Tri-Continental Corporation

To the Stockholders:

Your third quarter Stockholder report for Tri-Continental Corporation follows this letter. This report contains Tri-Continental's investment results and its portfolio of investments at September 30, 2003.

For the three months ended September 30, 2003, Tri-Continental posted a total return of 2.97% based on net asset value, the S&P 500 returned 2.65%, and the Lipper Closed-End Growth & Income Funds Average returned 3.34%. During the same time period, Tri-Continental returned 1.48% based on market price.

We are pleased to announce that effective September 4, 2003, J. & W. Seligman & Co.'s Core Equity Group assumed responsibility for Tri-Continental's portfolio. This change was made as part of the Manager's commitment to improve Tri-Continental's investment results. Paul Guidone, who is a Managing Director and the Chief Investment Officer of J. & W. Seligman & Co., will lead a team of six dedicated analysts responsible for researching companies in the various sectors of the economy. Tri-Continental's investment objective remains unchanged, and it will continue to pursue a total return strategy in order to invest primarily to produce long-term growth of both capital and income, while providing reasonable current income.

Tri-Continental's net asset value increased 12.49% during the first three quarters of this year. However, the Corporation has a significant tax loss carryforward from net capital losses realized during the severe bear market of recent years. As a consequence, Tri-Continental will not have a capital gain payout this December. We realize that many Stockholders look forward to a capital gain payment in December, and we understand their disappointment.

Over time, we are confident that we will be able to offset Tri-Continental's net realized capital loss carryforward with realized gains and resume capital gain payments, though we cannot predict with any certainty when this will occur. In the interim, any net realized capital gains, like any unrealized gains, will be reflected in an increase in Tri-Continental's NAV and, importantly, will not be taxable to Stockholders who maintain their investment.

We thank you for your continued support of Tri-Continental Corporation and look forward to serving your investment needs for many years to come.

By order of the Board of Directors,

William C. Morris
Chairman

Brian T. Zino

The rates of return will vary and the principal value of an investment will fluctuate. Shares, if sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Performance data quoted does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a stockholder may pay on Corporation distributions or on the sale of Corporation shares. Past performance is not indicative of future investment results. Due to market volatility, current performance may be higher or lower than the performance quoted above.

* Returns for periods of less than one year are not annualized.

 These rates of return reflect changes in market price or net asset value, as applicable, and assume that all distributions within the period are taken in additional shares.

Tri-Continental Corporation

Stockholder Services

Tri-Continental provides a number of services to make maintaining an investment in its Common Stock more convenient.

Automatic Dividend Investment and Cash Purchase Plan. Stockholders may automatically purchase additional shares with dividends and capital gains. There is no charge for this service. Stockholders may also purchase additional shares directly from the Corporation. There is a service fee of a maximum of $2.00 for each cash purchase transaction.

Automatic Cash Withdrawal Plan. Stockholders who hold common shares with a market value of $5,000 or more may elect to receive a fixed amount from their investment at regular intervals by selling their shares to the Corporation.

Traditional Individual Retirement Account (IRA). Stockholders who have earned income and are under age $70\frac{1}{2}$ may contribute up to \$3,000 per year to a Traditional IRA for 2003. A working or non-working spouse may also contribute up to \$3,000 to a separate Traditional IRA for 2003. Individuals who reach age 50 prior to the end of a taxable year may make additional "catch-up contributions" to a Traditional IRA of up to \$500 (increasing to \$1,000 for years beginning after 2005). Contributions to a Traditional IRA may be deductible or non-deductible. If you are single and not covered by an employer's retirement plan, your contribution will always be deductible. For individuals who are covered by a plan, contributions will be fully deductible if your modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) in 2003 is less than \$40,000. For spouses who are both covered by a plan, contributions will be fully deductible if your MAGI is less than \$60,000. If one spouse does not work or is not covered by a retirement plan, that spouse's contribution will be fully deductible provided your household MAGI does not exceed \$150,000. If your contribution is not deductible, you may still take advantage of the tax-deferred accumulation of earnings in your Traditional IRA.

Rollover IRA. You may be eligible to roll over a distribution of assets received from another IRA, a qualified employee benefit plan, or tax-deferred annuity into a Rollover IRA with Tri-Continental. To avoid a tax penalty, the transfer to a Rollover IRA must occur within 60 days of receipt of the qualifying distribution. If you do not make a direct transfer of a distribution from a qualified employee benefit plan or a tax-deferred annuity to a Rollover IRA, the payor of the distribution must withhold 20% of the distribution.

Roth IRA. You (and a working or non-working spouse) may each make an after-tax contribution of up to \$3,000 per year to a Roth IRA provided you have earned income and meet the eligibility requirements. Your MAGI must be less than \$95,000 (individuals) or \$150,000 (married couples) to be eligible to make a full contribution to a Roth IRA. You are eligible to make a partial Roth IRA contribution if your MAGI is below \$110,000 (individuals) or \$160,000 (married couples). Total combined contributions to a Roth IRA and a Traditional IRA cannot exceed \$3,000 in any year. Individuals who reach age 50 prior to the end of a taxable year may make additional "catch-up contributions" to a Roth IRA of up to \$500 (increasing to \$1,000 for years beginning after 2005). Earnings grow tax-free and will be distributed to you tax-free and penalty-free provided that you hold your account for at least five years and you take the distribution either after age $59\frac{1}{2}$, for disability, upon death, or to make a first-time home purchase (up to \$10,000). Unlike a Traditional IRA, you may contribute to a Roth IRA even if you are over age $70\frac{1}{2}$ (if you have earned income), and you are not required to take minimum distributions at age $70\frac{1}{2}$. You may convert an existing Traditional IRA to a Roth IRA to take advantage of tax-free distributions. You must pay taxes on any earnings and deductible contributions in your Traditional IRA when converting it to a Roth IRA. Talk to your financial advisor for more details on converting your Traditional IRA.

Retirement Planning □ Qualified Plans Unincorporated businesses and the self-employed may take advantage of the same benefits in their retirement plans that are available to corporations. Contribution levels can go as high as 100% of earned income (reduced by plan contributions), to a maximum of $40,000 per participant. For retirement plan purposes, no more than $200,000 may be taken into account as earned income under the plan in 2003 (this amount will be increased to $205,000 for 2004). Social Security integration and employee vesting schedules are also available as options in the Tri-Continental prototype retirement plans. Although you already may be participating in an employer's retirement plan, you may be eligible to establish another plan based upon income from other sources, such as director's fees.

Retirement Plan Services provides information about our prototype retirement plans. The toll-free telephone number is (800) 445-1777 in the US and (212) 682-7600 outside the US.

Gifts Free of Federal Tax are often made using Tri-Continental Common Stock. You may give as much as $11,000 a year to as many individuals as desired free of federal gift tax, and a married couple may give up to $22,000 a year.

Stock Repurchase Program. On November 21, 2002, the Board of Directors authorized the renewal of Tri-Continental's ongoing share repurchase program. The program authorizes the Corporation to repurchase up to 7.5% of the Corporation's shares over a 12-month period, provided that the discount of a share's market price to its net asset value (□NAV□) remains wider than 10%. The Board's decision benefits all Stockholders, allowing them to continue to enjoy the advantages of Tri-Continental's closed-end structure, while increasing the NAV of the Corporation's outstanding shares.

Between November 21, 2002 and September 30, 2003, 6.7 million shares were repurchased. This is approximately 5.3% of the shares outstanding at the beginning of the period. The repurchase of additional shares is expected to continue during October and November 2003, as long as the discount remains above 10%.
