The following is an advertisement which ran in The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times and various east coast publications today.

WACHOVIA SHAREHOLDERS:

A vote against the First Union merger is a win-win-win.

Late last week, the North Carolina Business Court found that Wachovia's Directors violated their fiduciary duties to you by permitting First Union to include a coercive non-termination provision in the merger agreement. This provision was thrown out by the Court, freeing Wachovia to negotiate a sale to any party the day shareholders reject the First Union merger.

It is evident to us that, one way or another, Wachovia will be sold. So don't cut the process short on August 3rd. As we see it, voting down the First Union merger is a pure "win-win-win" situation which preserves all your choices and your opportunity to receive maximum value for your Wachovia shares:

Wachovia is sold to SunTrust at a price currently $860 million higher than First Union's price.

Wachovia is sold to First Union at a renegotiated higher price.

To protect the value of your investment, vote AGAINST the First Union merger.

Please sign, date and return the BLUE proxy card today.

If you have questions or need assistance voting your shares, please call INNISFREE M&A Incorporated toll-free at 877-750-9501.
