The following document was distributed to employees of EQT Corporation.

If you are an EQT shareholder, by now you have heard the message follow the instructions on the WHITE proxy card to vote your shares in support of the Rice transaction. During the last few weeks, we have learned that many of you still have questions about exactly how to do this. To assist you, we have prepared this guide. Please read on for more information about the voting process for the important special shareholder meeting on November 9, 2017.

As an EQT employee and shareholder, you may hold your shares in one or more types of accounts as described below. No matter how you hold your shares, we strongly recommend that you contact our proxy solicitor, Innisfree M&A Incorporated, if you have any questions about how to vote your shares. You may call Innisfree TOLL-FREE at (877) 717-3930.

Individual Brokerage Account
(e.g., Fidelity Investments
(Fidelity), Ameriprise, Merrill Lynch, etc.)

If you hold shares in an individual brokerage account, you will receive a communication for each individual brokerage account in which you hold EQT common stock.

Innisfree M&A Incorporated
(877) 717-3930
Depending on your specific question, Innisfree may also refer you to your bank or broker representative and can help you identify that person.

If you take advantage of the Employee Stock Purchase Plan, the shares purchased via your contribution are automatically deposited into your individual brokerage account at Fidelity each month.

If you have vested EQT shares, from a previous long-term incentive award, your shares were initially deposited to your individual brokerage account at Fidelity and remain there unless you have made further arrangements.

If an individual brokerage account holds your shares, you are a beneficial holder.

Restricted Stock Account (at Fidelity)

Holder of unvested restricted stock awards(1) are entitled to vote the number of shares awarded plus any accrued dividends. These unvested restricted shares are held through your long-term incentive account held at

Innisfree M&A Incorporated
(877) 717-3930

Fidelity.

Employee Savings Plan Account
(at Fidelity)

If you are a participant in the Company's Employee Savings Plan known as the 401(k) Plan and you hold EQT shares in your 401(k) account, these shares are held in your 401(k) account at Fidelity which is a different account than the individual brokerage and long-term incentive accounts referenced above.

Mary Krejsa, EQT Manager, Payroll and Retirement Services
(412) 553-5782

(1) Other unvested long-term incentive awards including restricted stock units (paid in cash), incentive performance share units, value driver performance share units and stock options - are not entitled to vote at the upcoming special shareholder meeting.

WHEN WILL I RECEIVE MY PROXY MATERIALS?

By now, you should have received at least one request to vote the shares held in each of the accounts in which you hold EQT shares. Most of these communications will arrive via U.S. Mail. If you believe you have not received proxy materials for each of your accounts, please use the contact information above to request a replacement proxy card. The Company's requests will come with an enclosed proxy card that is white in color and labeled WHITE. For one or more of your accounts, you may also receive one or more solicitations from JANA Partners LLC, which include a differently worded proxy card that is yellow in color and labeled GOLD.

This week, EQT is sending another follow-up mailing containing a WHITE proxy card to each account identified above. So, if you are not sure whether you have voted your accounts properly, you should receive another WHITE proxy card for each account in the next five to seven days.

It is sometimes hard to determine the account tied to a particular mailing of proxy materials, but you can typically find the brokerage firm and/or number of shares held somewhere on the proxy card. If you need help locating the information on your proxy card, please call Innisfree at the number shown above. Identifying this information and tying it to your individual accounts can help you understand which shares you have voted, and which shares you have not voted.

HOW DO I VOTE MY PROXY MATERIALS?

The EQT Board unanimously recommends that shareholders vote FOR all agenda items. You can review their reasons in the shareholder benefits brochure. This is true whether you vote on the WHITE proxy card or the gold proxy card; however, we encourage you to follow the instructions on the WHITE proxy card and to discard any materials you receive from JANA.

You MUST separately vote the shares in each of your accounts. Thus, if you hold shares in each type of account identified in the table above, you will need to vote four times to ensure that all of your shares are properly represented at the special shareholder meeting on November 9, 2017. Similarly, any shares that are not held solely in your name (i.e., by a spouse, child, or jointly with another individual), must be separately voted. You may vote by mail, telephone or online by following the instructions on the proxy card(s) you receive. We encourage you to vote online or by telephone as it is the fastest way to submit your vote.

You may continue to receive solicitations encouraging you to vote the shares in each of your accounts, but you need only vote once per account unless you change your mind. Remember that the last proxy card voted WHITE or gold for a specific account is the one that counts. If you think you have inadvertently voted any of your shares on a gold card for a specific account, we recommend that you vote those shares again, for that specific account, using the instructions on the WHITE proxy card at any time before the meeting. If you returned a gold card by mail, contact the appropriate person above to help you obtain new WHITE cards to vote your shares.

We encourage you to vote all shares held on the WHITE proxy card - as far in advance of the meeting as possible. Again, voting online or by telephone is the fastest way to submit your vote and ensure it is counted for the special meeting on November 9, 2017.

HOW WILL I KNOW IF I HAVE VOTED ALL OF MY SHARES?

Unfortunately, there is no single location to determine whether you have voted all your shares. Therefore, we encourage you to collect all of the proxy materials received, match them to the accounts identified above, and follow the instructions for each account on a WHITE card to ensure all shares are voted. If you believe you are missing any of your proxy materials, please use the contact information above to request a replacement proxy card.

I DON'T HAVE MY PROXY CARD, CAN I STILL VOTE?

You will need the proxy card to vote your registered shares, 401(k) shares and restricted stock. If necessary, use the contact information above to request a replacement proxy card for registered shares, 401(k) shares and restricted stock.

If you hold your shares in an individual brokerage account, you may be able to access the proxy materials via your bank or broker's online portal. For example, at Fidelity, you can access proxy materials for your individual brokerage account by logging into your account, selecting Statements and then selecting Proxy Materials. If you navigate to your materials in this manner, pay close attention to the column titled Proxy Type/Control Number we recommend that you vote the links from Management as they are the EQT WHITE proxy equivalent. Ignore and do not vote links labeled Opposition as this is JANA's gold proxy equivalent.

SOMEONE CALLED MY HOME ASKING ME TO VOTE MY SHARES. IS THIS NORMAL?

Yes. You may receive a phone call reminding you to vote shares held in one or more of your accounts. The caller could be EQT's proxy solicitor, Innisfree; or a party representing JANA Partners, LLC. The caller may also advocate that you cast your vote one way or another. Telephonic solicitation is not unusual in a contested scenario where a third-party in this case, JANA is actively opposing a transaction.

IS THERE ANYONE ELSE I CAN CONTACT FOR ASSISTANCE IN VOTING MY SHARES?

Edgar Filing: Rice Energy Inc. - Form 425

We strongly recommend that you contact EQT's proxy solicitor, Innisfree, for assistance in voting your shares. However, for matters relating to accounts held at Fidelity, you may also contact Mary Krejsa (412) 553-5782), Manager, Payroll and Retirement Services and, for all accounts, Nicole King Yohe (412) 553-5891), Corporate Secretary.
