the United States is able to exercise primary jurisdiction over its administration and (ii) one or more persons who have the authority to control substantially all of its decisions; a trust not described above that has a valid election in effect under applicable U.S. Treasury regulations to be treated as a U.S. person, or an estate that is subject to U.S. federal income tax on its income regardless of its source.

Holders of our common stock who are not U.S. holders may be subject to different tax consequences than those described below and are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding their tax treatment under U.S. and non-U.S. tax laws.

The following does not purport to consider all aspects of U.S. federal income taxation of the merger that might be relevant to U.S. holders in light of their particular circumstances, or those U.S. holders that may be subject to special rules (for example, dealers in securities or currencies, brokers, banks, financial institutions, insurance companies, mutual funds, tax-exempt organization, stockholders subject to the alternative minimum tax, partnerships (or other flow-through entities such as limited liability companies and their partners or members), persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar, stockholders who hold our stock as part of a hedge, straddle, constructive sale or conversion transaction or other integrated investment, or stockholders that acquired our common stock pursuant to the exercise of an employee stock option, a restricted stock award or otherwise as compensation, nor does it address the U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. holders that do not hold our common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code (generally, property held for investment). In addition, the discussion does not address any aspect of foreign, state, local, estate, gift or other tax law that may be applicable to a U.S. holder.

The tax consequences to stockholders that hold our common stock through a partnership or other pass-through entity such as a limited liability company, generally, will depend on the status of the stockholder and the activities of the partnership. Partners in a partnership or members of other pass-through entity holding our common stock should consult their tax advisors.

This summary of certain material U.S. federal income tax consequences is for general information only and is not tax advice. Holders of our common stock are urged to consult their tax advisors with respect to the application of U.S. federal income tax laws to their particular situations as well as any tax consequences arising under the U.S. federal estate or gift tax rules, or under the laws of any state, local, foreign or other taxing jurisdiction or under any applicable tax treaty.

Exchange of Shares of Our Common Stock for Cash Pursuant to the Merger Agreement

The receipt of cash in exchange for shares of our common stock pursuant to the merger will be a taxable transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In general, a U.S. holder whose shares of common stock are exchanged for cash in the merger will recognize capital gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes in an amount equal to the difference, if any, between the amount of cash received with respect to such shares and the stockholder's adjusted tax basis in such shares. Gain or loss will be determined separately for each block of shares (a block being a number of shares acquired at the same cost in a single transaction) surrendered pursuant to the merger. Such gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss provided that a stockholder's holding period for such shares is more than 1 year at the time of the consummation of the merger. Long-term capital gains of individuals are generally eligible for reduced rates of taxation. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to certain limitations.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

A stockholder may be subject to backup withholding at the applicable rate (currently 28 percent) on the cash payments to which such stockholder is entitled pursuant to the merger, unless the stockholder properly establishes an exemption or provides a taxpayer identification number and otherwise complies with the backup withholding rules. Each stockholder should complete and sign the substitute Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Form W-9 included as part of the letter of transmittal and return it to the paying agent, in order to provide the information and certification necessary to avoid backup withholding, unless an applicable exemption applies and is established in a manner satisfactory to the paying agent. Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules generally will be allowable as a refund or a credit against a stockholder's U.S. federal income tax liability provided the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences to the Company of the Merger and Subsequent Sale of the Mortgage Business

The acquisition of the Company by GE Capital pursuant to the merger is treated as a sale of stock of the Company for U.S. federal income tax purposes and is therefore not a taxable transaction to the Company and will not impact the Company's tax basis in its assets. It is expected that the subsequent sale of the mortgage business by GE Capital to the Mortgage Business Purchaser will result in a taxable gain to the Company for U.S. federal income tax purposes in an amount equal to the amount realized by the Company upon the sale of the mortgage business (taking into account the amount of cash proceeds received by the Company and the amount of any liabilities assumed by the Mortgage Business Purchaser) less the Company's aggregate tax basis in the assets constituting the mortgage business.

Regulatory Approvals

Under the HSR Act and the rules promulgated thereunder by the FTC, neither the merger nor the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement may be consummated until the requisite notification and report forms have been filed with the FTC and the Antitrust Division of the DOJ, and the applicable waiting periods have expired or been terminated. On March 23, 2007, we and GE Capital filed the requisite notification and report forms under the HSR Act with the FTC and the Antitrust Division of the DOJ with respect to the merger. The waiting period relating to the merger expired on April 23, 2007. On March 30, 2007, we and an affiliate of Blackstone filed the requisite notification and report forms under the HSR Act with the FTC and the Antitrust Division of the DOJ with respect to the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement. The FTC and the Antitrust Division of the DOJ granted early termination of the waiting period relating to this transaction on April 11, 2007. Under Canada's Competition Act, the merger may not be completed until Canada's Commissioner of Competition issues an advance ruling certificate or waives the applicable notification requirements, or until prescribed notification information has been filed with the Commissioner of Competition and the applicable waiting period has expired. On March 29, 2007, GE Capital requested that the Commissioner of Competition either issue an advance ruling certificate or indicate that the Commissioner did not intend to challenge the merger and waive the parties' obligation to file prescribed notification information under the Competition Act. On April 13, 2007, the Commissioner of Competition issued an advance ruling certificate in respect of the merger.

At any time before or after consummation of the merger, notwithstanding the expiration or termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act, the Antitrust Division of the DOJ or the FTC could take such action under the antitrust laws as it deems necessary or desirable in the public interest, including seeking to enjoin the consummation of the merger or seeking divestiture of substantial assets of the Company or GE Capital. At any time before or after the consummation of the merger, and notwithstanding the expiration or termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act, any U.S. state governmental authority could take such action under antitrust laws as it deems necessary or desirable in the public interest. Such action could include seeking to enjoin the consummation of the merger or seeking divestiture of substantial assets of the Company or GE Capital. Private parties may also seek to take legal action under antitrust laws under certain circumstances.

The Canadian Commissioner of Competition's issuance of an advance ruling certificate indicates that the Commissioner does not have sufficient grounds on which to challenge the merger and prevents the Commissioner from challenging the merger solely on the basis of information that is the same or substantially the same as that considered by the Commissioner, provided the merger is substantially completed by April 13, 2008.

There can be no assurance that neither the merger nor the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement will be challenged by a governmental authority or private party on antitrust grounds. The Company, however, based on the foregoing and a review of information provided to it by GE Capital and Blackstone, and their respective affiliates, relating to their respective businesses, reasonably believes that each of the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement can be effected in compliance with federal, state and foreign antitrust laws. The term antitrust laws means the Sherman Act, as amended, the Clayton Act, as amended, the HSR Act, the Federal Trade Commission Act, as amended, and all other Federal, state and foreign statutes, rules, regulations, orders, decrees, administrative and judicial doctrines, and other laws that are designed or intended to prohibit, restrict or regulate actions having the purpose or effect of monopolization or restraint of trade.

On May 7, 2007, certain affiliates of Blackstone filed an application with the New York State Department of Insurance pursuant to New York Insurance Law in connection with the proposed change in control of Atrium, a New York domiciled mortgage guaranty insurer and a subsidiary of the Company. In addition, on May 25, 2007, GE Capital filed a request for an exemption with the New York Department of Insurance relating to the change in control of Atrium due to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement and the mortgage business sale agreement.

We are licensed by various states to conduct our operations. In order to complete the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, we are required to obtain approvals from, and/or provide notices to, various state regulatory authorities relating to ownership changes with respect to our mortgage business. We cannot assure you, however, that these consents, registrations, approvals, permits and authorizations will be obtained in a timely manner, or at all.

Delisting and Deregistration of Common Stock

If the merger is consummated, shares of our common stock will no longer be listed on the NYSE or any stock exchange or quotation system. In addition, the registration of our common stock under the Exchange Act will be terminated upon application to the SEC and we will no longer file periodic reports with the SEC on account of our common stock.

Litigation Related to the Merger

On March 15, 2007, a purported stockholder class action lawsuit related to the merger agreement was filed in the Circuit Court of Baltimore County against us, each member of our board of directors, GE Capital and an affiliate of Blackstone. The plaintiffs seek to represent an alleged class consisting of all persons (other than our officers and our board of directors and their affiliates) holding shares of our common stock. In support of their request for injunctive and other relief, the plaintiffs allege, among other matters, that the members of our board of directors breached their fiduciary duties by failing to maximize stockholder value in approving the merger agreement.

On March 21, 2007, a second purported stockholder class action lawsuit was filed in the Circuit Court of Baltimore County against us and each member of our board of directors. The plaintiffs seek to represent an alleged class consisting of persons holding shares of our common stock (other than our officers and our board of directors and their affiliates). In support of their request for injunctive and other relief, the plaintiffs allege, among other matters, that the members of our board of directors breached their fiduciary duties by failing to maximize stockholder value in approving the merger agreement.

On or about April 10, 2007, the claims against Blackstone were dismissed without prejudice. Subsequently, the two civil cases have been consolidated.

On July 27, 2007, the plaintiffs filed a consolidated amended complaint. This pleading did not name GE Capital or Blackstone as defendants. It essentially repeated the allegations previously made against the members of the board of directors and added allegations that the directors had breached their fiduciary duties by cutting certain material facts from the disclosures made in the preliminary proxy statement filed with the SEC on June 18, 2007. On August 7, 2007, the court dismissed the consolidated amended complaint on the ground that the plaintiffs were seeking to assert their claims directly, whereas, as a matter of Maryland law, claims that directors have breached their fiduciary duties can only be asserted by a stockholder derivatively. The plaintiffs have the right to appeal this decision.

Due to the inherent uncertainties of litigation, and because these actions are at a preliminary stage, we cannot accurately predict the ultimate outcome of these matters at this time. We intend to respond appropriately in defending against the alleged claims in the consolidated action. The ultimate resolution of the consolidated action could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

Amendment to PHH's Rights Plan

On March 14, 2007, the Company and the Bank of New York (the Rights Agent) entered into Amendment No. 1 to the Rights Agreement between the Company and the Rights Agent dated as of January 28, 2005. The amendment permits the execution of the merger agreement and the performance and consummation of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, without triggering the provisions of the Rights Agreement.

THE MERGER AGREEMENT

The following summarizes material provisions of the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached to this proxy statement as Annex A and which we incorporate by reference into this document. This summary does not purport to be complete and may not contain all of the information about the merger agreement that is important to you. Therefore, we recommend that you read carefully the copy of the merger agreement attached to this proxy statement in its entirety, as the rights and obligations of the parties are governed by the express terms of the merger agreement and not by this summary or any other information contained in this proxy statement.

The merger agreement contains representations and warranties made by and to us, GE Capital and merger sub. These representations and warranties, which are set forth in the copy of the merger agreement attached to this proxy statement as Annex A, were made for the purposes of negotiating and entering into the merger agreement between the parties. In addition, these representations and warranties were made as of specified dates, may be subject to standards of materiality different from what may be viewed as material to stockholders, or may have been used for the purpose of allocating risk between the parties instead of establishing such matters as facts. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations and warranties, which do not purport to be accurate as of the date of this proxy statement, may have changed since the date of the merger agreement and subsequent developments or new information qualifying a representation or warranty may have been included in this proxy statement. Accordingly, you should not rely on the representations and warranties as characterizations of the actual state of facts at the time they were made or otherwise.

Holders of our common stock are not third-party beneficiaries of the merger agreement and therefore may not directly enforce any of its terms and conditions. You should also be aware that none of the representations or warranties contained in the merger agreement has any legal effect among the parties to the merger agreement after the effective time of the merger.

Structure of the Merger

The proposed transaction is our acquisition by GE Capital, an affiliate of the General Electric Company. Once we obtain the requisite stockholder vote and the other closing conditions to the merger in the merger agreement and related documents are satisfied or waived in accordance with their respective terms, merger sub will merge with and into us. We will be the surviving corporation in the merger. As a result of the merger, we will cease to be an independent, publicly traded company and will be wholly owned by GE Capital. Shares of our common stock will no longer be listed on any stock exchange or quotation system, including the NYSE, and the registration of our common stock and our reporting obligations with respect to our common stock under the Exchange Act, will be terminated upon application to the SEC. In addition, GE Capital has entered into the mortgage business sale agreement to sell our mortgage business to the Mortgage Business Purchaser. Accordingly, upon the consummation of the merger and the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement, GE Capital will own our fleet management business and Blackstone, through the Mortgage Business Purchaser, will own our mortgage business.

Timing of the Merger

The closing date of the merger will occur no later than the second business day following satisfaction or waiver of all conditions to closing or as we and GE Capital may mutually agree.

Directors and Officers of Surviving Corporation

Upon completion of the merger, the directors of merger sub will be the directors of the surviving corporation and our officers will remain officers of the surviving corporation after the merger.

Merger Consideration

The merger agreement provides that each share of our common stock (other than shares held by GE Capital or merger sub, which will be automatically canceled and retired and cease to exist with no payment being made with respect thereto) issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be converted into,

and canceled in exchange for, the right to receive the merger consideration, which is an amount in cash equal to $31.50, without interest and less any applicable withholding taxes, for each share of our common stock. In addition, holders of stock options and restricted stock awards will receive consideration as described in Treatment of Stock Options and Restricted Stock below.

We have been informed that at the closing, GE Capital will assume and/or repay all of our outstanding indebtedness which, as of March 31, 2007, aggregated approximately $7,834 million. The assumption and/or repayment of such indebtedness, when taken together with the aggregate merger consideration payable by GE Capital in the merger and the aggregate consideration to be received by holders of stock options and restricted stock units would, assuming the closing of the merger occurred on March 31, 2007, have resulted in the effective payment by GE Capital of a total dollar amount equal to approximately $9,607 million in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger.

We have been advised that pursuant to the terms and conditions of the mortgage business sale agreement, the Mortgage Business Purchaser has agreed to pay GE Capital an amount in cash to be adjusted in accordance with a formula that takes into account, among other things, the repayment of a portion of outstanding indebtedness assumed by GE Capital and the payment of certain of our transaction expenses. If calculated as of March 31, 2007, we have been advised by GE Capital and the Mortgage Business Purchaser that, based upon certain financial information provided by us, such amount would have resulted in a payment by the Mortgage Business Purchaser of approximately $3,115 million, which includes an amount equal to approximately $2,346 million to be paid in respect of outstanding indebtedness allocated to the mortgage business and to be repaid by GE Capital. The Mortgage Business Purchaser has also agreed to assume certain outstanding indebtedness of the Company of the mortgage business, which, based upon certain financial information provided by us, we have been advised by GE Capital and the Mortgage Business Purchaser, was approximately $1,911 million as of March 31, 2007. The amount of such assumed indebtedness, when taken together with the portion of the purchase price to be paid to GE Capital by the Mortgage Business Purchaser in respect of the indebtedness of the Company allocated to our mortgage business, aggregated approximately $4,257 million as of March 31, 2007. GE Capital and the Mortgage Business Purchaser have also advised us that the cash payment to GE Capital when taken together with the assumption of such indebtedness, would have resulted in the effective payment by the Mortgage Business Purchaser of a total dollar amount (calculated as of March 31, 2007) equal to approximately $5,026 million in connection with its acquisition of the mortgage business, or approximately 52% of the effective payment to be made by GE Capital in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger. The dollar amounts and percentages expressed above are only indicative of the consideration that would have been paid had the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger, and the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement been consummated as of March 31, 2007.

Treatment of Stock Options and Restricted Stock Units

The merger agreement provides that, immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, each outstanding, unexercised stock option (whether vested or not) shall be deemed to be fully vested at the effective time of the merger and shall be canceled, and the holder thereof shall be entitled to receive, at the effective time of the merger or as soon as practicable thereafter, an amount of cash, less applicable withholding taxes, equal to:

the aggregate number of shares of our common stock underlying such stock option immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, multiplied by

the excess of $31.50 over the exercise price per share of our common stock subject to such stock option.

In addition, under the terms of the merger agreement, at the effective time of the merger, each restricted stock unit that is outstanding or earned but not awarded immediately prior to the effective time of the merger (whether vested or unvested) shall be deemed to be fully vested and shall be canceled, entitling the holder of such unit to the right to receive, at the effective time of the merger or as soon as practicable thereafter, an amount of cash, less applicable withholding taxes, equal to the aggregate number of shares of our common stock underlying such restricted stock unit immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, multiplied by $31.50.

No Further Ownership Rights

At the effective time of the merger, holders of our common stock will cease to be, and have no rights as, our stockholders other than the right to receive the applicable merger consideration. The merger consideration paid to the holders of our common stock in accordance with the exchange and payment procedures contained in the merger agreement will be deemed to have been paid in full satisfaction of all rights and privileges pertaining to our common stock exchanged (and, if applicable, represented by certificates exchanged).

Exchange and Payment Procedures

Prior to the effective time of the merger, GE Capital will select a paying agent to make payments of the merger consideration upon surrender of certificates representing shares of our common stock.

On or before the effective time of the merger, GE Capital will deposit the merger consideration for the benefit of the holders of our common stock with the paying agent. Promptly after the effective time of the merger (but in any event within five business days), the paying agent will mail a letter of transmittal and instructions to you advising you how to surrender your stock certificates in exchange for the merger consideration.

You should not return your stock certificates with the enclosed proxy card and you should not forward your stock certificates to the paying agent without an executed letter of transmittal.

You will not be entitled to receive the merger consideration until you surrender your stock certificate or certificates to the paying agent, together with a duly completed and executed letter of transmittal and any other documents the paying agent requires. The merger consideration may be paid to a person other than the person in whose name the corresponding certificate is registered if the certificate is properly endorsed or is otherwise in the proper form for transfer. In addition, the person requesting payment must either pay any applicable stock transfer taxes or establish to the satisfaction of the surviving corporation that such stock transfer taxes have been paid or are not applicable. Following the completion of the merger, your shares of our common stock will be canceled and will represent only the right to receive your portion of the merger consideration. No interest will be paid or accrued on the merger consideration payable upon surrender of your shares of our common stock.

Each of the paying agent, the surviving corporation and GE Capital will be entitled to deduct and withhold any applicable taxes from the merger consideration payable to you pursuant to the merger agreement.

None of the paying agent, GE Capital, merger sub or the Company shall be liable to any person for any cash delivered to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar law. Any portion of the merger consideration deposited with the paying agent by GE Capital that remains undistributed to the holders of shares of our common stock, will be delivered to the surviving corporation after twelve (12) months after the effective time of the merger and any holder of our common stock who has not complied with the provisions of the merger agreement relating to the exchange and payment procedures shall thereafter only look to GE Capital and the surviving corporation for payment of his or her claim for merger consideration without any interest thereon. Any unclaimed funds payable with respect to the shares of our common stock that are not claimed within seven years after the effective time of the merger (unless otherwise required by applicable escheat laws), shall become the property of the surviving corporation free and clear of any claims or interest of any holder of our common stock.

If you have lost a certificate, or if it has been stolen or destroyed, then, before you are entitled to receive the merger consideration, you will be required to deliver an affidavit stating that fact and, if reasonably required by GE Capital, to post a bond in customary and reasonable amount and upon such terms as reasonably required by GE Capital or as indemnity against any claim that may be made against GE Capital with respect to such certificate on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate.

The representations and warranties of each of the parties to the merger agreement will expire upon the consummation of the merger.

Conduct of Our Business Pending the Merger

Under the merger agreement, we have agreed that, subject to certain exceptions and qualifications in the merger agreement, between March 15, 2007 and the effective time of the merger, we and certain of our subsidiaries and joint ventures will:

We have also agreed that during the same time period, subject to certain exceptions and qualifications contained in the merger agreement or in the disclosure schedules delivered in connection therewith, or unless GE Capital approves in advance in writing, which approval may not be unreasonably withheld or delayed, we and certain of our subsidiaries and joint ventures will not, among other things:

No Solicitation of Transactions

We have agreed that from March 15, 2007 to the effective time of the merger and subject to specified exceptions, we will not and we will cause our subsidiaries and joint ventures (along with our and their respective representatives) to not:

directly or indirectly, initiate, solicit or knowingly encourage or facilitate (including by way of furnishing information or assistance) any inquiries or the making of any proposal or offer with respect to, or the making or effectuation of, an acquisition proposal for us;

For purposes of the merger agreement, acquisition proposal means any proposal or offer (other than the merger) made or commenced after the date of the merger agreement, for a tender offer or exchange offer, proposal for a merger, consolidation or other business combination, sale of shares of capital stock, recapitalization, equity interest representing a 20% or greater economic interest or voting interest in us and our subsidiaries and joint ventures, taken as a whole; or

assets, securities or ownership interests of or in, us or our subsidiaries or joint ventures (a) representing 20% or more of the consolidated assets of us and our subsidiaries and joint ventures, taken as a whole, or (b) with respect to which 20% or more of our revenues or earnings on a consolidated basis are attributable.

Prior to the holders of at least a majority of our common stock approving the merger agreement and the merger in accordance with the merger agreement, we may provide confidential information with respect to such proposals, with the maker of an unsolicited written acquisition proposal (which did not result from a breach of an enumerated section of the merger agreement or any standstill agreement) only if our board of directors makes a prior determination in good faith and after consultation with its outside counsel and a financial advisor of nationally recognized reputation, that:

the acquisition proposal constitutes, or is reasonably likely to, lead to a superior proposal, and

failure to take such action would be inconsistent with the statutory duties of our board members, as directors, under the MGCL.

In addition, we are required to (a) enter into a confidentiality agreement with the maker of the unsolicited written acquisition proposal containing confidentiality restrictions no less favorable to us than those contained in the confidentiality agreement with GE Capital before we provide any confidential information to such person, (b) provide a copy of such confidentiality agreement to GE Capital within twenty-four hours of execution, and (c) furnish a copy to GE Capital of any confidential information we furnish to such person, to the extent such information was not previously furnished to GE Capital.

For purposes of the merger agreement, superior proposal means an unsolicited bona fide written offer made by a third party, not involving a breach of the merger agreement or any standstill agreement, to acquire, directly or indirectly,

at least a majority of our equity securities; or

all or substantially all of the stock or assets of us and our subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, all or substantially all of the assets of, or the stock of our subsidiaries or entities engaged in the mortgage business, or all or substantially all of the assets of, or the stock of our subsidiaries or entities engaged in, the fleet business.

In addition, such an offer also must not be subject to a financing contingency and must otherwise be on terms which our board concludes in good faith (taking into account (x) the likelihood of consummation of such transaction on the terms set forth therein as compared to the terms of the merger agreement, including the ability of such proposal to be financed, (y) legal, financial, regulatory, and timing aspects of the proposal and the person making the acquisition proposal and (z) any changes to the terms of the merger agreement that as of such time have been proposed by GE Capital) and after consultation with its outside counsel and financial advisors, to be more favorable from a financial point of view to our stockholders than the merger.

We have agreed to promptly notify GE Capital (within 24 hours) of our receipt of any proposal, offer, inquiry, or other contact or request for information or if any discussions or negotiations are sought to be initiated or continued with us either regarding, or that could reasonably be expected to lead to, an acquisition proposal. We have agreed to provide to

GE Capital prompt notice of any such proposal along with a copy of any written materials received from the maker of the acquisition proposal. We have also agreed to indicate such party's identity and to provide to GE Capital the material terms and conditions of the proposal and to keep GE Capital fully informed of all material developments regarding any such acquisition proposal, offer, inquiry or request.

The merger agreement provides that prior to obtaining our stockholders' approval on the merger agreement:

if our board of directors determines in good faith that, due to an intervening event that arose after, and was unknown to our board of directors at the time it approved the merger agreement, the failure of the board of directors to withdraw, qualify or modify its recommendation of the merger agreement would be inconsistent with the statutory duties of our board members, as directors, under the MGCL, then we and our board of directors are permitted to withdraw, qualify or modify the recommendation of our board of directors that our stockholders vote in favor of the merger agreement, or

then if we desire either to further pursue the opportunity that arose due to the intervening event or to take action with respect to the prior recommendations of our board of directors concerning the merger agreement, among other matters, we are required to deliver to GE Capital a notice listing certain relevant items. We are required to negotiate in good faith with GE Capital and its representatives regarding revisions to the terms of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The merger agreement also sets forth the procedures we and GE Capital have agreed to follow, including setting specific time lines within which each party should respond.

Under the merger agreement, we may not permit any of our subsidiaries and joint ventures to terminate, waive, amend or modify any provision of any existing standstill or confidentiality agreement to which we or our subsidiaries and joint ventures are a party and we have agreed to, and to cause each of our subsidiaries and joint ventures to, enforce the provisions of any such agreements. We also agreed to, and to cause each of our subsidiaries and joint ventures to, terminate or cause to be terminated any existing discussions, negotiations, or communications with any parties regarding any acquisition proposal.

Employee Benefits

Until the first anniversary of the merger, GE Capital has agreed to honor, and to cause the surviving corporation to honor, all severance, change of control and similar plans and agreements in accordance with their terms as in effect immediately prior to the effective time of the merger.

In addition, GE Capital has agreed to:

provide each of our active employees with credit for service with us and our subsidiaries with respect to any employee benefit plans established by GE Capital or its subsidiaries under which our active employees may be eligible to participate after the effective time of the merger (new plans), to the same extent as such active employee was entitled to credit for such service under our respective benefit plans; and for purposes of each new plan providing health benefits to any active employee, cause such active employee to receive credit for all amounts paid by such active employee for purposes of satisfying all deductible, co-payments and out-of-pocket maximums under our health plans as though such amounts had been paid in accordance with the terms and conditions of the parallel plan, program or arrangement of GE Capital or the surviving corporation.

Directors and Officers Indemnification and Insurance

In the merger agreement, the surviving corporation has agreed to indemnify (including advancing expenses) each present and former director or officer of the Company, our subsidiaries or joint ventures, and present or past trustees or fiduciaries of our employee benefit plans, against any costs and expenses, judgments, fines, amounts paid in settlement, losses, claims, damages or liabilities incurred in connection with any threatened, pending or completed legal proceeding relating to or in connection with any action or omission occurring or alleged to have occurred whether existing or occurring at or prior to the effective time of the merger, including legal proceedings related to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. Subject to certain limitations, prior to the effective time of the merger, we shall, and if we are unable to, GE Capital shall cause the surviving corporation to obtain and fully pay for non-cancelable tail insurance policies with a policy term of at least six (6) years from and after the effective time of the merger.

Tax Matters and Stock Option Plans

Prior to the merger, we have agreed to timely file our tax returns as consistent with past practice. We have also agreed to take all actions necessary such that outstanding stock options and restricted stock unit awards are terminated upon the merger in exchange for the merger consideration as previously described.

Agreement to Take Further Action

Subject to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement and in accordance with applicable laws, each party to the merger agreement has agreed to use commercially reasonable efforts to take, or to cause to be taken, all appropriate actions and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under applicable laws to consummate the merger and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including using its reasonable efforts to obtain all permits, consents, approvals, authorizations, qualifications and orders of governmental authorities with us and our subsidiaries as are necessary for the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement and to fulfill the conditions to the merger and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. These actions include specific requirements with respect to filings and agreements that may be required under the anti trust laws of the United States and Canada.

Each party to the merger agreement has agreed to cooperate and use its commercially reasonable efforts to defend any legal action, including administrative or judicial action, asserted by any third party in order to avoid the entry of, or to have vacated, lifted, reversed, terminated or overturned any decree, judgment, injunction or other order that in whole or in part restricts, delays, prevents or prohibits consummation of the merger, including by vigorously pursuing all available avenues of administrative and judicial appeal.

Notices of Certain Events

Each of GE Capital, merger sub and us have agreed to notify the other parties to the merger agreement of:

any material notice or other communication from any governmental entity in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement;

legal proceedings commenced or, to its knowledge, threatened against, relating to us or our subsidiaries and joint ventures that would have otherwise been disclosable under the merger agreement or that materially affects a party's ability to consummate the merger;

any inaccuracy of any representation or warranty contained in the merger agreement that would reasonably be expected to cause any condition of closing not to be satisfied;

any failure of that party to comply with or satisfy in any material respect any covenant, condition or agreement to be complied with or satisfied by it hereunder; and

(a) the material breach of any material contract, or (b) the occurrence of any event of default, amortization or termination event, triggering the requirement to provide additional collateral or increase in overcollateralization levels or another similar event or condition, or the allegation by any party of any of the foregoing.

Interest Rate Risk and Hedging Policies

We have agreed to inform the Mortgage Business Purchaser of our interest rate hedging strategy and not to make any material change to that strategy without the consent of the Mortgage Business Purchaser.

Public Announcements and Expenses

We have agreed that all expenses under the merger agreement shall be the sole responsibility of the party incurring such expenses, except for the expenses of the paying agent and related to the distribution of funds as part of the merger consideration, for which GE Capital shall reimburse us.

the performance, in all material respects, by us of our obligations under the merger agreement and compliance, in all material respects, with the agreements and covenants to be performed or complied with under the merger agreement;

all of the conditions to the obligations of the Mortgage Business Purchaser under the mortgage business sale agreement to consummate the sale of our mortgage business (other than the condition that the merger shall have been consummated) shall have been satisfied or waived in accordance with the terms thereof, and the Mortgage Business Purchaser shall otherwise be ready, willing and able (including with respect to access to financing) to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby; and

Pursuant to the mortgage business sale agreement, GE Capital has agreed not to consummate the merger unless all the mutual conditions to closing and the closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital and the merger sub specified in the merger agreement have been satisfied or waived. GE Capital and the merger sub are required to obtain the prior written consent of the Mortgage Business Purchaser before agreeing to any waiver of such conditions, unless such waiver relates solely to our fleet management business and would not otherwise materially prejudice the Mortgage Business Purchaser's position or obligations under the mortgage business sale agreement.

Termination

The merger agreement may be terminated and the merger may be abandoned at any time prior to the effective time of the merger, as follows:

by mutual written consent of the parties;

by either GE Capital or us if:

requisite governmental approval with respect to anti-trust laws of the United States and Canada shall have been denied and such denial shall have been final and non-appealable, or any governmental authority shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any injunction, order, decree or ruling or taken any other action which has the effect of making consummation of any of the merger illegal or otherwise prevents or prohibits the consummation of the merger and is final and non-appealable, provided that this right shall not be available to a party if either the failure to obtain the governmental approval or the action taken by the governmental authority was primarily due to the action or failure to fulfill such party's obligations under the merger agreement and such action or failure constitutes a breach of the merger agreement, the merger has not occurred on or before December 31, 2007, provided that this right will not be available to a party whose failure to fulfill its obligations under the merger agreement primarily contributed to the failure of the merger to occur on or before December 31, 2007 and such action or failure constitutes a breach of the merger agreement, or the requisite stockholder vote was not obtained at a duly convened meeting of our stockholders in accordance with the requirements of the merger agreement;

by us if:

we are not in material breach of our obligations under the merger agreement such that certain closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital and the merger sub are incapable of being satisfied, and (a) any of GE Capital's or merger sub's representations and warranties are or become untrue or incorrect such that the closing condition pertaining to their representations and warranties would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007, or (b) there has been a breach of any of GE Capital's or merger sub's covenants or agreements under the merger agreement such that the closing condition pertaining to their performance and compliance with covenants and agreements would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007, or

by GE Capital if:

each of GE Capital and merger sub are not in material breach of their respective obligations under the merger agreement, and (a) any of our representations and warranties are or become untrue or incorrect such that the closing condition pertaining to our representations and warranties would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007, or (b) there has been a breach of any of our covenants and agreements under the merger agreement such that the closing condition pertaining to our performance and compliance with covenants or agreements would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007;

our board of directors fails to recommend the merger agreement and the merger in this proxy statement, fails to take certain enumerated actions or withdraws, modifies or amends its recommendation that our stockholders vote to approve the merger agreement and the merger in any manner adverse to GE Capital or merger sub; or

if the mortgage business sale agreement is terminated by GE Capital, as a result of a breach of the Mortgage Business Purchaser's representations and warranties or covenants, in the mortgage business sale agreement, if such breach, either individually or in the aggregate, results in the failure of a closing condition pertaining to GE Capital, provided that GE Capital is not in material breach of its obligations under the merger business sale agreement such that certain closing conditions pertaining to the Mortgage Business Purchaser are incapable of being satisfied.

Pursuant to the mortgage business sale agreement, GE Capital has agreed to obtain the prior written consent of the Mortgage Business Purchaser prior to terminating the merger agreement pursuant to this section.

Termination Fee, Reverse Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursement

We have agreed to pay to GE Capital a termination fee of $50 million if:

we terminate the merger agreement because our board approves and authorizes us to enter into an agreement to implement a superior proposal in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement;

GE Capital terminates the merger agreement because our board of directors failed to recommend that holders of our common stock vote to approve the merger agreement and the merger;

Table of Contents

GE Capital terminates the merger agreement because (a) our board has approved or recommended an acquisition proposal, (b) if any acquisition proposal is publicly announced and our board failed to issue a press release reaffirming our board's recommendation within a specified period of time following the public announcement, or (c) a tender offer or exchange offer for any of our outstanding stock has been commenced prior to us obtaining the requisite stockholder vote and our board has failed to recommend against such offer within ten business days of its commencement, or we or our board has publicly announced its intention to do any of the foregoing; or we or GE Capital terminate the merger agreement because the requisite stockholder vote was not obtained at a duly convened meeting in accordance with the requirements of the merger agreement, but prior to date of such termination, an acquisition proposal is made to us, or otherwise publicly announced, and within nine months following the termination, we enter into a definitive agreement with respect to or consummate any acquisition proposal; for purposes of determining whether a payment is required, references to 20% in the definition of acquisition proposal above are deemed to be references to 50% with respect to the acquisition proposal.

The merger agreement also provides that we shall receive a reverse termination fee in the amount of $50 million from the Mortgage Business Purchaser if either:

we or GE Capital terminate the merger agreement because the merger has not been consummated by December 31, 2007 and at the time of such termination the mutual closing conditions and each closing condition pertaining to GE Capital (except for the condition related to the obligations of the Mortgage Business Purchaser under the mortgage business sale agreement to consummate the sale of our mortgage business) shall have been satisfied in accordance with the terms thereof; or

GE Capital terminates the mortgage business sale agreement due to the Mortgage Business Purchaser's breach of its representations and warranties, covenants or agreements resulting in a failure of the closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital and at such time, there is no state of facts or circumstances (other than those arising out of the Mortgage Business Purchaser's breach) that could reasonably be expected to cause the other closing conditions of the mortgage business sale agreement (except for the condition related to consummating the merger concurrently with closing of the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement and the closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital) not to be satisfied.

The Mortgage Business Purchaser, however, is not required to pay this fee if:

our audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006 provided to GE Capital pursuant to the merger agreement are different in any material and adverse respect from certain unaudited financial statements we previously delivered to GE Capital at the time of the execution of the merger agreement, unless such difference does not result in the Mortgage Business Purchaser being unable to consummate the debt financing contemplated by the debt commitment letter delivered to GE Capital pursuant to the mortgage business sale agreement or available alternative financing should the financing under the debt commitment letter previously delivered to GE Capital are no longer available on the terms and conditions contemplated by the debt commitment letter but similar financing is available from other financial institutions on terms no less favorable to the Mortgage Business Purchaser; or

there has been a material and adverse change in our stockholders' equity or net income (loss) with respect to certain entities engaged in our mortgage business between the revised consolidating balance sheet for us and our consolidated subsidiaries and consolidated joint ventures as of December 31, 2006 and the related consolidating statement of operations for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006 reflecting any adjustment as a result of the audit of our 2006 financial statements and the earlier version of the same financial statements previously delivered to GE Capital at the time of the execution of the merger agreement. However, no account shall be taken of a change in net income (loss) if there was no associated change in such stockholder's equity as of December 31, 2006 as reflected in such revised financial statements and such change in net income (loss) is related to a change in income tax expense arising from revised estimates of tax contingencies or valuation allowances or a change in expense arising from a revised estimate of impairment of goodwill.

The merger agreement provides that we must reimburse GE Capital for its reasonable transaction expenses up to a limit of $5 million if either:

we, on the one hand, or GE Capital or the merger sub, on the other hand, terminate the merger agreement because we were unable to obtain the requisite stockholder vote at a duly convened meeting of our stockholders in accordance with the requirements of the merger agreement, or

GE Capital or the merger sub terminate the merger agreement, provided that each of GE Capital and merger sub are not in material breach of their respective obligations under the merger agreement, and (i) any of our representations and warranties are or become untrue or incorrect such that the closing condition pertaining to our representations and warranties would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007, or (ii) we have breached any of our covenants and agreements under the merger agreement such that the closing condition pertaining to our performance and compliance with covenants or agreements would be incapable of being satisfied by December 31, 2007.

In addition, in certain instances, we may be able to reduce the termination fee of $50 million payable by us to the extent we have previously reimbursed GE Capital for its reasonable transaction expenses pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement.

Amendment and Waiver

The merger agreement may be amended by mutual agreement of the parties in writing, whether before or after we obtain the requisite stockholder vote, provided that after any such stockholder approval, no amendment shall be made which, by law or the rules of the New York Stock Exchange, requires further stockholder approval without first obtaining such stockholder approval. The merger agreement also provides that, at any time prior to the effective time of the merger we or GE Capital may extend the time for the performance of any obligations of the other parties, waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties of the other parties or waive compliance with any of the agreements or conditions to its obligations contained in the merger agreement.

Mortgage Business Sale Agreement

In conjunction with the merger agreement, GE Capital entered into the mortgage business sale agreement to sell our mortgage business to the Mortgage Business Purchaser. The Mortgage Business Purchaser was formed solely to effect the acquisition of our mortgage business and is an affiliate of Blackstone. Accordingly, upon the consummation of the merger and the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement, GE Capital will own our fleet management business and Blackstone, through the Mortgage Business Purchaser, will own our mortgage business.

Simultaneous with entering into the mortgage business sale agreement, the Mortgage Business Purchaser entered into a debt commitment letter with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., Lehman Commercial Paper Inc. and Lehman Brothers Inc. pursuant to which these financial institutions have agreed, subject to terms and conditions contained in the commitment letter, to provide, or cause to be provided, seventy percent (70%) and thirty percent (30%), respectively, of the following debt facilities:

a senior secured loan facility of up to a maximum of $800 million;

a senior secured revolving loan facility of up to $800 million;

a senior secured receivables-based facility of up to $100 million;

a mortgage loan repurchase facility of up to $4 billion; and a senior bridge facility of up to $100 million, subject to certain reductions.

In addition, the debt commitment letter contemplates that the Mortgage Business Purchaser will issue up to $300 million of notes in a public offering or Rule 144A or other debt placement, or in the absence of this publicly-placed debt transaction, up to $300 million in an additional debt facility from JPMorgan Chase and Lehman Brothers.

Table of Contents

We are explicitly named as a third-party beneficiary to certain provisions under the mortgage business sale agreement that pertain primarily to the reverse termination fee of $50 million payable to us by the Mortgage Business Purchaser under the following circumstances:

if GE Capital terminates the mortgage business sale agreement due to the Mortgage Business Purchaser's breach of its representations and warranties, covenants or agreements resulting in a failure of the closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital's obligation to close and at such time, there is no state of facts or circumstances (other than those arising out of the Mortgage Business Purchaser's breach) that could reasonably be expected to cause the other closing conditions of the mortgage business sale agreement (except for the condition related to consummating the merger concurrently with closing of the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement and the closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital) not to be satisfied; or if (i) we or GE Capital terminate the merger agreement because the merger has not been consummated by December 31, 2007, (ii) no later than December 31, 2007, the other closing conditions of the mortgage business sale agreement (except for the condition related to consummating the merger concurrently with closing of the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement and the closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital) are satisfied, and (iii) the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement could have been consummated no later than December 31, 2007, but for the failure of the Mortgage Business Purchaser to be ready, willing and able to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby.

The Mortgage Business Purchaser, however, is not required to pay this fee if:

our audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006 provided to GE Capital pursuant to the merger agreement are different in any material adverse respect from certain unaudited financial statements we previously delivered to GE Capital at the time of the execution of the merger agreement, unless such difference does not result in the Mortgage Business Purchaser being unable to consummate the debt financing contemplated by the debt commitment letter delivered to GE Capital pursuant to the mortgage business sale agreement, or available alternative financing on terms no less favorable in any material respect to the Mortgage Business Purchaser than those set forth in the debt commitment letter should the financing under the debt commitment letter no longer be available but similar financing is available from other financial institutions; or

there has been a material and adverse change in our stockholder's equity or net income (or loss) related to our mortgage business, except if there is a material adverse change in our net income (or loss) but no corresponding change in our stockholder's equity or where such change in net income (or loss) is related to a change in income tax expense resulting from revised estimates of tax contingences, reserves or impairment due to goodwill.

Conditions to Closing

Under the mortgage business sale agreement, the obligation of the parties to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby are subject to the satisfaction of the following mutual conditions:

no court or other governmental entity shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any law (and if an injunction, whether temporary, preliminary or permanent) that is in effect and prevents, enjoins or otherwise prohibits the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement or makes such consummation illegal;

all waiting periods or extensions thereof applicable to the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement under the HSR Act or the Canadian Antitrust Law, and any agreement with any governmental entity not to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby shall have expired or early termination thereof shall have been granted;

the mutual conditions to closing and the closing conditions pertaining to GE Capital and the merger sub in the merger agreement shall have been satisfied or waived in accordance with the terms of the mortgage business sale agreement; and

Under the mortgage business sale agreement, the obligation of GE Capital to complete the transactions contemplated thereby are subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions:

the Mortgage Business Purchaser shall have performed in all material respects its obligations under the mortgage business sale agreement, the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the Mortgage Business Purchaser and the receipt of a certificate of an officer of the Mortgage Business Purchaser with respect to the foregoing.

In connection with the merger agreement, we entered into a limited guarantee, pursuant to which Blackstone has agreed to guarantee the obligations of the Mortgage Business Purchaser up to a maximum of $50 million, which equals the reverse termination fee payable to us under certain circumstances by the Mortgage Business Purchaser in the event that the Mortgage Business Purchaser is unable to secure the financing or otherwise is not ready, willing and able to consummate the transactions contemplated by the mortgage business sale agreement. In certain instances, GE Capital is obligated to pay to Blackstone, or its designee, one half of the termination fee it receives from us. In addition, GE Capital has also agreed to pay Blackstone or its affiliates all amounts received by it pursuant to the expense reimbursement provisions of the merger agreement.

PROPOSAL TO GRANT AUTHORITY TO ADJOURN THE SPECIAL MEETING

If, at the special meeting, the number of shares of our common stock present or represented and voting in favor of Proposal No. 1 is insufficient to approve that proposal under applicable law, we intended to move to adjourn the special meeting in order to enable our board of directors to solicit additional proxies in respect of approval of Proposal No. 1. In that event, we will ask our stockholders to vote only upon the adjournment proposal, and not Proposal No. 1.

In Proposal No. 2, we are asking our stockholders to authorize the holder or any proxy solicited by our board of directors to vote in favor of granting discretionary authority to the proxy holders, and each of them individually, to adjourn the special meeting to another time and place for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies. If the stockholders approve Proposal No. 2, we could adjourn the special meeting and any adjourned session of the special meeting and use the additional time to solicit additional proxies, including the solicitation of proxies from stockholders that have previously voted.

Recommendation of Our Board of Directors

Our board of directors believes that if the number of shares of our common stock present or represented at the special meeting and voting in favor of Proposal No. 1 is insufficient to approve that proposal, it is in the best interests of our stockholders to enable our board of directors to continue to seek to obtain a sufficient number of additional votes in favor of Proposal No. 1.

Vote Required

Approval of Proposal No. 2, if necessary, requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast on the proposal. No proxy that is specifically marked AGAINST Proposal No. 1 will be voted in favor of Proposal No. 2, unless it is specifically marked FOR Proposal No. 2.

Our board of directors unanimously recommends that the holders of our common stock vote FOR the proposal to grant authority to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies.

NO DISSENTERS RIGHTS OF APPRAISAL

Holders of our common stock are not entitled to dissenting stockholders appraisal rights or other similar rights in connection with the merger or any of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The MGCL does not provide for appraisal rights or other similar rights to stockholders of a corporation in connection with a merger if the shares of the corporation are listed on the NYSE on the record date for determining stockholders entitled to vote on the merger.

SUBMISSION OF STOCKHOLDER PROPOSALS

If the merger is consummated, we will not have public stockholders and there will be no public participation in any future meeting of stockholders. However, if the merger is not consummated or if we are otherwise required to do so under applicable law, we would hold a 2007 annual meeting of stockholders. Proposals from stockholders are given careful consideration by us in accordance with Rule 14a-8 of the Exchange Act (Rule 14a-8). We provide all stockholders with the opportunity, under certain circumstances and consistent with our by-laws and the rules of the SEC, to participate in the governance of the Company by submitting stockholder proposals that they believe merit consideration at the 2007 annual meeting of stockholders. To enable management to analyze and respond to proposals stockholders wish to have included in the proxy statement and proxy card for that meeting, our by-laws, consistent with Rule 14a-8, require that any such proposal be received by us in writing no later than the tenth day following the public announcement of the date of the 2007 annual meeting of stockholders. Any stockholder proposal submitted must also be in compliance with our by-laws and must contain specified information about each nominee or the proposed business and the stockholder making the nomination or proposal. Pursuant to our by-laws, any stockholder proposal or director nomination for that meeting that is submitted outside the processes of Rule 14a-8 will be considered untimely unless it is received by us no later than the tenth day following the public announcement of the date of the 2007 annual meeting of stockholders.

Proxies solicited by the board of directors for the 2007 annual meeting of stockholders may confer discretionary authority to vote on any untimely stockholder proposals or director nominations without express direction from stockholders giving such proxies. All stockholder proposals and director nominations must be addressed to the attention of the Secretary at PHH Corporation, 3000 Leadenhall Road, Mt. Laurel, New Jersey 08054. The Chairman of the annual meeting of stockholders may refuse to acknowledge the introduction of any stockholder proposal or director nomination not made in compliance with the foregoing procedures.

HOUSEHOLDING OF SPECIAL MEETING MATERIALS

In accordance with Rule 14a-3(e)(1) under the Exchange Act, one proxy statement will be delivered to two or more stockholders who share an address, unless the Company has received contrary instructions from one or more of the stockholders. The Company will deliver promptly upon written or oral request a separate copy of the proxy statement to a stockholder at a shared address to which a single copy of the proxy statement was delivered. Requests for additional copies of the proxy statement, and requests that in the future separate proxy statements be sent to stockholders who share an address, should be directed in writing to PHH Corporation Investor Relations at 3000 Leadenhall Road, Mt. Laurel, New Jersey 08054, or by calling (856) 917-4268. In addition, stockholders who share a single address but receive multiple copies of the proxy statement may request that in the future they receive a single copy by contacting PHH Corporation Investor Relations at the address and phone number set forth in the prior sentence.

(a) Merger Consideration.

(i) Subject to Section 2.1(c), each share of Company common stock, par value $0.01 per share (the Company Common Stock) issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be converted into the right to receive from Parent an amount per share of Company Common Stock (subject to any Taxes (as defined below) withheld pursuant to Section 2.2(c)) equal to $31.50 in cash, without interest (the Merger Consideration).

(ii) At the Effective Time, subject to Section 2.1(c), all shares of Company Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall cease to exist and shall no longer be outstanding and shall be automatically canceled and retired and each certificate (each, a Certificate) formerly representing any such shares of Company Common Stock shall cease to have any rights with respect thereto, except the right to receive the Merger Consideration upon surrender of such Certificate in accordance with Section 2.2, without interest.

(iii) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary (but without limiting the covenants of Section 5.1 hereof), if, between the date of this Agreement and the Effective Time, the outstanding shares of Company Common Stock shall have been changed into a different number of shares or a different class by reason of any reclassification, recapitalization, stock split (including a reverse stock split), redenomination, merger, issuer tender or exchange offer, or other similar transaction, or a stock dividend thereon shall be declared with a record date within said period, the Merger Consideration and any other relevant provisions of this Agreement shall be equitably adjusted and as so adjusted shall, from and after the date of such event, be the Merger Consideration.

(b) Common Stock of Merger Sub. Each share of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of Merger Sub issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, be converted into and become one validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable share of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Surviving Corporation, or such greater number of shares as Parent shall determine prior to the Effective Time.

Each share of Company Common Stock beneficially owned by any direct or indirect wholly-owned Subsidiary of the Company shall remain outstanding and no payment shall be made in respect thereof.

Section 2.2 Exchange of Certificates. Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall select a bank or trust company (who is reasonably acceptable to the Company) as paying agent (the Paying Agent) for payment of the Merger Consideration. At or prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall deposit with the Paying Agent, for the benefit of the holders of shares of Company Common Stock, for exchange in accordance with this Article II, cash amounts in immediately available funds necessary for the Paying Agent to make all required payments pursuant to Section 2.1(a) in exchange for and upon surrender of outstanding shares of Company Common Stock (such cash being hereinafter referred to as the Exchange Fund). The Exchange Fund may not be used for any purpose that is not provided for in this Agreement.

(a) Payment Procedures. Promptly after the Effective Time, but in no event later than five (5) Business Days (as defined below) after the Effective Time, the Surviving Corporation shall cause the Paying Agent to mail to each holder of record of a Certificate or Certificates whose shares were converted into the right to receive the Merger Consideration pursuant to Section 2.1(a), the following: (i) a notice advising such holders of the effectiveness of the Merger, (ii) a letter of transmittal and (iii) instructions for use in effecting the surrender of the Certificates in exchange for the Merger Consideration, such materials to be in a form substantially similar to that previously reviewed and found reasonably acceptable to the Parent and the Company. Upon surrender of a Certificate for cancellation to the Paying Agent together with such letter of transmittal, duly executed, and such other documents as may reasonably be required by the Paying Agent, the holder of such Certificate shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor the amount of cash into which the aggregate number of shares of Company Common Stock previously represented by such Certificate shall have been converted pursuant to Section 2.1(a), and the Certificate so surrendered shall forthwith be canceled. In the event of a transfer of ownership of Company Common Stock that is not registered in the transfer records of the Company, payment may be made to a Person (as defined below) other than the Person in whose name the Certificate so surrendered is registered, if such Certificate shall be properly endorsed or otherwise be in proper form for transfer and the Person requesting such payment shall pay any transfer or other Taxes required by reason of the payment to a Person other than the registered holder of such Certificate or establish to the satisfaction of the Surviving Corporation that such Tax has been paid or is not applicable. Until surrendered as contemplated by this Section 2.2, each Certificate shall be deemed at any time after the Effective Time to represent only the right to receive, upon surrender of such Certificate, the Merger Consideration into which the shares of Company Common Stock theretofore represented by such Certificate shall have been converted pursuant to Section 2.1(a). No interest will be paid or accrue on the Merger Consideration payable upon surrender of any Certificate.

(b) Lost, Stolen or Destroyed Certificates. In the event any Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the Person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if reasonably required by the Parent, the posting by such Person of a bond in customary and reasonable amount and upon such terms as may reasonably be required by the Parent or as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it with respect to such Certificate, the Paying Agent will pay in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate, cash in the amount that would be payable or deliverable in respect thereof pursuant to this Agreement had such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate been surrendered.

(c) Withholding Taxes. Each of the Parent, the Surviving Corporation and the Paying Agent shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement to any holder of Company Common Stock, Company Options (as defined below) or Restricted Stock Units (as defined below) such amounts as it is required to deduct and withhold with respect to the making of such payment under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder (collectively, the Code) and/or any other

If, after the Effective Time, any Certificates formerly representing shares of Company Common Stock are presented to the Surviving Corporation or the Paying Agent for any reason, they shall be canceled as provided in this Article II.

(f) No Liability. None of Parent, Merger Sub, the Company or the Paying Agent shall be liable to any Person in respect of any cash delivered to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar Law. If any Certificate has not been surrendered prior to seven (7) years after the Effective Time (or immediately prior to such earlier date on which Merger Consideration in respect of such Certificate would otherwise escheat to or become the property of any Governmental Entity), any unclaimed funds payable with respect to such Certificate shall, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, become the property of the Surviving Corporation, free and clear of all claims or interest of any Person previously entitled thereto.

(g) Termination of Exchange Fund. Any portion of the Exchange Fund that remains undistributed to the holders of Company Common Stock for twelve (12) months after the Effective Time, shall be delivered to the Surviving Corporation and any holder of Company Common Stock who has not theretofore complied with this Article II shall thereafter look only to Parent and the Surviving Corporation for payment of its claim for Merger Consideration without any interest thereon.

(h) Investment of Exchange Fund. The Paying Agent shall invest the cash included in the Exchange Fund, as directed by Parent, provided that such investments shall be in direct obligations guaranteed by the United States of America, obligations for which the full faith and credit of the United States of America is pledged to provide for the payment of all principal and interest or commercial paper obligations receiving the highest rating from either Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or Standard & Poor's or a combination thereof. Any interest and other income resulting from such investments shall become part of the Exchange Fund and, to the extent the amount held in the Exchange Fund at the end of each month exceeds the amount remaining to be paid by the Company pursuant to Section 2.1(a), such excess shall be paid to the Parent within five (5) Business Days of the end of each such month. To the extent that there are losses with respect to such investments, or the Exchange Fund diminishes for any reason below the level required to make prompt cash payments of the Merger Consideration as required by Section 2.1(a) hereof, Parent shall promptly replace or restore the Exchange Fund for any amount lost through investments or other events so as to ensure that the Exchange Fund is, at all times, maintained at a level sufficient to make such cash payments.

For purposes of this Section 5.1(s),

Securitization Trust shall mean any Person which has been established for the purpose of issuing debt or equity securities, the payments of which are derived primarily from the cash flow on mortgage loans and which are issued pursuant to pooling and servicing agreements substantially similar to those used by the Company and its Controlled Related Parties in securitization transactions in 2006; or

(t) agree, in writing or otherwise, to take any of the foregoing actions.

Notwithstanding any provision contained in this Agreement, action taken by the Company or its Subsidiaries or Company Joint Ventures which is expressly permitted under this Section 5.1 shall not constitute a misrepresentation or breach of any representation, warranty or covenant under this Agreement.

Section 5.2 Conduct of Business of Parent Pending the Merger. Parent covenants and agrees that, during the period from the date hereof until the Effective Time or earlier termination of this Agreement, except as expressly permitted by this Agreement, as required by Law, or unless the Company shall otherwise approve in advance in writing, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed, neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries shall take any action that would prevent, materially impair or delay the consummation of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including the obtaining of the financing necessary for the consummation of the Merger.

The Company shall thereafter respond as promptly as practicable to any comments of the SEC with respect to the Proxy Statement and to cause the Proxy Statement to be mailed to the shareholders of the Company as promptly as practicable after the date of this Agreement. The Company shall promptly notify Parent upon the receipt of any comments from the SEC or its staff or any request from the SEC or its staff for amendments or supplements to the Proxy Statement, shall consult with Parent prior to responding to any such comments or request or filing any amendment or supplement to the Proxy Statement, and shall provide Parent with copies of all correspondence between the Company and its representatives, on the one hand, and the SEC and its staff, on the other hand. (b) The Company hereby covenants to Parent that the Proxy Statement will, at the time of the Company Stockholders Meeting, comply in all material respects with the requirements of the Exchange Act. (c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Company shall not be required to comply with Section 6.2(a) or (b) after any valid termination of this Agreement in accordance with Article VIII.

Section 6.3 Access to Information; Confidentiality.

(a) From the date hereof to the Effective Time or the earlier termination of this Agreement and subject to applicable Law, upon reasonable prior notice, the Company shall, and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause its Controlled Subsidiaries and their respective officers, directors and employees to afford the officers, employees, auditors and other authorized representatives of Parent and the Mortgage Business Purchaser reasonable access, during normal business hours, to its officers, employees, properties, offices and other facilities and to all books and records, including materials filed or furnished by the Company, any of its Subsidiaries or any of the Company Joint Ventures with or to any Governmental Entity with respect to compliance with applicable Law, and shall furnish Parent and the Mortgage Business Purchaser with all reasonable financial, operating and other data and information as Parent or the Mortgage Business Purchaser (as applicable), through its officers, employees or authorized representatives, may from time to time reasonably request. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any such investigation or consultation shall be conducted in such a manner as not to interfere unreasonably with the business or operations of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries shall be required to (i) provide access to or to disclose information where such access or disclosure would violate the rights of any Person with which it has a business relationship, (ii) contravene any Law or Contract entered into by the Company or its Subsidiaries or Joint Ventures; (iii) permit any inspection or to disclose any information, that in the reasonable judgment of the Company, would result in the disclosure of any trade secrets of third parties, or (iv) to disclose any privileged information of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries.

(b) Parent and Merger Sub agree to observe the requirements of the Confidentiality Agreement, dated October 20, 2006, between the Company and Parent (the Confidentiality Agreement), which Confidentiality Agreement shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with its terms.

(c) No investigation or consultation as contemplated by Section 6.3(a) shall add to, modify, nullify, amend or otherwise affect any of the representations, warranties or covenants of the parties set forth in this Agreement.

Section 6.4 Company Acquisition Proposals.

(a) The Company agrees that it shall not, and it shall cause its Subsidiaries and the Company Joint Ventures, and its and their respective officers, directors, employees, investment bankers, attorneys, consultants or other agents or representatives (Representatives), to not:

(i) directly or indirectly, initiate, solicit or knowingly encourage or facilitate (including by way of furnishing information or assistance) any inquiries or the making of any proposal or offer with respect to, or the making or effectuation of, a Company Acquisition Proposal;

(ii) approve or recommend (or propose publicly to approve or recommend) any Company Acquisition Proposal or enter into any Company Acquisition Agreement (as defined below);

(iii) directly or indirectly, engage in any negotiations or discussions with respect to, or provide access to its properties, books and records or any confidential or non-public information to any Person relating to, or that would reasonably be expected to lead to, a Company Acquisition Proposal; or

(iv) amend, terminate, waive, fail to use commercially reasonable efforts to enforce, or grant any consent under, any confidentiality, standstill, shareholder rights or similar agreement (other than any such agreement with Parent).

The Company further agrees that it, its Subsidiaries, the Company Joint Ventures and their respective Representatives will:

(i) immediately cease and cause to be terminated any existing activities, discussions or negotiations with any Persons (other than Parent and Merger Sub) conducted prior to the date of this Agreement with respect to any Company Acquisition Proposal or that would reasonably be expected to lead to a Company Acquisition Proposal;

(ii) promptly (and in any event within five (5) business days after the date hereof) request the prompt return from all such Persons or cause the destruction of all copies of confidential information previously provided to such Persons by the Company, its Subsidiaries, the Company Joint Ventures or their respective Representatives; and

(iii) deny access to any virtual data room containing any confidential information to such Persons.

Notwithstanding clause (iii) of the first sentence of this Section 6.4(a), prior to the approval of the Merger by the stockholders of the Company in accordance with this Agreement (but in no event after obtaining such approval), the Company may provide confidential information to a Person in response to the receipt of an unsolicited bona fide written Company Acquisition Proposal made by such Person which did not result from a breach of this Section 6.4 or a breach of any standstill agreement, but only if the Company Board makes a prior determination by resolution, duly adopted in good faith, and after consultation with its outside counsel and a financial advisor of nationally recognized reputation, that:

(iv) such Company Acquisition Proposal constitutes, or is reasonably likely to, lead to a Company Superior Proposal;
and

(v) failure to take the actions described in clause (iii) of the first sentence of this paragraph would be inconsistent with the statutory duty of the Company Board members, as directors, under the Maryland General Corporation Law;

provided, that (x) prior to providing any confidential information to any such Person, the Company shall have entered into an Agreed Confidentiality Agreement with such third party (and shall provide Parent with a correct and complete copy of the same within 24 hours after the execution thereof) and (y) the Company shall concurrently provide to Parent a copy of any confidential information that is furnished to such Person to the extent not previously furnished to Parent.

Without limiting the foregoing, it is understood that any action taken by Representatives of the Company, any of its Subsidiaries or the Company Joint Ventures on behalf of the Company, any such Subsidiary or any such Company Joint Venture that would be a violation of the restrictions set forth in Section 6.4 if taken by the Company shall be deemed to be a breach of Section 6.4 by the Company.

As used in this Agreement:

Agreed Confidentiality Agreement shall mean a confidentiality agreement containing confidentiality restrictions no less favorable to the Company (i.e., no less restrictive with respect to the conduct of such Person) than those contained in the Confidentiality Agreement (as defined below), and which does not include any provision calling for an exclusive right to negotiate with the Company or restricting the Company from complying with Section 6.4 of this Agreement.

Company Acquisition Proposal shall mean, to the extent made or commenced after the date hereof, and in each case, other than the Merger, a tender offer or exchange offer, proposal for a merger, consolidation or other business combination, sale of shares of capital stock, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving the Company and its Subsidiaries and Company Joint Ventures, or any proposal or offer to acquire (whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions) in any manner (i) an equity interest representing a 20% or greater economic interest or voting interest in the Company and its Subsidiaries and Company Joint Ventures, taken as a whole, or (ii) assets, securities or ownership interests of or in, the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or Company Joint Ventures (a) representing 20% or more of the consolidated assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries and Company Joint Ventures, taken as a whole, or (b) with respect to which 20% or more of the Company's revenues or earnings on a consolidated basis are attributable.

Company Superior Proposal shall mean an unsolicited bona fide written offer made by a third party, obtained after the date hereof and not involving a breach of this Agreement or any standstill agreement, to acquire, directly or indirectly, (a) at least a majority of the equity securities of the Company or (b) (i) all or substantially all of the stock or assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, (ii) all or substantially all of the assets of, or the stock of the Persons engaged in, the Mortgage Business, or (iii) all or substantially all of the assets of, or the stock of the Persons engaged in, the Fleet Business, in each case, which is not subject to a financing contingency and which is otherwise on terms which the Company Board concludes in good faith (taking into account (x) the likelihood of consummation of such transaction on the terms set forth therein as compared to the terms herein, including but not limited to the ability of such proposal to be financed, (y) legal, financial, regulatory, and timing aspects of the proposal and the Person making the Acquisition Proposal and (z) any changes to the terms of this Agreement that as of that time had been proposed by Parent) and after consultation with its outside counsel and a financial advisor of nationally recognized reputation, to be more favorable from a financial point of view to the Company's stockholders than the Merger.

Nothing contained in this Agreement shall prevent the Company from complying with Rule 14d-9 and Rule 14e-2(a) or Item 1012(a) of Regulation M-A promulgated under the Exchange Act or from making any legally required disclosure to stockholders with regard to a Company Acquisition Proposal, in each case, if the Company Board determines in good faith, after consultation with outside counsel, that failure to make such disclosure would constitute a violation of applicable Law; provided, however, that if the Company Board makes any such disclosure (other than a stop, look and listen letter or similar communication of the type contemplated by Rule 14d-9(f) under the Exchange Act) without expressly publicly reaffirming, without qualification, the Company Board Recommendation by the date that is the earlier of (i) ten Business Days after the first to occur of the receipt by the Company of such Company Acquisition Proposal and the making public of such Company Acquisition Proposal and (ii) five Business Days prior to the date of the Company Stockholders Meeting, then any action taken pursuant to the foregoing shall be deemed to constitute a Company Adverse Recommendation Change (as defined below) for all purposes of Sections 8.1(d)(ii) and 8.2 hereunder.

(b) The Company will promptly (within 24 hours) notify Parent, orally and in writing, if any proposal, offer, inquiry or other contact is received by, any information is requested from, or any discussions or negotiations are sought to be initiated or continued with, the Company in respect of, or that would reasonably be expected to lead to, a Company Acquisition Proposal, and shall, in any such notice to Parent, (i) include any written materials received from or on behalf of such Person relating to such proposal, offer, inquiry or request and (ii) indicate the identity of the Person making such proposal, offer, inquiry or other contact, and the material terms and conditions of any proposals or offers or the nature of any inquiries or contacts or requests. Without limiting the Company's obligations under Section 6.4(a), the Company shall thereafter promptly keep Parent fully informed of all material developments affecting the status and terms of any such proposals, offers, inquiries, contacts or requests (and the Company shall provide Parent promptly (within 24 hours after receipt) with copies of any additional written materials received that relate to such proposals, offers, inquiries, contacts or requests.

(c) Except as expressly permitted by this Section 6.4(c), neither the Company Board nor any committee thereof shall (i) make or take any action to make, a Company Adverse Recommendation Change; or (ii) approve or recommend, or propose publicly to approve or recommend or cause or authorize the Company, any of its Subsidiaries or Company Joint Ventures to enter into, a Company Acquisition Agreement, or resolve or agree to take any such actions. Notwithstanding anything in Section 6.4(a) to the contrary, but subject to the Company and the Company Board's compliance with the other provisions hereof, if, prior to obtaining the Company Requisite Vote:

(x) the Company Board, after consultation with its outside counsel, determines in good faith by resolution duly adopted that, due to an intervening event that arose after, and was unknown to the Company Board at the time of, its approval of this Agreement the failure of the Company Board to so withdraw, qualify or modify the Company Board Recommendation would be inconsistent with the statutory duty of the Company Board members, as directors, under the Maryland General Corporation Law, then the Company and the Company Board shall be permitted to withdraw, qualify or modify the Company Recommendation, or

(y) the Company Board receives a Company Acquisition Proposal that was unsolicited, that did not otherwise result from a breach of Section 6.4(a) or any standstill agreement and that the Company Board determines, in good faith by resolution duly adopted, constitutes a Company Superior Proposal, then, if the Company desires to enter into a Company Acquisition Agreement or to make a Company Adverse Recommendation Change, it shall deliver to the Parent a Company Adverse Recommendation Notice and shall thereafter negotiate in good faith with Parent and its Representatives regarding any revisions to the terms of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement proposed by Parent. If (i) after no less than five Business Days after the date of delivery of the Company Adverse Recommendation Notice and (ii) after taking into account any revised proposals that may be made by Parent since receipt of the Company Adverse Recommendation Notice (including any amendments to this Agreement entered into or covenanted to be entered into by Parent), the Company Board shall have not changed its determination under clause (x) or (y) above (as applicable) (it being understood that any amendment to the financial terms or other material terms of such Company Superior Proposal shall require a new Company Adverse Recommendation Notice and a new three Business Day period if the Company Board shall have changed its determination under clause (x) or (y) above, or would have (without giving effect to any proposal received by the Company Board after the delivery of the most recent Company Adverse Recommendation notice) changed its determination under clause (x) or (y) above, with respect to any revised proposal made by Parent within the five or three Business Day period described above (as applicable)), then the Company may enter into a definitive Company Acquisition Agreement with respect to such Company Superior Proposal only if concurrently therewith, the Company terminates this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1(c)(iii) and pays the Termination Fee to Parent pursuant to Section 8.2.

As used in this Agreement:

Company Acquisition Agreement shall mean any letter of intent, agreement in principle, memorandum of understanding, merger, acquisition, purchase, option or joint venture agreement or other agreement related to any Acquisition Proposal (other than an Agreed Confidentiality Agreement in accordance with Section 6.4(a)).

Company Adverse Recommendation Change shall mean any action, resolution, agreement, publicly proposed action or inaction pursuant to or in connection with which the Company Board or any committee thereof shall (i) withdraw, qualify or modify, or propose publicly to withdraw, qualify or modify, in a manner adverse to Parent, the recommendation of the Company Board that stockholders vote in favor of approval of the Merger (the Company Recommendation), (ii) fail to publicly make the Company Recommendation and include it in the Proxy Statement, (iii) approve or recommend, or propose publicly to approve or recommend, any Company Acquisition Proposal, or resolve or agree to take any such of the foregoing actions, or (iv) fail to issue a press release that reaffirms the Company Recommendation if any Company Acquisition Proposal is publicly announced or any Person commences a tender offer or exchange offer for any outstanding shares of Common Stock (and, in the case of any such tender offer or exchange offer, fail to recommend against acceptance of such tender offer or exchange offer by the Company shareholders), in each case within ten business days of such announcement or commencement (for the avoidance of doubt, the taking of no position or a neutral position by the Company Board in respect of the acceptance of any tender offer or exchange offer by its shareholders shall constitute a failure to recommend against any such offer); provided that it being further understood and agreed that for purposes of this Agreement a factually accurate public statement by the Company that does no more than describe the Company's receipt of an Company Acquisition Proposal and the operation of this Agreement with respect thereto shall not, in and of itself, be deemed a withdrawal, qualification or modification, or proposal by the Company's Board of Directors to withdraw, qualify or modify the Company's Board of Directors' recommendation of this Agreement, the Merger, or the transactions contemplated hereunder, or an approval or recommendation with respect to such Company Acquisition Proposal.

Company Adverse Recommendation Notice shall mean a notice delivered by the Company pursuant to Section 6.4(d) (i) containing (A) if applicable, a description of the material terms of a Company Acquisition Agreement that the Company desires to enter into, (B) any basis for a Company Adverse Recommendation Change, (C) the most current version of any Company Acquisition Agreement relating to a Company Superior Proposal, if any, and (D) any other information required by Section 6.4(b), and (ii) if applicable, advising Parent that the Company Board has determined that (A) a Company Acquisition Proposal received by the Company is a Company Superior Proposal, (B) the Board has made the determination in clause (x) or (y) of Section 6.4(c) and (C) the Company Board intends to enter into a Company Acquisition Agreement with respect to such Company Superior Proposal.

Section 6.5 Employment and Employee Benefits Matters.

(a) If any employees of the Company or its Subsidiaries as of the Effective Time (each, a Company Employee) become a participant in an Employee Benefit Plan sponsored or maintained by the Parent or the Surviving Corporation (Parent Plans), in accordance with the eligibility criteria of such Parent Plans, subject to the Company providing Parent sufficient information to determine the following (i) such participants shall receive full credit for all service with the Company and its Subsidiaries prior to the Effective Time for purposes of eligibility and vesting (but not benefit accrual) subject to applicable Laws, to the extent such service is taken into account under such Parent Plans and under a comparable Company Plan, (ii) such participants shall participate in the Parent Plans on terms no less favorable than those offered by Parent to their similarly-situated employees, (iii) to the extent permitted by Law, such participants and their covered dependents shall have all pre-existing condition exclusions of such Parent Plans waived to the extent such pre-existing condition exclusions were inapplicable to or had been satisfied by such participants and their covered dependents immediately prior to the Effective Time under the corresponding Company Plan; and (iv) with respect to any Parent Plan that provides medical or health benefits, such Company Employees (and their eligible dependents) shall be given credit for co-payments made, amounts credited towards deductibles, co-insurance and out-of-pocket maximums under the corresponding Company Plan (i.e., under the same type of Plan such as a point of service plan) in the calendar year in which such Company Employee becomes a participant in such Parent

Plans; provided that the foregoing (i) through (iv) shall be subject to the Company providing to Parent sufficient information to make such determinations. Parent shall, or shall cause the Surviving Corporation to, permit each Company Employee who remains employed with Parent or the Surviving Corporation to use all unused vacation, sick leave and paid time off accrued by such Company Employee under Company Plans prior to the Effective Time to the extent accrued on the balance sheet contained in the Unaudited Company Financials. For a period commencing on the Effective Time and ending on the first anniversary of the Effective Time, the Parent or the Surviving Corporation shall or shall cause the Company and its Subsidiaries, subject to applicable Law, to pay severance upon the same events and in an amount no less than that provided under the severance plans maintained by the Company and its Subsidiaries for the benefit of Company Employees immediately prior to the Effective Time as set forth in Section 6.5(a) of the Company Disclosure Schedule. Except as otherwise provided herein with respect to severance plans, nothing in this Section 6.5(a) shall (x) require the Parent or Surviving Corporation to provide any particular employee benefit plans to Company Employees, (y) limit the Surviving Corporation's ability to amend or terminate any benefit plan or arrangement or (z) limit the right of Parent, the Surviving Corporation or any of their Subsidiaries to terminate the employment of any Company Employee at any time.

(b) Nothing in this Section 6.5, express or implied, is intended to confer any rights or remedies under this Agreement upon any Person, including any Company Employee, other than the parties hereto, and no Person shall be entitled to enforce or seek to enforce all or any portion of this Section 6.5 other than the parties hereto.

Section 6.6 Directors and Officers Indemnification and Insurance.

(b) Prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall and if the Company is unable to, Parent shall cause the Surviving Corporation as of the Effective Time to obtain and fully pay for non-cancelable tail insurance policies with a policy term of at least six (6) years from and after the Effective Time from one or more insurance carriers with the same or better credit rating as the Company's current insurance carriers with respect to (1) directors and officers liability insurance and fiduciary liability insurance, with benefits and levels of coverage, taken as a whole, at least as favorable as the Company's existing policies (collectively, D&O Insurance), and (2) Side A insurance with respect to the current independent directors of the Company at least as favorable, taken as a whole, as that described in Schedule 6.6(b) of the Company Disclosure Schedule (Side A Insurance), in each case, to the maximum extent commercially obtainable and with respect to matters existing or occurring at or prior to the Effective Time (including in connection with this Agreement or the transactions or actions contemplated hereby); provided, however, that in no event shall Parent or the Surviving Corporation be required to expend (or shall the Company expend) for such D&O Insurance and Side A Insurance policies in any one year an amount in excess of 200% of the annual premium currently paid by the Company therefor. In addition, Parent shall cause the Surviving Corporation and its Subsidiaries to include and maintain in the Surviving Corporation's Charter and the Surviving Corporation's Bylaws and the comparable organizational documents of each such Subsidiary for a period of six (6) years after the Effective Date provisions regarding the elimination of liability for, and indemnification of, present and former officers, directors and employees and the advancement of expenses that are no less advantageous to the intended beneficiaries thereof than the corresponding provisions contained in the Charter and the Bylaws and the comparable organizational documents of the Company's Subsidiaries.

(c) If Parent or the Surviving Corporation or any of their respective successors or assigns (i) shall consolidate with or merge into any other corporation or entity and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) shall transfer all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any other Person, then, and in each such case, (A) provisions shall be made so that the successors and assigns of Parent or the Surviving Corporation shall assume all of the obligations set forth in this Section 6.6 and (B) prompt written notice thereof shall be provided to the Indemnified Parties.

(d) The obligations under this Section 6.6 shall not be terminated, amended or otherwise modified in such a manner as to adversely affect any Indemnified Party (or any other person who is a beneficiary under the D&O Insurance or the tail policy referred to in Section 6.6(b) hereof (and their heirs and representatives)) without the prior written consent of such affected Indemnified Party or other Person who is a beneficiary under the D&O Insurance or the tail policy referred to in Section 6.6(b) hereof (and their heirs and representatives). The provisions of this Section 6.6 are intended to be for the benefit of, and shall be enforceable by, each of the Indemnified Parties and other Persons who are beneficiaries under the D&O Insurance or the tail policy referred to in Section 6.6(b) hereof, and their respective heirs and legal representatives. The Surviving Corporation shall pay all costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) incurred by an Indemnified Party in enforcing the obligations of the Surviving Corporation under this Section 6.6.

(e) The obligations and liability of Parent, the Surviving Corporation and their respective Subsidiaries under this Section 6.6 shall be joint and several.

(f) [Intentionally Reserved]

(g) The rights of the Indemnified Parties (and other Persons who are beneficiaries under the D&O Insurance or the tail policy referred to in Section 6.6(b)) hereof under this Section 6.6 shall be in addition to any rights such Indemnified Parties may have under the MGCL, the Charter or the Bylaws or the comparable organizational documents of any of the Company's Subsidiaries, or under any applicable Contracts, Laws and any or all indemnification agreements of or entered into by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, which rights shall survive the Effective Time and shall continue in full force and effect.

(h) Nothing in this Agreement is intended to, shall be construed to or shall release, waive or impair any rights to directors' and officers' insurance claims under any policy that is or has been in existence with respect to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or their respective officers, directors or employees, it being understood that the indemnification provided for in this Section 6.6 is not prior to or in substitution for any such claims under any such policies.

(i) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, if any Legal Proceeding (whether arising before, at or after the Effective Time) is made against or involves any Indemnified Party, on or prior to the sixth anniversary of the

have a material negative impact, financial or otherwise, subject to extensions permitted by Law and properly granted by the appropriate authority, provided that the Company notifies Parent that it or any of its Controlled Related Parties is availing itself of such extensions, and (ii) pay all Taxes shown due on such Tax Returns.

(b) Each party shall reasonably cooperate in the preparation, execution, and filing of all returns, questionnaires, applications, or other documents regarding any real property transfer or gains, sales, use, transfer, value added, stock transfer and stamp taxes, any transfer, recording, registration and other fees and any similar taxes which become payable in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. From the date hereof through the Effective Time, the Company and its Controlled Related Parties shall use reasonable efforts to provide updated Tax basis and other Tax information reasonably requested by Parent in connection with calculating the tax liability that would arise upon a sale of the Mortgage Business or the Fleet Business and any other Tax information reasonably requested by Parent.

Section 6.8 Company Options, Restricted Stock Units and Company Rights.

(ii) if the Company Board shall have failed to recommend the Merger in the Proxy Statement or a Company Adverse Recommendation Change shall have occurred; or

(e) The party desiring to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.1 shall give written notice of such termination to the other party in accordance with Section 9.2, specifying the provision or provisions hereof pursuant to which such termination is effected and specifying in reasonable detail the grounds thereof.

Section 8.2 Effect of Termination.

(a) In the event of the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1, this Agreement shall forthwith become void and there shall be no liability or obligation on the part of any party hereto; provided, that Sections 6.3(b), 6.12, 6.13, 8.2 and Article IX shall survive any such termination; and that any such termination shall not relieve any party from liability for willful breach of this Agreement, fraud or knowing misrepresentation (it being agreed that any termination for the reasons or described in Section 8.2(e) shall, in no event, be deemed to constitute a willful breach of this Agreement).

(b) In the event that this Agreement is terminated by the Company pursuant to Section 8.1(c)(ii) or by the Parent pursuant to Section 8.1(d)(ii), then the Company shall pay the Company Termination Fee (as defined below), to Parent or as directed by Parent (i) concurrently with (and as a condition to the effectiveness of) such termination pursuant to Section 8.1(c)(ii) or within two Business Days following such termination pursuant to Section 8.1(d)(ii). Upon such payment by the Company, the Company shall not have any further liability to Parent or Merger Sub with respect to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

(c) [Intentionally reserved]

(d) In the event this Agreement is terminated by the Company or Parent pursuant to Section 8.1(b)(iii) and (A) after the date of this Agreement but prior to the date of such termination a Company Acquisition Proposal shall have been publicly announced or any Person shall have publicly announced an interest in making or an intention (whether or not conditional or withdrawn) to make a Company Acquisition Proposal and (B) the Company enters into a Company Acquisition Agreement with respect to, or consummates the transaction contemplated by, a Company Acquisition Proposal within nine months of the date this Agreement is so terminated pursuant to Section 8.1(b)(iii), then the Company shall pay to Parent the Company Termination Fee, less any Parent Expenses previously paid pursuant to Section 8.2(f), concurrently with (and as a condition to) the earliest event under clause (B), payable by wire transfer of same-day funds; and provided that for the purposes of this clause (c), the references to 20% in the definition of Company Acquisition Proposal shall be deemed to be references to 50%.

(e) In the event (x) this Agreement is terminated by either the Parent or Company pursuant to Section 8.1(b)(ii) and at such time all of the conditions set forth in Section 7.1 and 7.2 (other than Section 7.2(i)) have been satisfied or (y) the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement is terminated by Parent in accordance with Section 12.01(d) thereof, and at such time there is no state of facts or circumstances (other than those arising out of Mortgage Business Purchaser's breach) that would reasonably be expected to cause the conditions set forth in Sections 10.01(a), (b) or (c) or 10.02 of the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement not to be satisfied, then the Company shall be entitled to receive from the Mortgage Business Purchaser, the Reverse Termination Fee, in accordance with Section 6.03 of the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement, such Reverse Termination Fee to be paid by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the Company or as otherwise directed by the Company within two Business Days following such termination. However, such fee shall not be payable if (i) the 2006 Audited Company Financial Statements delivered in accordance with Section 6.15(b), are different in any material and adverse respect from the Unaudited Company Financial Statements set forth in Section 3.7(d) of the Company Disclosure Schedule, unless such difference does not result in the Mortgage Business Purchaser being unable to consummate the debt financing on the terms contemplated by (x) the Debt Commitment Letter delivered to Parent pursuant to the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement or (y) the terms of Alternative Financing obtained as contemplated by Section 6.02 of the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement or (ii) the Revised Consolidating Financial Statements delivered in accordance with Section 6.15(e), reflect a material and adverse change in stockholder's equity or net income (loss) with respect to the Mortgage Entities and their consolidated Subsidiaries and consolidated Company Joint Ventures, taken as a whole, as compared to the corresponding portions of the Consolidating Financial Statements set forth in Section 3.7(f) of the Company Disclosure Schedule (the Base Financial Statements). However, with respect to clause (ii) of the immediately preceding sentence, no account shall be taken of a change in 2006 net income (loss) if (x) there was no associated change in such stockholder's equity as of December 31, 2006 as reflected in the Revised Consolidating Financial Statements as compared to corresponding portion of such stockholder's equity as reflected in the Base Financial Statements and (y) such change in net income (loss) is related to a change in income tax expense arising from revised estimates of tax contingencies or valuation allowances or a change in expense arising from a revised estimate of impairment of goodwill. Upon such payment or in the event of a termination of this Agreement in either of the circumstances described in the first sentence of this Section 8.2(e), Parent and Merger Sub shall not have any further liability to the Company with respect to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

(f) In the event that this Agreement is terminated by Parent or Merger Sub, on the one hand, or the Company, on the other hand, pursuant to Section 8.1(b)(iii) (or is terminated by the Company pursuant to a different section of Section 8.1 at a time when this Agreement was terminable pursuant to Section 8.1(b)(iii)) or by Parent or Merger Sub pursuant to Section 8.1(d)(i) (or is terminated by the Company pursuant to a different section of Section 8.1 hereof at a time when this Agreement was terminable pursuant to Section 8.1(d)(i)) under circumstances in which the Company Termination Fee is not payable pursuant to this Section 8.2, then the Company shall pay as promptly as possible (but in any event within two Business Days) following receipt of an invoice therefor all of Parent's actual and reasonably documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) actually incurred by Parent and its Affiliates on or prior to the termination of this Agreement in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and including in respect of Parent's reimbursement obligations to the Mortgage Business Purchaser under the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement (Parent Expenses) as directed by Parent in writing, which amount shall not be greater than $5 million; provided, that the existence of circumstances which could require the Company Termination Fee to become subsequently payable by the Company pursuant to Section 8.2(d) shall not relieve the Company of its obligations to pay the Parent Expenses pursuant to this Section 8.2(f); and provided, further that the payment by the Company of Parent Expenses pursuant to this Section 8.2(f) shall not relieve the Company of any subsequent obligation to pay the Company Termination Fee pursuant to Section 8.2(d) except to the extent indicated in Section 8.2(d).

(g) As used in this Article VIII,

Company Termination Fee means an amount of cash equal to $50 million, which shall be paid (when due and owing) by the Company to the Parent by wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account designated by the Parent.

Reverse Termination Fee means an amount of cash equal to $50 million, which shall be paid (when due and owing) in accordance with Section 6.03 of the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement.

(h) Each of the Company, Parent and Merger Sub acknowledges that the agreements contained in this Section 8.2 are an integral part of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In the event that the Company shall fail to pay the Company Termination Fee when due or Parent or Merger Sub shall fail to pay the Reverse Termination Fee when due, the Company or Merger Sub and Parent, as the case may be, shall reimburse the other party for all reasonable costs and expenses actually incurred or accrued by such other party (including reasonable expenses of counsel) in connection with the collection under and enforcement of this Section 8.2.

Section 9.10 Specific Performance; Jurisdiction. The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached by the Company. It is accordingly agreed that Parent shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement exclusively in the courts of the State of Maryland or any court of the United States located in the State of Maryland, this being in addition to any other remedy to which such party is entitled at Law or in equity. The parties agree that the Company shall not be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement by Parent or Merger Sub or to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Agreement and that the Company's sole and exclusive remedy with respect to any such breach shall be the remedy set forth in this Section 9.10 and Section 8.2, and the parties hereto expressly disclaim that they are owed any duties not expressly set forth in this Agreement, and waive and release any and all tort claims and causes of action that may be based upon, arise out of or relate to this Agreement, or the negotiation, execution or performance of this Agreement. Each of the parties hereto irrevocably (i) consents to submit itself to the personal jurisdiction of the courts of the State of Maryland or any court of the United States located in the State of Maryland in the event any dispute arises out of this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, (ii) agrees that it will not attempt to deny or defeat such personal jurisdiction by motion or other request for leave from any such court, (iii) agrees that it will not bring any Legal Proceeding relating to this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement in any court other than the courts of the State of Maryland or any court of the United States located in the State of Maryland and (iv) consents to service being made through the notice procedures set forth in Section 9.2. Each of the Company, Parent and Merger Sub hereby agrees that service of any process, summons, notice or document by U.S. registered mail to the respective addresses set forth in Section 9.2 shall be effective service of process for any Legal Proceeding in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

Section 9.11 Parent Undertaking. Parent agrees to take all action necessary to cause Merger Sub or the Surviving Corporation, as applicable, to perform all of its respective agreements, covenants and obligations under this Agreement. Parent unconditionally guarantees to the Company the full and complete performance by Merger Sub or the Surviving Corporation, as applicable, of its respective obligations under this Agreement and shall be liable for any breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or obligation of Merger Sub or the Surviving Corporation, as applicable, under this Agreement. Merger Sub shall at all times be a direct or indirect Subsidiary of Parent. This is a guarantee of payment and performance and not collectibility. Parent hereby waives diligence, presentment, demand of performance, filing of any claim, any right to require any proceeding first against Merger Sub or the Surviving Corporation, as applicable, protest, notice and all demands whatsoever in connection with the performance of its obligations set forth in this Section 9.11. Parent further waives, to the fullest extent permitted by Law, any defenses or benefits that may be derived from or afforded by Law which limit the liability of or exonerate guarantors or sureties, except to the extent that any such defense is available to Merger Sub, in connection with such performance.

Section 9.12 Interpretation. When reference is made in this Agreement to a Section, such reference shall be to a Section of this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. The table of contents and headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience of reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. Whenever the words include, includes or including are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words without limitation. Whenever the words herein, hereof, hereto, or hereunder are used in this Agreement, they will be deemed to refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any specific Section of this Agreement. Whenever used in this Agreement, except as otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires, any noun or pronoun shall be deemed to include the plural as well as the singular. Unless the context otherwise requires, whenever the phrase and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement is used in this Agreement it shall be deemed not to include the Mortgage Business Sale. The fact that any item of information is disclosed in the Parent Disclosure Schedule or the Company Disclosure Schedule shall not be construed to mean that such information is required to be disclosed by this Agreement. Such information shall not be used as a basis for interpreting the term Company Material Adverse Effect or other similar terms in this Agreement. The parties to this Agreement have participated jointly in the negotiating and drafting of this Agreement. In the event that an ambiguity or a question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the parties hereto and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring any party by virtue of the authorship of any provision of this Agreement.

Section 9.13 Obligations of Parent and Company. Whenever this Agreement requires a Subsidiary of Parent to take any action, such requirements shall be deemed to include an undertaking on the part of Parent to cause such Subsidiary to take such action. Whenever this Agreement requires a Subsidiary of the Company to take any action, such requirements shall be deemed to include an undertaking on the part of the Company to cause such Subsidiary to take such action.

Section 9.14 Amendment. This Agreement may be amended by the parties hereto by action taken by or on behalf of their respective boards of directors at any time prior to the Effective Time, whether before or after receipt of the Company Requisite Vote; provided, however, that, after receipt of the Company Requisite Vote, no amendment may be made which (a) by Law requires the further approval of the stockholders of the Company, (b) reduces the amount or changes the form of Merger Consideration or which adversely affects the rights of the holders of the Company Common Stock, in each case, without further approval of the stockholders of the Company or (c) otherwise adversely affects the rights of any Person (whether or not a party hereto), other than Parent or the Surviving Corporation, contained in Article II, Section 6.6, Section 6.14 or this Article IX. This Agreement may not be amended except by an instrument in writing signed by the parties hereto.

Section 9.15 Waiver. At any time prior to the Effective Time, any party hereto may (i) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other parties hereto, (ii) waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties contained in this Agreement or in any document delivered pursuant this Agreement and (iii) subject to the requirements of applicable Law and compliance with the proviso in Section 9.14, waive compliance with any of the agreements or conditions contained in this Agreement. Any such extension or waiver shall be valid if set forth in an instrument in writing signed by the party or parties to be bound thereby.

The failure of any party hereto to exercise any rights, power or remedy provided under this Agreement, or to insist upon compliance by any other party hereto with its obligations hereunder, and any custom or practice or the parties at variance with the terms hereof, shall not constitute a waiver by such party of its right to exercise any such or other right, power or remedy or to demand such compliance

Section 9.16 Successors; Assigns. In the event that the Surviving Corporation or Parent or any of their respective successors or assigns (a) consolidates with or merges into any other Person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (b) transfers or conveys all or a majority of its properties and assets to any Person, then, and in each such case, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assigns of the Surviving Corporation or Parent, as the case may be, shall succeed to the obligations of the Surviving Corporation or Parent, as the case may be, under this Agreement.

Section 9.17 Transfer Taxes. All transfer, documentary, sales, use, stamp, registration and other such Taxes and fees (including penalties and interest) incurred in connection with the Merger shall be paid by the Company when due, and the Company shall, at its own expense, file all necessary Tax returns and other documentation with respect to all such Taxes and fees, and, if required by applicable Law, the Company shall, and shall cause its Affiliates to, join in the execution of any such Tax Returns and other documentation.

Section 9.18 Disclosure Schedules.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in this Agreement, any disclosure set forth in any section of the Company Disclosure Schedule shall only qualify the correspondingly numbered representation and warranty and/or covenant of this Agreement to the extent set forth therein, and any other representations and warranties to the extent that such disclosure in such section of the Company Disclosure Schedule is disclosed in such a way as to make its relevance to the information called for by such other representation and warranty readily apparent. You have asked us whether, in our opinion, the Consideration to be received by the holders of the Company Shares pursuant to the Merger is fair from a financial point of view to such holders.

In arriving at the opinion set forth below, we have, among other things:

- (1) Reviewed certain publicly available business and financial information relating to the Company that we deemed to be relevant;
- (2) Reviewed certain information, including financial forecasts, relating to the business, earnings, cash flow, assets, liabilities and prospects of the Company furnished to us by the Company;

(8) Reviewed a draft dated March 12, 2007 of the Agreement (the Agreement Draft);

(9) Reviewed a draft dated March 13, 2007 of the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement (the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement Draft), although we express no view as to, and our opinion does not address, the terms or merits thereof or any other matter relating thereto; and

In preparing our opinion, we have assumed and relied on the accuracy and completeness of all information supplied or otherwise made available to us, discussed with or reviewed by or for us, or publicly available, and we have not assumed any responsibility for independently verifying such information or undertaken an independent evaluation or appraisal of any of the assets or liabilities of the Company or been furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal, nor have we evaluated the solvency or fair value of the Company under any state or federal laws relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or similar matters. In addition, we have not assumed any obligation to conduct any physical inspection of the properties or facilities of the Company. With respect to the financial forecast information furnished to or discussed with us by the Company, we have assumed that they have been reasonably prepared and reflect the best currently available estimates and judgment of the Company's management as to the expected future financial performance of the Company. We have also assumed that the final executed versions of the Agreement and the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement will not materially differ from the Agreement Draft and the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement Draft, respectively.

Our opinion is necessarily based upon market, economic and other conditions as they exist and can be evaluated on, and on the information made available to us as of, the date hereof. For the purposes of rendering this opinion, we have assumed that the Merger will be consummated substantially in accordance with the terms set forth in the Agreement, including in all respects material to our analysis, that the representations and warranties of each party in the Agreement and in all related documents and instruments (collectively, the Documents) that are referred to therein are true and correct, that each party to the Documents will perform all of the covenants and agreements required to be performed by such party under such Documents and that all conditions to the consummation of the Merger will be satisfied without waiver thereof.

We are acting as financial advisor to the Company in connection with the Merger and will receive a fee from the Company for our services, a significant portion of which is contingent upon the consummation of the Merger. In addition, the Company has agreed to indemnify us for certain liabilities arising out of our engagement, as well as reimburse our reasonable expenses. We have, in the past, provided financial advisory, financing, investment banking and other services to the Company and the Acquiror and their respective affiliates and may continue to do so and have received, and may receive, fees for the rendering of such services. In addition, in the ordinary course of our business, we may actively trade securities of the Company, including the Company Shares, as well as securities of the Acquiror and its affiliates, for our own account and for the accounts of customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities. Furthermore, we or our affiliates are party to several agreements with the Company relating to the origination, servicing, sub-servicing and/or purchase and sale of certain loans and lines of credit, including those agreements through which the Company provides mortgage loan origination assistance, acts as a servicer or sub-servicer for certain mortgage loans and revolving or equity line of credit loans and purchases from us certain mortgage loans.

This opinion is for the use and benefit of the Special Committee of the Board of Directors and the Board of Directors of the Company. Our opinion does not address the merits of the underlying decision by the Company to engage in the Merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder as to how such shareholder should vote or act with respect to the proposed Merger or any other matter. In addition, you have not asked us to address, and this opinion does not address, the fairness to, or any other consideration of, the holders of any class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of the Company, other than the holders of the Company Shares.

On the basis of and subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion that, as of the date hereof, the Consideration to be received by the holders of the Company Shares pursuant to the Merger is fair from a financial point of view to the holders of such shares.

Very truly yours,

(xi) performed such other analyses and considered such other factors as we have deemed appropriate.

We have assumed and relied upon without independent verification the accuracy and completeness of the financial and other information reviewed by or discussed with us for the purposes of this opinion. With respect to the financial projections provided to us, with your consent, we have assumed that they have been reasonably prepared and are consistent with the best currently available estimates and judgments of the senior management of PHH as to the future financial performance of PHH. We assume no responsibility for and express no view as to such forecasts or the assumptions on which they are based, and we have relied upon the assurances of the senior management of PHH that they are unaware of any facts that would make the information provided to or reviewed by us incomplete or misleading. We have also assumed, based upon the information which has been provided to us and without assuming responsibility for independent verification therefor, that no material undisclosed liability exists with respect to the Company. We have not made any independent valuation or appraisal of the assets, including the net mortgage servicing rights, or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of PHH or any of its subsidiaries, nor have we been furnished with any such valuations or appraisals.

We have also assumed that the final executed versions of the Agreement and the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement will not materially differ from the Agreement Draft and the Mortgage Business Sale Agreement Draft. In addition, we have assumed, with your consent, that any governmental, regulatory or third party consents, approvals or agreements necessary for the consummation of the Transaction will be obtained without any imposition of a delay, limitation, restriction or condition that would have a material adverse effect on the Company or the contemplated benefits of the Transaction. Representatives of the Company have advised us, and we have further assumed, that the final terms of the Agreement will not vary materially from those terms set forth in the draft Agreement reviewed by us. In addition, we are not legal, accounting, regulatory or tax experts and with your consent we have relied, without independent verification, on the assessment of PHH and its advisors with respect to such matters.

Our opinion is necessarily based on economic, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to us as of, the date hereof. It should be understood that, although subsequent developments may affect this opinion, we do not have any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm this opinion. Our opinion addresses only the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the stockholders of the Company of the Consideration, and we do not express any view as to the fairness of the Transaction to, or any consideration of, the holders of any other class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of the Company, or any other term of the proposed Transaction or the other matters contemplated by the Agreement. Our opinion does not address the Company's underlying business decision to effect the Transaction as contemplated by the Agreement or the relative merits of the Transaction as compared to other business strategies or transactions that might be available to the Company.

We have acted as financial advisor to the Board of Directors of PHH and the Special Committee thereof in connection with the Transaction and will receive a fee for our services, a significant portion of which will be paid only upon the closing of the Transaction. In addition, the Company has agreed to reimburse our expenses and to indemnify us for certain liabilities arising out of our engagement, all as set forth in our engagement letter. Our advisory services and the opinion expressed herein are provided for the information and assistance of the Board of Directors of the Company and the Special Committee thereof in connection with their consideration of the Transaction and the other matters contemplated by the Agreement and such opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to whether the Company should engage in the Transaction and the other matters contemplated
