The following slide and excerpts relating to Old National Bancorp's pending acquisition of Indiana Community Bancorp are from the slide presentation and transcript of Old National Bancorp's first quarter earnings call held on April 30, 2012.

Robert G. Jones, President and CEO:

I'm going to close with a brief update on Indiana Bank and Trust. Three months following the announcement of our partnership, we are even more encouraged. We love the franchise and the markets they serve, and the people at IBT are terrific. For the most part, client reaction has been positive. Today, IBT did announce a loss of $2.6 million for the first quarter, mostly related to a fraudulent loan and targeted loan sales. Absent that, their performance was very consistent with our model.

In addition, as noted in our press release, if we closed as of March 31, the exchange ratios would have been reduced slightly from 1.90 to 1.8241 based on a credit mark of 36.792 million as of March 31, 2012. There was no adjustment in the exchange ratio for shareholders' equity or delinquency and we remind you this exchange ratio is subject to change, either up or down, between 3/31 and ten days prior to closing, which we anticipate being in the third quarter.

(Q Chris McGratty, KBW): Hi Good morning, guys. Bob, just a question on the deal. You gave color on the exchange ratios. Do you have the delinquency numbers for Indiana Community? I know you disclosed the other ones.

(A Robert Jones, ONB President, CEO): Yeah. We don't, but we'll get that for everybody. They didn't exceed any of the thresholds that were in our original agreement, but we can get that out to you. I don't have that. I just know that they were within the parameters and, really, we're not seeing a lot of change in that delinquency and I would note that if you remove that one-time fraudulent credit, the mark would have been pretty well.

(Q Mac Hodgson, SunTrust Robinson Humphrey): Maybe lastly on capital, I think you mentioned you'd wait to close the Indiana Community deal before any capital actions. Does that relate to M&A as well? Would you wait on additional M&A until that transaction is closed and then remind us of your priorities on capital?

(A Chris Wolking, CFO): Yeah. As you know, M&A is not a perfect science but ideally we'd like to get this transaction closed and then our first priority after M&A would be, we continue to realize the importance of the dividend, and we still have the approved buyback, but we really want to get through IBT and see what the impact it to our capital at that time.

(Q Mac Hodgson, SunTrust Robinson Humphrey): Has anything changed with the expected impact on your capital?

(A Chris Wolking, CFO): No.
