Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On February 1, 2007 Arbitron Inc. (the "Company") formed a joint venture Delaware limited liability company with Nielsen Media Research, Inc. ("NMR") named Project Apollo LLC (the "LLC"). The LLC was formed to implement commercial deployment in the United States of a product that will measure the media return on investment to advertisers by collecting and integrating product purchase and other information using the Company's Portable People Meter ("PPM") technology. Initially, each party will own 50% of the equity interests in the LLC and will share equally in funding obligations. Since April 2005, pursuant to a cost-sharing agreement, the Company and NMR have shared costs and capital expenditures associated with the development and deployment of a pilot panel designed to demonstrate the feasibility of the product.

ACNielsen (US) Inc., an affiliate of NMR, has entered into an agreement with the LLC to permit the LLC to use its Homescan Panel and certain other data and recruit panelists, tabulate data, and provide related services. The Company has entered into an agreement with the LLC under which the Company will license PPM data and equipment to the LLC and provide other data collection and transmission services.

Through its Scarborough Research joint venture with The Nielsen Company, NMR's parent corporation, the Company also provides media and marketing research services to the broadcast television, cable, newspaper, and online industries.

A copy of a press release announcing the formation of the LLC is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1, and is incorporated herein by reference.
