ITEM 5. OTHER EVENTS

As previously described in the Registrant's Form 10-QSB for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2001 which was filed with the SEC on November 19, 2001, one of the campaigns under Master Services Agreement A had experienced a backlog in fulfilling the orders of wireless phones and services sold by the Registrant. Such backlog is a direct result of the increase in the demand for wireless phones sold as a result of the terrorist attacks on the United States of America on September 11, 2001. This backlog may result in the ultimate buyer of the wireless phones and services canceling the order, and thereby reducing the Registrant's fees, which are performance based. As a result of these fulfillment issues being experienced by the Registrant's client, the Registrant had recorded, at September 30, 2001, an allowance for doubtful accounts against the receivable due from its client because of the potential uncollectibility.

Edgar Filing: INTERCALLNET INC - Form 8-K

On January 8, 2002, the Registrant was notified by the client under Master Services Agreement A that the campaign for selling wireless phones and services was terminated by the wireless carrier and all payments due to the Registrant under the campaign will be held for a period of 181 days.

As a result of the campaign termination and payment hold period, the potential uncollectibility of the receivable under this campaign has increased from the previous estimate as reported in the September 2001 Form 10-QSB. The Registrant is currently analyzing the potential uncollectibility of this receivable and plans to record an additional allowance for doubtful accounts for the quarterly period ended December 31, 2001 which will be reflected and disclosed in the Registrant's Form 10-QSB for the quarterly period ended December 31, 2001.

The Registrant is presently considering its legal options with counsel concerning this matter.
